GLOBOSITIES.

F. H. Stephenson desires us to announce that he has for sale a large quantity of Mayville flour.

Oliver Nelson made final proof on his Ferry Canyon homestead Saturday before the county clerk.

W. J. Bryan will earn a larger salary this coming year on the lecture platform than if he had been elected president.

Ed Portwood will open a saloon at Mayville about the 10th of next month. See his petition for liquor license in this issue.

A. C. Scott, the Home Range collector, is in this section again collecting the small balance yet due him in this county.

Rev. Lawson, the Baptist minister of Mayville, will conduct a revival at Condon next week, commencing Monday evening.

The several newly-married grooms gave a free dance in the Armory hall here Monday night, which was enjoyed by a number of young folks.

No wonder that The Dalles Chronicle is again one of the best-edited and brightest papers on the coast. J. H. Cradelbaugh is editor of it again.

Miss Louella Maddock left Tuesday for Pendleton, where she will take a course in the St. Joseph academy. Her many friends here will miss her.

Another change has been made in the O. E. N. time table. The westbound train now arrives at Arlington at 2:42 a. m. and the eastbound at 12:28 a. m.

The equal suffrage amendment carried in Idaho, which makes four states in which women can vote. The three others are Wyoming, Utah and Colorado.

Rev. F. L. Johns of Fossil requests us to announce that he will preach at Condon next Sunday, morning and evening. All are cordially invited out to hear him.

A grand ball will be given at Fossil on Friday night of this week, to which all are invited. Besides the dance there will be other amusements that will be very entertaining.

Miss Daisy Downing, who is attending the state normal school at Weston, arrived here Tuesday of last week on a visit to her folks and remained until Tuesday of this week.

A young man in Portland has invented a machine for starting a fire in the morning without getting out of bed. The GLOBE would like to take a few of them on subscription.

It seems that the colder the weather the more marriages take place. Had the cold snout lasted a few weeks longer it is thought all of the young folks would have committed matrimony.

Several days ago Jack Glasgow caught in a trap an enormous eagle, seven feet across the shoulders, including the wings. It was dead when he found it, and its stuffed skin now adorns the Summit saloon.

Her friends and fellow-students will regret to learn of the serious illness from consumption of Miss Nora Weatherford at her home in Gilliam county. Miss Weatherford attended the Normal school last winter.—Weston Leader.

In several of the eastern states the legislators are about to pass a law making football playing a felony, the same as prize fighting. They believe that one is just as brutal and degrading as the other, and are going to put a stop to it.

During the winter months a change of stage horses will be made again at Olex and Condon, as formerly. Since the present management took charge of the line several months ago, but one change was made on the 60-mile route, that being at Clem.

An attempt will be made in the near future to organize a telephone company, with headquarters at Heppner, that will tap the whole interior country, and eventually connect us with the "Long Distance" at some place in Gilliam county. Hardman, Lexington, Ione and other points will be reached.—Heppner Gazette.

At the shooting match here Thursday the following persons won turkeys: Will Searey 2, W. L. Wilcox 1, B. K. Searey 1, Shed Grider 1. Mr. Grider also won the 1/2 of beef by the best 60-yds off-hand shot. Sheriff Wilcox made a remarkable shot, putting a bullet through a turkey's head, a distance of 200 yards, the first shot.

The Weston Leader last week made the announcement that Prof. Hiram Henry was going to be married at Condon on Thanksgiving. This is a mistake, as the professor is still enjoying single cussedness as much as he ever did. But he is liable to be run through the matrimonial mill any time, as he is quite a favorite among the fair sex.

Editor E. M. Shutt of the Antelope Herald does not propose to get left on account of being late, hence his petition to be appointed register of the land office at this place is already out. Mr. Shutt has had considerable experience in land matters, and the way he "whooped 'em up" for McKinley entitles him to recognition.—Dalles Times-Mountaineer.

