

THE CONDON GLOBE.

FRIDAY, JULY 23, 1897.

NOTICE.

The yearly subscription to the GLOBE is $1.50. If paid in advance, it not paid in advance $2 will be charged. A pencil mark around this notice indicates that your subscription has expired. Please renew promptly.

GLOBOSITIES.

Born, on Tuesday evening, July 20th, to Mrs. Hudson, a son.

Mrs. G. W. Rinehart visited her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Taylor, near Clem this week.

County Treasurer S. B. Barker made a flying business trip to Arlington the first of the week.

Pete Barton and family have moved from the Dan Rinehart house into the old Downing building.

From present indications the opening price for wheat here this season will be not less than 60 cents.

Miss Carrie Danneman, postmistress at Clem, visited friends at Condon, Mayville and Fossil this week.

Mrs. C. Schott of Olex visited her daughter, Mrs. T. G. Johnson, at Condon several days this week.

Rev. Bude has been conducting a very interesting revival here every evening since Sunday and will continue all week.

Grandma Grider is very sick again at the home of her son Shed, near town, and it is feared that she can not live but a few days longer.

Geo. Fletcher, assisted by W. A. Darling, began painting the Armory hall Tuesday and expects to have the 3d coat on in about two weeks.

We regret to learn that Jim Cameron and Columbus Grider are both sick, the former at Prairie City and the latter at Baker City, with lung troubles.

Ed F. McConnell, who had been residing at Sylvan Grove, Kansas, for the last three years, has returned again to Mayville, where he orders his GLOBE sent.

The Eagle would respectfully inform its gentlemen readers that "hay" fever may be contracted at this time of the year by hugging "grass" widows.—Milton Eagle.

Al Henshaw is selling fruit jars cheaper than ever before sold for in this country—half-gallon, $1.15 per dozen, and quarts, $1.05 per dozen. Buy some before they are all gone.

The editor and wife thankfully acknowledge receipt of an invitation to attend a social dance given by J. A. McMorris in E. A. Mays' new dwelling house in Condon this Friday evening.

The first for a long time, working hands are scarce in this section. It is almost impossible to secure a sufficient number of harvest hands, or for any other kind of common labor.

The latest Oklahoma boom story told to illustrate the richness of the soil is that a family living in a house with a sod floor had to mow the grass off every evening in order to find the baby.

Those who have promised us wood on account are kindly requested to not wait until the roads get bad in the fall, when no one feels disposed to haul wood. Stand by your promises, is all we ask.

Miss Lora Taylor finished a 3-months' term of school in Ferry Canyon yesterday and will leave at once for Blackfoot, Idaho, where she has secured a school. She intends to go to Michigan this fall.

The Eugene Guard says it is a false rumor about Johnny Keoney having his eyesight restored to him, which his many friends will regret to learn. Johnny is still in Lane county, and totally blind.

Chicago Drivers' Journal: The Oregon settlers and sheepowners are having the same old fight. Isn't it about time for sheepmen to have their rights properly defined and have them protected in different parts of the West?

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Miller of Butte creek were over to town Monday to see Atty. John Lyons on business, but as he had not yet returned from his visit to Walla Walla, they were disappointed. Mr. Lyons is expected home today.

Ed Portwood found Mayville too small a place to make a saloon pay, and gave it up at the end of the six months for which license was granted. He will move back to Condon at once, and will occupy the Dan Rinehart residence.

"Can any of you tell me why Lazarus was a begger?" asked the female teacher. "Why was Lazarus a begger?" she repeated sternly. "Please ma'am" replied a small boy, whose father was a merchant, "because he didn't advertise."

W. A. Darling's gold washing machine, on which he has applied for a patent, entitles him to a prize, and he received it this week—a beautiful silver medal from Washington. He expects to realize a snug sum for his patent in the near future.

Now that the age of the earth has at last been settled at 30,000,000 years and people for 4,000,000 years, it is expected that we will have an unusual rush of new subscribers for some time. Get in at once, while there is yet room for names on our books.

The GLOBE desires to correct an error, in stating that Geo. Gibbons was among the bidders for painting the Armory hall. He informs us that he did not bid on the contract, but that a year ago he offered to give the building three coats, and furnish everything, for $100.

Mrs. H. Clay Mayers, after an absence of six years at Heppner, is visiting friends on the East Side. She and her husband were among the oldest residents on the East Side. Mr. Myers and his son are in the mines of Baker county.—Oregonian.

J. L. Blalock, the popular proprietor of the Red Front livery stable in Arlington, brought a drifter out to Condon Tuesday and returned the same day. This speaks well for his livery stock—being able to travel 80 miles a day in such sweltering heat.

