Of the Making of Books. Some 4,886 books were published in the United States last year. The usual edition of any book published is 1,000 copies, and the general average may reach 2,000. Thus more than 10,000,000 volumes were put on sale last year. During the past ten years the product has been about 100,000,000 volumes. There would be enough books to stock 10,000 libraries with 10,000 books each. It has been found, however, that the wood paper now used quickly yellows and crumbles, so that in 50 years many of the cheaper books will have turned into dust.—N. Y. World.

LEAVING THE COAST. Items of General Interest Gleaned From the Thriving Pacific States.

To Exclude Convict-Made Goods. The Manufacturers' and Producers' Association of San Francisco, Cal., has entered upon a vigorous campaign against convict-made goods being placed upon the free market. Circulars are being sent throughout the state, accompanied by a postal card, which is to be filled out and returned to the association by the receiver of the letter. By filling out this card an agreement is made to exclude from business establishments and homes all goods known to have been made by convict labor. Recent investigations made by the association disclosed the fact that among other things large quantities of stores made by convict labor in Oregon were being sold not only in San Francisco, but throughout the state of California, and it is principally against this trade that the circular letter is directed.

Sharp Advance in Oatmeal. Flour and feed merchants of Vancouver, B. C., last week announced an advance of 20 cents per barrel in all grades of oatmeal. Heavy orders will have to be filled from the north shortly, and American dealers have been asking for quotations from British Columbia merchants with a view to having the orders filled in Vancouver. The supply of oats held on the coast is not large, and higher prices followed the inquiries from Seattle and Pacific coast points. As many tons will be required in the north before the new crop is ready, another advance in both oats and oatmeal is looked for. No attempt has been made to corner the market.

Mill Will Not Close Down. D. A. Merriman, president and general manager of the mill at Everett, Wash., received word from the headquarters of the American Steel Wire Company, in Chicago, that 2,500 tons of wire rods were about to be shipped to Everett for the mill at that point. This mill has been running night and day for the past two weeks, and there is not enough wire rods on hand to keep it running more than a month longer, so it was feared that the mill would have to shut down, but this shipment of rods, however, will be sufficient to keep the mill running continuously for at least three months.

Southeastern Oregon Wool. The wool market has opened up in Red Bluff, and the prevailing prices range from 6 1/2 to 7 cents for fall clips, and 11 to 12 cents for the spring clip, only a small quantity selling at the top price. It is expected that by the end of the week the whole spring clip of Tehama county will be in. It is evident that the Lake county market will not be as lively as that of the spring of '98, owing to the fact that there still remains so much unsold wool. Figures gathered from the various wool centers of Oregon give a total of 6,000,000 pounds remaining unsold from the clip of 1898.

Cold Storage Plant. Oloott Payne, the Northwest agent of the Frick Ice Machine Company, of Wayneboro, Pa., is at present in Lewiston, Idaho, preparing plans and specifications for the cold storage plant to be established at Vineland by the Lewiston Ice & Cold Storage Company. The company will put in an ice machine plant having a capacity of ten tons, with a cold storage warehouse attached, and provided with ample facilities for handling the fruit crop along the rivers and other cold storage business. The plant will be installed and ready for business early in July.

Electric Lights for Republic. The San Poi Mining & Water Company has secured a franchise and right of way from the commissioners of Ferry county to string wires, set poles and introduce electric lights throughout the town and suburbs of Republic. The company is composed of Spokane men and a few Republic men. The works are to be placed at or near San Poi lake. Contracts are being made with private people for placing lights in their buildings and places of business. The capacity will be 1,200 16 candle-power, and must be in operation by August 1, 1899.

Big Orders Placed. The Pacific American Fisheries Company, of New Whatcom, has placed an order for 7,200,000 cans with the Pacific Sheet Metal Works. They will also soon be manufacturing 60,000 per day at the Franco-American cannery, and 50,000 per day at the Friday Harbor plant. One hundred and fifty thousand boxes will be manufactured by the Puget Sound Sawmill & Shingle Company, and Morrison Bros., of Ferndale, will make 50,000 for the fish company.

To Bond the City. The city council of Edmunds, Wash., has introduced an ordinance for the issuance of $6,200 coupon bonds to raise money to construct a system of waterworks. The bonds are to be issued in denominations of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000, and made payable in not more than 30 years from date. They are to bear interest at a rate not to exceed 6 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually.

New Bottling Works. L. L. Daus will establish a branch of the famous Daus bottling works, of Boise, Idaho, at Weiser, and will open at that point in the manufacture of all kinds of carbonated drinks. He has with him a complete soda plant and bottling outfit, and will be prepared to do a large wholesale business. It is thought that this branch establishment will soon exceed the mother establishment, owing to the ideal location at Weiser.

The Star Cheese factory at Brownsville, Or., manufactured 3,000 pounds of cheese during the month of April, and is out some good sums to a number of farmers. M. Weber and W. T. Johnson cleared an average of $6.20 per head for their cows, which shows the paying advantages of a first-class cheese factory. Many farmers are furnishing milk regularly to the factory and are realizing good profits.

LEASTING IN the original

An election was recently held at Red Lodge, Mont., at which a proposition carried to bond the city in the sum of $25,000 for the purpose of constructing water works in that city. Another proposition to bond that district for $10,000 for the purpose of erecting a brick high school building will soon be submitted to the qualified voters of Red Lodge. These latter bonds are to be redeemable in 10 years, and payable in 20 years, and are to bear interest at a rate of 5 per cent.

