

THE CONDON GLOBE.

FRIDAY, JUNE 25, 1897.

NOTICE.

The yearly subscription to the GLOBE is $1.50, if paid in advance. If not paid in advance $2 will be charged. A pencil mark around this notice indicates that your subscription has expired. Please renew promptly.

GLOBOSITIES.

Howard Tobey and E. P. Ash visited Portland this week.

Dr. M. J. Denney, Physician and Surgeon, Union Block, Arlington, Oregon.

Justice H. D. Randall of Olex was up to town yesterday paying his taxes, etc.

Sheriff Wilcox and family visited Doc Brown and family on Dry Fork Sunday.

D. A. Dodson of Hay creek brought in some fine new potatoes and peas last week—the first for the season.

If you want a piano or organ, be sure to write to the Jacobson Book and Music Co., The Dalles, Or. Catalogue free.

It was a mean man, of course, who said that "woman was made after man and she's been after him ever since."

J. R. Clark returned home yesterday, having finished the Mayville church, which is a large and elegant structure.

Last week W. G. Keeney of Long Creek sold his 1897 clip of wool in Pendleton for 9 cents—the best sale yet recorded this year.

State legislatures appear to be fast falling into disrepute. The Illinois legislature last week broke up in a drunken free-for-all fight.

Joe Luenallen made a trip this week to Weston, where his father resides. His wife accompanied him as far as her old home at Lexington.

Rousing celebrations will be held this year at Arlington and Fossil on Saturday, July 30, and at Lone Rock and Antelope on Monday, the 5th.

If you want a magnificent new organ delivered at your nearest R. Y. station for $75 that usually sells for $150 at the factory, apply at this office at once.

Misses Mollie Adlard and Myrtle Stevenson, who have been over in Wasco county since last March, returned this week to their homes near Condon.

It is said that W. R. Hearst has spent nearly $2,000,000 in the development of the New York Journal, and that the paper is not yet on a paying basis.

Tom Morgan has become religious since he married and settled down. He has just been elected Sunday School Supt. at Eightmile, Morrow county.

Arlington is advertising in the Portland dailies for a balloonist to make an ascension at their celebration. What's the matter with the Goldendale flying machine?

Eugene Guard: Ross Mathews is an applicant for principal of the Fossil public school. We trust he will be elected, as he is one of the leading teachers in Lane county.

M. J. Anderson, the brainy Dufur politician and blacksmith, formerly of Antelope, has been appointed an organizer of the order of W. O. W. and is out-organizing camps.

Salem moneyed men are doing a land office business in discounting claims against the state, getting as much as 30 per cent off. What does Salem want an extra session for?

A conservative estimate of the amount of money spent in Oregon this year by eastern buyers of sheep and cattle places the amount at $500,000 for cattle and $200,000 for sheep.

Atty. J. W. Ivey of Portland, who delivered several campaign speeches in this county last fall, has just been appointed collector of customs for Alaska—a $10,000 a year job.

Cleveland's salary as president for 8 years amounted to $400,000. He has made the discovery that he lacks one cent of drawing all of it and will proceed to collect that amount.

George and Miss Ethel Parman, Miss Blanche McHaffie and Miss Lettie Lamberson all returned home last week from Forest Grove, where they had been attending the Pacific university.

W. J. Bryan did not make such a rocky run for president, after all. The total vote shows that he received 900,000 more votes than any other presidential candidate ever received up to last election.

The Salem Statesman says that only a few years ago when only a few people around there raised gooseberries they sold at 50c a gallon; now they are so plentiful that it is hard to sell at 5c.

Mrs. J. W. Know, of Latah, Wash., last Sunday gave birth to three bouncing girls and one boy. Each child is healthy, well formed and weighs 4½ lbs. No wonder that section is settling up.

Frank Belliard and wife recently moved back again from New York to San Francisco. Frank no doubt regrets that he ever left his stock ranch in Ferry Canyon, where he always made money.

Mont Ward has just received a bright little boy nine years old from the Boys and Girls Aid Society of Portland, to adopt and raise as their own child. The boy will have a good home. His name is Carl Shelton.

The Grant County News thinks the amount of money spent in that county this summer for cattle and sheep will reach $100,000. About the same amount—perhaps some less—was spent in Gilliam county this spring.

It is reported that 10,000 head of horses have been bought this spring in the section of country between Umatilla and Castle Rock, in Washington, by the Linton cannery, at an average of $1.50 per head.

