

THE CONDON GLOBE.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 29, 1897.

THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF GILLIAM COUNTY, OREGON.

Many people imagine that the railroad managers would oppose the building of a portage railway to Celilo. W. H. Hurlburt of Portland, of the O. R. & N. Co., in speaking of the proposed boat railway at Celilo says he had no doubt a boat railway would be a splendid thing for many people in the eastern part of Oregon and Washington. "I do not anticipate" he continues, "that the O. R. & N. will interpose the slightest objection to a boat railway. On the contrary, I have reason to believe that when the government is ready to make that improvement, the O. R. & N. will willingly move its tracks back from the river and give every assistance in that way to the construction of such an enterprise. The boat railway will be of benefit to the people close to the river, but where they live any distance from it there is a haul, and the railroad will get it. We are particularly interested in the settlement of the country, and any improvement tending to bring immigrants is hailed with satisfaction by the management. A large population means double the hauling now enjoyed by the road, and with it will come a reduction in rates."

A man named Arthur Lingard, died the other day in Lancaster, Penn., aged 107 years. There is nothing singular about this, save the fact that he leaves $2,000,000 and no relatives, and contrary to the rule in such cases, nobody has yet shown up to claim relationship. A short time ago a man was killed by falling from a train at Welton, Mo., and his body taken to Columbia to await identification. Over $3000 in cash was found on the man's person, which fact has led a score of women in different parts of the country to put in claims of being the man's wife, and about fifty men have appeared claiming to be his brother. Times are hard when people will take a corpse for kin on account of the money found on it.

Concerning the extension of time in which to make payment on forfeited railroad land by congress, The Dalles Chronicle says: The bill is of doubtful utility, as nearly all of those who had claims on the lands have perfected their titles. There are some, though, who will be benefited, just as there would be some who would not be ready to pay if the time were extended until Gabriel's trumpet sounded.

The bill introduced by Senator Mitchell appropriating $195,000 for the construction of a portage road from The Dalles to Celilo, is one of the most important measures yet brought before the legislature, and it meets the approval of a large number of legislators, for the reason that it proposes to institute an improvement that will directly benefit more people than any measure carrying with it an appropriation that has come before the legislature in recent years.—East Oregonian.

A bill will be introduced into the next session of the Kansas legislature to consolidate the thirty-nine western counties. The reason given for this startling proposition is that these counties have ceased to be self-supporting, that they are plunging deeper and deeper into debt, and that taxation has become so burdensome as to actually drive people from their homes and property.

Senators Michell and Dufur are in charge of the portage railway bill. It is in the nature of a loan that will be repaid to the state by an increase of from seven to 10c on every bushel of wheat shipped from Eastern Oregon. It is one bill that should pass.—Capital Journal.

A newspaper may be small yet effective. A rifle ball is a little thing, but properly aimed, and with the right kind of stuff behind it, it may be relied upon to penetrate as deep as a cannon ball and just as effective.—Printer's Ink.

FISO'S CURE FOR CURS WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup, Cures Croup, Whooping Cough, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption.

The man who puts a two-line local in his home paper once a year and thinks he will build up a big trade and imagines the printer is getting rich off the profits, should bear in mind that the last page of Munsey's Magazine has been sold for one year to four advertisers, each of whom to occupy a quarter of a page and pay $6,000, or a total of $24,000 for a page. One line in the Youth's Companion costs $3; while a page in the Ladies' Home Journal costs $4,000.

Pennsylvania will be represented in the next senate by the youngest man in that body. Boies Penrose, who succeeds Don Cameron, is hardly 36 years of age.

"Under The Laurels." Following is the cast of characters that will play the above drama in the hall at Condon on Friday evening, Feb. 12th, the proceeds of which will go towards purchasing a library for the public school: Mrs. Milford.....Carrie Danneman Rose Milford.....Mary Maddock Polly Dowler.....Birdie Henshaw Sooker Patton.....Cora Myers Ky Brantford.....Fred Cornett Frank Colewood.....C O Portwood Zeke.....C C Henshaw Bob Button.....Elgin Myers Ike Hopper.....W J Parrazo Sheriff.....Ed Dunn Admission, 25 cents; children, 15 cts. Persons who are troubled with indigestion will be interested in the experience of Wm. H. Penn, chief clerk in the railway mail service of Des Moines, Iowa, who writes: "It gives me pleasure to testify to the merits of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For two years I have suffered from indigestion, and am subject to frequent severe attacks of pain in the stomach and bowels. One or two doses of this remedy never fails to give perfect relief. Price 25 and 50 cents; sold by druggists."
