If you need a one or three foot rule, or some blotters, call at the Globe office and supply yourself free of charge.

Wm. Keys, of Mayville, returned last week from Portland where he has been undergoing treatment for the past few months.

Mrs. C. L. Baker and D. Henry returned Saturday from Arlington where they had been for a few days on a shopping expedition.

Last Saturday was the "Fourth of July" of the Swiss republic, being the 607th anniversary of the organization of that little republic.

Wm. Cornett and H. E. Ramsay, two well known Gilliam county pioneers, discussed the weather and talked a little politics in town Monday.

The few gobblers left in the country should appoint a Thanksgiving of their own, in view of the fact that their lease of life has been extended until Christmas.

Coyotes are becoming very plentiful again. It begins to look as though the country will be taken by these pests if something is not soon done to exterminate them.

Miss Hattie Hoover came over from Fossil and spent Thanksgiving with her sister, Mrs. J. F. Reischer. She left yesterday for Corvallis where she will spend the winter.

Charlie Robertson, the watchmaker, is now comfortably located in the building just north of Clark's blacksmith shop. Whenever your watch needs repairing take it to Charlie.

William Gadsby, the well-known furniture dealer, of Portland, who went to Manila last spring with the Oregon volunteers, holding a captain's commission, has returned home.

Harry Halstead, the genial saw mill man, of Lost Valley, was in town on Thanksgiving filling up on turkey, pumpkin pie, etc., and taking the kinks out of his legs at the grand ball.

Syl Palmer was forced to put an extra chair and barber in his shop Thursday to accommodate his big run of patrons, and the two were kept as busy as niggers from early morn till dewey eve.

Subscriptions taken at the postoffice for the Ladies' Home Journal, the San Francisco Examiner, and all other leading periodicals. Stock up your reading list for 1899. Mrs. J. F. Reischer.

The Eastern Oregon Tocoin, is the name of a new paper just started at Carson, Union county. It is a neat paper, well printed and ably edited and is deserving of fame and fortune. H. C. James is the responsible party.

Mrs. T. G. Woodland died at her residence near Olex, on Friday, the 25th ult., after a long and painful illness. She leaves a husband and two daughters to mourn her demise. The funeral occurred at the Olex cemetery on Sunday.

Some miscreant stole a valuable buffalo robe from George Schott's rig one evening last week while the team was hitched on Main street. George is considerably chagrined over his loss, as it is almost impossible to replace such a robe now.

Dr. B. F. Nott, the well-known dentist of Fossil, is now in town and will remain two or three weeks to attend to the wants of his numerous patrons here in the dental line. Office at his old stand in Hendricks' law office building. Give him a call.

The ball given at this place Thanksgiving was well attended, ninety-nine numbers being sold. An excellent supper was prepared at the different hotels, to which the hungry dancers did ample justice. Dancing continued until the wee sma' hours of the morning.

If you want Xmas Presents, Toys, China Ware, Dolls, etc., call at Compton & George's, Arlington, Or.

Rev. Hirschner, of Hood River, arrived on the stage Tuesday and will assist Rev. Burr with the series of meetings now in progress at the Congregational church.

The O. R. & N. Co. is reported to have let a contract for the construction of 140 miles of railroad up the Snake river from Wallula Junction to Lewiston. Grading is said to be already commenced. Now what is the matter with a line into Gilliam county's big wheat belt? Don't all speak at once, gentlemen.

Thanksgiving passed off quietly in Condon. The day was a beautiful one, overhead, being so bright and clear that one was apt to forget all about the stormy weather of the week previous. After the dinner hour everybody in sight wore a satisfied expression which seemed to indicate that Thanksgiving turkey was plentiful and of first quality.

W. R. Boyer, one of Clem's best-known citizens, left last Saturday for his old home in Indiana, where he will spend the winter with relatives and friends. During our last interview with W. R. he was somewhat reticent on certain points, hence we are unable to state whether he will return to Oregon a single or a married man.

