THE CONDON GLOBE.

THURSDAY, MARCH 29, 1900.

THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF GILLIAM COUNTY, OREGON.

The coyote crank and the camera fiend are now abroad in the land and inoffensive citizens are in danger of being run over or photographed on every corner.

Between this time and Saturday night there will be no less than 16 candidates for county offices turned loose in Gilliam county. As there are only eight offices to be filled it is a two to one bet that, in the words of the darkey preacher, "Somebody's going ter git left."

Kalsomine artists should have a prosperous season in Washington, D. C., this spring. The Coeur 'd Alene investigation promises to need a liberal supply of "whitewash" before it is over with and it is not the only unsightly woodshed in the city either. There are others and their name is legion but the skill of the congressional white-washer is great.

As previously and repeatedly announced by Gen. Otis, and sundry other people in authority, the rebellion in the Philippines is suppressed and the war is over. Such being the case it is hard for the common herd in the United States to understand why the fighting don't stop. But then in this case as in the Porto Rican tariff matter it is to be supposed that the people do not understand the situation. It is their business to pay the bills and ask no questions.

ROCK CREEK.

Fruit trees are in full bloom.

Miss McKile, of Salem, will commence school on the Creek Monday with 16 scholars.

A fine daughter arrived at the home of W. W. Clark, March 3, 1900. Mother and child doing well, father able to be around.

Ed Farnsworth has moved his sheep to the mouth of Willow creek on the Columbia.

C. Schott is visiting in Portland this week.

D. F. Stricklin went to Arlington last week on a business trip.

Every body has been busy during the week putting in garden.

A fine ball was given at Olex the 17th and a very enjoyable time is reported.

Mrs. H. S. Moore has returned from The Dalles.
