

THE CONDON GLOBE.

FRIDAY, JULY 30, 1897.

NOTICE.

The yearly subscription to the GLOBE is $1.50, if paid in advance. If not paid in advance $2 will be charged. A pencil mark around this notice indicates that your subscription has expired. Please renew promptly.

GLOBOSITIES.

Mrs. P. H. Stephenson visited friends on Tralford this week.

G. W. Rinehart took a load of passengers to Arlington Wednesday.

The Armory hall looms up great, dressed in its fine new livery of white.

The Rev. Father Briordy conducted Catholic services at Heppner last Sunday.

Our Olex letter, having been sent around by Fossil, reached us too late for this issue.

Dr. Frazer, the dentist, is overwhelmed with work. His office is now in the rear of Hendrick's law office.

J. W. Blake returned home Monday from Huntington, where he had been buying cattle for several weeks.

A dividend of 25 per cent will soon be paid the depositors by the receiver of the defunct Dalles National bank.

Columbus Grider, who is just recovering from a severe sick spell, is expected home this week from the mountains.

Mr. Gamaliel Davidson, of Davidson, visited his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Propst, near Condon this week.

Mrs. E. Meek and son Ed visited their relatives at Heppner the latter part of last week—Wm. Scribner and family. They arrived home Monday.

Bill Hughes of Heppner has just been taken to a hospital in Portland for the purpose of having an operation performed upon himself for appendicitis.

This is a big country, as our readers no doubt have observed. When the sun sets at the extreme western boundary of Alaska it has already risen in Maine.

A writer on the present social problem says: "Let us agree to limit each man's holdings to $200,000." That proposition suits us exactly; bring on your $200,000.

The supreme court justices of Oregon will meet in Pendleton on July 31, to hand down decisions in cases argued and submitted at the May term in Pendleton.

If that Chicago physician is right who says that "there is no such thing as appendicitis," the joke seems to be on the relatives of those who have died with it.

The editor of one of our exchanges, speaking from experience, pathetically remarks: "There are two things in this life for which a man is never prepared—twins."

Crook county authorities last week punished a man with a heavy fine for driving sheep over a grade west of Prineville; then compelled him to go and clear the grade.

Mrs. Elizabeth Tullie of Matney is visiting her sister, Mrs. T. B. Maring and family at Onnell, Nebraska, to which address she orders her GLOBE sent for a couple of months.

Some fellow has discovered that a fly has 8000 eyes. We believe it, for havn't we tried to slip up on one many a time and failed? All bald-headed men can bear witness to it.

The GLOBE force thankfully acknowledges receipt of a box of very fine apples from L. W. Darling, which were raised on his excellent farm at Applegate, seven miles northwest of town.

There is being revived in this state an old ordinance which provides that any man who does not support his wife may be sold at auction for six months' service, the money to go to the wife.

R. H. Robinson, a young business man of Arlington, was here last week, "looking round." Mr. Robinson has sold his Arlington store and is "winding up" the old business.—Heppner Gazette.

Oliver Barr is hostler at Johnson's livery stable for several weeks, while Ed Nelson is out conveying S. Julius Mayer, the well known wholesale liquor dealer of Portland, through the interior towns.

Rev. Johns, the Methodist minister of Fossil, will preach at Condon next Sunday, morning and evening. This will be his last service this conference year, the regular annual meeting being held at Pendleton on August 25th.

John Lyons returned home Saturday, having visited Heppner a day or two on the return trip. By the way, some of the boys think John is preparing to desert the ranks of single cussedness this fall—and we might add that we think so too.

Grasshoppers have not damaged grain to any great extent in this section this year. They seem to have nipped D. B. Trimble's oats, just west of town, more than any other grain in this vicinity. But the little brutes will soon have nothing to nibble at but the stubbles.

