

THE CONDON GLOBE.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 8, 1897.

NOTICE.

The yearly subscription to the GLOBE is $1.00, in advance. If not paid in advance, $2 will be charged. A blue pencil mark around this notice indicates that your subscription expires with this issue. Please renew promptly.

GLOBOSITIES.

Dr. Hogan has not yet returned from Lone Rock.

Antone Nelson has moved his blacksmith shop from Mayville to Antelope.

A magnificent new $100 organ delivered at your nearest R. Y. station for $75. Apply at this office.

Born, on Sunday morning, Jan. 3d, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Palmer of Ferry Canyon, a fine little daughter.

Our band has concluded to give a ball on Feb. 23d, which, of course, will be a grand affair. Everybody invited.

John Lyons returned home yesterday from his Walla Walla visit. J. R. Clark has returned also from his Elgin visit.

Mrs. John Palmer returned home this week from a two month's visit at the home of her daughter at Trail Creek, B. C.

As the meat business is rather slack just now, our butcher, Fred Cornett, has concluded to close his shop for a couple of months.

Among those from a distance who had business before the county court this week were Frank Knox of Pine Creek and J. P. and S. S. Thomas of Olex.

County court is in session this week and there is a great deal of important business to dispose of—examining reports of supervisors, appointing new ones, etc.

The taxable property of this county has been largely increased by the many thousands of acres of railroad land that have been purchased within the last few weeks.

Frank Maddock left yesterday for Mt. Angel, near Portland, where he will attend a Catholic school for boys until next June. His mother accompanied him.

A Goldendale paper says that Attorney John A. Brown, formerly of Arlington, is now practicing in Spokane. The paper does not say what he is practicing, but the chances are that it is before the bar, mostly.

Charley Boyse, teacher of the Lone Rock school, visited Condon the first of this week. There is no school over there this week, owing to the diphtheria scare, which turns out to be only malignant sore throat.

Mr. Frank M. Rinehart of Salem is visiting his brother George and other relatives in this county. He has been absent from home since Nov. 6th, having visited his mother at La Grande before coming to Gilliam.

No publisher in the whole country can afford to go without the Nebraska Editor, published at Beaver City, Nebraska. It is only $1 a year and full of highly interesting news that is indispensable to publishers.

The Condon Cornet Band elected new officers Saturday evening as follows: President, H. N. Fraser; vice-president, Frank Clark; secretary and treasurer, M. O. Clarke. Bill Cooke was chosen to act as leader until a teacher can be secured in the spring.

The Spokane papers tell of one Don Carlos Boyd a well-known printer, formerly of Heppner, who mysteriously disappeared in Spokane last week. The supposition is that he was foully dealt with, as his valise was left in his room, for which the rent was paid a week in advance.

The Grant County News says that Prof. R. D. Williams, who was stabbed by one of his pupils, Ed Meador, at Prairie City recently, has not died, as reported by the newspapers, and will recover. The deputy sheriffs who went after young Meador followed him as far as Antelope, where they lost track of him and gave up the chase.

Rev. F. L. Johns of Fossil, assisted by Rev. Hornbrook of Goldendale, will begin a series of revival meetings at Condon this Thursday night, to continue for about two weeks. All are invited to attend and take part in the good work. There are a great many people in this section who could stand considerable more salvation without hurting them any, or making them bow-legged packing it around.

The Globe last week was a little previous in stating that Mrs. C. W. Gross and her brother-in-law, John Gross, had started home to Athens with little Willie Gross. There was a lively contest this week before Judge Mariner between Mr. A. J. Moore, the little fellow's grandfather, and his uncle, John Gross, for the appointment of guardian for the boy, resulting in Mr. Gross receiving the appointment. All three left today for their homes in Unatilla county.

Gez Whillkins! Charley Nickell, editor and proprietor of the Jacksonville Times, whom all of the state papers have been holding up as one of the wealthiest editors on this coast, placing his wealth at about $40,000, has just had his $10,000 printing office and outfit sold by the sheriff, to satisfy a mortgage of $2200. The Medford Monitor adds that this is not surprising, that in every community the people who generally fly the highest and put on the most dog could not cross a free bridge if they paid their debts.

The leap year ball Thursday night was a very successful affair, both financially and socially. About 50 numbers were sold and all who attended pronounced it one of the most delightful affairs of the kind ever given in the county.

We learn from the Heppner Gazette that Morgan Ward has established a new date for Christmas. At their Christmas tree in Lone Rock, in a sprightly burst of oratory that would have brought down the halls of congress, Morgan set aside the 25th day of September as a date to be observed as Christmas hereafter, declaring that in the date Christ was born. Santa Claus will object to the change perhaps more than anyone else, as he'll have to "go it" on a wagon after this, instead of the old familiar sleigh.