Traveling men and residents of this county who frequently visit all the neighboring towns say that Condon is the liveliest and best little town in the state. They all say also that the GLOBE is one of the best country newspapers in the state, which accounts for the town's present high state of prosperity. Wherever you find a good newspaper you will find a good town.

Wheat is looking up and it is now claimed that seventeen million bushels will be required monthly by Europe, from now until next July. As it is impossible for one year's crop to overcome a year of short crop and at the same time make a surplus, the outlook for good prices is very bright. It is tolerably certain that next year's wheat crop will not sell below 70 cents a bushel.

As the time for making cash entry on the forfeited Northern Pacific railroad lands expires Jan. 1st, 1897, the business of the land office is picking up, and there will be quite a rush of business from this time until that date. There is no probability of the time being extended, no deusd having so far been made for it, and all desiring to make proof must do so during the year 1896.—Dalles Chronicle.

The intense cold weather on Thanksgiving almost prevented the game of football coming off at Condon, but the boys were all on hand and played anyway. As was expected, the Fossil team, which was in excellent practice, won easily. Two innings were played, the Fossilites scoring one goal each inning, making two goals to Condon's 0. It was a lively game and greatly enjoyed by the large crowd of spectators.

Notwithstanding the fact that Thanksgiving was one of the coldest days ever experienced at Condon, a tremendous crowd came out to attend the ball, for which 98 numbers were sold. Had the weather been as pleasant as it usually is the latter part of November, there is no doubt that at least 150 numbers would have been sold. The orchestra was comprised of Jedy Brown of Fossil, Prof. Henry and S. P. Shutt of Condon. Fine suppers were prepared at Maddock's hotel, Rinehart and Smith's restaurants.

Frank Nelson, an old bachelor who has resided in Ferry Canyon for the last nine years, engaged in farming and raising horses, died Monday night, after an illness of several weeks. The burial took place at Condon Wednesday. The deceased came from Illinois to California during the gold excitement of '49, and remained there until about ten years ago, when he came to this county. He leaves no relatives in the West that we know of. Of the property he leaves there are about 100 head of horses and several hundred acres of deeded land.

Papers all over the Northwest are noticing the arrival of Arctic or snowy owls. They have been seen at many places all the way from the boundary line to the California line. One paper says: "This owl travels southward with the ducks, the companion it is generally found with." Owls and ducks do not travel together unless the duck is inside the owl. The ducks come down from the north every winter, but the snowy owl does not migrate unless the winter north is unusually severe, and his food supply is shot off. The last time these birds were seen here in numbers was in the hard winter of 1881-82.

Our city council has very properly concluded to assist our cornet band for several months, to the amount of $10 a month, which will go towards helping to pay our instructor, Prof. Henry. The members of the band have been put to a great deal of expense, besides the time devoted to practice, and it is but right that the town assist them a little. All other towns do the same and feel that it is money well spent, for all must admit that a band is a great improvement and benefit to a place. Before the council made this allowance, however, a petition was circulated and the names of the taxpayers of the town secured with their approval.

Wedding Bells.

Married, by Rev. Weatherford, an English minister, at his residence in Portland on Nov. 25th at 2:30 p. m., Mr. P. H. Stephenson and Miss Goldie Darling, both of Condon. The happy couple arrived home Friday and have already begun housekeeping in rooms in the rear of his store, which have been elegantly fitted up and furnished for the occasion. The groom is a prosperous young merchant of this place and the bride is one of the most accomplished young ladies in the country, and their many friends believe that a better match could not have been made.

Married, by the Congregationalist minister, Rev. Curtis, in The Dalles on Nov. 28th, Mr. S. B. Contare and Miss Clara Lamberson. They have already gone to housekeeping at the groom's comfortable home in Ferry Canyon, with the best wishes of their many friends.

Married, at Condon on Sunday evening, Nov. 29th, Mr. Ed Portwood and Mrs. Alma Sayre, of Arlington. The happy young couple will soon move to Mayville, where the groom will engage in business. They have a host of friends who join in hearty congratulations.

