J. H. Downing's grain is all threshed and ready for the market. He had 8000 bushels of No. 1 wheat.

Guy Beyd and Con Schott drove a bunch of horses up from Rock creek Monday and delivered them to Frank Armstrong at this place.

R. R. Flint arrived Saturday from Havelock, Iowa, and expects to locate in this county. Mr. Flint is a brother of Clyde L. Flint, of Ferry Canyon.

Dr. Gullette is busy this week superintending the fitting up of his new office rooms. He will occupy the building recently vacated by T. L. Portwood. A partition has been put in and both rooms are being repapered.

Ralph Froman and Andrew Armstrong were in from Ferry Canyon Monday. They report heading about finished in that locality and a threshing outfit badly needed. The first outfit in there will get the work, they say.

Mrs. C. A. Danneman and daughters, who have spent the last two winters at Corvallis, where the girls have been attending college, and who have been spending the summer at their home at Clem, will soon return to Corvallis.

Dr. J. F. Gullette returned last Friday from a trip to Camas, Wash., where he was called some time ago by the serious illness of his mother. The doctor is glad to be back at Condon, and we are glad to learn that his mother's condition is much improved.

Cooke Bros.' thresher is still making a good record. The machine made four settings one day last week, one a two mile move, and threshed 1113 sacks of grain. At A. S. Rice's ranch Saturday sixteen sacks of grain were threshed in five minutes by the watch.

J. G. Stevenson brought out a new 20-horse-power engine from Arlington the first of the week for use on his thresher, the 13-horse-power engine which he first tried having proved inadequate for the work. Mr. Stevenson now has one of the best outfits in the county.

G. W. Rinehart returned Sunday from a business trip to Lane county. He reports crops almost a failure in that part of the state, except the crop of army worms, which is above the average. Mr. Rinehart had a good time among his old friends and looks the better for his trip.

George Schott and P. F. Cason left Saturday morning for Westfall, in the Malheur country, where Mr. Schott goes to look after his cattle interests. "Bert" went along for the fun of the trip and his friends talked of requiring a bond from George for his safe return to his old stamping ground in Gilliam county.

J. L. Mumpower, of near Oregon City, was here last week, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. May. Mr. Mumpower has long been a sufferer from asthma, and he is taking a trip through this secti[illegible] to test the effect of our climate o[illegible] disease. The result was very sati[illegible] his health having improved wo[illegible] during the short time he has [illegible] the country. He is likely to se[illegible] manently in Eastern Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Boone, of Lone Rock, were in town Monday on their way home from a visit with the families of W. N. Brown, of Sniption, and Mrs. Coffin, of Thirtymile. Mr. and Mrs. Boone are pioneers of this county and have been at Lone Rock ever since shortly after the "rock" was discovered. Mr. Boone is 79 years old and he gets around as nimbly as a boy and enjoys a joke as well as the best of them.

John A. McMorris is having excellent success with his barb wire telephone lines. He has ordered a better class of instruments than those now in use on the Matney Flat line, they having been found to be too [illegible] number of farm[illegible] have signified th[illegible] connected with [illegible] improbable tha[illegible] Ferry Canyon, [illegible] creek will all be [illegible] Condon.

Block

Paul Greiner was in town Tuesday.

Miss Mabel Halstead returned from Portland Tuesday.

Charlie Earhart came in from Lone Rock yesterday.

W. B. Pentecost was over from the Mayville Flat Tuesday.

Mrs. Armstrong, of Ferry Canyon, left yesterday for Eugene to visit friends.

Miss Gussie Darling is on the sick list this week, suffering from the prevalent type of fever.

Mrs. McCormick, of near Walla Walla, who has been visiting friends here, returned home yesterday.

The camping party returned Sunday evening from the Grant county mountains. They report a good time, with plenty of game and fish.

The grade leading to W. N. Brown's ranch on Sniption was washed out for a distance of one and one-half miles Monday evening. The road is a private one and Mr. Brown estimates his loss at $1000.

The three-year-old son of Mr. Van Blaricon, of Ferry Canyon, was frightfully scalded several days ago by falling into a tub of scalding water. One side and arm was almost cooked, but at last accounts the little fellow was getting along nicely, and it is hoped he will soon be fully recovered.

A heavy rain and electrical storm passed over this section Monday evening. Sufficient rain fell to make the ground muddy and to put a stop to heading and threshing operations for a day or two. The thunder and lightning was severe for this country.