There is still a possibility of the time in which to make payment on railroad land being extended. A dispatch from Washington, dated Dec. 31, 1896, says: "At the request of Representative Ellis, Secretary Francis issued an order today suspending entries after Jan. 1st on forfeited railroad grants, which will prevent contests on lands where settlers failed to make payments as required. This suspension will be in force until congress can pass a bill extending the time in which payment can be made. Extension bills are now pending in both houses."

Senator Dufur's Views.

Hon. E. B. Dufur of The Dalles, state senator-elect, representing Wasco, Sherman and Gilliam counties, is a guest at the St. Charles, and will remain in the city for several days. In an interview with an Oregonian reporter concerning forthcoming legislation and the senatorial election, Mr. Dufur said:

"I have been so busily employed in professional labor that, so far, I have not been able to give much thought to legislative work. I can assure you that I will be in favor of wholesome legislation, something that will prove beneficial to the state at large, and, in a measure, relieve taxpayers from the heavy burdens now imposed upon them.

"I believe that the time has come when the railroad commissions should be abolished. If that is found impossible, then I favor the suggestion heretofore made that there shall be but one railroad commissioner. It is different with the position of fish and game protector. That office should be maintained. Good results have come from it in the past, and, properly administered, it will prove of benefit to the state.

"I do not think the state board of equalization has been an entire success. Men who have been elected as assessors in the several counties have apparently done their work conscientiously, and they are in a position to know values. As an additional safeguard to their work, it is reviewed by a county board of equalization, and it does seem that this should be sufficient without having to sustain an additional board of equalization at great expense to the state."

Regarding the senatorial question, Senator Dufur was more reticent, not feeling inclined to discuss the subject at large for publication. He said:

"All that I want is to send a man back to the United States senate who will do the most good for the state. It might be Mitchell or it may be some other man. I am a democrat, but find myself in a hopeless minority, so far as party action is concerned, in selecting a democrat for senator. A rumor has prevailed that I was pledged to Mitchell before my nomination. The fact is that, when I was nominated as joint senator, at the convention held in this city, I at first declined to accept. Owing to the pressure brought upon me, and the delegates of my senatorial district unanimously urging and insisting that I should remain on the ticket, I reconsidered my action and consented to run.

"I did say during my canvass that, if a democrat could be elected as senator, I would stand by him until the last run was fired; but, if it came to a question between republican candidates, I would vote for Mitchell in preference to many others. This was during the campaign last spring, before the June election. Then I understood that Mr. Mitchell would not depart from the position he has assumed in favor of the free coinage of silver. Since then, during the late presidential campaign, there are some acts of his that did not meet with my approval."

Notice.

ARLINGTON, ORE., Jan. 4, 1897.

To the clerks of school districts in Gilliam county, Oregon: If your district contemplates voting a tax this year I would direct your attention to page 62 of the school laws, to the act to secure a more convenient mode of making assessments and of collecting and paying taxes. Sections 3 and 4 of this act are of interest to you, under such circumstances. You must have your special meeting called on or by the 21st inst. in order to have the tax hold. District 1 lost their tax last year because of failure to notice this clause and I hope all who may desire to vote a tax this year will remember the manner of procedure and begin in time.

Supplies for your office will be forwarded soon. Any clerk needing a new record book or a teacher's register will confer a favor by notifying me, as they are too weighty to send out unless needed. Very truly,
E. W. DUNN, County Supt.

Arlington Items.

Mrs. Wm. Snell is visiting in Arlington this week.

Russ Stillwell started out Monday to canvass for an Eastern book firm on a six months' contract, at a good salary.

Rev. Barnhart is conducting revival meetings here this week. A great deal of interest is being taken in the meetings.

John Stephens of Rock creek brought in a large Arctic owl the first of the week and made Dr. Geisendorfer a New Year present of the fowl.

Beardsley and Edwards knocked off the perimmons at the New Year's clay pigeon shoot, getting the highest number of birds of any one in the club. No prizes were given.

The weather on New Year's day was the finest ever seen in this latitude on the first of the year. The thermometer stood at 50 all day and the sun shone like in May. The band gave an outdoor concert in the afternoon, which was much appreciated by all.

Dr. Geisendorfer came back from Spokane Monday morning, accompanied by Mrs. Geisendorfer, whose maiden name was Miss Nettie Remington, formerly a resident of this place. Their many friends extend hearty congratulations and wish them all the happiness possible.