Some people never know when they are well off. A Missouri man was sentenced to twenty years in prison for murder. He appealed and on the new trial the jury has just sentenced him to be hanged.

Our readers will make a mistake if they fail to read the news on the outside pages of this paper each week. They are replete with valuable information, market reports, hints from the doctor, state news, etc.

A Michigan paper gives an account of the sturgeon fisheries back there and the danger the fishermen run from getting the huge 30-pound fish landed. Our Columbia river fishermen would use a fish of that size for bait.

The three big Examiner prizes having been won in the three large towns of California causes a great many people to suspect that it was a "job" this time. That paper will not get as many subscribers in this county as formerly.

Last Sunday's San Francisco Call has a picture of a special train of cars that are being constructed by the railroads as a present for President McKinley. The cars will be the richest and grandest vehicles ever placed on wheels.

The Vale Advocate says that the sheep shearers of Malheur county are madder than a wet hen. They were promised a raise of a cent a head for shearing if McKinley was elected, but instead they have been compelled to take a cent less than last year.

Sam Jones says: "If all the wealth of the United States was divided out today each man would get $1600, and in less than six months some fellows would be riding in palace cars and others would be walking cross-ties, howling for another divy."

The city election at The Dalles Monday was an exciting one. The principal contest was for mayor, between Ex-Postmaster M. T. Nolan and Atty. W. H. Wilson, the former winning by 100 majority. Hon. E. B. Dufur was elected water commissioner.

Hepner Gazette: We are reliably informed that the busted Dalles National bank can not resume business and that it can never pay over 25 per cent. The former proprietor, Malcolm Moody, is at present the proprietor and manager of a bowling alley in The Dalles.

Weiler's savages have decided to kill General Rivera, the great Cuban leader whom they captured recently. It is not yet announced whether they intend to eat him or not, but of course they will, as all of the Spaniards are cannibals of the lowest and most vicious type.

More time than is necessary is wasted upon school examinations. This seems to be the case with almost all schools, public and private. An examination teaches nothing and should therefore be sufficiently short not to interfere greatly with the ordinary course of studies.—Portland Telegram.

The Oregonian approves Senator Tillman's amendment to the tariff bill which provides a per capita tax of $100 on all immigrants to this country. It declares that "Tillman has the right idea of the way to limit and sift immigration, and nothing would do it so effectively as a round capitation tax."

About two weeks ago there came to the ranch of S. M. Vancleave on Trail-fork 2 good, gentle work horses, about 5 years old, one bay, the other sorrel, each having white strip in face and branded H on right shoulder. The owner will be expected to pay charges for keeping them, advertising, etc.

Gov. Budd says he will bring mandamus proceedings against Warden Hale to hang Durrant at San Quentin on the date fixed, July 9. The inhuman monster should have been hanged long ago, and his disreputable lawyers could then appeal to the higher courts to settle points of law just as well as now.

E. Jacobsen of The Dalles, proprietor of the Jacobsen Music and Book Store, was in town Monday in the interest of his extensive business. He expects to bring out through this county about July 10th a number of fine pianos and organs for sale, and says he will treat our people to some music they never heard before.

J. F. Devendorf, a real estate agent of San Jose, Cal., was here the first of the week looking at the Downing land north of Condon, that he traded some land in Santa Clara county to Mr. Downing recently. Mr. Downing has traded off all of his land here, except the 160 acres where his house stands and several lots in town.

Friday's Telegram: There are 18 applicants for examination and registration before the state board of pharmacy now in session at the Imperial hotel. The members of the board present are: A Yerrington of Eugene, Dr. L. Steiner of Salem, J. M. A. Lane of Portland, G. C. Blakeley of The Dalles, and L. W. Moody of Portland.

Rev. A. R. Olds of Weston preached here last Sunday, morning and evening. He said the attendance was so small and such little interest was manifest in the intended revival meetings that he felt too much discouraged to attempt to hold a revival at this time. He left for home Monday, and may conclude to return this fall and hold a revival.

Robby Hendricks, who is now mail-carrier to Lone Rock, says that yesterday when coming near Joe Whyte's place on Thirtymile, a large lynx left a dead horse it was feeding on and ran Bob and his horse quite a distance, finally giving up the chase. The lynx must have had a great appetite on just then.

The examination of applicants for coal mine inspector has been concluded. R. J. Lewis of Carbonado and E. H. Norton of Roslyn were successful, with a standing of 88 for the former and 92 for the latter.—Oregonian. [This is the Norton that inspected the Fossil coal mines 7 years ago, and skipped out, leaving a lot of unpaid bills behind him there].

