Born, on Tuesday morning, June 8th, to Mr. and Mrs. Steve Couture in Ferry Canyon, a daughter. The little child lived only a few hours. The burial will take place at Condon today, Thursday.

The Heppner races last week were the worst ever held there, being general dissatisfaction over the crooked manner in which they were managed. We notice that Ed Smith's "Easter Lilly" won one of the big races.

Wm. Keys & Son of Mayville have received the top price for cattle in this county so far this season. They got $18 for their yearling steers and $24 for 2's, which is the highest price paid for cattle here for many years.

Messrs. Wm. Keys & Son, W. J. Edwards, E. P. Weir and A. J. Shelton delivered 205 head of cattle, mostly dry cows, at Arlington this week for R. E. Wrenna, the Pendleton buyer. 105 of them belonged to Keys & Son.

Mr. and Mrs. John Reischer of Fossil visited the family of Sheriff Wilcox in Condon last Sunday. John's health has greatly improved since coming up here, and his many friends hope he will locate permanently in this county.

A. Helms, the wide-awake merchant of Twickenham, is one of our 9 new subscribers this week. He writes: "Send me the GLOBE; I can not live without it. I am compelled to take the GLOBE if I have to stop all my other papers."

Heppner is getting to be quite metropolitan. One night last week there was a regular prize fight in the opera house there by two traveling pugilists—Young Dempsey and "Kid" Dudley. The latter was knocked out in the 10th round.

Married, at Rinehart's restaurant in Condon on Tuesday evening, June 8th, Mr. S. L. Buell of Lost Valley and Miss Esther Metcalf of Myrtle Point, Douglas county. Recorder H. B. Hendricks officiating. The happy couple will reside at the groom's home in Lost Valley.

The object of the Children's Day exercises in the church next Sunday, 13th, is not only to present to the public a pleasing program, but is intended as a day of special offering to the Sunday School work. All are cordially invited to attend and contribute to the cause.

The Butte Creek saw mill started up last Monday and is cutting from 12,000 to 15,000 ft a day. The company has built a first-class telephone line from Fossil to the mill, and inquiries for lumber can be answered generally by return mail. We understand that the mill company will extend their telephone line on to Mayville and Condon next year if no one else builds a line to Fossil in the meantime.

Death of Claude Henshaw.

A gloom of profound sadness was cast over the community on Tuesday upon learning of the death of Claude Henshaw, which occurred at 2:30 in the afternoon, of bilious or septic fever—something very similar to typhoid fever. A week ago his condition suddenly grew worse and Dr. Howard of Fossil was called to consult with Dr. Hogan in the case. All that medical skill and loving hands could do was done, but the unfortunate young man's system failed to respond to medical treatment. He became delirious on Thursday of last week and remained in that condition almost constantly until just a few moments before his death, when he regained his senses and bade the grief-stricken parents and only sister an affectionate farewell.

The funeral took place next day at 4 o'clock from the church, and the congregation and funeral procession was the largest ever seen in Condon, thus demonstrating the high esteem in which the deceased and the family are held. Our minister, Rev. Bade, being absent, Rev. Lawson of Mayville was sent for, but he failed to reach here at the appointed hour for the funeral. Fortunately, Rev. Barker of Portland happened to be passing through town just at this time on his way to Mayville, and he kindly consented to preach the funeral sermon, and a beautiful and impressive one it was. J. B. Giff of Lone Rock also made a few appropriate remarks. The floral offerings at both the church and grave were very beautiful. C. O. Portwood, C. S. Palmer, O. W. Barr, Frank Clark, T. H. Portwood and Joseph Parrazo acted as pallbearers.

Claude Henshaw was just verging into splendid manhood, being 18 years of age on the 30th of last December, and up to only a few weeks ago his prospects for a long and useful career seemed to be exceptionally bright. Last March he had an attack of la grippe, which left him in a rather weak condition all spring. About three weeks ago he with several other boys went in swimming in the chilling waters of Thirty-mile, and that may have had something to do in causing his fatal sickness soon after.

Claude will be greatly missed by not only his family, but a large circle of friends who mourn his untimely death. He was an unusually bright and gentlemanly boy for his age, and being naturally inclined to music he could play any kind of instrument he ever tried, being quite well advanced on the cornet, which he played in the band. Out of respect for the dead member, all of the members of the band wore crepe badges at his funeral. The poor fellow just recently sent for a guitar, which will arrive in a few days, only to find him cold in death. The editor of this paper feels particularly sad over Claude's death, as he served more than a year in this office, learning the art of type-setting, and it seems almost like we had lost a member of the family.

