Mrs. C. J. Pinkham returned last week from a lengthy visit with friends at Pine creek and Fossil and Charlie has not quit looking pleased yet.

Geo. Miller, the Arlington "Regulator" announces that on May 1st he will adopt a strictly cash business in his store and that prices will be reduced accordingly.

Don't miss the famous "Wonderland and Vitaseop" show at Armory hall tonight. It comes well recommended and doubtless will be the best exhibition of the season. Admission 25 and 50 cts.

The recent examinations at St. Joseph's Academy, Pendleton showed very satisfactory progress for the past quarter. The present year is by far the most successful in the history of the academy; 190 pupils were enrolled since September of whom 45 are boarders.

Hugh Jackson, proprietor of the stage line was in town Saturday. Mr. Jackson is a first class stage man and is giving the people a strictly high grade service. We understand he is negotiating for the Fossil-Mitchell route. He is seriously considering moving his family to Condon to reside.

Dan Thomas, manager of the Arlington Warehouse Co., at Arlington, was in this vicinity last week in the interest of his firm. Mr. Thomas is of the opinion that the coming season will see the largest wool business at Arlington that has ever been handled there. Gilliam county sheepmen should make a note of this and show a preference to Gilliam county firms so long as the advantages are equal.

G. B. Bush, assistant superintendent of the Inland Telephone Co. was here Monday interviewing our people on the proposition of building a line into Condon. He found the people here anxious to see the line built and received substantial encouragement in the way of subscriptions. The amounts subscribed are payable on the completion of the line and will be repaid in service, coupon books being issued for the amount paid. The offer is a reasonable one and we hope to see the line built.

Arthur Bere, a 16-year-old boy whose home is on Butte creek, Wheeler county was brought to town last Friday by Frank Palmer, of Ferry Canyon, on the charge of attempted assault on Mr. Palmer's little girl. On account of the boy's youth Mr. Palmer decided not to prosecute him but he was given a talking to by Sheriff Wilcox and others that he will probably not forget for many a long day. Should another escapade be reported from him, however, he should be made to suffer the full penalty of the law.

Rev. Edward Curran, who was at one time pastor of the Congregational church at this place but more recently of Crockett, California, has accepted a call from the First Congregational church of Astoria. A late issue of the Oregonian has a good picture of the reverend gentleman and speaks of him as a "strong and earnest speaker, with an excellent command of language and a pleasing personality that gains him many friends." Mr. Curran chose a Gilliam county girl for his companion his wife being a daughter of Mrs. E. Meek of Ferry Canyon.

Father Conradi was in Walla Walla Saturday. He is now a student of medicine, having taken up this course of study in order to prepare himself to take charge of the leper colony near Canton, Ohio. After completing his study of medicine, Father Conradi intends to visit the leper settlement in Norway to better fit himself for his self-imposed task as a missionary and friend of the unfortunate creatures who to the number of several thousand are segregated in a colony on the outskirts of Canton, East Oregonian.

LONE ROCK.

The grass is very short on the outside ranges yet but most of the stock have been turned out of the pastures. All of our people, who were attending court, got home by the middle of the week, apparently duly sober and well pleased that court lasted but two days.

The weather has been very changeable the past week, some of the time being very warm and pleasant and at other times cold and disagreeable with a heavy rain Saturday.

This is a busy time of the year for this locality and the spring being so late the farmers are considerably behind with their work. Sheep men are busy rustling young lambs while the farmer's wives keep the old hens squalling and the air full of dust over the gardens.

A cattle buyer was through here a few days ago and bought some steers from E. G. Robinson. He will be here about the 2nd of May to receive them. The prices offered are some lower than they were last year and it is likely that quite a number of the cattle men will hold their stock for a price equal to that of last year.

There was a horse buyer in this locality a short time since wanting to buy good heavy work horses and a few good driving horses and was willing to pay good prices. The country is full of horses that consume much valuable feed every year but as a general thing they are scrabs and the kind that no one wants. Good horses are good property now.

She had been troubled all winter with a severe cough but no alarm was felt as she never uttered a word of complaint. On Monday she became suddenly worse and a physician was summoned on Tuesday but without avail, and on Saturday she passed peacefully away. She was laid to rest on Sunday, Rev. Harburt conducting the service at the church and the Woodman Circle officiating at the grave. The bereaved family has the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community.
