

At Granville 1 learned that a young CHAPTER XXI. I went out late in the evening to ques- lady and a child had made the voyage to tion each of the omnibus drivers, but Jersey a short time before, and I went in vain. Whether they were too busy to give me proper attention, or too anx-lous to join the stir and mirth of the townspeople, they all declared they knew townspeople, they all declared they knew nothing of any Englishwoman. As i re-turned dejectedly to my ins, I heard a lamentable voice, evidently English, be-moaning in doubtful French. The omni-bus from Falaise had just come in, and under the lamp in the entrance of the archway stood a lady before my hostess. who was volubly asserting that there was no room left in her house. I hasten-be dying she would certainly have sent ed to the assistance of my countrywom- me word." an, and the light of the lamp falling up-"It is a long time to wait," I said, with on her face revealed to me who she was, an utter sinking of spirit. "Mrs. Foster!" I exclaimed, almost "It is a long time to wait!" he echoed, lifting up his hands, and letting them shouting her name in my astonishment. She looked ready to faint with fatigue fall again with a gesture of weariness; and dismay, and she laid her hand heav- "but we must wait and hope. ily on my arm, as if to save herself from sinking to the ground.

"Have you found her?" she asked, in- to London. voluntarily.

"Not a trace of her." I 'answered. "Not a trace of her," I answered. Mrs. Foster broke into an hysterical laugh, which was very quickly followed by sobs. I had no great difficulty in per-liah law stood with regard to Olivia's suading the landlady to find some accom-modation for b r, and then I retired to Senior's oldest friends was a lawyer of may own room to turn over the extraordi-nary meeting which had been the last flon with me after a dinner at his house incident of the day.

at Fulham. It required very little keenness to come "There seems to be no proof of any kind to the conclusion that the Fosters had against the husband," he said, after I obtained their information concerning had told him all. Miss Ellen Martineau where we had got "Why!" I exclaimed, "here you have a ours, from Mrs. Wilkinson; also that Mrs. girl, brought up in luxury and wealth, Foster had lost no time in following up willing to brave any poverty rather than the clue, for she was only twenty-four hours behind me. She had looked thorcontinue to live with him. oughly astonished and dismayed when she saw me there; so she had had no turn to him?" I asked. ides that I was on the same track. But nothing could be more convincing than | tainly could," was the answer, which this journey of hers that neither she nor drove me frantic. Foster really believed in Olivia's death. That was as clear as day. But what ex- objected. planation could I give to myself of those ways present the image of Foster, with this hole for the want of it. My death his pale, cynical face and pitiless eyes. will lie at Olivia's door, curse her!" With this was the perpetual remem-brance that a subtle malady, beyond the reach of our skill, was slowly eating away from the heart of a wretch perishing from his life. 'The man I abhorred; but the sufferer, mysteriously linked with the portunity I must not miss. memories which clung about my mother, aroused my most urgent, instinctive compassion. Only once before had I watched the conflict between disease and its remedy with so intense an interest. It was a day or two after a consulta-tion that I came accidentally upon the little note book which I had kept in Guernsey-a private note book, accessi-ble only to myself. It was night; Jack, as usual, was gone out, and I was alone. I turned over the leaves merely for listless want of occupation. All at once I only been applied in its earlier stages. It had slipped out of my mind, but now my memory leaped upon it with irresistiblt force. I must tell the whole truth, however terrible and humiliating it may be. Whether I had been true or faise to myself up to that moment I cannot say. I had taken upon myself the care and, if possible, the cure of this man, who was my enemy, if I had an enemy in the world. His life and mine could not run parallel without great grief and hurt to me, and to one dearer than myself. Now, that a better chance was thrust upon me sick at the thought of it. Yes, I wished him to die. Conscience flashed the answer across the inner depths of my soul, as a glare of lightning over the sharp crags and cruel waves of our island in a midnight storm. 1 saw with terrible distinctness that there had been lurking within a sure sense of satisfaction in the certainty that he must die. I took up my note book, and went away to my room, lest Jack should come in suddenly and read my secret on my face. I thrust the book into a drawer in my desk, and locked it away, out of my sight. It seemed cruel that this power should she were living still, or if she had died this remedy would never have been made by me. And I was to take it as a sort myself.