P. N. Shelley, of Pleasant Hill, Lane county, through the medium of an advertising matrimonial concern, became acquainted with Miss Enoree Jay, of Augusta, Georgia. They corresponded, agreed to marry, he sent her a ticket, she came on to Eugene, met him, and the next day married him. The newly-married man is a brother of L. L. Shelley, of Mayville.

A private dispatch informs us that the table expenses of that famous throat-cutter, the sultan of Turkey, amounts to $5,000 a day, making him the greatest spendthrift in the world in this respect. It's a wonder he hasn't the gout.

As if to increase the distress incident to the hot weather, Tom Watson now threatens to organize a new political party. It is too bad that this man can't be induced to go into the airship business and run an airship line to Clondyke.

Rev. A. F. Bade left Monday for several days' visit with his relatives and friends at Milton. It will be discouraging news to some of our young damsels to learn that one of Milton's fairest young ladies is seriously thinking of changing her name to Bade, one of these days.

Mathews Bros. are now prepared to do threshing by the wholesale. They have just purchased a new separator to run with their engine. They have also put up a cook wagon, which will be of great convenience and labor saving to the farmers' wives.—Eugene Guard.

The Gazette distinguished itself by getting into Justice Richardson's clutches again the other day, and was let off with the "usual."—Heppner Gazette. [It strikes us that one of the Gazette's chief revenues is paying fines—but it goes the wrong way to do any good.]

Miss Pearl Fitzwater has been engaged to teach the fall term of school in Dist. 35, at the Brown place on Rock Creek, commencing Aug. 9th. Her sister Grace will finish her term of school on Thirty-mile on Aug. 6th. Miss Maggie Wilson will teach the fall term on Tralford.

"As we go to press," remarks an exchange, "we hear that the price of harvest hands is $2 a day; so, if you don't get your paper next week you will know that we have gone to the harvest field to get money with which to buy our better 3/4 a calico dress and a sack of flour."

The farmers feel very jubilant over the good prices paid for new wheat. They thought the market would open at about 50 cts. a bushel, but at Pendleton and other Eastern Oregon points the market has opened at 60 cts. a bushel, which will likely increase to 65 cts. before long.

People who are not invited to social gatherings very naturally conclude they are not wanted; and people who trade feel the same way toward the merchant who does not advertise. If he doesn't ask for trade he evidently doesn't want it and it's a poor dog that isn't worth whistling for, remarks an exchange.

The world grows frantic because a ton of gold was brought down on a steamer from Alaska. Yet no interest is occasioned abroad because Gilliam county promises to produce a wheat crop equal in value to two tons of gold. We take selfish satisfaction in prophesying that many more people will starve in Alaska than in Gilliam county.

The farmers of Gilliam county are just now "heels over head" in work harvesting the largest crop ever known in the history of the country. They will all have so much money this fall that if each farmer carries his cash all in one pocket it will pull him sideways when he walks, and is almost sure to make him bow-legged packing it around.

We take this cheerful paragraph from the Chicago Inter Ocean: "The wheat crop this year gives promise of 100,000,000 bushels in excess of last year. Better still, wheat July 16, 1897, was worth 74 cents cash. On July 16, 1896, it brought just 54 3/4 cents, making 19 1/4 cents increase for the pockets of the producer. Any farmer's boy can figure out the gain to American farmers by multiplying 575,000,000 bushels by 19 1/4."

The report current in both Europe and America that this paper is about to begin the construction of a double-track railroad to the Clondyke gold mines in Alaska is without foundation. We have as yet made no move in that direction, although we believe such a road would be a paying investment. On the strength of these reports, an army of editors have already applied to us for a free pass over the route, in order to help along the enterprise.

On last Saturday occurred the regular quarterly business meeting of the Congregational church of this place, and in addition to the regular business, a call was given to Rev. A. F. Bade to assume charge of the church here as pastor for the coming year. The call as yet is not answered but it is thought will be in the affirmative. It is hoped so, for Mr. Bade is very popular here. For a young man he does remarkably well, and will become an imminent divine some day.