Monteville Fisk, of Rock Creek, Gilliam county, is visiting old friends here. Thirty years ago he owned thousands of acres on the red hills. He is now a big stock man in Eastern Oregon. Although 66 years of age he is hale and hearty, and has just returned from Denver, Col., where he made sale of a large band of horses.—Dallas Itemier.

Geo. Zachary and Miss Lenora Shook, who were married last Thursday at Roseburg, were given upon their return to their home at Calapooia the following evening a tin-horn serenade. George quickly responded to the rumbly uproar made with tin cans and partake of a bountiful supper of pie and cake.—Roseburg Review.

Word comes in that Bob Curran's sheep have been fired into over in the John Day country. There is no information as to the loss. The woolgrowers of Morrow county had a secret meeting on last Saturday at the courthouse. Coming immediately after these outrages in Grant county, one need not be a prophet to guess what was the purpose of the meeting.—Heppner Gazette.

There is a crying need for a more rigid enforcement of the humane and stock shipping laws in the northwest. News comes from Arlington that needs investigation. Twenty-five dead cattle were taken from the stock cars at that place Friday. The stock had been loaded at Eugene and by the time they had reached Arlington the above number had been trampled to death.—Pacific Farmer.

Stolen Goods Found.

Our readers will remember that on May 15th when Geo. Gibbons was on his way home from Portland, his large valise was stolen off the covered wagon that night at Clem, mention of which was made in this paper at the time. In the valise was a good overcoat, a lot of clothing for his wife and children, also a valuable gold watch and brooch belonging to Mrs. Gibbons, which her husband took along to Portland and have repaired. The contents of the valise was valued at $125 or more.

D. C. Williamson and family, who recently moved from near Portland to the first house below Clem, was at once suspected by all of the neighbors as the parties who took the valise off the wagon, as they had the reputation of carrying off everything they got their hands on—except a hot stove; and the father and son Ed having been at Clem that evening and saw the valise on the wagon, only strengthened this belief. Mr. Gibbons went to them next morning, on the hunt for his property, but they denied having seen it. A few days after, he had a warrant sworn out for the arrest of Ed Williamson, aged about 18 years, charging him with the theft; but very properly concluded to not have it served for several weeks, in order to let them get over their fear of detection and bring the stolen goods from their hiding place to put them in use—and the scheme worked like a charm.

Last Saturday Mr. Gibbons and Deputy Sheriff Tom Johnson, with a search warrant, went down to the Williamson home and surprised them. They did not have much trouble in finding the coat, dress goods and other dry goods, which were all carefully described in the warrant, and which Mr. Gibbons recognized at once as his property. Some of the goods, a shirt, necktie, etc., were being worn at the time by the father and son. They stoutly protested their innocence of having gotten the goods dishonestly. But Mr. Johnson took charge of all that could be found that corresponded with the warrant and brought them to town, also the boy. As the J. P. was not here to hold the preliminary examination, he was confined in the jail until Monday morning. About 11 o'clock Saturday night, the father arrived in town and routed Mr. Johnson out and said his conscience bothered him so that he had concluded to make a "clean breast of it," and acknowledged that he was responsible for the property being there; that the boy was not to blame for it in the least. He brought with him and delivered to Mr. Johnson the watch and pin, which he had buried.

On Monday morning a warrant was also sworn out for the father, and the evidence at the preliminary examination warranted Justice Tatom in discharging the boy and holding the father to the grand jury, with bonds fixed at $400, which so far he has been unable to give, and he is now confined in the county jail, with good prospects for spending the next year or two in the penitentiary.

The only calamity howlers now are those who are too lazy to work. All the other people are too busy.

Dr. J. H. Frazer, dentist and oral surgeon, is now located in Condon and will remain for a few weeks. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Arlington Items.

Mrs. J. H. Woods has been quite sick for the last week.

Our balloon man was sent to Portland to the hospital Sunday.

Mrs. R. H. Armsworthy is spending a few weeks with friends at Rufus.

Thousands of dollars will be spent this year at this place for grain sacks.

Everybody reports fine prospects for crops. Good crops, good prices, good times.

A Smythe, accompanied by his son Dan, started Friday with a train-load of sheep for Chicago.

T. W. Compton and a few of the nimfods went up to Long Island Sunday. They report having had a ripping time.

S. G. Hawson and family left Monday for recreation and pleasure with friends in Portland and at the beach. Mrs. H. expects to stay about three weeks.

