Geo. Smith of Arlington, who is making a tour of Gilliam county and vicinity, investigating the crops, was in the city Friday, and reports crops to be in fine condition.

Rev. E. Curan, pastor of the Congregational church of Astoria, and wife arrived in this city last week, and expect to spend several weeks visiting friends in Condon and vicinity.

Ira Carter of Mayville, came to Condon Sunday with two loads of lumber for the Baptist church. As Ira is a roasting young bachelor, it is probable he is donating the hauling of the lumber.

Hon. Frank Davey and wife of Salem, passed through the city Sunday on their way to Fossil. Mr. Davey is one of Oregon's foremost orators and delivered the Fourth of July oration in that city.

C. T. Pinkham and wife left here Saturday for Fossil with their youngest child, which is in a very critical condition, placing it under the medical care of Mrs. Dr. M. Shaw of that city.

Geo. and Josh Hardie, two of Gilliam County's successful stock raisers, returned from The Dalles, Thursday, where they had recently sold their clip of wool, receiving 11 1/2 cents per pound.

Some of the eastern cities are passing ordinances that no "Flannel mouth" preachers shall preach in their cities. It would not be a bad idea if some of the western cities would adopt the same plan.

The clerk issued three Marriage licenses last month, to the following parties: Wilber E. Carl and Ada W. Hardie; Charles F. Wallace and Cora M. Clark; Charles Oberreither and Jennie C. Grubb.

Condon will be amply supplied with water hereafter, as the machinery for the new power for the City Water Works arrived here Sunday and was placed in working order Monday. This power is to be used in any case of emergency.

Fossil witnessed a "red hot" ball game Tuesday, between Mayville and Fossil teams, playing for a purse of $25. Score 10 to 6, in favor of Mayville. This is four times in succession that Fossil team has been beaten, when will they "get wise?"

G. G. Farmer recently purchased a band of sheep, consisting of 2000 ewes and lambs, of a Grant county stock raiser, the purchasing price being, ewes $2 per head and lambs $1.35 per head. Mr. Farmer expects to winter his sheep in Gilliam county.

J. H. Bowen of Fossil, passed through Condon Sunday on his way home from Portland where he had recently sold a band of horses, says the horse market in the Valley is over run, sold his horses at very low figures, selling some for less than he paid for them here, and bringing five head back with him, could not sell at any price.

The Summer School of Music under the direction of Prof. LeRoy Gesner, is progressing rapidly, and many are taking advantage of the rare opportunity of attending. Those who are interested in any branch of music whatever, should join the Harmony class, as it will teach you what music is and how it is composed.

The telephone line which is to run from Arlington to Fossil via Condon, is at last commenced. The workmen passing through Condon last Friday, surveying and making arrangements for the line and the work of setting poles and attaching wires will soon be under full headway. The company think they will have the line completed within six weeks.

County Superintendent Daggett is in the city this week to attend the first meeting of the District Boundary board, created by an act of the Legislature. The Boundary board consists of the County Court and County Superintendent. All changes by petition for the change of the boundaries or the formation of new districts are decided by the board. County Judge, chairman, County Superintendent, secretary.

Condon is a very healthfully situated little city, and is growing rapidly, but there is room for improvement; if the city authorities would take proper steps in the matter, could make the same at a very small expense; for instance, wouldn't a park be highly appreciated? Although there is not a healthier city in the state, the board of health could find two or three days work, which would add greatly to the comfort of the community.

F. M. Plyer, one of the Gilliam County Commissioners, who took a car load of horses to Portland about three weeks ago, sold them at very low prices, left Portland for California Friday. Looks kind of suspicious as he recently purchased the Blake property in Condon and it is not stylish to live in the city and "keep batch" should not wonder he brings some California organics and dimity back with him. "Get your cowbells and tin cans in tune boys."

A large number of Two Wheel Side Hill Machines, built by the Houser-Haines Mfg. Co. of Stockton Cal. are now in operation in the California fields and are giving excellent satisfaction. Oregon and Washington farmers should make it a point to purchase this machine as it is especially adapted for this territory. See sample machines at Walla Walla and other points.