J. A. Richmond of Ferry Canyon, who was convicted in circuit court here last fall for horse stealing, and who is noted for always being at war with his neighbors, narrowly escaped being shot last Friday by A. N. S. Cottin, one of his neighbors. Richmond was helping August Seekamp head wheat on Mr. Cottin's place, and during the day he repeatedly tried to provoke a quarrel with Mr. Cottin. In the afternoon he became so abusive that Mr. Cottin lost all patience and told him he would either have to behave himself or leave the place. Richmond at once attacked the helpless old man with a pitchfork, and being unarmed he narrowly escaped serious injury. He managed, however, to get to the house and brought out his gun, which caused Richmond to skidaddle out of that with a speed that required looking 100 yards ahead of the dust to see him going.

Arlington Items.

Banker Hurlburt and C W Lord paid The Dalles a visit Sunday.

Paul Kraft, The Dalles painter, is here again preparing to do some more fine work. Paul is all right.

J F Belcher, who has been out here for the last two years, has left for his former home in Illinois.

Farmers are all busy heading in this end of the county, causing a little lull in business here for awhile.

Chas D Bennett of Olex will make a shipment of horses East next Monday. So will Shurte Bros & Smith.

The piano and organ men have been doing the country around here lately, with what success we do not know.

Bob Watkins is remodeling his property, recently purchased, and fitting it up in tip top shape for a jewelry store.

Wheat sacks advanced 1/2 Saturday. From indications we would advise the farmers to get their measure in pretty quick.

John C Sweet is remodeling his former building across from the Grande hotel and will soon put in a stock of "wet goods."

L C Edwards made a business trip to Portland this week. His wife accompanied him and will spend a few weeks at the coast.

We notice quite a lot of new machinery going out for the new mill at Mayville. Must be getting its teeth ready to do some grinding.

The Wasco Warehouse Co are building a large addition to their platform, making preparation to handle the enormous grain crop this fall.

C H Shurte started home Sunday, after spending a couple of months out here in the interest of stock for a Chicago firm. We hope to see him again.

The warm weather makes the city lads and lassies feel like going out in the mountains, but most of them have decided to wait until next year and then go to Alaska.

A band of roaming Gypsies gave us a social call the last of the week, and we assure you they left no stone unturned. Marshal Carlisle gave two of them a free lunch at the "Libby Prison," which was a gentle hint to git, and they got.

J A Thomas, former Pres of the Arlington Natl Bank, has been with us the last few days. We understand he contemplates starting for the gold fields in Alaska next spring with a stock of goods. We hope he will make a "bar!" of money, as things have not been coming his way very smoothly of late.

C A Shurte went to Weston last week for a much-needed rest and to recuperate from his recent severe sickness from fever. No man in the state has applied himself more closely to business than Clarence has for the last several years and it is having a telling effect on his health. A few weeks' rest will doubtless put him in good running order again. His little son Curtis accompanied him.

Several of our people have the Clondyke fever in its worst form. Charles Bressler was up last week from Portland shaking hands with old friends and saying good bye before going on a trip to the Clondyke gold mines. He expects to sail on the 30th on the steamer Elder from Portland, to be gone a year or more. We hope he will strike it rich. W A Testerman of Olex is also off for the Clondyke to become a "goldbug."

Lone Rock Rumblings.

P L Ham has gone to the McDuffee hot springs to recuperate a few weeks.

Otho Ward returned this week from Montana, where he had been at work for some time.

John Madden has been out for several days with his binder "severing" some of Lone Rock's heavy grain crop.

R G Robinson's children are down just now with scarlet fever, which seems to be spreading over the country pretty rapidly.

Charley Frazer has sold his crop and leased his place to Henry Neel, and expects to spend the winter with his parents in Polk county.

Harry Stahl came up from Oregon City last Saturday evening, bringing with him a bran-new wife (his own) after whom he made the special trip. The new bride's maiden name was Miss Emma Bott, formerly of this place. The happy young couple will reside at Lone Rock, where they have many friends who wish them well.

