THE NEW SENATOR,

The senatorial contest, at Salem which a week ago gave fair promise of developing into another diagraceful deadlock similar to that of two years ago, was brought to an at rupt termination tast Sabarday b the elimination of Mr. Corbett's name from the contest and the subsequent election of Joseph Simon. of Portland.

While Mr. Simon may not have been the choice of a majority of the people of Eastern Oregon, there sceme to be a general feeling of satisfaction that the contest is ended and that our legislators can now devote their energies to other matters which for the past two years have demanded attention.

Mr. Simon is a young man of more than ordinary force in the political arena, and he will enter upon his duties as a representative of the grand commonwealth of Oregon, in the highest legsilative body of the land, at a time that is fraught with wonderful possibilities for the Pacific Northwest. At no time since Oregon has been a state are. Inquire of, or write to has there been more work of an important character awaiting the hands of our representatives in congress than there is at the present time. Mr. Simon has a splendid opportunity for distinguishing himself in his new position, by the advocacy and successful carrying out of numerous measures in which the people of the state are interested, and it remains to be seen whether or not he will take ad wantage of his opportunities. One wantage of his opportunities. One land has ever had, F. C. HINDLE, Ag't, Arlington, Or. way in which he can make himmelf solid with the people of Eastern Oregon is by securing an open work. There is one thing sure that, sooner or later the Columbia reasonable. Call on or address must be made navigable, and the senator or congressman who at this time refuses or neglects to use his influence and untiring efforts in the direction of an open waterway will lose the chance of a lifetime to guelo "get next to" the masses of the
