

THE CONDON GLOBE.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 14, 1896.

THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF GILLIAM COUNTY, OREGON.

Wm. J. Bryan says: "Some people think the silver sentiment a craze and that it is going to blow over. That makes me think of a story: Out in the Northwest where the wind is high, the fences are sometimes blown down and sometimes the houses are blown over. A man was going along one day and found another building a fence. He was putting it up solidly, with mortar and stone. The man said: "You are putting a good deal of time on that fence. Don't you think it will blow over?" And the man who was building the fence replied: "That is just the way I am building it. It is five feet wide and four feet high and when it blows over it will be one foot higher than it is now." That is the way they are building this silver craze. It is wider than it is high, and when it does blow over it will be higher than it is now."

When James A. Garfield was a member of congress he said: "Every man who is opposed to the use of silver coin as a part of the legal currency of the country I disagree with. Every man who is opposed to the actual legal use of both metals I disagree with. I would endow the two dollars with equality and make the coinage free." That was the position of Abraham Lincoln and General Grant. That was the position of the republican party from its formation down until the St. Louis convention.

N. Y. World: Frederick R. Couderd of New York, one of the greatest and most eminent lawyers in the world, after hearing W. J. Bryan's famous "Crown of Thorns" speech at Chicago, said, with a long-drawn breath of relief: "That was the grandest and most powerful speech ever delivered by any orator; that man could create a revolution."

This is the season of the year when the man who never accumulated $100 in his life can tell you all about how to regulate the finances of the nation. He is numerous and to be found on every corner and curb-stone. He is religiously opposed to work. Verily, we are a nation of financiers.

An exchange says that the trouble with this world is that there are too many people in it who will not cast their bread upon the waters unless they are assured that it will come back in a few days a full-grown sandwich, all trimmed with ham, butter and mustard.

The supreme court of Oregon has decided that the land of a homesteader is exempt from liability for all debts contracted prior to the actual issuing of the patent by the patent by the government, whether contracted before or after the date of final proof.

At an immense grand rally of silverites at Walla Walla last Tuesday night, one of the conspicuous features of the procession was the representation of the 16-to-1 doctrine by sixteen white horses followed by one yellow one.

This country paid English investors $200,000,000 in interest for last year. In other words, it takes about two wheat crops to pay interest for one year to England. Oh, yes! We have a fine financial system, hollers an exchange.

"This," said the seylum attendant, "is the poor fellow who imagined the tariff was to be the sole issue this year. In the next cell we have the man who thought this election would be a one-sided affair."

W. R. Hearst, proprietor of the San Francisco Examiner and the New York Journal, has begun the publication of a new free silver daily paper at Chicago: the Enquirer, with a capital of $1,000,000.

there is a man in Georgia who boasts of having written 70 poems in the last 30 days. At last accounts he was still at large, but the police were hot on his trail.

William J. Bryan: We believe that when prosperity is brought to the producing masses of this country, it will find its way to other classes. There is no legislation which is good if it does not reach the masses: Prince Bismarck, in a speech made to the farmers about a year ago, said that the farmers must stand together and protect themselves from the drones of society which produce nothing but laws. The producers are just as much entitled to the fruits of their industry and to consideration as those who consume the things produced.

SUMMONS.

In the Circuit Court for the County of Gilliam, State of Oregon.

John F. Pennypacker, Plaintiff, vs: John F. Turner, R. Emma Turner, Harry Grubb, Charles H. Dodd & Co. and L. O. Ralston, Defendants.

To John F. Turner, R. Emma Turner and Harry Grubb, defendants: In the name of the State of Oregon, you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit on or before the first day of the next regular term of the above entitled court, to-wit: Monday, the 21st day of September, 1896, and if you fail so to appear or answer, for want thereof the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in said complaint, to-wit: Judgment against defendants John F. Turner and R. Emma Turner for the sum of six hundred dollars ($600.00) in U. S. gold coin, with interest thereon at the rate of eight per cent per annum from the first day of May, 1894, until paid, and for the sum of thirty-seven dollars and fifty cents ($37.50) with interest thereon from the first day of May, 1894, at eight per cent per annum until paid, and for the further sum of sixty dollars ($60.00) attorney's fee, together with the costs and disbursements to be taxed in this suit; and that the mortgage described in plaintiff's complaint be foreclosed and that the premises therein described, to-wit: The east half of the east half of section eight in township one south, of range twenty-one east, Willamette meridian, situated in Gilliam County, State of Oregon, be sold to satisfy said judgment; and that said John F. Turner and R. Emma Turner and all persons claiming by, through or under be forever barred of all right, claim or interest, except as redemptioners under the statute, and for such other and further relief as the court may seem just and equitable.

This summons is published by order of W. L. Bradshaw, judge of said court; made and dated on the 20th day of July, 1896.

IN-FACT - ANYTHING - USED - ON - A - FARM.

Since 1875 there have been nine epidemics of dysentery in different parts of the country in which Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was used with perfect success. Dysentery, when epidemic, is almost as severe and dangerous as Asiatic cholera. Heretofore the best efforts of the most skilled physicians have failed to check its ravages. This remedy, however, has cured the most malignant cases, both of children and adults, and under the most trying conditions, which proves it to be the best medicine in the world for bowel complaints. For sale by druggists.

My little boy, when two years of age, was taken very ill with bloody flux. I was advised to use Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and luckily procured part of a bottle. I carefully read the directions and gave it accordingly. He was very low, but slowly and surely he began to improve, gradually recovered, and is now as stout and strong as ever. I never can praise the remedy half its worth. I am sorry every one in the world does not know how good it is, as I do.—Mrs. Lina S. Hinton, Grahamsville, Marion county, Florida. For sale by druggists.
