

NEW REGISTRATION LAW.

The new registration law, passed at the last session of the Oregon Legislature, went into effect on Monday and from that date until May 15, 1900, at 5 o'clock p. m. of that day, voters may register before the county clerk or any justice of the peace or notary public in the county without cost to the elector.

Section 5. It shall be the duty of every elector in the state of Oregon between the first Monday in January, 1900, and 5 o'clock p. m. of the 15th day of May, 1900, and between the same dates and hours, biennially thereafter to register with some notary public or justice of the peace or with the county clerk of the county in which the elector resides, in accordance with this act.

Sec. 7. Every elector may be registered without charge by personally appearing in the office of said clerk and, after being duly sworn, stating the following facts, which the clerk or his deputy shall appropriately enter in black ink, at first in the general county register. The electors shall be numbered consecutively, 1, 2, 3 etc. in each precinct as they are registered, in the general county register. The clerk shall inquire of the elector, and enter the following information in the general county register in the division set off for the precinct in which the elector resides, to wit: 1st the registration number of the elector; 2nd the date of registering the elector; 3rd the full name of the elector; 4th. leave a blank space in which the judges of election shall enter in the precinct register the poll book number of each elector when he has voted; 5th. the business or occupation of the elector; 6th. the age of the elector in years; 7th. the country of nativity; 8th. if naturalized, the time, place and court of naturalization or declaration, as evidenced by the legal proof thereof, exhibited by the elector; 9th. the actual and precise place of residence of the elector at the time of his registering, stating first the precinct, and, if in the country, the section, township and range; and in cities and towns having streets, by specifying the name of the town or city, the street or other location of or dwelling place of elector, with the number of such dwelling if the same has a number, —if not, then with such description of the place that it can readily be ascertained and identified. If the elector be not the head or proprietor of the house, then it must show that fact, and upon what floor thereof, and what room such elector occupies in such house; (10) the fact whether or not the elector desiring to be registered is able to write his name, mark his ballot, and if he cannot do both then the nature of such disability must be entered; (11) the elector shall then, next following the aforeadministered oath, sign his name in the presence of the clerk or the deputy acting in the general register upon the same line where the preceding information is written, and the registering officer shall then sign his own name upon the said line, and add any remark required by this act or appropriate thereto for the information of the judges of election. If the elector is registered by the clerk in person, he shall so sign his own name in attestation thereof, and if the elector is registered by a deputy, then, in addition to the name of the clerk, the particular deputy actually registering the elector shall sign his name at length in attestation thereof. If the elector declares he is unable to mark his ballot or sign his name, he shall state why and the clerk shall enter upon the register the reasons. If the elector's inability is apparent, in consequence of some physical infirmity, such as blindness or loss of limb, incapacitating the elector from writing, he shall so state the fact; but if the disability is stated to be the illiteracy of the elector, the clerk shall, in addition to stating that fact, enter as full a description of the physical peculiarities of the elector as possible giving his height, approximate weight, complexion, color of eyes and any visible marks or scars and their location, and attest the same.

Sec. 9. Every elector may be registered by personally appearing at the clerk's office and complying with the provisions of sections 7 and 8 of this act; but, if said elector is unable for any reason to conveniently register as aforesaid, he may register, without charge, before a notary public or a justice of the peace in the county in which he resides by using one of the blanks designated as blank "A" in section 3 of this act, and filling out the blank in such a way as to afford all the information which he ought otherwise to give to the clerk under section 7 of this act, and in addition thereto signing the same three times in the presence of two witnesses, freeholders of the county, who shall sign their names upon the same blank, and by the elector and witnesses making oath thereto as specified in said blank "A" which shall be duly certified by the notary public or justice of the peace and forthwith filed with the county clerk of the county in which the elector resides. The county clerk shall supply such registration officers, upon request with a sufficient number of said blanks "A" and "B" free of charge. Each justice of the peace and notary public who so registers electors shall at the time he registers them enter the names arranged alphabetically, according to surname and date of registration and the precinct, in a record book kept by him for that purpose. He shall not charge the elector anything, but shall be entitled to receive from the county the sum of 10 cents for each elector so registered by him whose affidavit has been duly filed with the county clerk and who has voted in the precinct where he registered at the next ensuing election. After each general election, the county commissioners shall audit such bills and order payment to be made in accordance herewith.

Sec. 11. Every elector, upon changing his residence after registering, may, within the time for registering, cause his former registration to be cancelled, by a request in writing to the clerk where he is registered imparting the information called for in blank "B" in section 3 of this act, signing his name to it in the presence of two freeholders, who shall sign their names, stating their places of residence; and by the said elector and witnesses swearing to the truthfulness of the statement before some one authorized to administer oaths, and by filing the same duly certified with the clerk where he was registered.

ONE SIDED PROSPERITY.

Mr. H. W. Stone, of the Portland Y. M. C. A., in a recent interview in the Telegram, is credited with the following statement:

"There are more idle young men in Portland than there have been at any time within the past four years. There are now more than 100 young fellows whom we are hunting jobs for. These fellows are not hobos or men who are incompetent, but are nearly all reliable, energetic young men whom we can recommend fully. There has been no time before since I have been in Portland when we had a young fellow on the list that we could recommend unconditionally that we couldn't find him a place. We now have many that are all right in every respect for whom we have been seeking employment for several days without success. In order to see if the same conditions existed throughout the city, we have made inquiries at the regular employment agencies, and find that they all have more young men than they can handle."

If such a condition exists in Portland, it is but fair to presume that like conditions exist in other large cities of this country. It would not be fair to Portland and the Pacific Northwest to presume otherwise as it is generally conceded that times are better here than in the more densely populated sections of the East. From all over the country, including Portland, comes tidings of renewed industrial and commercial activity but such a statement as the foregoing coming with it furnishes a perplexing problem for the student of social and economic questions to solve.

The somewhat anomalous conditions now existing seem to be as follows: More goods of all classes being manufactured, greater trade in all branches, larger transportation business, more men in the army to be fed, clothed and provided with the munitions of war, than for years past, and more reliable, energetic young men who can be fully recommended by such an organization as the Young Men's Christian Association who are out of work and who can not find a job even with the aid of the rational employment agent of that powerful society. What causes such conditions? That is a question which every citizen should ask himself, ponder over, and investigate until he arrives at a satisfactory conclusion and then he should set about to remove that cause for no one will claim that such conditions are desirable. In such a country as this every man who wants work should be able to find it, but so long as the business of the country is controlled by trusts and combinations, who by systemization and centralization, crush competition and reduce the cost of production to the minimum there will be less labor required to produce the necessary commodities to meet the demands of consumption and consequently there will be more energetic, reliable young men find themselves in the position of the 100 or more who are now seeking work in Portland through the medium of the Y. M. C. A. This prosperity we hear so much about is no myth. It is a reality but a one-sided reality. The big combines can produce more goods at less cost than ever before but instead of giving the laborer and consumer a share of this saving in better wages and lower prices they have increased the price to consumers from 25 to 100 per cent. This is a knotty problem for the American people to solve and before the solution is found it will be necessary for them to do some thinking, studying and investigating on their own account. They must quit taking some "party leader's" word for every thing.
