THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF GILLIAM COUNTY, OREGON.

The Pendleton Tribune has the following to say about the unjustness of Gowans' sheep bill: The delegation from this county need not be told what their duty is when the time comes for action to be taken on a bill which is so manifestly unjust to the owners of large flocks in this county. Deprived of the privilege of driving their sheep into outside counties to graze upon the public domain the jig would be up with the sheep business in Umatilla. There is very little public land in this county fit for grazing purposes, and the practice for years past has been to seek greener fields in contiguous counties. There is an element of monopoly in the bill which seems to have been inspired by cattle kings of the Miller. & Lux type. The bill should be carefully watched and dealt at the proper time a decisive blow by every member of the legislature opposed to the monopolization of government land by private individuals.

One of the last official acts of Cleveland was to veto the bill excluding all foreigners from coming to this country who are unable to read and write. Among his reasons for doing so he says that such immigrants are not half so dangerous to the welfare of this country as are the better-educated class of foreigners and anarchists who come over here to plunge into politics and office, before they are scarcely off the ships. The president says that is the most dangerous type of immigrants this country has to contend with, and one that will eventually result in its ruin unless a check is put to it.

President McKinley was duly inaugurated on March 4th. His cabinet is composed as follows:

Secretary of state, John Sherman, of Ohio.

Secretary of the treasury, Lyman J. Gage, of Illinois.

Secretary of war, Russell A. Alger, of Michigan.

Attorney-general, Joseph McKenna, of California.

Postmaster-general, James A. Gary, of Maryland.

Secretary of the navy, John D. Long, of Massachusetts.

Secretary of the interior, Corneiius N. Bliss, of New York.

Secretary of agriculture, James A. Wilson, of Iowa.

Instead of diminishing the area of the Cascade Forest Reserve, Cleveland last week issued thirteen proclamations establishing thirteen additional forest reservations, with a total acreage of 21,739,000. Heretofore sixteen reservations have been made, with a total acreage of 17,500,000. So that last week the reservations made were of greater area than all made before that time. There was one made for each of the original colonies—a patriotic act, but perhaps very foolish. This will be a grest disappointment to the sheepmen who expected to pasture their sheep over there.

In the matter of providing excursion rates to the big fight in Nevada, the New York Mail and Express begs to suggest that the railroads offer half-fare tickets to all who want to go, and then insist upon four or five times the regular fare from those who want to get back. There is something in the idea, for Nevada, which is sadly in need of more population, as she has scarcely enough voters now to fill the various offices.

Yesterday's Oregonian says that Ex-Senator J. N. Dolph is lying at the point of death at his home in Portland with diabetes, from which gangrene and blood-poisoning set in. One of his legs has been amdotated, but it is thought he can not live but a few hours longer.

Tom Waston sums up Bryan's "First Battle" with three F's, "Fused, Fought and Fizzled."

CONSUMPTION

President McKinley has called a special session of congress, to convene next Monday. The new president will send a message to congress calling attention to the state of the government revenues, and urging the speedy enactment of a general revision af the tariff.

The national debt of little Spain amounts to nearly $2,000,000,000, with $8,000,000 per annum interest. Spain's two wars are costing her $17,000,000 each month, and still she wants to thrash the United States and Japan, besides.

Mr. Cleveland informs us that he has abandoned the idea of making a trip around the world just now. Even if he refuses to go around the world the world will continue to go around at its accustomed gait.

Gov. Lord yesterday pardoned Fred Weatherford, formerly of Arlington, after serving two of his 4-year sentence for embezzlement.

Horses With Mange.

EDITOR GLOBE.

Dear Sir:—Concerning those horses with the mange, mentioned in your last issue, I will state that the law requires each stock inspector to report diseased horses to the State Veterinarian. I do not think I would have any right to have these horses killed until the Veterinarian passes an opinion on the case. But of course they must be quarantined in the meantime, and I have sent a man for that purpose.

F. A. HALE,
Stock Inspector.

Dr. J. T. Tate, one of the leading dentists of Portland and the Pacific coast, expects to make a tour of Eastern Oregon this spring and will be in Condon some time in April to remain a few days. This will be pleasing news to those needing first-class dental work. Dr. Tate is a graduate of the New York College of Dentistry and has held high positions in the Portland Dental Society and the Oregon State Dental Association. The GLOBE will notify you when he comes.

Economy is the watchword for the Eastern Oregon farmer. Practice it by getting one of those 3-14 inch gang plows of J. W. Smith.