A man by the name of Dickerman, who is herding sheep for D. Henry in the Blue Mountains, near Buck Horn, met with a very painful accident last Friday, which may prove the loss of one of his arms. The dogs treed a wild cat and Mr. Dickerson thinking he would like some "cat meat," went to the house for his shot gun, and in attempting to draw it from under the bed was accidentally discharged, the load entering his left arm above the elbow.

The Leonard Bros. Circus pitched their tents here Wednesday and proved to be the largest and best circus that has ever been in the city. Their fifty performers being all first class and carried their many parts through without an error. Their juggler performed a number of wonderful and difficult feats and is worthy of great credit. The clowns keeping the crowd in a general uproar by the latest jokes and many tricks. The show was followed by a very interesting concert.

May-Donaldson.

Harry May and Miss Grace E. Donaldson were united in marriage at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Harrison, near Thirty Mile, Sunday, July 1st 1899, at 11 a. m., Justice Neal of this city officiating. The marriage took place in a grove near the house under a beautifully decorated canopy. There were about seventy five relatives and friends present. After the ceremony and congratulations tendered, a very tasty wedding dinner was served. The bride received a number of pretty and costly presents. The happy couple will make their home with the bride's step-father Mr. John Harrison, for the present.

Fourth of July at Condon.

The morning dawned with prospects of what proved to be a very beautiful day and the "Old American Eagle" commenced to flap her immense wings bright and early, keeping up a continuous scream until late in the night. The people came rolling in from every direction and soon the streets were filled with people who were ready to help "paint the town red." Never before has Condon witnessed such a grand celebration.

EVENTS OF THE DAY.

The usual salute being fired at sunrise, started the ball rolling for the day. The grand parade at 10 a. m. was a picture of beauty and especially the Liberty Car which would remind one of a large cluster of roses. Exercises at the Grounds, 11 a. m., was opened by Hon. H. N. Frazer, who made a short but enthusiastic address, ending with a hearty welcome to everyone. Hon. Jay Bowerman reading the Declaration of Independence, which brought to memory history that shall never be forgotten. Hon. Sam E. VanVactor delivered a very patriotic oration that touched the heart of nearly everyone. An excellent program was rendered, being highly appreciated by all. Music was furnished by the Condon Cornet Band.

The Horniquibiniqui parade was one that will long be remembered.

Battleship Olympia, built by P. H. Stephenson, was a good imitation and showing that it was well calculated.

The Fire-works, being witnessed by about 1500 people, were a great treat, thus putting the finishing touches to one of the grandest celebrations ever held in Gilliam County.

The Grand Ball in Armory Hall, was a success both socially and financially, eighty-seven numbers being sold.

The Condon Band proved itself an important factor to the enjoyment of the spectators, the manner in which the boys handled their music, goes to show that they have been under good training.

The ladies foot race was called off, claimed they could not run. Just let one get in the kitchen with a broom stick and it would take a pretty good sprinter to keep out of reach.

Frank Clark one of the "scorchers" in the bike race took a flying leap from his wheel, saw more stars and stripes than any body.

"Windy" won two races the Fourth had the other sprinters had the same encouragement as he, it is doubtful as to what would have been the out come.

LONE ROCK.

Too much dry weather is becoming tiresome, and the farmers are feeling quite anxious about the welfare of their spring crops.

Rev. Goodwin of the Latterday saint's and Rev. Fredenberg of the Baptist's have been locking horns in a heated debate for six rounds of two hours each evening, both of them was trying to prove that their church was the only true church of Jesus Christ, and as usual of course they both came out winner, excepting the second night when they both got fired out of the Baptist church because one of them disputed the Bible, after that they held their meetings in the school house and a large crowd was present every night and they wound up Monday night.

Some celebrated the Fourth with a picnic, and others enjoyed themselves in the sporting line, while several went to other towns to spend the day and no doubt every one had a whooping up time.

