

NOTICE

The paper of the Globe is published for all the people of Gilliam county. We are to make this paper the leading news medium of the county and invite our friends to assist us by sending in the news of their respective neighborhoods. Correspondence must be signed by the writer, and necessarily for publication, but we assume no responsibility for opinions expressed by correspondents.

A RELAPSE.

The Weekly Annex has been suffering for some time with an aggravated attack of Ananias fever, and if its latest spasm is to be taken as a criterion by which to judge of its present condition, it is reasonable to suppose that it has suffered a relapse.

The Annex started in a few weeks ago on a campaign of falsehood and slander, and as fast as it has been called down and cornered in one lie, direct or implied, it has forthwith proceeded to get on its nest again and hatch out another. In its latest attempt as a disciple of Ananias, the Annex says:

"The editor of the Globe has, on occasions too numerous to mention, used his columns to circulate unfounded reports about some of our most responsible citizens, or has opened his columns to irresponsible persons, to publish misleading and libelous matter under some non-de-plumes, and before the injured person would be allowed any space in which to reply, he would be required to contribute exorbitant sums of cash for the same."

"If the Globe man is troubled with a poor memory we can prompt it a little by naming a few of his victims."

Why did the Annex not go ahead and name some of these alleged "victims" of the Globe's cupidty? Will it do so in its next issue, or will it do as it has been in the habit of doing—drop its latest lie and contrive a new one?

The GLOBE hereby desires to challenge this journalistic Ananias to produce one iota of evidence to back up or establish the above charge. Name any citizen, "responsible" or otherwise, who has been wronged by the GLOBE and then charged "exorbitant sums" for space in which to reply. Name some of the "non-de-plumes" over which "irresponsible persons" have published "misleading and libelous matter" in this paper. Give the public some quotations from such articles, or at least give a hint of the subject-matter contained therein. Name an individual who has ever been charged one cent for space in the GLOBE except when such space has been used for campaign matter or business advertising. We insist on the Annex going a little farther into this matter and refreshing our memory as to these charges. If it fails to do so we will be obliged to retain our present position, and insist that in publishing the language quoted above the Weekly Times is an unvarnished, pusillanimous, malicious liar. If it desires to refresh its memory, before attempting to refresh ours, we will state that our files are at its disposal at any time.

The GLOBE will state that it has always adhered to the policy of charging for space used in its columns by the candidates of either political party during the campaign. It expects to continue to do so, and if this be "libelous" they had better make the most of it. The GLOBE would not give space to a farther discussion of this matter if we could discover any individual who will assume responsibility for the falsehoods which continue to appear in the Times, but as the manager (?) of that paper has refused to enlighten us as to where the responsibility rests and as we are compelled to defend ourself against the attack of an impersonal corporation, we can only do so in this public manner.

THE COUNTRY EDITOR.

In discussing the subject of postage on newspapers, Senator Hale from Maine remarks of the country editor:

"He is a packhorse of every community, the promoter of every laudable enterprise, the worst underpaid laborer in the vineyard. Counting his space as capital he gives more charity, his means considered, than any other member of society. He is a power in politics, a pillar of the church, a leader in the crusade for better morals. He is pre-eminently the friend of humanity. Line upon line, paragraph upon paragraph, day by day, he is embalming in cold type facts from which the Herodotus, Tacitus, Sismondi, Macaulay of the future will write the history of our times. He fully chronicles our advent into the world, briefly notices our uprisings and downfalls, and sorrowfully records our exit.

"We are all more or less—generally more—his handiwork, and the creature should not be ungrateful to his creator. Without his generous and enthusiastic labors most of us would never have been here; and when he tires of us, most of us will return to private life and amid rural scenes propitious for secret meditation and silent prayer. Working night and day during the campaign, when the election is over and the time comes for the distribution of the loaves and fishes—now vulgarly called 'pie'—by some strange lapse of memory he is generally forgotten."