S A D Gurley was kept busy day and night making out final proofs on R R land the last few days of the old year. Some wanted their proofs made out as late as 12 o'clock at night of Dec. 31st, having put it off until the last moment, hoping that an extension of time would be granted, but were disappointed.

People who go to an Indian hall should be careful when they go home and not imitate the war whoop and other peculiar antics. Some strangers in town New Year's night thought that wild Indians had broken out near Joe Ward's residence and were about to call the police to hang the whole outfit before they found out what was the matter.

The mask ball given by the Arion club was well attended, there being over sixty masked. The first prize for the best sustained character was given to Miss Pearl Wood; best dressed lady, Mrs. S G Hawson and Miss Ricks; best sustained character by gentleman was given to Dan Smythe, "bootblack"; Pearl Wood, "Topsy," Hawson and Ricks, "Turkish dancing girls."

On New Year's evening 54 Indians gave another dance at Wenner's hall and the door receipts amounted to $23. They were all in full dress, according to their custom, and some of them had war clubs that they claim had been handed down from father to son for hundreds of years. Their dancing and singing were the same as they used before the whites came to this country. Many of our people had never seen an Indian dance and it was quite a treat.

Lone Rock Rumbblings.

P L Ham has the postoffice in his store for an indefinite time.

The weather still continues delightful, with the temperature ranging at about 65 deg. What country can beat this in January?

All the usual meetings of all kinds have been postponed for the past week, as well as the day school, on account of sickness, or rather the fear of more of it.

J S McKinney, the saw mill man, is at Fossil under the treatment of Dr. Howard, for a dangerous case of blood-poisoning, caused by a splinter penetrating his hand.

Much anxiety is felt among the parents of children in our locality for fear the much-bred diphtheria will spread among them, in which event it is almost certain that many would be taken away.

We are creditably informed that the organizer for the United Astian Insurance Co. of Portland will be here some time next week to organize a society, having obtained a sufficient number of names for a charter.

Died, Jan. 4, of diphtheria, Clarence, the only child of Dr. and Mrs. Hogan, aged 3 years and 11 months. The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon in the presence of a large circle of sorrowing friends. The sympathy of the community goes out to the heartbroken parents, who are completely prostrated over their terrible affliction. The father and mother almost worshiped the little fellow, and to have him thus snatched away is indeed a sad blow to them.

The work on the new road up Boone hill has been progressing fairly well of late. Supervisor Madden is doing as much as anyone could do toward completing the road with the means and opportunity furnished him, but it seems to the people up here that the county court should make a liberal appropriation and get the road so it will be of value and service to the traveling public, as the large amount of work that has been already put on this road is practically thrown away unless it is finished.

Butcher Weyer has been relieved of his command of the Spanish canibals in Cuba, for the reason that the Spanish government thinks he is too easy and tender-hearted, and that he and his butchers are not cutting throats fast enough in Cuba to suit them. It is said that Weyer likes blood and throat-cutting so well that he intends to start at once to help the Turks butcher Armenians.

Max Richter, of Mount Vernon, Grant county, tried the experiment this year of shipping his wool clip to London on his own account. The wool brought 12 1/2 cents and the expenses of shipping were 3 1/2 cents, leaving Mr. Richter 9 cents net for his wool. His wool was not of an extra quality, the best offer he could get at home being 6 cents, so he cleared 3 cents per pound.

Mayor Penoyer of Portland performed another of his many noble deeds on the first of this month. When he was elected he said that he would accept only one-half of the lawful salary—$5000, as he considered the amount out of all proportion as reasonable compensation for discharging the duties of mayor. On Jan. 1st he turned over $1250—one-half of the first six months' salary—to the City Board of Charities, to be distributed among the poor of the city. Even his bitterest political enemies down there pronounce it a most gracious act and all admit that the ex-Governor is one of the noblest men of the nation. He expects to continue the good work during his entire term. Most politicians would scheme how to increase their salaries, instead of taking this view of it.

Olex Explosions.

Mr. Wm. Ralston of Albany arrived in Olex last Saturday. He is a brother of J R Ralston.

Mrs. M A Adams arrived at Olex from Tacoma last Monday, to attend to her father, J R Ralston.

There is a full-fledged singing school organized at Olex, with Prof. H J Nott as instructor. Olex will soon sing like the nightingale.

There was quite a rustle for money for R R land and some were left out. But those who got left are better off than those who paid in their money.

Mr. J R Ralston, who was last week stricken with paralysis at Olex, is slowly improving. He is still a very sick man, but is thought by his physician to be out of danger.

The holidays were appropriately observed at Olex with Xmas trees, dances, etc., and now every one is prepared to enter the work for the ensuing year with renewed energy and we hope prosperity.