He fell back upon his plilows, with a groan as heavy and drep as ever came sheer want. I could not choose but feel some pity for him; but this was an op-"t is of no use to curse her," I snid; "come, Foster, let us talk over this mat-ter quietly and reasonably. It Olivia be alive, as I cannot help hoping she is, your wisest course would be to come to your wisest course would be to come to some mutual agreement, which would release you both from your present diffi-culties; for you must recollect she is as penniless as yourself. Let me speak to you as if I were her brother. Of this one thing you may be quite certain, she will never consent to relars to you; and in that I will sid her to the atmost of my came upon an entry, made in connection with my mother's liness, which recalled to me the discovery I believed I had made of a remedy for her discuse, had it only been availed in the carling states and the second state of the prop-erty, which she would gladly reliaquish on condition that you left her alone." (To be continued.)

TRADE IN LATIN AMERICAS.

Why the United States Loca Not Secure Its Share Thereof.

Minister Loomis maintains that the United States does not have, in any part of Latin America, the share of trade which its productivity and proximity entitle it to. The Germans, the English, the French and even the Spanish exhibit a higher degree of commerin his favor, I shrank from seizing it with unutterable reluctance. I turned heart-with the Latin Americans.

Our merchants and manufacturers are loath to understand that in order to succeed in Central or South America they must conform to the business methods to which centuries of usage have given the force and prestige of national customs. If we want to do business with the South Americans we must, in a large measure, do business in their way, and not try to force our methods upon them, though we may be convinced that our manner of conducting commercial affairs is superior to theirs.

come to me from my mother's death. If The Latin-American merchant is accustomed to long credit. Six months sl from any other cause, the discovery of is the usual period, but sometimes it is a a year. He will pay, but he must have time in which to pay, for it is the cusof miraculous gift, purchased by her pangs, and bestow it upon the only man tom of the South American trader to I hated. For I hated him; I said so to be a banker as well as a merchant, and he has to make large advances in But it could not rest at that. I fought money and supplies to the owners of planation could I give to myself of those letters, of Olivia's above all? Was It possible that she had caused them to be written, and sont to her husband? I could not even admit such a question corroborative proof of her death. Now, or grasp his hearty hand again, with such sold, once a year. So it will be seen that long time in making his own payments is essential to him.

praise of the Emperor.

IDAHO'S LOG CABIN PRINTING OFFICE.

Idaho has a printing office-and a good one-that is still maintained in the old log cabin built over 20 years ago. The Wood River Times, daily and weekly, at Hailey, occupies this odd building and everything about it is comfortable and convenient. Additions to the building have been made as needed, partly of logs and partly of modern building material. T. E. Picotte has owned and published The Times since the first issue, June 15, 1881. When the daily was started, May 22, 1882, Associated Press dispatches were dent will recommend the re-enactreceived by wire at Blackfoot and then sent 175 miles by stage to Hailey. It ment and strengthening of the Chi-was the first daily published in Idaho. The office floor in the log cabin was for a time the virgin soil. Then flooring was hauled in 160 miles, costing $125 per thousand feet. Mr. Picotte has been identified with daily papers in York City, Chicago and several other large cities, always in im- nine hour basis with an increase of portant and successful portions. With a single exception he has always de- 214 cents per hour in wages. clined political offices, because he feels that a newspaper man should devote all his time to his profession. The log cabin printing office attracts all visit-ors to the Wood river country and Editor Picotte may well be proud of his building, his plant and his two newspapers.

