LOCAL NEWS.

L. W. Darling and wife were in town Saturday.
Cooke Bros' wheat crop averaged 28 1/2 bushels per acre.
Miss Stella Darling has been on the sick list for several days.
George Hanson was in town from Ferry Canyon Saturday.
W. S. Myers reports that his wheat is yielding about 24 bushels per acre.
W. R. Neal was on the streets Tuesday for the first time since his serious illness.
Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Dunn visited Mr. and Mrs. Paul Greiner of Mayville precinct last week.
R. H. Robinson, of Arlington, is here this week attending court as a witness—the Collins murder case.
J. H. Wood, the well-known furniture man of Arlington, has a change of ad. in this issue. Don't overlook it.
Joe Trevett was in Saturday with a big load of his choice melons. Joe is the boss melon farmer of Gilliam county.
The threshing season is drawing to a close, and soon the farmers will be able to make a jugle. When the farmers are prosperous all others are prosperous.
Miss Etta White, who has been visiting Mrs. P. H. Stephenson for some time, was threatened with septic fever last week, but got the disease broken in its incipient stage.
Jim Cordell was in town Saturday. Mr. Cordell has finished threshing his wheat crop, which yielded 3464 bushels from 135 acres, almost 26 bushels per acre. The wheat was bluestem.
Arlington is said to have a genuine case of smallpox. The victim is the young son of Mrs. Carter, and it is supposed that he was exposed to the disease during a recent visit to Boise City.
Guy Boyd states that he and F. M. Brown recently bought 40 head of unbroken horses in Wheeler county, and that they now have most of their animals broken and ready for the market.
A. J. Moore threshed about 40 acres of bluestem wheat this season which averaged 30 1/2 bushels per acre. Mr. Moore thinks bluestem is the model wheat for this country, as it is a good yielder and commands a premium of two cents a bushel in the market.
Ten days or two weeks more will wind up the threshing of Gilliam county's wheat crop, and the quality is almost without exception A No. 1. It is estimated that the crop in this county will amount to 1,500,000 bushels. Gilliam now ranks second as a wheat county.
Frank Ralston, a former citizen of Lone Rock, but now of Casper, Wyo., was in town Tuesday. Mr. Ralston was called from Wyoming by the serious illness of his father, J. R. Ralston, but the old gentleman is now almost wholly recovered. Frank will return to Wyoming in a couple of weeks.
W. L. Barker finished cutting and threshing his big wheat crop last Saturday. The crop amounted to about 17,000 bushels. In addition to this crop, Mr. Barker and his partner, Mr. Carnine, will soon finish cutting and threshing their crop on Shuttler Flat, which will amount to about 25,000 bushels. The crop is all first-class grain and a big yield.
Harry F. Stricklin and Miss Nora Miller, two of Rock creek's most popular young folks, as well as two of Gilliam county's most successful teachers, left last week for Monmouth, where they will enter the normal school. Their many friends all over the county will wish them all success in their school life during the coming year.
Herman Panling has returned from his trip through Grant and Morrow counties. Mr. Panling visited Hamilton, Monument and other interior points during his trip in search of a location for the drug business, and he informs us that he has decided to cast his lot with the town of Monument. He will engage in business there as soon as a building can be erected.
B. K. Searcy was in town yesterday, fresh from the haunts of the bear and deer in the Greenhorn range. Aside from a few scratches and bruises received in hand to hand conflicts with bruin, Mr. Searcy stood his trip well. He gained about 80 pounds in weight while in the mountains and now feels that he is entitled to cast twice as many votes for Bryan as he was when he left for the high places.
While threshing on Arthur Myers' place in Ferry Canyon, Monday, the Golden & Grant machine had a pretty rough experience. A knuckle on the jumbled broke, causing the horses on the power to run away. After a few speedy rounds on the track the teams broke away, completely stripping the power of sweeps and rods. Frank Coney was driving the power, and it is said he took advantage of the first opening to get on the outside of the rig. Threshing was delayed a day or so while the damage was being repaired.