Rundle Palmer is now making the anvil ring in Joe Harbin's blacksmith shop. Mr. Palmer is thinking of buying out Mr. Harbin this fall. Mr. Palmer is a good smith and if he should decide on running the shop on his own hook he will no doubt receive a liberal share of patronage.

Carl, the little boy who has lived with Mont Ward's family for several years, ran away Sunday night and came to town. Superintendent Gardner of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society at Portland, from whom Mr. Ward got the boy, was notified by telephone and he instructed Sheriff Wilcox to send the boy to Portland. He left on the stage Tuesday.

J. J. King, of Salem, who is spending a few weeks here, informs us that he has been commissioned a Second Lieutenant, for service in China. Mr. King will be in the service of the Chinese Six Companies, who will fight with the Allies. These forces will be composed of native troops, commanded by American officers. Mr. King expects to leave for San Francisco within a few weeks.

Lightning struck a hay stack on John Walker's ranch in Ferry Canyon Monday evening and destroyed about 40 tons of hay. The light was plainly visible from town. A peculiar circumstance of the fire was that another stack which stood within 10 feet of the one struck was not damaged. The heavy rain which was falling at the time kept it so effectually "wet down" that the flames could not ignite it.

Arthur Myers was in town Tuesday. He says the rain Monday evening assumed the proportions of a cloud burst in his neighborhood. At Mrs. Maley's place the creek spread all over the lawn and the water covered the floor of the porch, almost entering the house. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Farrer, who live below Mr. Myers, in the same gulch, were obliged to leave the house and take refuge on the hillside, the water getting too deep in the house for comfort. Mr. Myers says the heaviest rain seemed to fall on the Froman butte, although it rained hard enough at his place for all practical purposes.

A sudden death occurred at the Condon hotel last Thursday evening. Sam'l Huling, a saddler, who arrived in town Tuesday to work for John Reisacher, was taken ill Thursday morning and expired at 8 o'clock P. M. on the same day. But little can be learned of the history of deceased further than that he came originally from Philadelphia, and had traveled over a large part of the country, working at his trade wherever he could strike a job. His last job was at The Dalles, where he had worked three months. He was addicted to strong drink and was given to protracted sprees, having just sobered up from one before coming here. He was buried at the county's expense Saturday forenoon.

Ed. Palmer, of Ajax, is in town this week taking care of a badly mangled hand, the result of a roping accident in his corral Monday. In roping a wild horse the rope got wrapped around his hand and the result was quite serious. He lost the end of the little finger and most of the flesh of two or three others. The wounds are healing nicely and he hopes no permanent disability will result.

Our Clem correspondent reports that the storm Monday evening was terrific in that section. The canyon roads were badly damaged, and many horses, cattle and hogs were drowned. Fences, buildings and farming machinery were carried away by the flood and destroyed. There will be considerable loss in grain. Misses Kate Schott and Dora Downing were caught in the storm and were thoroughly drenched when they reached Danneman's. The report comes too late for details to appear in this issue.

A Narrow Escape.

Martin Van Blaricon had a narrow escape from death during the storm Monday evening, in Ferry Canyon. He was on his way home from work and when near the school house, got off his horse to lead him over a place in the wire fence where the wire was down. Van had just stepped across the wire and was in the act of leading the horse over, when a bolt of lightning struck the animal, killing him instantly. Van was knocked senseless, but recovered in a short time and was soon able to make his way home. He thinks the thunder bolt was following the wire, as he says it seemed as though he could see the flash for some distance on the fence an instant before the horse was struck. A deep gash was found in the animal's forehead, where he thinks the lightning struck him.

She's A Daisy.

When John Shriver's cayuse mare suddenly jumped from under him down on Main street some two months ago and broke his collar bone, John lost no time in disposing of the valuable animal to Fred Wilson. Fred treated the mare kindly and fed her well until last Sunday, when he thought to take a ride. No sooner was he in the saddle than the pesky mare went up and down like this:
Fred sports a lame shoulder, a skinned elbow and a far-away look since and the mare is said to be again for sale.

OLEX.

Mr. Fairfield, of Arlington, has leased the Wade shop, and will do a general blacksmithing business thereat.

The horse buyers were with us again last Sunday. A good thing for the horsemen to have all the small horses shipped out of the country.

Bob McKinney, engineer for G. S. Smith, had the misfortune to get his hand mangled a few days ago and went to Arlington to have the injured member doctored, but as no one could be found to take his place, he returned and, to to use his own expression, will go, dead or alive.

Shooting in Sherman County.

