SALARIES OF DEPUTIES.

It may be interesting at this time when the allowance of deputy hire is being so much discussed, to give a brief resume of the matter since the salary law went into effect in 1894. Prior to that year county officials were paid certain prescribed fees for all work done either for the county or for individuals, these fees constituting the salaries of these several offices. During the last 12 months under the fee system the county paid in fees to the county clerk for work done in his office for the county the sum of $1750. The salary law abolished the fee system, so far as work done for the county is concerned, and fixed the salary of the clerk in Gilliam county at $1500. Under the new law, however, the fee system was continued, so far as work done for individuals is concerned, but all such fees collected by the clerk must be turned into the general fund of the county. The salary is $1500, no more and no less. The law further provides however that when a deputy is appointed and in the judgment of the court, his services or any part thereof should be paid by the county, that the court shall make an order to that effect, thus leaving the matter entirely to the discretion of the county court. If the court believes the work of the office sufficient to require the services of a deputy it is authorized, under the law, to provide for his payment. In 1894, the court allowed the sum of $900 for deputy hire in the clerk's office but in 1895 the people, through their representatives in the county convention, passed a resolution against the allowance of deputy pay. The court complied with that request and for the two years following no deputy pay was allowed although the refusal was against the judgment of a part of the court. In 1898 the convention changed its views on the matter and authorized the court to allow such sums for deputy hire as the court thought proper. The court again complied and the sum of $600 was allowed to the clerk's office in addition to the regular salary of $1500 and the sum of $500 to the sheriff's office in addition to the regular salary of $2000. This last order brought the total compensation of the clerk's office up to $2100. During the year ending October 1, 1899, the clerk turned over to the county the sum of $1233, being fees collected by the clerk for work done for individuals. Subtract this amount from $2100, the total compensation received by the clerk and his deputy, and we have remaining $867, the amount that office cost the county for that year. Since 1894 the work of the clerk's office has been materially increased. The new mode of figuring taxes, whereby the clerk is obliged to compute all rates and amounts for each school district and incorporated town, in addition to the regular county levy, makes a large amount of new work. The coyote bounty law makes considerable extra work and the new registration law makes it the duty of the clerk to keep a general county register as well as a separate register for each precinct of all voters in the county. The details of registration require a great deal of time and care and adds much new work to the duties of the office. Thus it will be seen that the clerk is now doing more work for the county at a cost to the county of $850 than was done under the old fee system at a cost of $1750.

These facts and figures are taken from the county records and are given with a view to showing, as nearly as may be, the true situation in the office referred to. We are of the opinion that many of the people who are opposed to the allowance of deputy hire have overlooked many of these facts and that if they were understood that the services of deputy are really needed they will agree that the county should allow him a reasonable compensation.

LEASING PUBLIC LANDS.

The bill introduced in the senate, by Senator Foster, of Washington, providing for the leasing of public lands, is arousing intense antagonism all through the interior of this state and Washington. The bill, if it becomes a law, will certainly tend to check the development of the West as all lands leased are withdrawn from settlement during the life of the lease, which is limited to ten years, but the bill provides that leases may be renewed for one or more terms upon the approval of the secretary of agriculture.

At a mass meeting of the citizens of Crook county, held at Prineville, January 13, the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, There is now pending before Congress a measure having in view the leasing to private individuals and local corporations all the public lands in the United States, lying west of the 99th meridian, and

Whereas, Said bill withdraws from settlement and threatens seriously to check the future development of the west; and

Whereas, Such a measure would have an undoubted tendency to concentrate the control of large tracts of what is now public domain in the hands of a few individuals; and

Whereas, the tendency of the measure now pending is to give an undue power in the distribution of such lands into the hands of one individual, viz: the secretary of agriculture; and

Whereas, the said measure is in direct conflict and opposition to the American system of providing for homes for its citizens; and

Whereas, the said measure is a menace to the welfare of the inhabitants of the territory thereby effected and is fraught with disaster to the agrarian population of such territory, therefore be it

Resolved, that we earnestly protest against the enactment into law of the pending measure as directly contrary to the interests and development of the west, and directly contrary to the American policy of home-building and permanence throughout our land and be it

Resolved, that this meeting of citizens take such action as will procure the dissemination of this protest throughout the territory affected and earnestly request the immediate co-operation of its inhabitants, and be it further

Resolved, that Oregon's delegation in Congress be and they are hereby instructed to vote and work at any and all times against the proposed bill for leasing public lands and against any other form thereof.

The bill appears to be drawn in the interests of rich individuals and big corporations and against the interests of the bona fide homeseeker and small stockman and for this reason we believe the best efforts of our people should be put forth against it.

The bill practically places the destinies of this big broad western section of the United States in the hands of the secretary of agriculture and makes it possible for him to stop further settlement or development of the west. On the face of it it looks like a good bill to kill, and remonstrances against its passage, addressed to our representatives in Congress, are now in order.