CONSIDINE CLEARED.	ASSAULTED BY MINERS.
he Jury Finds film Not Guilty of the Mur-	Non-Union Men Are Attacked at Mines Near
der of Meredith.	Vincennes, Indiana,
Seattle, Nov. 22.—John W. Consi-	Vincennes, Ind., Nov. 21.—Four ine left the King county court house	hundred union coal miners from hortly before 6 o'clock last evening	Washington, Connelburg, Petersburg, free man. According to the verdict	Princeton and Montgomery arrived
f the jury, he is not guilty of the	here at an early hour this morning nurder of ex-Chief of Police William	and at 5 o'clock made an attack upon . Meredith. The verdict was read	the non-union miners employed at n the court room at 5:35, exactly	the Prospect Hill mines near this hree hours from the time the jury-	city. As a result two men are fatally
nen were locked up for deliberation.	hurt and a half dozen more seriously
t was received by the defendant, his	inineed

The Metropolitan bank, of Ta-coma, has closed its doors.

Ex-Representative Sweet, of Idaho, the big audience, the only movement mines. Just as the men on the day The National reciprocity convenshift were going on duty they were tion has opened in Washington. being toward the doors The members of the jury are reti- attacked. The union men asked for Smallpox is spreading in Vienna, cent concerning what went on behind the foreman and when told that he 35 cases being reported in two days. the doors of their room. One and all was in bed said: "All right; we facturers understand this, and arrange decline to say how they stood fon the will get him." They started after ample time in which to meet his oblight of the give the number of scott, the foreman, and in the melee carrying on smuggling on a large elore congress. Queen Draga, of Servia, is said to have been shot at. Fire at a Colorado mine caused the loss of probably 100 lives. Canada will raise a mounted corps for the South African war. Colombian Liberals captured Colon after three hours' of fighting.

VALUABLE CARGO.

A fund is being raised in Manila to prevent the execution of Torres.

FROM THE FOUR QUARTERS OF

THE WORLD.

A Comprehensive Review of the Important

Happenings of the Past Week Presented in a Condensed Form Which is Most Likely to Prove of Interest to Our Many

Aguinaldo wants to plead his cause

Readers.

Marines in Samar scaled a cliff 200 feet high and destroyed three insurgent camps, killing 30 rebels.

nese exclusion law.

The union iron molders of San Francisco will return to work on a Green goods men have been selling postmasters of small towns stamps from "understroyed plates of the government." The secret service is doing its best to capture the bunco men.

Two fast trains on the Santa Fe crashed into each other near the Needles, Cal., resulting in the death of two and the fatal "injuring of several. Quite a number were less seriously hurt. Student riots have occurred in Spanish towns.

Colonel Meade, of the marines, is on trial for drunkenness.

Fire at Assumption," Ill., destroyed property valued at $55,000.

without a sharp sense of disappointment in her.

ing, somewhat as a truce-bearer may meet another on neutral ground. She was done a very foolish and a very wicked should he discover where she was, or to grateful to me for my interposition in her thing there." behalf the night before; and as I knew Ellen Martineau to be safely out of the way, I was inclined to be tolerant to wards her. I assured her, upon my honor, that I had failed in discovering any tering of the school.

"But why should you undertake such a is safe. You may convince him by de- ent words laid what I believed to be my chase?" I asked; "if you and Foster are grees that it is to his interest to come to important discovery before him. He sat satisfied that Olivia is dead, why should some terms with her. A formal deed of thinking for some time, running over in you be running after Ellen Martineau? separation might be agreed upon, and his own mind such cases as had come You show me the papers which seem to drawn up; but even that will not perfect- under his own observation. After a prove her death, and now I find you in ly secure her in the future." this remote part of Normandy, evidently I was compelled to remain satisfied his face, and his eyes brightened as he in pursuit of her. What does this mean ?" with this opinion. Yet how could I be looked at me. 'You are doing the same thing your- satisfied, whilst Olivia, if she was still self," she answered. "Yes," I replied, "because I am not and, as I feared, destitute, in a foreign satisfied. But you have proved your country? conviction by becoming Richard Foster's second wife."