On Friday last there was a serious shooting scrape on the Higginbotham place, 5 miles north of Grass Valley, between G. P. Higginbotham and Mr. Junkin, who has the Higginbotham place rented. Junkin had just moved into the field, when Higginbotham drove up with sacks and told Mr. Junkin to put half the grain in his sacks. This, Mr. Junkin refused to do, and soon one word brought on another, when Higginbotham shot Junkin in the left side just below the heart, and turning around took a shot at one of Junkin's sons, the ball cutting through his pants and shirt. By this time all was excitement around the machine, as the other men thought their time would come next. Higginbotham left the field and went to Moro and gave himself up to the proper authorities. Medical aid was at once summoned, Dr. Hartley, of Moro, arriving at the scene first, closely followed by Dr. Taylor, of Grass Valley, and Dr. Beers, of Wasco, in the order named. The doctors were unable to locate the ball, and on Saturday morning Junkin was taken to one of the Portland hospitals. Information was received here Monday evening that Junkin was very low.—Grass Valley Journal.

Mr. Junkin is the father of Glenn and Ralph Junkin, who are well known here.

"My baby was terribly sick with the diarrhoea," says J. H. Doak, of Williams, Oregon. "We were unable to cure him with the doctor's assistance, and as a last resort we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I am happy to say it gave immediate relief and a complete cure." For sale by The Hudson Pharmacy—C. W. Crosfield, mgr.

ARLINGTON.

Homer Wood has resumed his old position with the O. R. & N. Co. as freight agent at this place, Shirley Miller having accepted a position as revising clerk at Baker City.

W. H. Colwell, Ross Beardsley and A. J. Coe made a trip over in the Bickleton country Sunday after "sage hens." They met with fair success.

R. T. Cox stopped off here Sunday, while on his way from Portland to Sumpter, where he is interested in some mining property.

R. E. Wilson and family, old residenters of Arlington, returned Friday from Florida, where they have been the past four years, and will stop in town for a while.

Wilber Hamlin, one of the engineers on the steamer Billings, returned Wednesday from Pasco and reports all the wood work finished on the Central Construction & Navigation Co.'s new steamer, The Umatilla, which is being constructed at that place. He says it will be ready to run as soon as the machinery arrives from the East. The machinery has been shipped and it is expected to arrive in a few days. The steamer Billings is still on the rock near Quinn's and is likely to remain there for some time, as the company has been unable to get a boat to help her off. The company will be able to handle a part of this year's crop, from indications at present.

(From another correspondent.)

Fred Hanna, the boss truckman at Balfour, Guthrie & Co.'s warehouse, is trotting the trucks around at a lively rate these days.

Mrs. Fred Hanna has returned from a visit with relatives and friends at The Dalles.

Mrs. Stephen Hanna, of Boyd, Or., visited friends at this place and on Rock creek last week.

Teachers' Institute.

The annual Teachers' Institute, which convened Monday morning, finished its work yesterday and adjourned.

The meeting was both pleasant and profitable to the teachers, as well as to the large number of visitors who were present at the different sessions.

State School Superintendent Ackerman and Prof. D. W. Jarvis conducted the work of instruction, the program being based on the new course of study as adopted by the State Board of Education. Both gentlemen are thorough and competent instructors and the work, as demonstrated by them, was at once entertaining and instructive.

The personnel of the teachers present was: Mrs. Lillian Stevens, Misses Harriet Yoder, Estella Adlard, Lulu Fitzwater, Clara Edwards, Naomi Stengel, Mamie Smith, Grace Balding, Grace Fitzwater, Belle Wilson, Lucy Hurlburt, Edyth McKinney, Susie Stevenson, Eloise Phillips and Miss Johnson; Messrs. J. C. Walker, J. D. Stewart, Ray M. Rogers H. F. Stricklin and R. A. McCully.

Tuesday evening Professors Ackerman and Jarvis lectured in Armory hall to a large and appreciative audience. Prof. Ackerman is an ardent advocate of progress and reform in educational work and his remarks were along that line, while Prof. Jarvis chose as his subject "The Education of Women," which he handled in an able and interesting manner.

After the lectures a reception was tendered Superintendent Ackerman and the teachers by the ladies of Condon and a pleasant hour was passed in a social manner. Miss Harriet Yoder, an accomplished young musician, favored those present with some excellent music during the course of the evening, which was highly appreciated.

The Institute has been highly successful and County Superintendent Neal is to be congratulated on having arranged and managed the affair in so able a manner.

The instructors left for Fossil last evening to attend the Wheeler county institute, which is now in session.