Bill Matlock, "the cow rustler" has been investing in a few head of high priced cattle lately. Bill knows good cattle when he sees them.

Obituary.

LONE ROCK, Ore., June 29, 1899.—On the evening of June 25th, Mr. and Mrs. Wells of California, with a sick sister, Mrs. Minnie Vandervert a widowed mother of two little children, whom they found at Antelope, and being out of reach of doctors; stopped at this place on their way to Walla Walla, where they expected to place her under medical treatment.

Mrs. Vandervert, passed away on the morning of June 26, being in the 27th year of her age, at the residence of Eld. I. D. Brown, leaving the two loved ones to mourn her loss. The funeral was held June 28, Eld. I. D. Brown preaching the funeral service.

Although among strangers, the people did all that was within their power to comfort and cheer the bereaved ones. All of the expenses were paid by the citizens of Lone Rock. Mrs. Vandervert has been a resident of Antelope for the past seven years and leaves many friends in that vicinity who will mourn her death.

Lost and Found.

There was a tumult of excitement in and about Condon last Saturday, when Mrs. K. L. Scoggin and P. E. McQuinn from near Fossil came into town and reported that J. L. Scoggin, who lives with his son on Butte Creek, had been seen on the road to Condon on horse back. Owing to Mr. Scoggin's condition for the past twelve years, being feeble in body and mind, it was feared that he might perish for want of food and care in his feeble condition.

Last Thursday Mr. Scoggin in company with Mr. McQuinn went to help a neighbor, A. C. Henderson, start a bunch of horses which he was going to try to find a market for, and as they were going in the direction where some of Scoggin's work horses ranged, he, Scoggin expected to bring their work horses in on his return home. While in the timber on Thirty Mile, Scoggin became separated from the rest of the crowd, and found his way to Mr. Kelsey's place below Fossil, instead of home. Next morning Scoggin started out still looking for the horses, thinking they had left the range or got in with some other horses, followed the main road from Fossil, to about three miles north of Condon, being very feeble let his imagination get away with his better judgment.

While several persons were out looking for Mr. Scoggin, H. C. Strickland of Hay Creek, hearing of him being near his place, found the old gentleman and brought him to his house, where he received proper care, bringing him to Condon next day, where his folks were awaiting his arrival, accompanying him to his home Saturday evening.

The report that Mr. Scoggin was an unsafe person to be at large, is without foundation. As he is an old feeble man who does not bother any person in the least, and has relatives and friends who will care for him.

Land Settlers Notice.

I have received quite a number of Land Office Receipts for persons having made application or proof before me. All such persons who have not received returns for their filings or proofs, will probably find them by calling at my office. H. N. FRAZER.

In the Wrong County.

Experience of a neighboring county man who tried to obtain a marriage license in Gilliam county. Riding in to Condon one bright spring morning, the sun just commencing to peep over the eastern horizon and the birds in the forests of sage brush and bunch grass were cheerfully singing their morning songs, came a lone horseman, he seemed to be very desolate, yet in his own mind was the happiest man in the world.

Hitching his horse to a post, he endeavored to pass the time by polishing his boots until the Clerk's office was opened; after which he immediately entered the office; the Clerk being very busy, and thinking that he might be a friend of the transcribers and had come in for a visit, did not give him much notice, seating himself in a corner remained there until noon, he then departed and placing his horse in charge of the livery man, he went to the hotel to obtain his dinner, but little did he eat, after which he again returned to the Clerk's office.

About the middle of the afternoon, the Clerk thinking that he might be one of those timid sort of fellows, kind of hinted around as to what his mission was, then the fun commenced, he began to stammer and sputter and finally was able to make the Clerk understand what he wanted.

He was then informed that he could not possibly get a license in this county, and a more disappointed man was never in existence, with but very few words he took his departure and retracing his steps, was soon journeying towards the county seat of his home county. Arriving at the Clerk's office, he was not in the least backward in making his mission known. Upon obtaining the desired document, declared that the experience had given him enough nerve to go through the rest of the ceremony very easily and without an error.
