DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the car. There is only one way to cure dealness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Dealness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbhing sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed dealness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

MINE PAYS CITY'S BILLS.

Baker City, Washington, Owns a Profit-able Deposit of Gold Ore.

The town of Baker City, Wash., is one of the most favored of municipalities, for it is the owner of a water system which is a veritable gold mine. About a year ago the city authorities issued bonds to the amount of $100,000 and established a gravity water system to supply the city from Elk Creek, ten miles away in the mountains. After the new system was nearly completed it was discovered this summer that the flow of water was not sufficient to meet the demands of the city and the council issued more bonds and purchased the celebrated Auburn ditch. which brings a large supply of water from the mountains to a point about S. something distinctly peculiar about the new water system of Baker City. The begins to improve from the first dose, title to the Auburn ditch carries with it the title to the celebrated Nelson placer mines, situated eight or ten miles west of the city, and in securing the water the city also acquired a gold mine, probably the first ever owned by any municipality in the United States. These mines have been leased in the past year by year to people who have taken out good returns every season. This year the owners have made a good clean-up. Next year the city can operate the mine itself or lease the privi-

> The Trying Year of Marriage. Which is the most trying year for newly married people? It has generally been assumed that the first year is the trying year, since then the pair are serving an apprenticeship. Of course it others in the large cities. In 1899 is more than a business partnership, for they employed 17,184 hands, 15,732 of there is the sentimental phase of the whom were women and girls. Besubject which cannot be overlooked sides these there are 714 persons emand is never wholly ignored; but the ployed as directors, overseers, forebusiness feature is often slighted. Nevertheless the first year is more or less a continuance of the honeymoon, and the romance continuing does much to smooth over difficulties, differences of opinions, trials with temper, and the struggie which always occurs between the wills of the two parties for supremacy. I assume that no two people meet together even socially for any length of time without the occurrence unconsciously of a struggle for the mastery, often so politely conducted as to be unnoticeable. In married life in every instance the husband or the wife is the master depends upon the comparative strength of will of the two individuals.-Green's Fruit Grower.

The shepherd distinguishes sheep where the town-dweller sees nothing, because the one is accustomed to the place and objects and the other is not. The herdsman distinguishes cattle and the huntsman his prey because they are practiced and see little differences which, perhaps, they cannot describe, but which they perceive almost unconsciously.

The sailor and the longshoreman de tect what the visitor fails to see out on the horizon, and will tell you of the pecultarities of rigging which enable them to distinguish one boat from another. Of ourse they are used to these things and undoubtedly see more, and also guess more, than the casual observer, for in my experience they are server, for in my experience they are not seldom wrong.