When the steam excavating shovel went to work, a displaced Irish laborer stood on the bank, and, shaking his fist at it, said: "Begorra, I can beat you all to hell voting, anyway." This was 25 years ago, and the Irishman has been voting ever since for the owner of the machine, and getting more and more under it. There is no other way out from under the machine than to vote for the public ownership of it.—Critic.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP

The Canadian government has decided to purchase all telegraph lines in the Dominion, paying therefor $25,000,000. The New York World sees in this reassurance to those who fear the final outcome of the movement toward the consolidation of all our railroads and great industries. The World says:

"Outside of the United States the movement of all English-speaking peoples is toward either the out-and-out ownership or the iron-handed control of all public utilities. Especially is this true of the large self-governing colonies of Great Britain. Canadian railways are partly owned by the Government, and those not owned are rigidly controlled by Parliamentary law. The new Commonwealth of Australia has none but state-owned railroads. In New Zealand the government not only owns all the railroads but operates them on the principle that it is not desirable that they should yield a profit but only to make them of the utmost service to the people. The Prime Minister of New Zealand has declared that any profit over 3 per cent on the traffic must immediately be wiped out by improvements in the service or by lower fare and freight rates."

"Henry Demarest Lloyd in his 'Newest England' declares that 'such a thing as a rebate or discrimination in favor of one shipper against another is unknown in New Zealand.' He shows that the railroad service works well because it is based on a non-political civil-service system. The Civil-Service Board in New South Wales can only be removed by a concurrent majority vote of both houses of Parliament, and its authority is such, says Mr. Lloyd, that not a single foreman can be transferred from one job to another without its consent. In England itself, where the Government ownership of telegraph lines is more than a quarter of a century old, and where the railroads are forced to run cheap working-people's trains at hours and fares arbitrarily fixed by Parliament, and are otherwise regulated very much as if they were Government property, the same condition precedent of a civil service out of the reach of the politicians has been long since secured."

Banker Routs A Robber.

J. H. Garrison, Cashier of the bank of Thornville, Ohio, had been robbed of health by a serious lung trouble until he tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Then he wrote: "It is the best medicine I ever used for a severe cold or a bad case of lung trouble. I always keep a bottle on hand." Don't suffer with Coughs, Colds, or any Throat, Chest or Lung trouble when you can be cured so easily. Only 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Condon Drug Co.'s.

Remarkable Cures of Rheumatism.

From the Vindicator, Rutherfordton, N. C. The editor of the Vindicator has had occasion to test the efficacy of Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice with the most remarkable results in each case. First, with rheumatism in the shoulder from which he suffered excruciating pain for ten days, which was relieved with two applications of Pain Balm, rubbing the parts afflicted and realizing instant benefit and entire relief in a very short time. Second, in rheumatism in thigh joint, almost prostrating him with severe pain, which was relieved by two applications, rubbing with the liniment on retiring at night, and getting up free from pain. ARLINGTON NOTES.

R. H. Robinson has been confirmed postmaster at Arlington after a long and bloodless fight. He has been in charge of the office since last November. The Arlington Lumber Company have sold in the neighborhood of 20,000 feet of lumber for buildings to be erected at Condon, and anticipate a large trade from Condon and the Ferry Canyon country this spring. Homesteaders are coming rapidly and it's only a matter of time until we see a large population in this section.

Al McConnell called on the Arlington Lumber Company last week and placed his order for lumber to be used in the erection of a store building in Ferry Canyon. The store and post office will be located near the schoolhouse and just opposite J. J. Wasson's ranch, and will be a source of convenience to the many flourishing farmers of that district.

The friends of G. G. Smith will be pleased to learn that he has recovered from his recent severe illness and it is thought he will soon be able to resume his duties at the warehouse. Grant and Sherman Wade, of Olex, popular business men of that section, were in Arlington Tuesday looking after business matters. The Wades at Olex are proprietors of one of Gilliam county's most extensive retail mercantile houses, located at that place.

Nelson Ward, father of Mont and Oliver Ward, of Condon, and uncle of Mrs. Fred Munroe, of Arlington, died at his home in Arkansas February 28th at the advanced age of seventy-eight years. He had been an invalid for a number of years. A wife and six children survive him. Mrs. Munroe was raised in the family of Nelson Ward and came to look upon him as a father, and her grief at his death was like that of a daughter.

A Smythe returned to Arlington Friday morning from Pendleton, where he spent a day in attendance at the Wool-growers' Convention. He came home direct from St. Paul, in which city he spent the winter. He reports the market to have been a most disastrous one on him. Out of all the recent shipments made to Chicago there were none that did not result in a loss to him. Mr. Smythe wintered some 25,000 head of sheep in Colorado, and on that number with even a small loss per head the disaster which A. Smythe & Son have suffered may be appreciated.

