GLOBOSITIES.

Election next Tuesday.
County court meets next week.
Wm. Dunlap and family visited Arlington the first of this week.
Antone Miller made final proof on his Lone Rock homestead Monday before the county clerk.
Our school teachers have just added a historical atlas and a number of useful maps to the school.
Deputy Sheriff Johnson is out this week delivering the ballots and boxes to the various precincts.
Wildbill Thurnagle has quit his job of stage driving. We understand that John Bishop will take his place as driver.
Rev. F. L. Johns of Fossil requests us to announce that he will preach at Condon next Sunday, morning and evening.
Byron March and family have moved from the John Day to The Dalles, where they expect to make their future home.
The Heppner Gazette says that Clay Myers has decided to give up the Palace hotel, which he has had rented the last year.
An exchange has made the important discovery that there is virtue in one kind of laziness. It is when a man is too lazy to run in debt.
Spain has at least one sympathizer and that is Germany. That country has just sold Spain 60,000 rifles with which to shoot at Cubans.
Isaac Turple, who moved from near Fossil to Portland about seven years ago, now has charge of a line of street cars in Portland and is doing well.
Atchinson Globe: There is nothing that makes the doctor quite so disgusted as to have a patient recover, whom he has said could not possibly live.
A match game of football will be played at Condon on Thanksgiving between the Fossil and Condon boys, which will be worth coming many miles to see.
Young men are so scarce in a neighboring town that a young lady there experienced a thrill of delight when her hand was squeezed the other day—by a clothes wringer.
Ex-Jeweler Joseph F. Potter has left Arlington for Washington, D. C. Some think that Joe is going to make a hard fight for a cabinet position, no matter who is elected.
"Paw," said the little boy, "did you know that the housefly lays more than a million eggs?" "Maybe she does, Willie, but I'll be hanged if I can tell when she takes the time."
A novel provision of the Indiana election bribery law is that he who accepts a bribe for voting or for neglecting to vote may recover, in an action at law, $300 from the briber.
Mont Downing, proprietor of a store at Bourne, Baker county, is home on a visit to his folks at Condon. Some of the boys think Mont will take unto himself a better 1/2 before he goes back.
"The fool and his money are soon parted." The day following election will probably show up the fool as numerous and as prominently as knots on a log—maybe a little worse.—Exchange.
A very large audience enjoyed the school entertainment here Friday night. However, the Patriotic Day entertainment will not come off until Friday night, Nov. 6th, to which all are invited.
People who live in glass houses should never throw stones, and those who live in houses where there are glass windows should pull down the blinds before they disrobe, thoughtfully suggests an exchange.
Judge Bennett has just won a $40,000 damage suit at Dayton, Wash., for Mrs. Robt. Walker against the O. R. & N. Co. Her husband was recently killed in an accident while serving as engineer on that line.
Ira Carter of Mayville was over to the city yesterday and informed us that he has just leased his farm to his brother. As Ira will now have nothing to bother him, it is likely he will get married, in order to save wood this winter.
Miss Daisy Ogden of Pendleton, who has been visiting at Fossil for several weeks, is lying at the point of death with lung troubles. Father Briordy was summoned from Heppner to visit her and he passed through here yesterday.
An Omaha applicant was recently refused citizenship papers because he could not name the number of representatives each state has in congress. If the same knowledge was required of native-born voters, how many could qualify?
The Oregonian has at last arrived at the conclusion that McKinley will carry every state in the Union by rousing majorities. According to the opinion of that paper, McKinley will get at least five-fourths of all of the votes cast—and maybe a few more.
Dr. B. F. Nutt, the Fossil dentist, arrived in Condon the first of the week and will remain one month. Those needing dental work should take advantage of this opportunity. Come early and avoid the rush. Office in rear of Hendricks' law office.

Charley Fix is still making improvements. This time he is having the well in front of his stable walled and cemented and will pump water by means of his windmill on top of the barn. In case of fire, this will be worth half a dozen of such fire engines as we have.
L. W. Darling has moved his stock of drugs and the postoffice into his new building, which is now as neat a little store as can be found anywhere. He has just ordered a large stock of fresh drugs. Mr. Darling has moved his family into the Henshaw residence.
The Santa Clara (Cal.) Journal says: "John Downing, of Condon, Oregon, who had been in this county for some weeks, has returned to his home. He will likely move his family here within the next thirty or sixty days and make his future home in our midst."
A farmer left his team standing in the street all day in Boise, Idaho, recently. When he returned in the evening they were gone, but in the wagon he found a note signed by indignant Boise women: "Two women unhitched your horses and let them go, we know not where or care not, but we know they will get water and grass."