Last week the GLOBE sentenced the Ladd grave robbers to 10 years each in the penitentiary; but as the maximum penalty for that offense is but two years, we will have to knock off 8 years on each sentence. Three of them got two years each, but Magone's trial is not ended yet. His defense is the insanity dodge, and he may be let down easier.

In his order for the GLOBE this week Fred Cornett writes from Austin, Grant county, as follows: "There is lots of grass in the mountains this summer and the prospects are that it will be one of the best seasons for sheep we have had for years. Ad Renner met with a loss of 150 head of sheep on the trail, but aside from this the boys have had good luck."

Rev. R. C. Oglesby died last week at Jacksonville, at the age of 64. He was born in Adams county, Ill., and crossed the plains with his parents, settling at Fort Wayne, Jackson county, in 1852. He united with the church when 17 years old and was ordained a minister in the Methodist church 30 years ago, 15 years of which he spent as presiding elder in different parts of the state.

The Antelope school board inserted a notice in the Oregonian, asking for applications for their school. It brought 36 applications, reaching all the way to Pennsylvania. The board has selected Prof. E. M. Haley of Monmouth as principal and Miss Ellen McCabe of Clifton for the primary department. Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Stratton of Mayville and Miss Etta Wrenn of Arlington were among the number of applicants.

Wm. B. Neidermeyer, the gentlemanly agent for The Dalles nursery, canvassed this section this week. He is greatly encouraged at the large orders for trees, shrubbery and roses he is getting all over this county. It seems that he has sold orders to nearly everyone in the county who owns any land or town lots. This is due largely to their ad in this paper. It pays to advertise in a paper that is read by everybody in the county.

Writing about Alaska, to which he has made two trips during the past year, Atty. J. C. Leasure explodes a very common error regarding the climate, as follows: "Many people have been deceived regarding climate. The truth is, the climate is mild all along the coast, and nothing prevents outdoor work the year round. Last winter the lowest the mercury registered at Juneau was zero, and that for a very brief period."

Within the last week this county has been favored by several fine showers of rain, that of Monday afternoon being the hardest thunder shower we have had for several years. The ground is wet down to a depth of perhaps four inches, and it would be impossible to estimate the immense value it has been to the suffering crops, which were fairly gasping for rain. The farmers almost look upon it as having rained 20-dollar gold pieces, or its equivalent.

Wool growers have little to gain in waiting for higher prices for wool this year. The fact is, after the tariff bill becomes a law the price of wool is bound to remain about the same as it is now, because of the supply on hand being greater than the demand. By this time next year it is reasonable to expect a higher price for wool than prevails at the present time, but the conditions do not justify the growers holding this season's clip, as seems to be their disposition.

Gene Smith left Tuesday for his old home at Greeley, Colorado, where he will engage in the furniture business with his brother, Nellie Smith, who went back there with her grandma a month ago, recently had a surgical operation performed on her throat, which had been gradually closing up for several years, caused by bronchial troubles. The doctors said they never saw as bad a case of that kind and that she could not have lived more than a couple of months longer without an operation. Their charge for the work was only $9, and Gene said the Portland doctors wanted $100 for doing the work. Gene's family will remain here until fall.

A dispatch from Washington, dated June 16th, says: "Thomas E. Lyons of Heppner has been appointed townsite commissioner at Juneau, Alaska." His many friends in this county are pleased to learn of Tom's lucky strike. This is a position that pays $2000 a year salary and will require only a very small portion of his time. In addition to this he can perhaps make double as much out of his regular law practice up there. The Heppner Gazette says: Mr. Lyons, as everyone knows, is fully qualified to fill the position to which he has been appointed and his many friends throughout the state will be delighted to hear of the selection so wisely bestowed upon one of Oregon's most talented young attorneys. He will leave in a few days for his new field of labor."

Lone Rock Rumbblings.

Rev. Johns of Fossil preached here last Sunday to a large congregation.

Hugh Neel returned from California the first of the week, where he and his wife spent the last year.

We have had several days of rainy weather this week, which is worth many a thousand dollar piece to this section.

While raising R. G. Robinson's barn a few days ago, Joe Robinson was struck on the head by a piece of falling timber and nearly knocked out.

Mrs. J. B. Goff has been confined to bed for several days with some kind of gathering in her head, which causes her a great deal of pain and suffering.