Alex Fisher brought over a load of fine fruit from his Haystack ranch last week. He is a complete success as a peddler, also at spinning yarns—some of them being whoppers, and nearly as hard to swallow as Gen. Weyler's war stories. It is amazing to hear him tell about the knowledge the grasshoppers over there have; and he tells it without even batting an eye.

Some of our silver bugs are almost converted and talk strongly of going to Alaska to get a supply of gold. They have made up their minds that gold will do "on a pinch" until they get free silver. The thought does not seem to have occurred to the rainbow-chasers that even should they get free silver they will have to work just as hard for it as they do now, and perhaps harder than they will have to work in penetrating the bowels of the earth for the yellow metal in the frozen arctic regions, where the winters are almost constant darkness, 8 months long, with the mercury at 80 degrees below zero.

Certain Western newspapers are boasting that they get the public printing by offering to do it at less than the legal rate. The enthralls ought to be arrested for swindling themselves and disgracing the profession.—Press And Printer.

Endless mischief is done by gossips, whose tongue is hung as a pivot and runs at both ends. Moreover, what mischief could gossips do if it were not for the gossip hearers? According to an old writer, both these classes ought to be hung—the one by the tongue and the other by the ear.

Our Co. Supt. of schools, E. W. Daggett, last week sent one copy of the school laws to each clerk of the forty-six districts in the county. There was not enough to go around, but one new copy in each district ought to keep school matters grinding smoothly until the legislature meets again.

One great long step towards settling the financial problem of today would be to change the present statute of things, and instead of farmer boys coming to town for employment, let there be a general stampede to the farm by the hearty young bloods of the city. That would start progress in the right direction.—State Journal.

A London journal of society says that the prince of Wales is the most thrifless man in the world. In 33 years Albert Edward has "run through" $50,000,000. The government has paid him $25,000,000, with an additional allowance of $5,000,000 for traveling expenses. All this he has spent and yet today it is estimated he owes various tradespeople and his rich friends $20,000,000.

A Chicago physician is said to be doing great injury to his business by prescribing air for two of the most common complaints doctors have to treat. These are headache and indigestion. To cure these things he tells his patients to throw their shoulders back and breathe deeply, retaining the air in the lungs several seconds before respiring. Another doctor has said people could cure half their ills by the same method of deep breathing, but they won't because the remedy is so simple and inexpensive.

Dr. J. H. Frazer, dentist and oral surgeon, is now located in Condon and will remain for a few weeks. Satisfaction guaranteed.

If you want a piano or organ, be sure to write to the Jacobson Book and Music Co., The Dalles, Or. Catalogue free.

Dr. M. J. Denney, Physician and Surgeon, Union Block, Arlington, Oregon. * Look your machines over and tell Shurte Bros. your troubles. They will save you money on extras of all kinds.

The Wasco Warehouse Co. has wool sacks, fleece twine and sack twine for sale at Arlington.

FOR SALE CHEAP—a 12-foot header, in good order. Call at my home or address E. O. Tobey, Olex, Or.

For Sale Cheap. I have for sale cheap one 28-inch Buffalo Pitts threshing machine, with Jackson self-feeder, and everything complete. Call at my ranch, near Fleets, or address me at Olex, Or., for particulars. F. H. DOUGLASS.

The Place Where You Get the Most Change Back.

Of course when you are buying harness and saddles you want the best. I keep in stock only the very best material, and while maintaining my reputation in this respect, I go to the other extreme in keeping prices down to the lowest point. I know that nothing builds up business like the selling of first-class goods. I sell them, and don't sell anything else. When you need anything in my line, give me a call, and like the fable of the cat, "you'll come back again."

T. L. PORTWOOD, Condon. The Wasco Warehouse Co. has wool sacks, fleece twine and sack twine for sale at Arlington.