"That is the very point," she said, Brook street every day since her reshedding a few tears; "as soon as ever turn, to inquire for me, and to leave an Foster?" Mrs. Wilkinson described Ellen Marti- urgent message that I should go to Bellnean to me, when she was talking about ringer street as soon as I was again in tion in my veins. her visitor who had come to inquire af- town. The lodging house looked almost ter her, I grow quite frightened lest he as wretched as the forsaken dwelling should ever be charged with marrying down at Noireau, where Olivia had perme whilst she was alive. So I persuad- haps been living; and the stifling, musty will write a paper on the subject for the ed him to let me come here and make air inside it almost made me gasp for Lancet, if you will allow me." sure of it, though the journey costs a breath. great deal, and we have very little money to spare. We did not know what greeting, as I entered the dingy room. tricks Olivia might do, and it made me very miserable to think she might be still alive, and I in her place."

that there was some reason in Mrs. Fos- agreed with you, that is plain enough. closely. tor's statement of the case. It did not agree with Carry, either, for "There is not the slightest chance of she came back swearing she would never bless you!"

go on such a wild-goose chase again. You your finding her," I remarked. "Isn't there?" she asked, with an evil know I was quite opposed to her going?" gleam in her eyes, which I just caught before she hid her face again in her handkerchief.

"At any rate," I said, "you would have funds had been raised for the journey. no power over her if you found her. You could not take her back with you by believe Olivia is dead. I am quite sure force. I do not know how the French she has never been under this roof with quite unfit to take this long journey to a tiger scented its prey. Do you suppose not concealing from him that I proposed claim her. Really I do not see what you I have no sense keen enough to tell me to try, if he gave his consent, a mode of can do; and I should think your wisest she was in the very house where I was?" plan would be to go back and take care tened cruelly, and made me almost ready of him, leaving her alone. I am here to protect her, and I shall stay until I see to spring upon him. I could have seized thoughts as Dr. Senior's had done. you fairly out of the place.' him by the throat and shaken him to during the day, for I felt sure she would against him; but I sat quiet, and ejacu- that it almost startled me, "I can trust find no trace of Olivia in Noireau. At lated "Nonsense!" Such power has the you. I put myself with implicit confinight I saw her again. She was worn spirit of the nineteenth century among dence into your hands." out and despondent, and declared her- civilized classes. self quite ready to return to Falaise by the omnibus at five o'clock in the morna fee to bring me word for what town she of our marriage, I never knew her guilty by my mother's fatal illness, for the bentook her ticket at the rallway station, of an untruth, not the smallest. She was offt of the man whose life was most When he returned in the evening he told as true as the gospel. Do you think harmful to Olivia and myself. I felt me he had himself bought her one for you or Carry could make me believe that suffocated, stiffed. I opened the win Houffeur, and started her fairly on her she would trifle with such an awful sub- dow for a minute or two, and leaned way home

As for myself I had spent the day in take my oath that Olivia would never the outer air. making inquiries at the offices of the local have had that letter sent, or written to custom houses which stand at every en- me those few lines of farewell, but to my head in again, "that you must not trance into a town or village in France, let me know that she was dead," for the gathering of trifling, vexatious There was no doubt whatever that he taxes upon articles of food and merchan. was suffering from the same disease as your old dissipations. But if you are dise. At one of these I had learned that, that which had been the death of my careful of yourself you may live to sixty three or four weeks ago a young Eng. mother-a disease almost invariably fa- or seventy. lishwoman with a little girl had passed tal, sooner or later. A few cases of cure, by on foot, each carrying a small bundle, under most favorable circumstances, had which had not been examined. It was on the road to Granville, which was be-tury; but the chances were dead against air than this." tween thirty and forty miles away. From Granville was the nearest route to the long and painful illness, terminating in there again? Perhaps to seek me! My that I could do would be to alleviate the farthing upon this chance." heart, bowed down by the sad picture of worst pangs of it. of Olivia in Guernsey.

if the wife be guilty of framing these, the husband will bring them against her a secret weight upon my soul? Yet how I saw Mrs. Foster early in the morn- as the grounds on which he felt free to | could I resolve to save Foster at the cost contract his second marriage. She has of dooming Olivia to a lifelong bondage

"A girl's whim," he said.

