Eleven hundred and seventy-five sheep were sold at Lakeview last week at $3.40 per head.

Cash Simpson, at Maddock's hotel, is just recovering from a very bad attack of la grippe.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Skelly, two miles east of town, want a girl to do housework, so Pat informs us.

After next Tuesday the days will gradually grow longer again, and no doubt every one will be glad of it.

Some of these days the editor of the Record will turn his type upside down and get a better print.—Tribune.

Little Hazel Strickland of Hay creek is stopping at the home of Mrs. Balding in town and attending our school.

Nat Scott and John Malmsted, Rock creek sheepmen, were in Heppner last Wednesday and Tuesday.—Gazette.

Rev. Chas. the Latter Day Saint minister, still continues to preach to large congregations here every night.

Recently a hot-water artesian well was sunk in Vale, the artesian seat of Malheur, with a sufficient volume of water to heat the whole town.

People from all over the country are preparing to come to the Christmas ball at Condon on Friday night of next week, and a large crowd is expected out.

Mr. Willard Huxley and Miss Martha Sherman, both of Clem, were married at last week by Justice Tatom.

John is a brother of our butcher.

City Sheriff Tom Johnson is in the end of the county this week on H. business, serving papers in civil collecting delinquent taxes, etc.

Frank Palmer and family have moved from Ajax to Portland, where Frank is running a barber shop. Walter May is running a barber shop at Canyon City.

Geo. W. Moore, one of the prominent farmers of the Olex country, was up to town yesterday making arrangements to move up on his Hd. before the county meeting.

Geo. Perry and John Malmsted of one Rock, who would rather miss a meal than their Gloms, were over to town Tuesday on land and other business.

Frank Knox of Pine creek was in town this week with some fine pork. He brought his son Frank over to attend our excellent school this winter.—Antelope Herald.

Chas. Royle closed his term of school at Hardman last week and will spend the winter looking after his cattle on Rock creek. He was over to town Monday on business.

Charles S. Miller, of the Granite creek mining district, who has been in the hospital here for several weeks, has so far recovered as to be able to be around town again.—Oregonian.

Ray Henson, R. W. Crane and T. G. Johnson all made final proof on their homesteads this week, the former two on Saturday and the latter on Monday, before County Clerk Frazer.

The old adage that one must begin at the bottom will not always work, says an exchange, since the young man who commenced dealing a hand of poker from the bottom lost his job.

The credit system in this country has had its day and never again will it prevail to any great extent. It ought to end and the sooner the better. It is better to learn to pay as we go.

A private letter from F. H. Watts, the well-known tombstone and nursery man of Dufur, informs us that his first-born child died a few days ago, which his friends in this county will regret to learn.

A Eugene exchange says: The editor of our contemporary across the street accidentally chopped the end off his scissors finger this week, which will incapacitate him for doing editorial work for some time.

A private letter from F. L. Ham, the Lone Rock merchant, (whose ad appears in the Globe) says that he is doing a tremendous business this fall and winter. All who know him are pleased to learn of his success.

Ed Cummings, one of the prosperous sheepmen of Fossil, was over to the county-seat Tuesday subscribing for the Globe and attending to other business. Mr. Cummings has made a success of the sheep business.

Dr. Lannerberg, the eye specialist, arrived here Wednesday and will remain until Friday only. All those needing his services should call at once. The doctor goes from here to Mayville to remain a day or two.

A Kansas City man who was married recently, has relatives in St. Louis named Damm. At the wedding, among the congratulatory missives read, was a telegram from St. Louis saying, "Accept the congratulations of the whole Damm family."

Chas. Habesohn, the fine builder, has bought 8 50x100-foot lots near the school house in Condon and is having a house built on the property. He thinks he will get married before long and settle down, and shows good judgment by selecting this location.

Considerable is said of late about foreign missions. But why is it, asks the Grant County News, that we want Chinamen in heaven so badly that we send missionaries to that country to show them the way, when we do not want them in America?

Sumpter News: The publisher of this paper was assaulted on the street Tuesday evening by Tobe Priest. Dr. Griffith dressed his wounds and the hyphyman hauled him home. We guarantee satisfaction in job work and our prices are as low as the lowest.

Grumbling is a potent cause of ill health. It keeps the sensitive nerves constantly vibrating with discordant emotions, and not only hurts the grumbler, but everyone who hears it. It really prepares the system of the grumbler for an attack of any malady that happens to be prevalent.—Exchange.

A Prineville editor last week printed this pathetic appeal in his paper: "If the absent-minded gentleman who entered our room last night while we were wrapped in the arms of slumber and stole our pants will kindly return them he will relieve us of forced imprisonment in our bed and great mental suffering."

The Christmas tree committee at Condon were unable to procure a tree, so have concluded to have in its place a "work shop," from which the presents will be taken and distributed. A short but interesting program will be rendered before the presents are distributed. These exercises will be held at the church on Friday evening of next week.

The sheep trespass case of Charley White vs. Tim Connolly, tried in justice court at Condon last week, resulted in a verdict for the defendant, the jury deciding that the plaintiff was not entitled to any damages. The amount sued for was $150. The jury consisted of J. C. Cooney, John Palmer, Jas. Kiser, Wm. Livingston, C. O. Portwood and Elgin Myers.

