The ladies' aid of the Congregational church will serve strawberries and ice cream in the Downing building, on Spring street, to-morrow afternoon and evening. All are welcome.

R. L. Gimlin and C. H. Bishop, with their families, arrived in Condon, Saturday, from McDonald county, Missouri. They expect to locate permanently in Oregon's banner county.

Rev. Gilliman Parker, assisted by others, will preach the dedication sermon at the Baptist church, Condon, 1st Sunday in June. Basket dinner will be served. Everybody invited.

John Padberg, a former resident of Condon, but now of near Heppner, Morrow county was here a day or two the first of the week. Mr. Padberg is preparing to move from Morrow county to Weston, Umatilla county.

James W. Welsh, of Astoria, was elected grand master of the I. O. O. F Grand Lodge at the grand lodge meeting in that city last week. Before adjournment of the grand lodge Grand Master Welsh made the following appointments: A. O. Condit, grand marshal; A. W. Storey, grand guardian; J. Skorb, grand herald; A. Le Roy, grand chaplain.

Work is being pushed forward on the Tenmile road in the Ferry Canyon district under the foremanship of Jim Kiser, road supervisor. While operating on the surface Wednesday Jim had the misfortune to hit his right foot with the pick which entered as far as the bone. Dr. Gullette dressed the wound and Jim is able to be around again though limping badly.

Several "buckaroos" had an exciting chase on Sunday morning in this city in an attempt to lasso a wild horse. The animal evaded and outran the whole bunch of riders and as a final resource they had to run it into the corral along with a few head of horses when they were enabled to throw and brand the vicious animal. A large crowd witnessed the chase.

No word of celebrating the Fourth of July this year yet. Is Condon to be behind the times and let the eventful day pass without even a joyful shout? Don't let the matter drop here, readers. Get up and be doing while there is time and let us have a Fourth which will be a credit to the city and its citizens. The GLOBE will throw its columns open for suggestions and aid all in its power to forward the movement.

A lively controversy has started in Portland on the printing of the Multnomah county ballots. The work has been let out to Glass & Prudhomme—the firm who have done a deal of official printing for this county, and whose prices have time and again been cut down by the county judge. Five other Portland firms put in offers but were too late and Clerk Holmes holds that Glass & Prudhomme give satisfactory work and do the job for the figures estimated by the other firms, namely: $4.50 per 1000 for colored and $7.50 per 1000 for white ballots.

Leondor Bros.' circus will be here tomorrow (Friday) and from the high-class performances they gave last July a big crowd will again welcome them. A grand street parade will take place headed by the best brass band traveling. Show is twice the size of last year's and embraces many new and novel features. Commenting on Prof. Hunt's performing dogs the Oregonian of April 9th, 1900, says: "Prof. Hunt's kennel of dogs at the dog show are wonderful, and they act and do almost everything that could be done by dumb animals." Come and take in this great show.

A social dance will be given in Armory hall this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Robinson, of Lone Rock, were in town Sunday.

Miss Mamie Smith, of Matney Flat, has returned from The Dalles, where she is a student in the Sisters' Academy.

A good crowd was present at the horse sale last Saturday but as prices were hardly satisfactory the sale was declared off when about one-half the animals had been disposed of.

Chas. B. Frazer, son of J. R. Frazer, of near Lone Rock, died on Tuesday after a lingering illness. The funeral occurred yesterday at this place Rev. Swift conducting the services.

A band of cattle from the Mayville country stopped in town on Monday night, being en route to Arlington for shipment to Nebraska. They were bought by J. E. Reynolds of that state.

Sample ballot papers have been circulated in the various precincts. Voters will observe that the names of candidates come in order alphabetically, not in preference or to favor some candidates as many believe.

H. N. Fraser, county clerk, returned from Arlington, Friday, where he went to superintend the printing of the ballots. He brought them with him, had them placed in their separate boxes and placed in the hands of Sheriff Wilcox Saturday morning.

The town was infested with sheep in the end of last week and announced their arrival with those harmonious sounds peculiar to the woolly tribe. Cameron & Barker had two bands and the Jayne boys one. They were on their way to the summer range.

Cris Hirchbaum met with quite a serious accident a week ago Tuesday while working in H. S. Tobey's barn. Cris took a fifteen foot "header" and landed pretty heavily, which necessitated the attendance of medical aid. Mr. Hirchbaum has since gone to Portland and is almost well again.

The ladies of the Baptist church gave a very successful social entertainment in the Armory hall on Friday evening. A fairly large audience listened with pleasure to a good program of music and recitations sustained mostly by the children. The oyster soup served at the close was not the least enjoyable item of the evening.

Wedding Bells.

"Listen to the marriage bells,
How the merry music swells,
O'er summit and o'er grassy vale,
And echoes back from Appledale."