"Then Foster could compel

"As far as I see into the case, he cer-

"But there is this second marriage," I

"There lies the kernel of the case," he

To wait in impatience, and to hope at times, and despair at times, I returned

CHAPTER XXII.

"You think she did it?" I asked. He smiled significantly, but without was alive! It was for her sake merely saying anything. that I hesitated.

"So you are come back!" was Foster's

"I need not ask what success you've

"Altogether opposed," he repeated.

"Nonsense!" I answered. His eyes glis-

"Yes," I replied.

"But what can be done now?" I asked. The morning dawned before I could de-"All you can do," he answered, "is to cide. The decision, when made, brought trace of Olivia in Noireau, and I to'd establish your influence over this fellow no feeling of relief or triumph to me. her all I had learned about the bank- and go cautiously to work with him. As As soon as it was probable that Dr. ruptcy of Monsieur Perrier, and the scat- long as the lady is in France, if she be Senior could see me, I was at his house alive, and he is too ill to go after her, she | at Fulham; and in rapid, almost incoher-

while a gleam of pleasure passed over living, was wandering about homeless, "though I wish Jack had hit upon this, I believe it will prove a real benefit to our science. Let me turn it over a little longer, and consult some of my col-I made my first call upon Foster the leagues about it. But I think you are next evening. Mrs. Foster had been to right. You are about to try it on poor

"Yes," I answered, with a chilly sensa-

"It can do him no harm," he said, "and in my opinion it will prolong his life to 'With all my heart," I said sadly.

The old physician regarded me for minute with his keen eyes, which had ooked through the window of disease into many a human soul. I shrank from

"I congratulate you, Martin," he said, live, and I in her place." had," he said, sneering. "'Why so pale the scrutiny, but I need not have done and wan, fond lover? Your trip has not so. He grasped my hand firmly and "God bless you, Martin!" he said, "God

I went straight from Fulham to Bellringer street. A healthy impulse to ful-

"No," I said incredulously. The dia- fill all my duty, however difficult, was in mond ring had disappeared from his fin- its first fervid moment of action. Nevger, and it was easy to guess how the ertheless there was a subtle hope within me founded upon one chance that was "I left-it was just possible that Foster might refuse to be made the subject of an experiment; for an experiment it was laws would regard Foster's authority, but me, as Miss Ellen Martineau has been. I sat down beside him, and told him you can have none whatever, and he is I should have known it as surely as ever what I believed to be his chance of life; > treatment which had never been practicdelphia Post. ed before. His eye, keen and sharp as that of a lynx, seemed to read my

"Martin Dobree," he said, in a voice so I kept no very strict watch over her death, in my sudden passion of loathing different from his ordinary caustic tone The last chance-dare I say the last

"Olivia is dead," he said, in a solemn hope?-was gone. I stood pledged on my from cheap vegetables, and generates. one. "I am convinced of that from honor as a physician, to employ this dising. I saw her off, and gave the driver another reason; through all the misery covery, which had been laid open to me er.-Sydney Bulletin, ject as her own death? No. I would through it to catch the fresh breath of "I must tell you," I said, when I drew > expect to regain your health and strength so completely as to be able to return to

"Life at any price!" he answered. "There would be more chance for you now," I said, "if you could have better "How can 1?" he asked.

"Be frank with me," I answered, "and Channel Islands. Was it not possible inevitable death, lay before him. In the tell me what your means are. It would that Olivia had resolved to seek refuge -opinion of my two senior physicians, all be worth your while to spend your last "Is it not enough to make a man mad."

her and the little child leaving the town His case haunted me day and night. he said, "to know there are thousands on foot, beat high again at the thought In that deep undercurrent of conscious- | lying in the bank in his wife's name, and ness which lurks beneath our surface be cannot touch a penay of it? It is life break your fool neck.

The European merchants and manulifelong poverty should she remain con-cealed? If I were only sure that she the conditions and necessities of the siderable adverse oriticism, and a badly beaten and W. P. Collins, an to pieces. Latin-American market, and then set good deal of the other kind, so we attorney of Washington, a brother-in- Consul -Success.

