THURSDAY, JUNE 13, 1901.

THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF CLATSOP COUNTY, OREGON.

LOCAL NEWS.

M. E. Summers is in Portland this week on a business trip.

Superintendent Neal has started out on his annual school visitation.

Miss Daisy Ehl of Arlington went through on her way to Fossil Tuesday.

W. A. Goodwin served ice cream strawberries etc. in the Armory Hall addition Friday evening.

Jim Cameron leaves today for Austin to look after his sheep which are being summered in that region.

County Commissioner Dyer went through Monday towards Arlington with a big load of wheat.

Miss Mable Halstead left for Portland Sunday where she will spend the vacation with her mother.

Miss Mamie Smith, of Matney, commenced teaching in the Nelson district in Ferry Canyon Monday.

Al Collins and Burns Jones of Ferry Canyon came out from Arlington Monday. They report wheat worth 47 cents.

Mrs. E. W. Daggett, of Arlington, was in town Friday on her way from Mayville where she had been visiting friends.

A number of Condon people enjoyed an outing at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Strickland on Hay Creek Sunday.

Dr. Wood returned from Portland Friday. He enjoyed a pleasant visit with friends and relatives there, but seems glad to be back to Condon again.

Miss Grace Crane lost a small leather satchel last Thursday between her home near Mayville and Condon. The purse contained $5 in gold. Finder will please return to loser or leave at this office.

A. Smythe and son have returned to Arlington after a successful trip with their sheep to Colorado. They now have 12000 on the range there and are prepared to buy more.—Arlington Record.

Jean Labons and Bert Cason left Monday morning for the lower country. Mr. Cason goes to Portland to attend the Masonic grand lodge and Mr. Labons goes to Tacoma on a combined business and pleasure trip.

The body of Byron Sanders, who was drowned in the John Day, May 28, was recovered Monday of last week a short distance below where the accident occurred. The remains were buried in the Arlington cemetery.

J. W. Apple, T. E. Riggs, Henry Wilkins, Abbey Thomas and J. P. Thomas were in town Saturday from the Rock creek region. Mr. Apple was a pleasant caller at this office where he called to order the GLOBE for another year.

Main street is almost blockaded with teams for a few hours every day lately. This is what Condon people like to see though and "there's always room for one more." If the crowd gets too dense we will widen the street or else extend it.

D. A. Moore and family arrived from Montana last week and are looking over the country with a view to locating in the stock business. Mr. Moore is a son of Elder A. B. Moore and a brother of Frank and Alburn Moore, all of whom are among our best citizens.

The local K. P. lodge entertained a number of distinguished guests Sunday evening, among the number being Grand Chancellor W. L. Bradshaw, Grand Prelate J. W. Maloney, P. G. Chancellor Wm. M. Cate and Grand K. of R. and S. L. B. Stinson. A sumptuous banquet was served and a pleasant evening was spent.

Leroy Paul was in from his Rock creek ranch Saturday bringing with him J. R. Brown who is suffering from a broken arm. Brown has been working on the Paul ranch and while harnessing a colt Saturday morning the animal kicked him breaking both bones of the right arm just above the elbow. Drs. Wood and Gullette reduced the fracture and the patient is doing nicely. Mr. Brown has a family, dependent on him, at Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Keys came over from Mayville Sunday to attend the K. of P. banquet that evening. They returned Monday expecting to leave for Richmond the following day to attend the pioneer's meeting at that place. Mr. Keys reports a large and steadily increasing trade at the Mayville Flouring Mills which are owned and operated by the well-known firm of Keys & Son. Their new grain elevator is now rapidly nearing completion.

County Superintendent Neal expects to hold the annual Teacher's Institute in this city June 24, 25 and 26. Prof. Wetzel, of Salt Lake is expected to be here in the capacity of institute instructor. Prof. Wetzel was formerly located in Portland where he attained much prominence as an educator. He is a favorite in Oregon as an institute instructor. Superintendent Neal will spare no trouble to make this meeting the very best ever held in the county.