He Fooled The Surgeons.

All doctors told Benick Hamilton, of West Jefferson, O., after suffering 18 months from Rectal Fistula, he would die unless a costly operation was performed; but he cured himself with Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the World. Surest Pile cure on earth. 25c a box, at Condon Drug Co.'s.

River Transportation.

A dispatch from North Yakima says: The Upper River Transportation Company has been incorporated for the purpose of controlling a line of steamers on the Columbia River. The boats will make regular daily trips from Priest Rapids to The Dalles and carry the great wheat crop of Eastern Washington to market. The incorporators of the company are J. M. Russell, Geo. C. Blakely and T. A. Hudson. In addition to operating the Billings and Umattila on the Columbia they will run a line of steamers to Lewiston, Idaho, on the Snake.

In connection with the navigation of the rivers a plan is under consideration to construct an electric railway through the counties of Douglas and Lincoln, in Eastern Washington, and connect with Spokane. The road will reach all of the wheat centers and be used for hauling wheat to Priest Rapids. There it will be loaded on steel barges and hauled down the river to The Dalles. A portage railway will be used to haul the barges around the falls and into the Columbia below, when the boats will be towed to Portland and the Pacific Coast points for shipment to the Oriental markets.

The steamer Billings, which has been lying on a rocky bar 20 feet above water a few miles below Pasco, is now being overhauled preparatory to launching for the upper river traffic. A line of steamers will be run from the upper Columbia to Priest Rapids and open up the trade from the great mining districts in the Republic and surrounding country.

Mrs. C. E. VanDusen, of Kilbourn, Wis., was afflicted with stomach trouble and constipation for a long time. She says, "I have tried many preparations but none have done me the good that Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets have." These Tablets are for sale at The Hudson Pharmacy. Price, 25c. Samples free.

Danosky Bros. will close their store here and go on the road with a peddling wagon. These young men have done a good business here for the past few months and are pretty apt to succeed wherever they go. They expect to leave Sunday or Monday.

THE

"MODEL." A Quiet Resort. Lower Main street Charles Fix, Prop. Condon, Oregon.

To the Consumers of Gilliam County:

We desire to state that we are determined to reduce our large stock of goods and for the next 90 days will make great reductions in all lines for cash.

By referring to your local papers you frequently note the ad. of interior merchants who, with conspicuous signs, say: "We sell at Arlington prices." Is this not evidence that the Arlington merchants must lead in low prices or there would be no need for such statements? Before purchasing your fall supplies or the smaller bills get prices from us.

In agricultural implements we have the favorite Monitor Drills subject to four attachments, viz. hoe, disc, press wheels or shoe.

The Oliver and Frying Dutchman Plows are hard to beat for good clean work, durability and lightness of draft.

It is no longer an experiment to buy a Bain or Stouten wagon, as they have but few if any competitors when strength and light-running qualities are considered.

If you anticipate treating yourself to a new buggy or hack do not purchase until our new car load of the old reliable Racine rigs reach us, which will be here in September.

When in need of a chop mill, hay press, windmill, sewing machine, or any kind of machinery used on the farm, write us for prices and we will treat you right.

Address all communications to the firm at the old James W. Smith store.

A Spring Poet.

W. A. Campbell, the insurance man, has left town. He left in a hurry—stood not upon the order of his going—and it is likely he will not return until Summer is here again. The reason is obvious. Walter has developed into a poet and degenerated into Spring poetry, and when he deposited an armful of his latest efforts on our desk yesterday morning we didn't do a thing to him. We simply unlimbered the office cannon, unchained the office bulldog, uncorked our vials of wrath and the dreamy poet vanished like mist before the morning sun or a schooner of beer before a stout Dutchman. He went towards Arlington and we warn our brother editors down there to look out for him. When loaded with that poetry he is dangerous to the peace of mind of any editor.

He has two eyes so soft and brown, Take care! He gives a side glance and looks down, Beware! beware! Trust him not. He has Poetree, And he has half of golden hue; Take care! And what he says isn't always true, Beware! Beware! Trust him not; he has Poetree, (With apologies to Longfellow.)