> Tom and John Considine both rose The Salad Had Preference. and grasped the hands of the jury-

American social leaders are more in- men, who were by this time filing terested in the Kalser of Germany than from the box. There was a general Steamship Brought Products From Alaska they ever were in any crowned head, shaking of hands about the Considine outside of the English rulers. Probably table for several minutes, and then it is because the Kalser is fond of the courtroom was gradually cleared.

Americans, and shows as keen a de- The long trial was over. to meet charming Americans and talk Considine, who is also charged with the Senator, Captain James B. Patterto them. In Berlin and Homburg he the murder of Meredith, will be son, which arrived from the North tohas met many of the rich social set of brought to trial, although the prose- day. Fish and fish products made up statement to this effect.

He is described as having the most ST. LOUIS WILL BE READY.

fascinating personality in Europe today. It is said of him that he has that old age, if he is careful of himself. I great quality which made the wife of Three Big Buildings Acquired for the World's Fair-No Delay in Work.

President Cleveland one of the most notable women who ever presided at St. Louis, Nov. 22 .- In the development of the world's fair there is every board side forward. She hung fast the White House. That is, the gift of making a visitor or auditor think that indication that it will be ready on about 20 minutes and then hauled herthe contrary during the last few days. plates did not cause a leak, it may lat-A woman, who is of high social dis- A long step forward has been taken or be necessary for the vessel to go tinction in America, was presented to by the acquirement of the grounds into drydock. the Kalser at some dinner that was not and buildings of Washington Univer- The Senator brought 89 pasengers talking to him when she was offered administration building is almost a famous German salad. It was hand- ready for occupancy, and the two ed on her right and the Kaiser was on other large buildings to be used for tural Department; W. T. Summers, her left, which put her in a predica-ment. educational exhibits can be made ready in a short time. Director of of Juneau, and Dr. B. K. Wilbur, of

She did not dare turn her face from Works Taylor and Engineer Mark- Sitka. the Emperor to help herself to the sal- mann have also made an important ad. The situation was too much for discovery, to the effect that no piling her. The Emperor, seeing the condition nor blasting will be required for buildat a glance, looked at her for an instant ing foundations. This fact will not and laughed, as he said: "A Kalser only save a vast amount of money but half hours. The whole time was tion of buildings may proceed at once message and in commenting upon its from Skagway.

Vegetables Will Become Valuable. Upon the letting of contracts. various features. The message is E. F. Lowenthal, of New York, Throughout the worlds' fair site there long, and is said to be vigorous in robbed of $10,000 in diamonds in Two Melbourneltes claim to have dis- is a firm clay foundation that will tone, in that respect at least quite Portland Hotel. covered a new motive power. "lighter sustain the heaviest weights without characteristic of Roosevelt No other business was transacted.

than air, more powerful than dynamite, settling. very simple and nominal in cost." - Byronite (named after one of the inventors(is a fine powder alleged to be made

Blisters by Suggestion. Hypnotic suggestion enables us to beyond the reach of the will. For in-highly sensitive subjects by simply officers. The state also expended replied that the government was re- proportion. His clothes cost him $75 touching the part with the finger or about $6,000 in connection with the ceived upon acting with the greatest per suit, and he cannot get into an some inert substance and suggesting election. the presence of a strong irritant .- Journal of Physical Therapeutics.

You can always tell a nice girl by effect upon the brigands who have the sheoting occurred. Nearly may croaching on its shores. The lower the sheoting occurred. Nearly may posals.

ample time in which to meet his obli-gations. The Europeans make a care-ful, comprehensive systematic study of Latin-American market, and then set good deal of the other kind, so we have agreed not to say anything have agreed not to say anything the family, sustained injuries that may to rescue her. After the reading of the verdict, prove fatal.

John Hay was the principal speaker at the New York chamber of commerce dinner.

