Note—In publishing the above notice last week a mistake was made concerning the date on which the dance is to be given. We stated it would be given on the "29th," when in fact it will be given on the 20th. Remember, the date is Tuesday Evening, April 26th.

Jim Dunn was in from his sheep camp Sunday. He reports sheep doing fine and an excellent crop of lambs about harvested. The per cent of increase in his flock is 102.

O. W. Barr returned Saturday from a brief visit with his father in Illinois. Mr. Barr says times are not good in the East and that Eastern Oregon is good enough for him.

B. K. Sealey returned from Portland on Friday last week, having taken his son there for medical attention. He stated that his son was getting along well when he left.

B. Lane arrived in town on Friday of last week from Independence, Polk county, and has decided to locate in Condon. Mr. Lane is a blacksmith and has secured an interest in C. S. Clark's shop. His family will arrive later.

The jury in the Donaldson case, last week, were just six minutes reaching a verdict of acquittal. The "squire" was beaming when the verdict was read, and the host of friends who congratulated him afterward seemed as well pleased as was the old gentleman himself.

R. L. Phares, of Fossil, was before Justice Tatom on Friday morning the 15th inst. on a charge of assault with intent to kill, preferred by C. C. Powell. Defendant waived examination and was placed under $250 bond for his appearance before the next sitting of the grand jury.

The Globe acknowledges a pleasant call from Douglas Dufur, of The Dalles, who was here last week in the capacity of stenographer in Judge Bradshaw's court. Mr. Dufur is a most agreeable gentleman, a crack bowler, and will in the future keep posted in the affairs of Gilliam by a weekly perusal of the Globe.

Mrs. S. A. Maddock, and her daughter Miss Maggie Maddock, left on Saturday's stage for Saginaw, Michigan, where they go to visit relatives and friends. They expect to be absent three or four months. The Globe will keep them posted in regard to Gilliam county during their absence. We wish them a safe and pleasant journey.

Miss Lisie Fehrenbacher, the young lady who had been employed in the culinary department at the Condon hotel for the past few weeks, left on last Saturday's stage for her home in Arlington. Miss Fehrenbacher gave excellent satisfaction as chief cook, but her services were no longer needed, as the two oldest Maddock sisters, Louella and Mary, are at home to remain until fall and are able to manage the affairs themselves.

at Cottage Grove, Oregon, Mr. Frank B. Golden, of Mayville, to Miss Rosa Allen, of Cottage Grove. Mr. and Mrs. Golden arrived in Condon Sunday evening and proceeded to their home at Mayville Monday. A host of friends will unite in wishing them much happiness.

Miss Mary Maddock arrived on last Friday's stage from Pendleton, where she had been attending the St. Joseph's College since last December. Owing to the fact that her mother will be absent during the next few months, she was compelled to come home before the close of the term at the college, as her services are needed in the management of affairs at the Condon hotel.

H. H. Hendricks, the senior member of the reliable law firm of Hendricks & Hendricks, left for his home in Fossil on Friday's stage. Mr. Hendricks left Condon in a very well satisfied mood, having come off winner in one of the most hotly contested cases of the term. Mr. Hendricks is an able lawyer and has in the past been mixed up with the newspaper business just enough to entitle him to a good rating among the good looking and wealthy members of that profession.

Deputy Sheriff T. G. Johnson, and Oscar Portwood left for Salem Saturday morning in charge of Steve Nolan, who was sentenced to six months in the penitentiary at the last term of court for cutting the rubber hose that connects the air brakes to the engine on one of the O. R. & N. Co.'s trains at Arlington, last month. Oscar may visit the Agricultural College, while below, and give the students a lecture on "How to raise sugar beets," at least so says Tom Johnson.

The show given in Armory hall Wednesday and Thursday evenings was all right. Rosa Arthur, the "California Magnet" is a wonder and if there is a man in the northwest who can lift her he can win $100 as well as the undying envy of hundreds of other fellows who have tried it and failed. The children Cora and Max, in their inimitable song and dance acts showed much real talent and brought down the house in every act. The show is clean and entertaining and we gladly recommend it to the public.

Mayor Dunn has appointed a committee on water works in the city council which is expected to bring in a report at the next meeting. It is to be hoped that the report will be favorable for a permanent system of water works that will furnish the town an adequate supply of water for fire protection and all other purposes. Such enterprises are what build up good permanent towns, and if the present administration will get the right move on in this matter it will certainly receive the hearty endorsement of the people generally. Let us have water works.

S. A. D. Gurley and W. H. Delays, the well-known attorneys of Arlington, left for home Saturday morning, after concluding a very satisfactory amount of business in the circuit court. That these gentlemen are well to the front in their profession in this district is evidenced by the fact that they were interested in about four-fifths of the cases on the docket during the late term and by the satisfactory outcome of a large percentage of their cases. They are hard workers in their profession, up-to-date in their methods, agreeable gentlemen and highly deserving of the success which seems to be coming their way.

Woodman Lectures.

The lecture given on Friday evening by C. W. Wheeler on the subject of "Woodcraft" was highly enjoyed by the large audience present. Mr. Wheeler is a forcible and entertaining speaker, and the arguments he advanced in favor of fraternal insurance as provided by the Woodmen and kindred fraternal organizations were both logical and conclusive. The speaker pointed out that it is a privilege as much as a duty that every man should make provision for his family in the event of his death while that family is dependent upon him, and that such provision can best be made through the medium of fraternal insurance. Mr. Wheeler went from here to Fossil, where he lectured Saturday evening.

Republican State Convention.