J. H. Smith and James Lean are out from the East, working with Shurtz Bros in shipping horses. They expect to have a shipment ready by the last of the week.

Dr. Griffin returned Monday from the hospital where he had been having his eyes treated. He feels greatly discouraged, having lost one of them entirely.

Everyone here seem very much worked up over the rich gold strikes recently made in Alaska. Some have already declared their intention of going there next spring to get rich.

W. F. Settlemier and family have moved to a ranch on Willow creek, and their fine place near the Junction House is now occupied by Dick Kintzley and family who came up last spring from the Valley.

People often ask us what has become of former residents of this place. H. C. Condon is book-keeper for Coffin Bros at North Yakima; his former partner, N. A. Cornish, is at Spokane; Joe Keeney is managing a stage line in Wallawa county; Billy Theodore is eking out an existence at Tacoma, as agent for the S. F. Examiner. He evidently hasn't as fat a job as when he used to average 450 a day as proprietor of the Grande hotel here. Very few of the old-timers who left here appear to have bettered their conditions.

Lone Rock Rumbblings.

Frank Robinson of Arlington is visiting his parents at this place.

Clay Folsom, the photographer, has sold his gallery and gone to Heppner.

Hay hauling is the fad here just now and your humble servant has got it bad.

We hear that Charley Stevens, who shot his hand nearly off last week, is getting along fine and will save his hand.

W. C. Brown has bought all of A Crawford's mules over three years old—about 75 head, which he will ship to St. Louis about Oct. 1st. He thinks the "kickers" will bring a good price there.

Jack Andrews and family, who have been up in the Palouse country about a year, returned the first of the week to make this their future home. It is the inevitable result when people go on the chase for a better country than this.

Died, July 16th, Emma Johnson, 5 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Johnson. She was sick but a short time, with scarlet fever, from which she had almost recovered, when she took a relapse, which soon ended her young life.

Died, July 19th, Mrs. Thomas Pullen of this place. She had been troubled with cancer for some time, which took a change for the worse a short time back, with fatal results. She leaves a husband and large family of children to mourn the loss of a good wife and kind mother.

Olex Explosions.

Mrs. J. R. Ralston of Lone Rock is visiting with L. O. Ralston.

Joe H. Ralston, brother of L. O. Ralston, is up to Olex on a visit from Albany, Oregon.

The Medical Sulphur Spring at Olex now sports a bath house, and it is a treat to take a mud bath for health.

Heading is on in deed earnest and nearly every ranch is now sporting from one to two headers. The combined harvesters will soon start up. There are six now in Gilliam county. The threshers will soon start up also. Geo. Smith will start next week, Mr. Baker the next week, also Ralston & Catlin. The yield promises to be from 10 to 25 bushels per acre.

A letter from Ed Cruikshank, dated at Rawlins, Wyo., to Wm. S. Phillips of Olex, concludes as follows: "I camped last night a few miles from where Frank Cecil froze to death. The man who told me had been with Frank a good deal, and showed me just where he died, also another man, who was frozen with him at the same time. He told me he was one of the pallbearers at Frank's burial. I will get to Sidney, Nebraska, about Aug 1st with my horses."

A Condon young man recently called on his best girl to spend the evening. When about to return home the conversation chanced to turn on art, and the lady told him that he reminded her of the Venus of Milo, whereupon the young man chuckled with delight, thinking it was his symmetrical form his sweetheart alluded to. When he got home he consulted an encyclopedia, and to his deep chagrin and mortification, found that the Venus of Milo had no arms. He went down to the cellar and tried to buff his brains out on a soft cabbage.

A pair of brass bearings for machinery were found yesterday on the road between Clem and Condon. Owner can have same by paying 50 cents for this notice.

Physical Training in The Public Schools.

The recently issued catalogue of the State Normal School at Month, announces a special course of two years in physical training for use in the public schools. The system adopted is the Ling or Swedish system and the work is given by a graduate of the Pusse Gymnasium of Boston. The well-equipped gymnasium at the Normal School offers special facilities for this work. The catalogue gives in detail the three years academic and professional course of the school which is especially designed to train for teaching.

If you want a piano or organ, be sure to write to the Jacobsen Book and Music Co., The Dalles, Or. Catalogue free.

The Place Where You Get the Most Change Back.

Of course when you are buying harness and saddles you want the best. I keep in stock only the very best material, and while maintaining my reputation in this respect, I go to the other extreme in keeping prices down to the lowest point. I know that nothing builds up business like the selling of first-class goods. I sell them, and don't sell anything else. When you need anything in my line, give me a call, and like the fable of the cat, "you'll come back again."