There is trouble in the Washington Valued a $200,000.

delegation over the appointment of a United States marshal

Seattle, Nov. 20 .- Products of Alas-The United States training ship ka valued at $200,000 were brought to Alert has sailed from San Diego for sire as his uncle, the King of England, It is not thought likely that Tom Seattle as the cargo of a single vessel, Magdalena bay for gun practice.

Robbers blew open the safe of the First National Bank at Mondori, America and they are loud in their cuting attorney has given out no the entire shipment. There were $7,- and $6,000. Wis., and secured between $5,000 215 cases of salmon from Petersburg,

Two plague deaths are reported Girard Point and Sitks Bay canneries from Odessa, and 2500 cases of fish guano and 550 barrels of fish oil from the Kilasnoo Bolomen tried to rush an American fisheries. force in Samar. On the return the Senator got Oregon wins 232 prizes at Panaground on a rocky bottom at the American Exposition north entrance to Wrangel Narrows,

Many accidents in the United Kingdom were due to fog.

he is the one person in the world whom time, notwithstanding discussion to self off. While the springing of the character of Judge Irwin. An Aberdeen editor attacked the Scouts fought engagements with rebels in Southern Luzon.

Oll prospects are good in Idaho and attended with royal state. She was sity for world's fair purposes. The from various Southeastern Alaska in Malheur County, Oregon. points, prominent among whom were

The demand for raw material from Professor C. C. Georgeson, special abroad shows a steady increase. agent of the United States Agricul-

Japanese and Russians are assuming closer commercial relation

A Mississippi moonshiner killed two deputies and burned their remains.

Roosevelt's Message Is Long.

A native priest, convicted of mur-Wahsington, Nov. 21.-The cabinet der, has been sentenced to 20 years' meeting today lasted about two and a imprisonment.

An alleged conspiracy to proclaim can wait, but a salad cannot."-Phila- many weeks of time. The construct spent in the reading of the president's a republic at Dawson is reported robbed of $10,000 in diamonds

More shipwrecks are reported on the English coast.

A mounted force of Cape Dutch surrendered to the Boers.

In the time of Pliny silk was supposed to be a vegetable product and story of the way in which it was picked from the trees in the East in-dies and spun and woven into fabrics.

The biggest man in the world is Brenni, the Swiss giant. There are ordinary railway carriage.

The people of the South think that as soon as they can have faster steam making cloth for export.

Dr. Bozarro, of Gorz, has published

What New York's Election Cost. New York, Nov. 25 .- The pay rolls

Molly-My little sister's got measles. Jimmle-Oh, so has mine. Molly-Well, I'll bet you my little ple. There is obviously no prospect west of here, today shot Andy Narly sister's got more measles than yours of a settlement with Miss Stone's and Herman James, white, who she has,-London Tit-Bits,

Will Leave Sofia. Sofia, Nov. 25-Mr. Dickinson, the diplomatic agent here of the United Student Riots in Spain. Madrid, Nov. 21 .- Students' riots it is said, when specially treated, a gas of the boards of education of greater have begun in Madrid. Yesterday which supplies the actual motive pow- New York, which have been approved, the tramways were attacked, and his "Natural History" contains a long show that the recent city electon cost attempts were made to set the cars on the municipality $670,000, or $1.08 for fire. Over 20 persons were injured.

each voter that was registered Adver- Students disorders were also reported Hypnotic suggestion enables us to control processes which are ordinarily $35,000; incidentals $75,000, and the serious nature of the student disturb- tops them all with his height of 9 stance, blisters have been produced in rest went to registration and election ances and the minister of education feet 7 inches, and he is a big man in Shot by a Woman.

Creston, Ia., Nov. 21.-Mrs. Charles ers and more of them they can keep States, has returned to Constantino- Edwards, a widow, living three miles all their cotton mills working full time abductors The departure of Mr. claims were trying to prevent her that the Adriatic has for more than a Dickinson will probably have a good from occupying a leased farm where thousand years been rising and enthe manner in which she uses the tele-phone. It's better to bow your head than their possession, as they may fear to lose everything by not accepting Mr. Dickinson's proejected last week.

energy.