Joe Lisenallen is here this week from Ione.
Bob Looney was over from Fossil during the week.
A. J. Cochran, of Eightmile, is attending court this week.
W. I. Fletcher, of Arlington, is here this week as a juror.
Mrs. L. L. Cooke and her daughter, Mrs. J. P. Thomas, of Olex, are here this week.
Mrs. Ed. Portwood, of Rock creek, is visiting the family of T. L. Portwood this week.
W. H. Colwell, one of Arlington's best-known citizens, is here this week attending court.
Mrs. Mike Summers and Mrs. W. J. Smith were in town from Matney Flat yesterday.
Guy Boyd is among the good-looking and respectable citizens who are here this week from Rock creek.
Bons—Sunday morning, September 16, 1900, to the wife of John Stitt, of Matney precinct, an 11 pound son.
This is a busy week for Condon. The hotels are running over, the town is full and some of the people partly so.
Mrs. C. Schott and daughters, Misses Kate and Pearl, of Rock creek, visited Mrs. T. G. Johnson during the week.
George Schott and Bert Cason returned Tuesday from a trip to the Malheur country. They report a pleasant trip.
Mont Ward has so far recovered from his recent attack of fever as to be able to attend court in the capacity of a juror.
A. A. Carothera, the well-known Rock creek fruit grower, was in town during the week taking in the sights of circuit court.
Charlie Robertson is nursing a felon on his hand, and can be heard saying things which would not look well in a family newspaper.
Mrs. Ed. Dunn and children left Monday morning for Cottage Grove and other Willamette valley points, where they will spend a couple of weeks visiting relatives and friends.
Fred Wilson, assistant prosecuting attorney for this district, is here this week attending court. While in town Mr. Wilson is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Sam E. Van Vactor.
E. J. Clough of the Arlington Warehouse Co. was in town Monday on his way from a visit to his ranch in the Ferry Canyon country. Mr. Clough was a pleasant caller at this office while in town. He estimates the wheat crop of Gilliam county at close to 10,000,000 bushels this season.
Judge J. B. Mattingly of Beecher Flat is in town this week attending court. The judge was seen in conversation with the district attorney on several occasions during the week, and the law breakers to the south of Thirty-mile canyon are all trembling in their boots.
Joe Bodd, Frank Stricklin, Albert Miller, Joe Ward, Wm. Hunt and J. W. McKinney are among the Olex citizens who are here this week in attendance at court.
Geo. Duke, R. W. Crane, Charles Little, Bill Davenport, Al Searcy and others of Mayville are attending court this week, some as jurors, some as litigants and some just seeing the sights.
Minnie, the little daughter of Rundle Palmer, met with a serious accident at her uncle's, Frank Palmer's, place in Ferry Canyon, Sunday. While playing she fell on a wire fence, cutting a fearful gash under one of her arms. She was brought to town and Dr. Gillette was called to dress the wound. The little Miss is getting along nicely now.
Billy Parks, the well-known cattleman, whose ranch lies on Thirty-mile at the mouth of Salmon Fork, is in town this week attending court. Mr. Parks left a sample of onions at the Globe office which were grown on his place that are almost big enough for wagon wheels. The soil in that section is very rich and will produce all kinds of crops in abundance. Mr. Parks stated that he helped put up ten acres of wheat hay this season for Alex Hardie, on the old Yarber place, that made over four tons per acre by measurement. This is a record that is hard to beat.
Mr. Geo. W. Collins, accompanied by his daughter, is here this week attending court. Mr. Collins is a brother of the late James Collins who was the victim of the Junction House tragedy last June, and for whose murder L. L. Cooke is on trial this week. Mr. Collins has resided in San Francisco for a number of years, but came to this county shortly after the murder to look after his brother's property. Since then he has been residing at the Junction House and it is probable he and his daughter will decide to reside there permanently.

Married

Sunday, September 16, 1900, at the residence of the groom's brother, Allen B. Searcy, on Beecher Flat, Mr. Leonard E. Searcy and Miss Lulu Ramsay were united in marriage, Judge George Angell of Mayville performing the ceremony. The wedding was a quiet one and passed off as such events usually do, with many smiles, a few tears, plenty of good wishes to the happy couple and a good dinner. The only startling feature of the day is said to have been the almost total collapse of the officiating magistrate while performing the solemn ceremony. Judge Angell is known to be an expert carpenter and joiner (of wood), but joining hearts and hands he found to be a different and more difficult undertaking. The judge did not faint, but our informant tells us that there was a short time that his many friends feared the worst.
The happy couple are numbered among the best-known and most highly respected young people of Gilliam county, the groom being a progressive and successful wheat grower, while the bride is one of the most successful teachers of that section. The Globe joins their many other friends in wishing them a long, happy and prosperous life.

Tom Portwood's new harness shop enjoyed a "land office" business Monday. Tom sent out over $150 worth of new goods besides a big lot of repair work on that day. He says the only trouble he experiences is in getting goods from Portland. The freight service is too slow to keep up with the speedy work of his customers.
The Arlington Warehouse Co. have lately completed two new buildings for the handling of this year's wheat crop. They have sold some 300,000 grain bags and estimate to amount of wheat to be delivered at Arlington at about 600,000 bushels.