Married, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Carl, near Mayville on Nov. 28th, Mr. Wm. Ramsay and Miss Annie Carl. May their voyage o'er the sea of matrimony be a smooth one.

G. Millett of Junction City the other day sold 7,500 bushels of wheat for 70c a bushel. This man only a few years ago was a renter without a dollar, while now he is worth $35,000 and he has made every cent of this money by farming. He is a practical farmer, and claims today that raising wheat at 50 cents per bushel is the best business in the world.—Engene Guard.

The weather has moderated again, but all last week was the coldest ever experienced in this country during the month of November, and about as cold as ever felt here at any other season of the year. Several mornings the mercury was forced down to 15 degrees below zero, and several of our people looked desperately at the spot where their woodpile ought to be. The cold snap has been general all over the country, but no one predicts a very severe winter from now on, except our friend Hicks, who believes the winter will be a little more severe than usual. We have not heard of any stock or sheep suffering during the cold snap, but it is safe to conclude that those who have plenty of hay are resting the easiest just now.

The witnesses and jurors who served at the time the sheep trespass case of H. C. Strickland vs. Giede & Sumerfield was heard in justice's court at Condon a year ago will soon begin to think that the case never will be disposed of, and they cannot be blamed for wanting their fees, which should have been paid when the service was rendered. The sixty days' time in which a bill of exceptions should have been filed with a view to carrying the case to the state supreme court has expired, and it seems to us that all that is left to do now is for Mr. Strickland to proceed to collect the amount of his judgment and costs from the defendants. The witnesses and jurors can rest assured that, although the case appears to be everlasting, it will come to an end some time and they will get their fees.

Arlington Items.

Squire Ebi had his bob sleighs out for the first time in several years.

The infant child of W S Farr died last Saturday evening and was buried Sunday afternoon.

The box social given last week by the A. O. U. W. was a grand success socially and financially.

Skating has been the absorbing topic for several days. It has been the best for many years at this place.

The geese have nearly all gone south since the cold snap, leaving the sports in the rear to shoot jack-rabbits and tell how many geese they can kill.

The RR between here and Portland is blockaded and the snow plows are at work cleaning the track. We have had no Portland mail for several days.

Alex Crawford of Lone Rock moved his family to Arlington the first of the week on account of Mrs. C's health. Their son Wm. is stopping with them for a few days.

The Arlington Gun Club held its regular election the first of the week and re-elected all of the old officers. They will try and have the game law amended so that hunters will not be allowed to hunt and kill geese on their roosting grounds.

Last week snow fell here to the depth of 5 inches, and the coldest we had was 5 degrees below zero. At The Dalles the snow was two feet deep and 3 and 4 feet several hundred miles east of here. Rough as it was here, it was mild compared with every other section of country.

Some of the hobos got to making too free use of the city's coal, and the marshal concluded he would take them in and give them a stove to burn it in, but when he put them to work fixing up the city park grounds and other little jobs they skipped out and left Carlisle to do it himself.

The band entertainment was opened by S A D Gurley, president of the band, by an able address, setting forth the object of the organization and benefit it is to a town to have a good band. After the entertainment the floor was cleared and about 100 persons enjoyed themselves until the small hours dancing.

Thanksgiving day passed off quietly here, owing to the cold weather. The Gun Club had its clay pigeon shoot, Walter Compton walking off with first prize—a five-dollar hat. R F Cox and W H Colwell took second and third places. A lot of turkeys were shot for by some of the crack shots and some that were not so crack.

Bill Crawford, brother of Geo. Crawford, the politician, came through here last week on his way to Southern Oregon, looking for a new location. Mr. Crawford has been interested in a mine that he found near Spokane, out of which the six partners have taken $75,000 within the last two years. He has sold his interest and will take life easy for awhile.