The wind storm Monday blew down one of John Madden's fine 20-year-old pear trees, on which were at least ten bushels of pears. John regrets the loss very much, as it was the largest and finest fruit tree in the entire valley.

Everything is booming here in the way of fixing up for the Fourth. All connected with the celebration are putting forth every effort to make it a success—and it is pretty generally known that nothing succeeds like success.

R. G. Robinson sold a fine lot of cattle the first of the week, at good prices. Everybody seems to want cattle just now. Why didn't they raise them when there was no sale for them? It would have paid a great deal better than calamity-howling and discussing the silver question. In another year or two cattle are sure to bring 50 per cent better prices than the prices paid now.

Arlington Items.

Hon. Dal Reed is visiting his parents at Fossil this week.

A good deal of wool has already been sold here, the highest price pd being 9c.

Atty. Gurley was on the sick list the last two weeks, but we are pleased to see him out again.

The handsome anatomy of Frank Robinson is now visible behind Charley Wenner's counters.

Mrs. E. B. Cornfort, a long and respected resident of Arlington, left this week to make her future home in the valley.

Born, on June 21st, to the wife of R. E. Smith, a bouncing baby girl. Mother and daughter doing well, but Ed looks "awful."

Don't forget that we are going to have a "terrible" good time here upon the 4th, or 5th, rather. Preparations are being made for a grand balloon ascension.

The A. O. U. W. lodge gave a social to members and their families Saturday evening and it was an enjoyable affair, as was also the social by the United Artisans the first of the week.

Here's a Snap for Somebody.

W. H. Colwell offers his fine farm at Lone Rock for sale. It is one of the best farms in Eastern Oregon. There are 10 acres in timothy, 12 acres in alfalfa and 40 acres in wheat, oats and barley, all of which is fine alfalfa land. There is a fine orchard 15 years old on the place, also a good house, two large frame barns, one blacksmith shop, one reaper, mower, rake, sulkey-plow, and everything imaginable that is needed on a well-regulated farm. One prong of Rock creek runs through the place; only 3 miles to the finest timber in the country.

Will take part payment in sheep at market price, balance on easy terms. This place is in the best stock and sheep country in Eastern Oregon. Will sell with or without present crop. For particulars, address W. H. Colwell, Lone Rock, Oregon.

Look your machines over and tell Shurtz Bros. your troubles. They will save you money on extras of all kinds.

The Wasco Warehouse Co. has wool sacks, fleece twine and sack twine for sale at Arlington.

LANDS.

All persons desiring to acquire title to any lands under the laws of the United States, or under the laws of the State of Oregon, will do well to take their business to United States Commissioner S. A. D. Gurley, at Arlington, Oregon.

Patronize home industry and build up the resources of our state. Buy the Salem Woolen Mills clothing. See P. H. Stephenson for samples and prices.

The Wasco Warehouse Co. has wool sacks, fleece twine and sack twine for sale at Arlington.

Notice to Sheepmen.

I am prepared to receive and care for bucks during the summer of 1897 on my excellent range at the forks of Buckhorn and Beaverdam creeks. My separating corral will be at my own ranch. I will make one delivery of bucks at Condon on the 18th of October and the remainder at Lone Rock on the 25th of October, 1897. I will charge one dollar per head for all bucks placed in my care. Ed Compton, Lone Rock.

CONTEST NOTICE.

U. S. LAND OFFICE, THE DALLES, OR., June 4, '97. Complaint having been entered at this office by Charles L. Richmond of Condon, Oregon, against Thomas Harcey for abandoning his homestead entry No. 4658, dated March 22, 1893, upon the 24th day of July, 1897, in Gilliam county, Oregon, with a view to the cancellation of said entry, the said parties are hereby summoned to appear at this office on the 30th day of July, 1897.

at 10 o'clock a. m., to respond and furnish testimony concerning said alleged abandonment. H. S. Frager, county clerk, is authorized to take the testimony in this case at his office in Condon, Or., on the 24th day of July, 1897, at 10 o'clock a. m. JAS. F. MOORE, Register.

Notice of Final Settlement.

In the county court of the State of Oregon for Gilliam county. In the matter of the estate of Silas Brown, deceased. Notice is hereby given that Wm. C. Brown and D. S. Brown, administrators of the above estate, will on the 30th day of July, 1897, file their final statement of said estate with the county court of Gilliam county, Oregon. Date of closing of estate, May 28, 1897. Wm. C. Brown and D. S. Brown, Admrs. By H. B. Henderson, their atty.
