

A SUGGESTION.

Gilliam county should make a effort to secure a part of the big tide of emigration that is rolling westward this spring. Probably in no other section of the United States is there so large a body of first-class agricultural land lying vacant as here and if the thousands of homeseekers who are coming this way but know of it, every quarter section would be taken within the next six months.

It would well repay those of us who are here to make an effort to attract the right class of settlers and if the people would only cooperate a little in the matter the cost would be trifling. Some printed matter descriptive of the resources of our county, distributed on the next homeseekers' excursion train that comes this way, by some live man who could meet and get acquainted with the new comers, could not fail to be productive of great good and the GLOBE hopes to see our people take hold of the matter and see that something is done.

There should be no misrepresentation of the country but a plain, lucid statement of the conditions as they are. The county does not need a flood of laboring men without capital, but rather a class of thrifty, industrious families who have sufficient capital to hold down a homestead until they can raise a crop.

A thickly settled country means better schools, better social advantages, more wheat to sell and more money with which to buy goods from our merchants. This is made as a suggestion and we hope to see it acted upon.

PLANT TREES.

Now that Condon has a good supply of water, and a first-class distributing system for the same, every citizen of our town who has not already done so should plant a few trees, sow a little grass seed or do something to improve and beautify the town.

Nothing so much enhances the appearance of a town as shade-trees, green grass and neatly kept lawns and dooryards, and if each one of us will do a little along this line the coming summer our town will be a more attractive place to live in than it has ever been.

No better field could be found in which to organize a "Village Improvement Club," but if we cannot have the organization, let us have the proper spirit, with a fixed determination to do something during this year to improve our town. Plant a tree and lay up for yourself and others a treasure to be enjoyed on hot summer days in the future.

THIS IS TOUGH.

A Washington volunteer at Manila writes to the Seattle Times, under date of February 15th, as follows: "Native women and children in our neighborhood and beyond, as well as old men and sick, are absolutely starving to death. Their husbands and fathers have been killed, wounded, captured or driven back to Malolos, their houses burned to the ground, with all their earthly possessions, and they are left with no means of subsistence. They attempt to come into the American lines by thousands, but have to be turned back. We cannot feed them."

It makes all the difference in the world whose ox does the going. Two years ago, when the Spanish forces were trying to starve the Cubans into submission, the American people held up their hands in holy horror at such a barbarous spectacle, and hastened to send tons of food and clothing and thousands of dollars in coin to alleviate the sufferings of a persecuted people. Since engaging in the war for humanity business, however, and especially since drifting from that into a war for conquest, the temper of the people has changed and we can now view with complacency scenes that 18 or 20 months ago would have made our blood boil with indignation. Then, it was an act of Spanish cruelty and barbarity. Now, it is an act of American valor. What will the end be?

A small sea serpent is reported to have been caught at the Solomon islands. It only weighed 70 tons, had but two heads and was covered with hair only a couple of feet long.

While none of the matter in the GLOBE is copy-righted, we would beg to suggest to a certain Morrow county exchange that an unwritten law of common courtesy among newspapers makes it imperative that reprints should be credited to the paper from which they were first taken. We feel complimented that our neighbor should so frequently quote us, but how are we to know but that all other matter in his editorial column is secured in the same surreptitious manner? If he wants credit for his own work he should give it to others.

The refinement of cruelty as distilled by the slow process of the law in meting out justice to criminals is seen in the case of Claude Branton, the Lane county murderer. The execution of this criminal is long over due. Both justice and humanity are violated in keeping a human being upon a mental strain by delaying the execution of penalty until mind and body are wrecked. The safety of society demands that cold blooded murderers should, upon proper conviction, be executed; the good name of civilization requires that execution should follow conviction promptly.

S. P. Haney is at work on the telephone line which he is constructing between here and Gooseberry, and it is only a matter of a few days until that portion of the country will be in telephone connection with us. Telephones will be put in, using the barb wire fence for a line, at James and C. A. Rhea's farmhouses, the post offices at Gooseberry and Eightmile—or at a farmhouse quite near the latter place.—R. K. Sampson and A. T. King's farmhouses, F. M. Courter and E. I. Dorman are desirous of having a line established from their places here and it is quite probable the same will be done. Mr. Haney has under consideration the matter of putting in poles from Condon to Gooseberry, and then utilizing the barb wire line on in to Lone for the present, and this plan will be suggested in the matter of the telephone connection with Condon.—Jones Herald.