The republican state convention, in session at Astoria last week, had a stormy meeting at the outset, brought about by the Multnomah county factional fight being again carried into state politics, and for a time it looked as though the party would be permanently disrupted. The temporary organization was finally effected, however, without the aid of either of the contesting Multnomah county delegates, and the report of the committee on credentials showed that the Mitchell faction had been turned down and their opponents given a seat in the convention. The platform adopted declares for the single gold standard, indorses President McKinley's Cuban policy, favors retrenchment and reform, demands the abolition of all needless offices and commissions and denounces the union party as an aggregation of spoilsmen. The following nominations were made: Governor, T. T. Geer; Supreme judge, F. A. Moore; State treasurer, Charles S. Moore; Secretary of state, F. I. Danbar; State printer, W. H. Leeds; Attorney-General, D. R. N. Blackburn; Superintendent of public instruction, J. H. Ackerman.

In this congressional district Malcolm A. Moody, of The Dalles, was nominated for congress by acclamation. H. S. Wilson and A. A. Jayne, both of The Dalles, received the nomination for circuit judge and prosecuting attorney for this judicial district.

$5 Reward.

Lost or Stolen From Arlington about the 15th of August, 1897. One yellow and white cow with young calf. Cow is branded M (with half circle over) on hip, crop and under or upper bit off each ear, range on Rock Creek and Hay Creek. The above reward will be paid for the return of cow and calf or information as shall lead to the recovery of same. Anyone detaining this cow after this notice will be prosecuted. R. A. W. BARPOO, Arlington, Ore.

ARLINGTON.

Sheep shearers are scarce in this section just now.

L. W. Darling and wife were Arlington visitors this week.

Most of the sheep in this locality will be sheared by the first of May.

The lambing season is over, and all report a large increase in sheep.

Judge Bradshaw was in town Saturday evening on his way home from Condon.

Harry Clay has material on the ground to build a private barn on his property.

John Blake and wife passed through town the first of the week on their way to Portland.

The fruit crop is not hurt by frost in this section, notwithstanding the report to the contrary.

Wheat is coming in at the rate of about ten tons a day just now. The price is 65 cts. per bushel.

Ed Compton killed three large geese last Sunday at one shot with his rifle. There seems to be plenty of geese and cranes just now.

Lord & Co. have their new store building well along, and when completed it will make quite an addition to the now large store room.

Capt. Nelson is building a machine by which he expects to work out a fortune from the sands of the Columbia river. It will be run by electricity and is all his own invention and looks like it would be a success.

"It is not all gold that glitters," was the remark that Snider, the carpenter, made the other day when knocked down by Carlisle. It appears that Snider had a contract to move a house from one piece of property to another, and Carlisle objected for some reason, and they had a little racket, with the above result.

Mr. A. L. Huff has his new house near completion. When finished it will be one of the nicest residence properties in the city. We are glad to note that the city is growing right along, not only in building but in a business way also. The business of the town was a hundred thousand dollars greater last year than the year before.

The Woodmen of The World gave an entertainment last Tuesday evening that was very interesting. There was a wood-sawing contest which was won by Frank Tania sawing off a 7x8 stick of timber with a buck saw in 45 seconds. Mrs. Geisendorfer won the nail-driving contest by driving three nails home except 1/2 of an inch, there being but two strokes allowed for driving each nail, the size of which were six-pennies.

OLEX.

George Morris has gone to join the army.

Thos. Malanophy returned from Iowa last Sunday.

John Randall has gone out to make some improvements on his farm near Clem.

Paul Jones came out from Arlington a few days ago to visit his niece, Miss Lella Parrish.

N. H. and Clarence Scoggins have started the county well at Clem. They are down about 18 feet.

G. W. Moore has gone to Willowa to visit some of his relatives whom he has not seen for many years.

Judging from the number of wheat teams on the road one would think that harvest was in full blast.

Atty. W. H. and H. S. Wilson, of The Dalles, stopped and visited Olex last week while on their way home.

Mrs. Fred Hanna is visiting her parents at Hardman. Fred now comes to church and Sunday school all topped up.

J. W. Maguire, T. M. Vining, W. T. Settemire and Mrs. L. O. Ralston proved up on their land claims at Arlington last Monday.

Roy Edminston started to Olex Sunday to attend church, and his horse got to bucking and stove himself up so badly that Roy had to leave him.

The proposed new road from Olex to Clem will be a great convenience to the residents along the line, also to light vehicles going through to Condon.

We hope to soon see the much-talked-of telephone line from Arlington to Fossil, via Condon, commenced. The residents of Olex will do their share of the hauling.

There will be revival meetings commenced at Olex next Sunday to last for several weeks, to be conducted by Rev. and Mrs. Brown. The services Sunday morning and evening will be conducted by Mrs. Brown.

Judge Bradshaw, Thos. Johnson and Oscar Portwood stopped at Olex last week on their way to Arlington. Tom had a recruit for the army of the state, with headquarters at Salem. Judge Bradshaw is again nominated for judge of this district, of which fact his many friends here are pleased to learn.

CLEM.

Under a patch of blue. Our village smithy stands; And with smiles so bland, The smith he says: "Top o' the mornin' to you."

By the way; we have a first-class blacksmith now, and he's here to stay, too.

C. Oberlechner went across Rock creek to hunt horses, as he claimed, but we know better but wont tell.

Scoggins & Son are working in the country well at this place, with a seemingly good prospect for water.

Several of the other old cranks were at Boyer's Sunday, and to hear them swap yarns you would imagine you were among a lot of Philadelphia lawyers.

Last Saturday evening Fremont Wade was taken suddenly ill and spent the night and the greater part of Sunday in great distress. We hear he is resting easier now. His sickness seems to be caused by some kind of stomach trouble.

We hear that two of our young men are rivals in love. Of course one will win, the other lose. But the loser can console himself with the Shakespearean quotation: "Men have died from time to time and worms have eaten them—but not for love."