This makes the 7th death in the family, five brothers and one sister having preceded Claude to the haven of eternal rest. His death is a sad blow to the heartbroken parents and only sister, who almost idolized the only son and brother. The heartfelt sympathy of the entire community goes out to them in their terrible affliction.

"God be with you till we meet again."

Mr. and Mrs. Henshaw desire in this manner to thank the many kind friends who rendered them such valuable assistance during the illness and death of their beloved son. While their kindness and sympathy cannot bring back their loved one, it tends in a manner to soften the bitterness of their grief.

Rev. Belmont Barker, an evangelist, Baptist minister of Portland, Rev. Barnhart, the Baptist minister of Arlington and his family, and Miss Grace Hill of The Dalles all passed through town yesterday on their way to Mayville to attend the Baptist conference now in session there. Miss Hill came as a delegate and is a cousin of Mrs. A. Henshaw.

W. N. Brown this week sold 50 head of cattle to Mr. Malon, the price paid being $20 for cows and calves and 2-year-olds and $15 for yearlings. D. E. Trimble sold 40 head to the same buyer, receiving $1 per head more than Brown. They delivered them at Heppner this week.

John Reischer of Fossil, agent for the Geo. Lawrence Harness Co. of Portland, this week made a settlement with Gene Smith, who was indebted to the company for harness, etc. The company accepted as part payment Gene's building and lot in Condon, now used as a butcher shop.

The Gazette copied our recent item about using a common barbed wire fence for a telephone, and adds: "Morrow county has tried this plan successfully. Jas. M. Hager's place, 4 miles above town, is connected by phone and the barbed wire fence used for wire, and it works all right."

Up to date 13 counties have paid into the state treasury their state taxes in full for 1896, as follows: Baker, Clatsop, Columbia, Coos, Crook, Gilliam, Jackson, Josephine, Lake, Willows, Morrow, Sherman and Wasco. Several other counties have nearly paid up, and all have made remittances.

Frank Palmer of Fossil is the next to try his luck with a meat market here, having taken charge of the shop last week, in the building next to Henshaw's furniture store. He has moved his family into the rooms over head. We hope Frank will succeed, as it is a hoodoo to the town to be without a butcher shop.

A Pleasant Hill Cor. to the Eugene Guard says: A great many of our citizens attended the unveiling of Lucien Parker's monument by the Woodmen of the World at Pleasant Hill Sunday, May 30th. They report the address by Hon. B. F. Mulkey on the occasion, was declared to be the best one of its nature they ever heard.

J. M. Cameron, the prosperous young sheepman, left this week for Portland to take a month's much-needed rest, the first vacation he has taken for ten years. His and S. B. Barker's sheep have been started to the mountains near Austin, in charge of Albert Smith, Jack Campbell and John Hanna. Jim will meet them there when he returns.

Arlington Items.

The worst of the cattle rush seems to be over for the present.

Manager C W Lord of The Dalles was up Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs C L Vining expects to leave soon on a visit to relatives and friends in Tacoma.

Dr E L Irvine returned this week from Albany, not looking as well, however, as when he left here.

Banker Hurlbert was called to The Dalles Monday to help straighten out a cattle transaction.

Mrs J L Blalock's brother and sister have just arrived here from their home in North Carolina and will make Oregon their home.

Geo Miller's mother and sister is here from Vancouver visiting him and his family. We understand Miss Miller will remain here all summer.

The market is overstocked by strawberries at present. They are not a bad thing to take steadily about three hours just before and after each meal.

No one likes to have the blame without the gain; therefore, Mr Gurley desires it to be understood that he is no longer the GLOBE correspondent and has not been for some time.

Your reporter had the "pleasure" of seeing a genuine grasshopper crop at Josephus Martin's place on Rock creek the other day. We could not do the subject justice, so will not attempt to describe them in detail.

A C Sanford, formerly of The Grande hotel, has been a resident of The Dalles for the last two years, and is connected with the large mercantile house of A M Williams & Co. Since leaving here he has been married and has a nice family.

K of P officers for the ensuing term have been elected here as follows: A W Sharrard, C C; Frank Shurte, Vice C; A L Huff, Private; F H Robinson, Mgr; Ed Smith, K of S; T W Compton M of F; S G Hawson, M of E; Ross Beardsley, I G; K H Robinson, O G.