Heppner is becoming quite metropolitan in its airs. The latest modern improvement reported from that thriving city is a first-class opium joint, from which the marshal extracted a Chinaman and a white boy one night last week. Both had been "bitting the pipe," and if the offense is repeated it is likely the offenders will be severely dealt with.

Judging from the look of complacency which spread over Doc Hudson's face, his embonpoint, etc., on the afternoon of Thanksgiving day, we feel safe in asserting that all persons who have had evil designs against a certain big fat turkey, owned by the doctor for the past year, are doomed to disappointment. We'll wager that no fellow will ever be accused of stealing that fowl.

H. B. Hendricks writes the Globe that himself and his family have arrived safely at Bay City, and are now comfortably settled in their new home. They made the trip from The Dalles entirely by water, and got a taste of salt breeze and ocean breakers between Astoria and Tillamook bay. They enjoyed the trip immensely and seem well pleased with their new location.

Canyon City has notified the Portland Telegram that no more aid is needed by the sufferers from the recent fire at that city, and that all wants are now supplied. In view of this fact the contributions that have been received by the Globe for that cause will be returned to the donors. The town of Arlington came next to Portland in contributions, having forwarded $50 to the sufferers.

"Pompador Jim," alias "Gentleman Jim," alias "Jim Corbett, the pug," was soundly thrashed by Sharkey in New York the other night. As usual, Corbett claimed a whole lot of things after the fight was over and the bets had been declared off, but the fact remained that he was licked. Jim had better quit fighting for a living and sell his mouth to some air cushion factory to be used as an inflator.

The Fossil-Arlington mail route has been sub-let at $1000 per year to a Mr. Jackson, who lives beyond Arlington, on the Washington side. As the sub-contractor must take charge of the route the first of December, Harry Reed, who is giving temporary service, has commenced taking his horses off the route, and will go over the road on the 30th of Nov. to bring home the remainder of the horses and coaches.—Journal.

Edward Warren, an opium fiend and gambler, is suspected of having started the fire which destroyed Canyon City, he being a guest at the hotel where it started, and was angry at some of the residents there. He has been apprehended at Sumpter, and it is said will be lynched if it can be proven that he committed the crime. It is hoped, however, that the people will thoroughly investigate the matter and not be rash.—The Dalles Chronicle.

We have received, from the author, a copy of the "Semi-Centennial History of Oregon," by Horace S. Seymour, of the State University. The pamphlet is issued as a bulletin of the University, and will be followed by a monthly bulletin during the school year. The initial number of this "Historical" series contains much useful information for every one who is interested in Oregon history, and much that will doubtless be of great value to future historians. Price 25 cts. by mail.

The county court of Gilliam county has granted a license for a ferry across the John Day river, at Twickenham, to Helms & Horn, of that place. Now comes the county court of Crook county and grants a similar license to J. H. Parsons, at the same point. This, apparently, complicates matters, as neither firm seems to have a right to land on but one side of the river. The difficulty can doubtless be overcome, however, by the two companies forming a combine and transferring their freight and passengers in mid-stream.

A dramatic club has been organized in Condon, and a first-class play will be put on the boards about Christmas, the proceeds of which will be turned into a fund to paint and otherwise improve the public school building. The cause is a worthy one, and the play promises to be well worth the price of admission. Every one who is interested in our school should take a personal interest in securing a large attendance for the play and thus help along a good cause. A dance will be given after the play and an opportunity will be given all to enjoy themselves. Posters and further details will appear later.

Jack Wells, of Portland, is here visiting his brother Bert.

Mrs. S. C. Donaldson, of Fossil, was a passenger on Tuesday's north-bound stage.

Clarence Caves and Frank Moore will leave in a few days for Portland, where they expect to spend the winter.

Joseph Parrazo is building an addition to, and otherwise improving, his residence this week.

Tom Johnson has just completed a large shed in the rear of his livery barn to accommodate the stock that his barn would often times fail to hold.