The commencement exercises of the Law Department of Willamette University took place at Salem last Thursday. We acknowledge receipt of an invitation to be present at the exercises from the hand of Mr. H. H. Turner who is one of the graduates. Mr. Turner spent several months in Condon two years ago and while here worked for a while in the Globe office. He was a first-class printer and we congratulate him on having made a start in the more lucrative profession of law.

Graduating Class Given Diplomas.

EXCELLENT SHOWING MADE

Eight Earnest, Ardent Young People Cover Themselves With Glory.

In the presence of one of the largest audiences that ever assembled in the Armory hall the graduating class of '01 of the Condon public school carried out their impressive commencement exercises last Friday evening.

The stage was beautiful with a wealth of fragrant flowers and made a fitting background for the class, all faultlessly attired, sitting with the composure of adults, and moved with a common spirit to give the business of the evening their undivided attention. The excellent discipline displayed and the look of earnest, honest effort which showed on every face told the story of the careful training they had received and gave a hint to the observer of the pride and gratification which must have thrilled the heart of the tall, spare man who occupied a seat to the right of the class and to whose untiring work and everlasting vigilance as a teacher is due much praise for the excellence of the evening's entertainment. This man was Prof. W. R. Neal, whose faculty for discipline and control and as an instructor, needs no comment here; it was exemplified and proven to the Condon public on that occasion by the actions of eight as bright and earnest young people as ever stepped from the portals of a public school into the big, wide, bustling world that lies beyond.

Music for the occasion was furnished by Miss Blanche McHaffie, who is one of Eastern Oregon's most accomplished young pianists, and her rendition of a number of classic selections was received by the audience with warm applause.

Jennie Neal delivered the salutatory, her subject being "Life". Her thoughts were clothed in well chosen words and her delivery was admirable.

The class poem "Vision" by Byrd Agnes Springston was of a high order, rendered in a most pleasing manner and the oration which followed, "University and True Patriotism," by Bertha Trimble, was, perhaps, the real oratorical effort of the evening.

The class oration, by Bert Edwards, "American Ideals" was a splendid effort. Could all our public school boys and girls go out into the world imbued with the aspirations there presented the destiny of our country would be safe and its glorious future assured.

Gessie Darling read a composition her subject being "True Nobility." Her commanding presence on the stage and the excellence of her enunciation were favorably commented upon while the composition which followed "The Beauties of Nature" by Abbie E. Darling was well prepared and excellently delivered. Robert Fitzwater had chosen as the subject of his oration "The Decisive Battle of the Rebellion" and his portrayal of the battle of Gettysburg was given with the air of a veteran. His voice and manner are above the average for a boy of his years and are an earnest of future possibilities as an orator.

The valedictory was delivered by Lilla May Clarke, who impressed her hearers with the beauty of her thoughts, her forceful delivery and her composure on the platform. Her words of thanks and farewell to teachers, classmates and friends were particularly effective.

Sam E. Van Vactor's address to the class will be remembered by all present as a gem of pure thought, sound advice and oratorical excellence. He pointed out the ideals and aspirations which should urge the graduates on to higher and better things and that truth, virtue and integrity, in all things, lead to the only true success and greatness.

Prof. Harry F. Stricklin, who was to have presented the diplomas was unavoidably detained in his room by illness but Rev. Edward Carrau filled his place and, in a few appropriate remarks placed in the hands of each member of the class the roll of parchment which will no doubt be carefully guarded through life as a priceless treasure.

After the class song, which closed the exercises and the class yell which announced that vacation was at hand, the class held an informal reception on the platform and were given the "glad hand" and hearty congratulations by a host of friends.

The occasion was a memorable one in Condon and may be reckoned as the beginning of a new era in school work in this place.

Mr. J. E. Lancaster, of Portland is here visiting his mother and sister Mrs. Lancaster and Mrs. Price.

District Attorney Frank Menefee, of the Dalles is here this week representing the State in the noted riot case. Mr. Menefee is a popular official and has many friends through the district.

Eilith and Violet Greenfield were pleasantly surprised by a party of their young friends Tuesday evening. The children came without warning bringing refreshments with them and spent a jolly evening.