The case of Emmett Armstrong vs Matlock, involving the ownership of a steer, was tried in Justice Ebi's court here last week. S A D Gurley appeared for Armstrong and T R Lyons of Heppner for Matlock. The case was won by Armstrong, who got the steer and $20 damages, Matlock to pay all costs.

Frank Castle, accused of murdering John Beck at a ball at Cleveland, Wash., last winter, was acquitted last week, after a trial lasting five days. The jury was out only an hour. His plea was self-defense and he was defended by little H S Wilson of The Dalles. We notice that Price Scrivner of Idea was one of the witnesses, having been at the fatal dance and saw the fight.

Quite a crowd was out Saturday to the bank receiver's sale. The sale of the various notes, averaged about $1 on the $1000, all through, which gives some idea of how careless and reckless the bank was managed. It was amusing to see notes on apparently good solid men for several hundred dollars sell for 2-bits and 4-bits. Even Frick's large notes were sold for 6-bits or $1 apiece.

Stanley Coffin of North Yakima received a letter the other day from his brother Arthur, who was then with his wife and daughter in Rome, which he says is an extremely dirty city but magnificent in its churches. Arthur says it is almost an impossibility to secure a bath, and soap is so scarce that at the hotels it is chained so the guests can't carry it away. The breakfast consists of nothing but coffee and bread, and he says he is nearly starved for a good meal of ham and eggs. Mr Coffin and family are making their headquarters in Paris, but at the time the letter was written they were taking a 19 days' trip through Italy with one of the Cooke excursion parties. They expect to return to North Yakima about the first of next March.

F. A. Bauer, who returned home last week from a 6-month's visit with relatives in Marion county, has just sold his 360 acres of land one mile south of Olex, a portion of it to J. E. Redmond, the balance to Wm. Clark. The parties were in town Monday having the deeds made out. Mr. Bauer will soon return to Marion county, near Gervais, to reside. He is a good citizen and his many friends regret to see him go.

W. A. Darling says that the Fossil parties who have gone to the mines with a gold quartz washing machine, on which they will try to get a patent, was stolen bag and baggage from him. He made the first machine and has had it in working order for several years, and those fellows were over half a dozen times inspecting it before attempting to build one. For an excuse, they pretended they wanted him to take the machine to the mines with them, and for that reason he looks on it as a "sneaking trick."

Oscar Portwood returned to Condon last week from Iowa and Missouri, where he had been for five months selling Home Comfort steel ranges. He likes the business first-rate and did very well for a new-beginner. The Majestic Stove Co., another big corporation in the East, went out of business a short time ago and the Home Comfort Co. at once engaged all their old experienced agents to take the place of the new men; thus Oscar along with several hundred other young agents was let out of a job for the present. Even Bert Case, who did such a rattling good business here a year or so ago, was let out, and he is now working in Idaho, selling blacksmithing outfits to farmers. C. A. Scott is still in their employ at St. Louis, having been promoted to division superintendent.

Permission was last Friday granted the attorneys of murderer Durrant to appeal the case of their client to the U. S. supreme court. This insures the monster a respite at least until October, and perhaps until January; and he may not be hanged at all, California hates to part with such a prominent citizen.

Another slight change has been made in the O. R. & N. time table. No. 4, eastbound, arrives at Arlington at 7:54 p m; No. 2, eastbound, at 3:09 a m; No. 3, westbound, at 6:31 a m; No. 1, westbound, at 2:08 a m. This last train from Huntington now comes around through Pendleton, Walla Walla and Wallina.

Wm. Keys informed us yesterday that he never saw a column of reading matter with so many errors and misrepresentations as the effusion in the last issue of the Journal about the "cattle complications." He says the "only truth in the entire article is the part referring to A. Beard going back on his contract to furnish them with 100 head of cattle, thus causing them to lose $400 cash. Mr. Keys says the article is about as near right as the Journal ever gets with anything it prints.

Testimony in the civil suit, started at the last session of circuit court, of Barker vs Barker, is being taken this week at Condon before the referee, H. H. Hendricks of Fossil. S. B. Barker, plaintiff, is represented by L. W. Darling, and W. L. Barker, defendant, by T. R. Lyons and W. H. Wilson. They began Monday and will consume all or the greater part of the week. The amount involved is something like $1200, which the piff claims it due him, while the defendant claims that he does not owe the plaintiff anything. The matter will be left with Judge Bradshaw to decide.