Only a simple question! Why send away for a sewing machine when you can get one of the "Latest Improved" and guaranteed for 5 years, from Shurtz Bros. Price from $15 to $60.

Lone Rock Rumbings.

Our protracted meeting seems to be well attended, considering the bad weather.

Some of our sheep men have been feeding their sheep for several days on account of the frost on the grass.

How do we always know a gold standard lady by sight up here? By the color of her spectacles, of course.

Some parties got so badly tangled up here last Thursday that it is thought they can never be separated again.

The roads are in such bad condition that it is almost impossible to go to any of the neighboring towns with wagons.

Mr. John Bowen will soon have his store running in full blast. Good fires and comfortable seats for bums, a specialty.

The protracted meeting is still in progress and much interest is manifested by the large congregations that attend each service.

Dad Flynn got back to the "land of smiling damsels" last week. Dad is quite a favorite among the ladies, who are delighted to welcome him back.

James Vickers, who lives four miles south of town met with a very painful and serious accident last week by falling on the frozen ground and fracturing his hip.

Dr. Hunlock sold his residence here to Henry Neel and moved his family to Heppner a few days since, where he will follow his profession for an indefinite time.

The unusual cold weather has frozen the contents of most of the cellars about this burg, and the logs that were butchered before the cold spell are frozen so hard that you can't tell the meat from the bone.

This has been the worst November weather ever experienced by the inhabitants of this country. The thermometer has ranged from 10 to 15 degrees below zero for the past ten days. At present it is chincoking.

Every one up here is cranky about the frosty, cold weather. It is about the most disagreeable weather we have had for years and everything is froze up tighter than some of the politicians got just after the election.

Our burg is badly in need of some peace officer that will take the hoodlums in hand who are in the habit of damaging our public school property by breaking the bell, etc., as well as disturbing the peace unlawfully. What's the matter with our directors?

Married, at the residence of Mr. Andrew Neel on Nov. 26, Henry Neel and Miss Mattie Davis, Rev. Johns officiating. About 50, most of whom were relatives, witnessed the affair and partook of the wedding feast given in honor of the long-looked-for event.

Olex Explosions.

There was quite a dance at Locust grove last week.

Andy and Will Wilkins left the state for California last week.

Say, did you ever hear tell of what "liverwort" did? Ask Clarence Seagins. He is on the shelf.

J. F. Hayes was in Olex Tuesday. He is making arrangements to winter his sheep on Rock Creek this winter.

Navigation is rather sluggish toward Arlington. J. J. Wasson broke the tongue out of his wagon Tuesday while crossing Rock creek.

They say history repeats itself and that this will be the hardest winter since 1813. Stockmen better be laying in an abundance of feed.

Snow 4 inches deep at Olex and still snowing. Thermometer has been from 2 degrees to 14 degrees below zero at Olex and within ten miles.

We hope Wm. Stewart, who was recently injured in the stage accident, will soon be able to handle the ribbons again on the route, as he is a very accommodating driver.

Harry Reed, the stage man, was in the city during the week looking after stage interests, repairing broken axles, putting sleighs in order and changing the stock from Clem to Olex again.

We are pained to chronicle a very sad accident, which happened last week. Mr. Wm. Smith, living at the mouth of Hay creek on the John Day, while returning from the burial of his sister his team ran away, killing one horse, smashed up the rig and bruised the occupants but not seriously.

The bond papers not being properly drawn up and signed by the Supt., the new school house will not be built this winter. But thanks, if this weather keeps up and we get snow enough, we will raise wheat enough to enable us to erect our own buildings and not be compelled to call upon anyone to help us out.

Estrayed Sheep.

About Oct. 12th, 40 or 50 head of lost or estrayed sheep came into my band near Susanville. They are all old ewes; have a crop off both ears and some of them are branded with something like an H with a bar through the center, others with an X and several with a K. Owner can have same by proving property and paying expenses.

FRED MONROE, Condon, Or.

Of Interest to Settlers.