Twenty-nine vessels were wrecked in Boston harbor last Sunday night during the terrible blizzard that raged there. It is estimated that 30 lives were lost.

Mr. W. Christie arrived in town on Tuesday from Winnipeg, Manitoba, and is the guest of his friend John Jackson. He expects to locate in this section.

Miss Naomi Stangle, of Monmouth, who has been teaching school on Matney Flat, was a passenger on Tuesday's stage, homeward bound to visit friends.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Orchard, of Portland, left for home on the stage Tuesday morning. Mr. Orchard has been here a week or so looking after the construction of the water works.

The Condon public school now has about 100 pupils enrolled. The present building is too small to accommodate that number comfortably and it is probable that either a new building or an addition to the present structure will be a necessity before another year.

Dr. L. P. Mullinix, the eminent physician and surgeon, with his assistant, will be at the Maddock Hotel, Condon, Dec. 14th, 15th and 16th; Mayville Hotel, Mayville, Dec. 17th and 18th; McKenzie Hotel, Fossil, Dec. 19th, 20th and 21st. Consultation free to all.

Harry Halstead left on Monday for Canyon City on a combined business and pleasure trip. He expects to be gone two or three weeks.

Thanksgiving passed off quietly here, most everyone going to Fossil to enjoy the dance given at that place, and all report having had a good time.

Joe Frizzell went over to Fossil to spend Thanksgiving with his family. He returned Saturday, accompanied by his wife, who will spend a few days here.

Mr. John E. Johnson, the bustling, energetic book agent and dispenser of silverware, was in our midst soliciting orders the first of the week. He reports doing a good business, as so many want presents for holiday gifts.

John Madden, of Lone Rock, was a pleasant caller at the postoffice this week while en route to Fossil on legal business connected with the breaking up of the Young Peoples' Lyceum on the evening of Nov. 25th by two or three drunks.

Mr. J. M. Sloan left a few days ago for his home at Eugene, Lane county. He came up about three weeks ago to look after his interests at this place. Mr. Sloan is a typical Oregon pioneer, and we regret that we have to lose him as a neighbor.

Peculiar Poisoning. Within the past few days reports came in that several hundred head of sheep have died in various sections of the county, seemingly of poison, says the Heppner Gazette. In an interview with Frank Farnsworth, he informed us that over one hundred have died within the last day or two in their corrals, belonging to his father and Mr. Bishop. His supposition coincides with other sheepmen, who believe that climatic conditions have brought to the surface an alkali poison which is doing the mischief. Messrs. Stevens and Harris are also reported loser of a number of head. It seems a wise suggestion that an analysis be made and the result might enable the sheepmen to combat the evil.

Frank Forester Captured. Times-Mountaineer. At last Frank Forester, who murdered Phil Hogan at Antelope on Nov. 5th, has fallen into the hands of the officers. On Tuesday morning, Nov. 22, Sheriff Kelley received the following dispatch from the sheriff at Winnemucca, Nevada: "We have Forester arrested. He acknowledges the crime. Wire warrant, and you can come for him at once. He waives requisition."

"C. W. McDell, Sheriff." Mr. Kelley left immediately for Winnemucca, and expects to have Forester back here for trial before the close of the present term of court.

Little is known as to how Forester got into Nevada, but it is presumed that he headed for the railroad soon after the crime was committed, and was headed for his old home in Tennessee.

Notice to Sheepmen. A meeting of the Sheepmen's Protective Union of Gilliam county, and others interested, will be held at Condon on Saturday, Dec. 3rd, at 12 o'clock for the purpose of settling up the affairs of said Union. All those indebted to the Union will please pay up at once and save costs of collection. This is an old score, and it should be wiped out at once, if there is any honor left among our sheep raisers. Coyotes are increasing at an alarming rate since the bounty has been suspended, and many wish the good work had been kept up, but wishes don't pay for scalps. W. R. KERRIE, Pres.