"The October states" have passed away. Florida having voted to do away with October elections, Georgia is the only one left. The tendency to hold state elections at the same time with the national election is marked. Oregon will have to do away with its June elections soon, or be left alone with its double event.
The editor of one of our exchanges evidently is not getting more than his share of the good things of the earth. He pathetically makes the announcement that it seems like a thousand years since he had a dollar that he could blow in without feeling as guilty as a small boy in the act of penetrating the bowels of a crock of preserves.
J. P. Thomas, the enterprising Olex blacksmith, has the foundation laid for a large new blacksmith and wagonmaker's shop combined, and will be a permanent fixture at Olex. He is a first-class mechanic and never fails to give satisfaction. Next spring he expects to put an extra man at work in his shop, which will have two forges.
After next Tuesday the great struggle will be over, the bets will be declared off, new suits and hats will adorn the many who guessed the winner, while an equal number will realize that they must have bet on the wrong man. It is sincerely hoped that general prosperity will follow rapidly in the wake of the election, no matter who is elected.
Hon. E. D. Boyd of Pendleton spoke to a very large audience here last night in behalf of Bryan and silver. He will speak at Fossil this Thursday evening. Mr. Boyd is a native of Arkansas, where he held some responsible positions, having been a member of the legislature several terms. R. T. Cox of Arlington accompanied him through this county.
Posters were printed at this office Tuesday, announcing the fact that Hon. C. B. Moores of Salem, one of the most prominent republican orators in the state, will speak in this county as follows: At Arlington on Oct. 28th; Condon this Thursday evening; Mayville on Friday, 20th, at 2 p. m., and at Fossil in the evening; Olex on Saturday evening, 31st. Everybody invited.
It's a peculiar state of affairs, and one party has but little confidence in the policy of another, when two men of different honest political views, one of which will venture the assertion "that the country will go to the devil if McKinley is elected," and the other the same assertion if Bryan is elected. It is hardly possible that both are right, and is barely possible that both are wrong.—Blue Mountain Eagle.
An Antelope mother recently invited the minister to dinner, and then gave her little boy instructions on how to act. "If he asks your name, say Willie," she told the boy. "If he asks your age, say five years, and if he asks where bad boys go, remember what I have told often told you. They go to hell." The minister came, and the first thing he did was to ask the boy his name. Quick as a flash, the boy replied: "Willie. Five years old. Go to hell."
Mrs. C. A. Danneman of Clem, who had been troubled for a long time with an enormous cancerous tumor in the left breast, had it removed last Saturday at the Vincent hospital in Portland by Dr. Geisendorfer of Arlington. It was a dangerous operation, but she is getting along as well as could be expected and will be able to return home in about two weeks. Her two little daughters, Bessie and Mary, are stopping with her at the hospital, the latter not yet having recovered from a severe attack of pneumonia.
W. R. Boyer of Clem, who was badly injured five weeks ago by a heavily-loaded wagon running over him, and who is under treatment in the St. Vincent hospital in Portland, is greatly discouraged. His physicians have had him in a stretching machine three times for the purpose of pulling his hip-joint back in its place, but owing to it having remained out of joint so long before he went to the hospital, it can not now be done. His doctors say it is not likely that he will ever be able to walk, except by the aid of a crutch. It is not much wonder that the poor fellow is despondent, and his many friends sincerely sympathize with him in his terrible misfortune.

An eastern paper recently offered a prize for the best epigrammatic definition of the new woman. The prize was awarded to this epigram: "A fresh darn on the original blue stocking." Other good epigrams were: "Six of one and half a dozen of the other;" "One who has not yet attained to be a gentleman;" "Man's newest and best reason for remaining single;" and "Mannishness minus manliness;" "one who has given up her womanly ways but retains her womanly authority."
Poor old Spain! She has two rebellions to look after, and as great as is that of Cuba, the one in the Philippines is not a bit smaller. She is certainly reaping a bitter reward for her past cruelties. A few years ago Spain thought she was so powerful that none of her subjects dare rebel, and submitted them to all kinds of atrocities that a wicked brain could conceive of, but as the old saying is, the worm has turned; and in a few years Spain, once a mighty and powerful nation, will be the weakest on the face of the earth.
This is the last week of a political campaign that will go into history as the most notable since the civil war. For three or four days more the contest will be waged with unprecedented vigor by the contending organizations, and it is safe to predict that more practical work will be done between now and next Tuesday morning by both parties than has thus far been accomplished. Desultory skirmishing is ended and the concentrated charge has begun. From now until the election is over, the nation will ring with the clashing of the great armies.