The people of Condon filled the Congregational church last Sunday to witness the marriage of Miss Lucy Belle Darling to Mr. Herman Pauling. The little church was decorated with flowers until it looked like a veritable garden of Eden the centerpiece being a lovely arch of roses, which was erected in front of the altar, the artistic handiwork of Mesdames S. B. Barker, M. O. Clarke, Jno. Reisacher, Miss Farman and others. Miss Henshaw, Condon's accomplished musician, presided at the piano and rendered the wedding march in a manner never excelled in Eastern Oregon. Precisely at noon the bridegroom entered the church, accompanied by Miss Stella Darling, a sister of the bride, and they, passing down the aisle, took a position beneath the arch of roses. A moment later the bride, leaning upon the arm of her father, and marching to the cadence of that sweetest music, passed slowly down the aisle and stood beneath the arch. Rev. F. D. Healy, in an earnest, impressive voice, pronounced the words which made two happy hearts forever throb as one. It was a pretty picture—four of them—the groom calm and quiet and manly, in love triumphant, plighting his troth; the bride, so full of hope and joy and gladness; the bride's sister, herself the very picture of goodwill, health and beauty; and the father, whose face wore a look of mingled pride and sorrow—pride in gaining a manly son and sorrow in losing a beautiful daughter. Long will those present remember that beautiful scene. The elegant simplicity of the toilettes of both bride and groom was remarked on by all the distinguished company and many were the heartfelt wishes expressed for the future happiness of the amiable bride and groom. After the ceremony the high contracting parties and many friends repaired to the residence of Mr. P. H. Stephenson, whose wife is a sister of the bride, where a collation was served and fruits and wedding cake were in evidence. Mr. and Mrs. Pauling were the recipients of many costly presents, useful as well as beautiful. Silverware, pictures and articles of household furniture were showered upon them in great profusion. Lack of space forbids us to attempt to give a list. The bride is an Eastern Oregon girl who has long lived in Condon and is a daughter of Attorney L. W. Darling, one of Condon's pioneer citizens. The bridegroom is a young man of exemplary habits and a registered pharmacist of Oregon. For many years he was in charge of the Wm. Pfunder pharmacy in Portland, Or., and is at present connected with the Condon Drug Co. at this place, where he has become a permane citizen. A host of friends will join the GLOBE in extending to the happy couple best wishes for their future welfare.

A Communication.

EDITOR GLOBE:

As a resident and taxpayer of Gilliam county it may perhaps not be amiss to call the attention of the voters to a few facts in relation to the candidacy of W. W. Stiewer, of Wheeler county, for joint senator from this district. I have been informed that Mr. Stiewer has stated that, in the event of his election, he will oppose any further division of Gilliam county. Now in view of the fact that Mr. Stiewer has made similar pledges in the past and later appeared to forget them I desire to ask the voters: Can we rely on such promises? Granting that Mr. Stiewer would, so far as outward appearance is concerned, oppose a measure cutting off that part of Gilliam county lying south of Thirtymile; knowing that he is allied, and owes his nomination to the Simon-Moody people, who will control the state legislature, can you afford to take the chances of electing one, who, should he so desire, could, by signifying the same to those people in the legislature, cause such a bill to be passed and still appear to be opposing the same? Taking into consideration the fact that Mr. Stiewer's interests are all centered in the town of Fossil and that the permanent retention of the county seat of Wheeler county at that place means the enhancement of the value of his property by thousands of dollars, and that the present vote on county seat in that county merely decides the matter for a period of two years, during which time the legislature will convene, at which session a bill could be passed giving the richest and most populous part of Gilliam county to Wheeler, and thus securing to the town of Fossil the permanent location of the county seat. With Mr. Stiewer's past record staring you in the face, I ask you, the voters of Gilliam county can you conscientiously take the chances? Can you deliberately vote away the best portion of your already small county? Would it not be best to vote to allow Mr. Stiewer to remain at home surrounded by the grease wood hills of Wheeler county? Vote to retain the limited amount of territory graciously accorded you by Mr. Steiwer and a few of his devoted satelites. Vote to retain your county seat in its present location and fo your own best interests astaxpayers.

GILLIAM COUNTY VOTER.

Plant Trees.

Had the early settlers in Condon believed that trees could be made to grow here the town could have been almost a paradise by this time. Nothing adds more to the appearance of a town than shade trees along the streets and around the houses, and now that it has been fully demonstrated that trees will live and thrive in this climate our people should lose no time in transforming Condon into one of the most beautiful spots in Eastern Oregon. It can be done if we will all take the trouble to plant a few trees along our street front and around our houses. Care should be taken in the selection of varieties as some trees are not suited to this climate while others may do well for a few years but are too short-lived to be profitable in any country. The horse chestnut is one of the most handsome shade trees and is highly recommended as a hardy, quick-growing tree for this climate. Mr. Henry Weber, of The Dalles nurseries is now here and we take pleasure in recommending him to the people as a gentleman who will do the square thing with tree purchasers. His nurseries are among the oldest and most reliable in the state and his trees are all selected on account of their particular fitness for this climate.

Beware of a Cough.

A cough is not a disease but a symptom. Consumption and bronchitis, which are the most dangerous and fatal diseases, have for their first indication a persistent cough, and if properly treated as soon as this cough appears are easily cured. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has proven wonderfully successful, and gained its wide reputation and extensive sale by its success in curing the diseases which cause coughing. It is is not beneficial it will not cost you a cent. For sale at The Hudson Pharmacy—C. W. Crosfield, mgr.

Miss Florence Newman, who has been a great sufferer from muscular rheumatism, says Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only remedy that affords her relief. Miss Newman is a much respected resident of the village of Gray, N.Y., and makes this statement for the benefit of others similarly afflicted. This liniment is for sale by The Hudson Pharmacy—C. W. Crosfield, mgr.