Yakima Hops. There is a full acreage of hops in this vicinity this year. The Yakima hop crop will probably amount to 18,000 or 20,000 bales. About 4,000 have been contracted for the season. Arthur Poole made contracts at 11 cents last week as follows: Captain Dunn, 80 bales; Frank Marble, 70 bales; E. S. Hill, 150 bales; A. W. Morrison, 50 bales; George Siverly, 30 bales. He reports negotiations progressing favorably for several hundred bales more.

New Mining Company. Articles of incorporation have been filed by the Empire Mining Company, with a capital stock of $1,500,000, divided into 1,500,000 shares of the par value of $1 each. The company proposes to operate placer gold mines and leases of gold-bearing ore in Baker and Grant counties. The principal office of the company will be situated at Baker City, with a branch office in Montreal, Canada.

Bank Incorporated. The Kendrick State bank, of Kendrick, Idaho, filed articles of incorporation with a capital stock of $25,000. The directors are M. C. Normyle, D. C. McCrea, Math Jacobs, A. W. Gordon and F. N. Gilbert.

Consolidation of Street Railways.

The Anonymous Letter.

66 BY Jove! What a beauty! Who is this, old man? The speaker stood in an admiring attitude before the picture of a young girl, while the one questioned answered briefly: "My sister."

"O, I say, Paul, that won't do. We don't put our sisters' pictures in frames like that."

"Don't you? Well, I do, O, hang it, Burt, don't you see that I'm busy. I can't work while your tongue is wagging. Get out of here now, and if you won't show your face here again to-day you shall spend the month of July with me at my home, and then you shall judge for yourself whether that frame is too good for my sister's picture," and Paul Reynolds gave his chin a good-natured push toward the door.

"Get out of this, you rattlehead!" And, having him outside, Paul shut the door in his face, and heard him go downstairs at a breakneck pace which brought the good old landlady to the door in alarm, expecting to find somebody at the bottom with a broken neck. "Sakes alive! That Mr. Smith again!"

Burton's walk home had a tendency to quiet his hilarity, but that face was still before him, and after sitting in deep thought for an hour he sprang up with alacrity. "I'll do it, by Jove! She can't feel deeply offended, anyway, and I'll sign only a part of my name. Better for the future's sake to be on the safe side. There, that'll do, I think."

Belle Reynolds stood with an open letter in her hand, and her eyes flashed angrily as she spoke her thoughts aloud. "Soft-headed idiot! Heard of me through a friend, indeed! This stranger—"

"Mr. Charles Burt—Your most extraordinary letter savors strongly of the Wedding Bells class, but you forget to state whether your motive was for pleasure, pastime, or with a view to matrimony. Whatever your object may be, permit me to say that you are guilty of gross impertinence. My friend, Matilda Brindle, would call you 'sassy.'"

"Are you aware, sir, of the risk you incur by asking to correspond with a spinster of the tender age of 37? Let me enlighten you. I will honestly describe the picture which my mirror reflects, and then, perhaps, you will congratulate yourself on having found a person so frank as myself. My reddish-yellow hair, already thin on top, hangs in ringlets about my full-sized ears, my fringed nose is elevated by nature to a high degree, my teeth are conspicuous by the absence of not a few, and my greenish-gray eyes would be my one redeeming feature if I were not cross-eyed. I am tall and commanding—most emphatically commanding. My joints are too large to allow my wearing rings, so don't send any. I am a strong-minded woman, sir, so think well before you further commit yourself."

When Burton Smith received this mocking epistle he dove both hands into his trousers pockets and stood gazing at his feet with a most dejected air. No acrobatic performances now, O, no. No occasion for them. But as the humor of the whole affair struck him, he threw back his head and laughed—be roared. "The little mix! Serves me right, though. But how foolish she could make a fellow feel. Smith, you're an ass!"

The June days passed, the eagerly anticipated vacation drew near, and at last Paul Reynolds and Burton Smith found themselves in the quiet old town of Castone, where they were happily welcomed.

At first Burton rather stood in awe of beautiful Belle Reynolds. Her lovely face and graceful figure won universal admiration, and her sweet disposition endeared her to all. Burton Smith proved to be no exception. Their mutual love for all kinds of outdoor sports threw them together constantly, and they became firm friends. Then as the time for his departure drew near he began to realize that in leaving Belle Reynolds behind he was leaving all that had made life so bright for him during the last few weeks. Yet he felt that there was no reason why he, a comparative stranger, should claim more than the friendship accorded him.

He would undoubtedly have gone back to business with his love untold had he not unexpectedly come upon Belle in the little vine-covered summer-house one morning with a wee-gone expression and traces of tears upon her fair face. She hastily explained that she had been indulging in a fit of loneliness at the thought of her brother's return, but the look and blush which accompanied her words gave him new courage, and, talking both her hands in his, he asked:

"May I hope, Belle, that you will miss me a little, too, when I am gone? Forgive me for speaking so soon, but you have become dear to me, and I am convinced enough to believe that you like me. Tell me, darling, that you can, in time, care for me, and I will try to be worthy of your dear love."

Thought He Had Her.

At a military banquet an officer thought he fancied a certain article exposed for sale at the stalls, and he was certain he fancied the lady who presided at the stall. He remarked, therefore, that he thought that particular article very pretty. The lady said: "Yes, it is very pretty. My mother sent it." "Ah, really," pursued the officer, determined to discover the name of the owner of the eyes that had bewitched him—"really, let me see—I think I have met your mother. Her name is—"

"The queen of England," answered the lady. The officer did not wait for the fancied article.—Spare Moments.

She says: "Only those who have suffered with sleeplessness from over-work in the school-room, such as I have, can know what a blessing it is to be able to find relief by spending a couple of dollars for some Pe-ru-na. This has been my experience. A friend in need is a friend indeed, and every bottle of Pe-ru-na I ever bought proved a good friend to me."—Susan Wymar.