Putting up stove-pipe is easy enough if you only know how to go at it. In the morning breakfast on some light, nutritious diet, drink two cups of hot coffee, after which put on a suit of old clothes—or new ones if you have no other—put on a pair of gloves, and when this is done and you are ready for the fatal blow, go and get a tinner who understands his business and get him to do the job for you. It may cost you some money to have it done, but your conscience will feel much better when you go to church the next Sunday and hear the minister tell what a hot reception awaits the man who uses profanity.
We are in receipt of a communication from Mr. H. Foster of Rock creek, which would make about a column or so, giving his side of the controversy or misunderstanding arising out of the Arlington band boys' trip to the recent political debate on Rock creek. According to his idea, the band boys were treated as per agreement and as well as could reasonably be expected at a meeting of that kind. But we can not publish such long articles that are not of general interest to the public. Mr. Foster says that he promised to and will deliver the refreshments in question to the boys at Arlington, and when he does, the best plan is for him and the band to talk the matter over privately, as it doesn't concern any one else.
A preacher not many miles from here who tried to ride a bicycle before it was ripe, ex-orted his congregation in this style: "These bladder-wheeled bicycles are diabolical devices for the demons of darkness. They are contrivances to entrap the feet of the unwary and skin the noses of the innocent. They are full of guile and deceit. When you think you have broke one to ride, and have subdued its wild, satanic nature, behold it bucketh you off in the road, and teareth a hole in your pants. Look not upon the bike when it bloweth up its wheels for at last it bucks like a bronco and harteeth like thunder. Who hath skinned legs? Who hath a bloody nose? Who hath ripped breeches? They who monkey with a bicycle."
Arlington Items.
The Globe man spent Sunday in town. Mrs. Wenner, of North Yakima, is visiting her son Charles.
Hon. C. B. Moores spoke here Wednesday night for McKinley.
Bob Watkins, our former jeweler, is back in Arlington again.
Robt. Barfoot and family have moved into one of Smith's residences in East Arlington.
Messrs. Nolan and Smith of Astoria spoke here for Bryan Monday evening to a large audience. The local democrats engaged the band and there was also a grand parade.
Officers of the Arlington Cornet Band have just been elected as follows: President, S. A. D. Garley; Vice-president, L. C. Edwards; Secretary, E. W. Daggett; Treasurer, F. T. Shurte; Board of Control, R. H. Robinson, F. C. Hindie, J. Pound.
Olex Explosions.
Wm. Dunlap of Condon was in our city Tuesday.
The roads are lined with wheat teams to Arlington. The price is improving again slightly.
Olex is having a building boom this week. A 2-story hall and blacksmith shop were raised.
Billy Keys, the new proprietor of the Mayville store, drove a large band of fine beef cattle through here Monday.
We are sorry to chronicle the fatal illness of Mr. O. P. Taylor of this place. The latest report is to the effect that he is fast nearing the end of life's journey, and is unconscious at this writing. He took violently sick last Saturday night with kidney troubles, and the Arlington and Heppner doctors say he can not possibly recover.

Lone Rock Rumbings.
The Day Bucks are going like hot cakes and will soon all be gone.
Some of our boys attended the races and dance at Haystack last week.
Our people have been hauling large quantities of Fossil flour for winter use.
A very interesting entertainment, consisting of songs, dialogues and recitations, was given in the hall here Tuesday night, under the management of the A. P. A. lodge. A fine basket supper was served and all seemed to enjoy the evening immensely.
Mr. and Mrs. Otho Ward visited relatives in the 8-mile country over Sunday. Otho reports Bryan's election a certainty. This is welcome news to a great many people, as there were some who had some doubts about it, but this settles it, and people might as well quit talking and go to work.
The many friends of L. M. Tucker will be pleased to learn that he is back in the employ of James W. Smith at Arlington. The old customers will find him at his post of duty, ready to dish out prunes, tear off prints, fit you out with head and foot-wear or persuade you to treat yourself to a new overcoat or a fine suit of clothes.
Notice to Teamsters.
The privilege of teamsters to use water, stable-room and camp-house accommodations at the Junction House (7 miles south of Arlington) hereafter will be charged for at the following rates:
For water only, for 6 months, $1.
Water and stable room, 6 months, $2.
Water, stable and camp-house, 6 months, $2.50. These amounts are all payable in advance.
Teamsters, of course, must take chances on the barn being full of horses at times; but "first come first served." L. L. Cooke has charge of these premises and will act as collector for us.
W. L. BARKER,
F. C. CORNETT.
Teachers' Examination.
Notice is hereby given that for the purpose of making an examination of all persons who may offer themselves as candidates for teachers of this county and state, the county superintendent thereof will hold a public examination at Condon, Oregon, on November 11-13, 1896, beginning at one o'clock p. m. on Wednesday, November 11th.
Dated this 27th day of October, 1896.
E. W. DAGGETT,
County Superintendent Gilliam County, Oregon.
Administrator's Notice.