It pays to advertise in a paper that is read by all of the stockmen, farmers and everybody else. The owner of the lost cow that John Portwood advertised in the Globe was found after the notice appeared in but one issue. She belongs to Johnny Magee, of Lost Valley, who informed us that he had spent many a day during the last year hunting for this cow. He fully realizes his mistake by not inserting a couple of lines in the Globe—which never fails to find lost stock of any kind. Don't spend any time or money hunting for your lost stock, when, for only a few cents, you can find them in this manner.

Olex Explosions. Henry Huxley and Miss Martha Cox were married last week. Success to them. Arthur Marvel, county coroner, is making out his report of Joe Baird's death for the county court. Thos Malanaphy cut quite a swath with his three-button cutaway last Sunday. Girls, there is a good opening for one of you.

J. H. Baird, brother of the late Joseph Baird, left last week for Syracuse, Utah, after spending a couple of weeks at Olex settling up the estate of his brother. Henry Wilkins has just returned from Iowa, where he spent a few days visiting his parents. He says Gilliam county is rich enough for him. Henry's brother is rich with him.

The plow teams are busy turning up mother earth for another crop. More wheat will be sown for the next harvest than ever before, and it is confidently expected that good prices will prevail next summer. Rev Warner, Presiding Elder, was in Olex Saturday and Sunday conducting quarterly conference of M E church. Rev Barnhart accompanied the Elder and assisted him. He is just recovering from a three weeks' tussel with pneumonia.

At every session of the county court we earnestly hope to see that the sheepmen and county court have paid up on the outstanding coyote scalps. We hope to see a favorable report on same at next session. If not, they are liable to get a lawsuit to defend at next circuit court, as patience is ceasing to be a source of profit. Mayville Mutterings.

The entertainment here Friday by the school on Key's Flat was a success, socially and financially. M E Weir and family are expected home next week from Arizona, where they are visiting Mrs Weir's relatives. Mr Caleb Perrin will have a house erected here for the purpose of renting, as soon as the roads get so the material can be hauled.

W J Edwards went to Arlington the first of the week to sell the household goods of his sister, Mrs D H Gager, who is now in Lane county. At their last meeting here Evening Star Rebekah Lodge elected the following officers: Ella Rinehart, Noble Grand; Mary Shelton, Vice Grand; E P Weir, Secretary; Susau Weir, Treasurer.

S G Hawson was elected C C at the last meeting of the K P lodge here.

Friegers say the roads have been in horrible condition for several weeks.

Mr and Mrs D Vance came down from Sumpter last week and have decided to locate at The Dalles.

Walt Compton butchered two very large wild geese the first of the week, that dressed about ten pounds each.

Frank Alrich has his bowling alley about completed and will be in running order by Jan 1st. He is putting several hundred dollars in the enterprise, and as it is something that has never been introduced in this county before, we presume it will find plenty of support.

A committee is at work making arrangements to have one of the grandest Christmas trees here in the state. They are corresponding with "Old Santa," and he says he will be here without fail and "loaded for bear." It is under the management of the M E Church people, and will be held in the A O U W hall.

There was a lot of rain fell the first of the week, causing the roads to continue very muddy. The ground is wet deeper than usual at this time of year in this section of country and the grass is growing fast, and a few weeks more of the present kind of weather will give stock plenty of grass. Sheep are doing fine now on the range.

Married, on Sunday, Dec 12th, at the home of the bride's parents at Arlington, Mr Frank I Sharpe and Miss Elsie Fram. Rev Henry Barnhart officiating. Both the contracting parties belong to our best and most highly respected people, and the happy young couple begin their new lives with the best wishes of a multitude of friends.

Bob Watkins says he can make a watch ran, but falls a little short in trying to make a lynx do it. While goose hunting near town the other morning a large lynx chased him and nearly scared him to death. He ran until he was out of breath and then turned and shot the beast, which he brought to town. This is his version of the affair, at least.

The finest orchard in Eastern Oregon, situated below Blalock on the Columbia, containing over 20,000 trees, changed hands lately. A man from Philadelphia is the purchaser and paid $20,000 for the property. It is not generally known that Gilliam county can show up such orchards as this one. They irrigate the orchard by a pumping system. The last crop was shipped East.

Grocer Geo Miller has in his show window a large candle, weighing 30 lbs and is about four feet long. He will light it on New Year's morning, and the person guessing nearest to the exact time that it takes for it to burn up, will be presented with $5 worth of goods from the store. Everybody is welcome to a guess, and some one is sure to be the lucky muldoon. Come and see it and register your guess.

Our town narrowly averted what might have been a terrible conflagration Monday night. A roomer at the Grande hotel carelessly left a burning lamp on a stand near a window, which was open enough to allow the wind to blow the curtain over onto the lamp. When discovered, the flames were making rapid progress and in a few minutes more would have been beyond control, but a few buckets of water did the work.

A "moon" visited our town last week and thought he'd replenish his whiskey by selling whiskey to Indians. But marshal Carlisle caught him in the act and socked him into the refrigerator. Not liking the health resort overly well he concluded to seek new pastures and dug out and skiddaded, but was overtaken at Rufus and brought back. He will be given an opportunity to declare himself before the U S court at Portland in a few days.

Of Interest to Settlers.

H. N. Frazer, County Clerk, at Condon, Oregon, continues to give special attention to U. S. government land applications, filings and proofs. He is also prepared to receive applications for the purchase of state school, lien school lands and forfeited railroad lands, at his office.
