

LIVER AND KIDNEYS

It is highly important that these organs should properly perform their functions. When they don't, what lameness of the side and back, what yellowness of the skin, what constipation, bad taste in the mouth, sick headache, pimples and blotches, and loss of courage, tell the story.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

POPULAR NORTH BEACH.

Excursion Steamer T. J. Potter Goes Into Service June 27.

Those who are planning their vacation this year will be interested in knowing that the popular excursion steamer, T. J. Potter—queen of river boats—goes into service June 27, and that she will leave Portland, during the season, every day from Tuesday until Saturday inclusive. To see the beauties of the picturesque and mighty Columbia from the decks of the Potter is a treat never to be forgotten.

Youthful Bank President.

Wade H. Negus of Greenville, Miss., who was elected president of the First National bank in that city last week, succeeding his father, the late Major James E. Negus, is probably the youngest bank president in the United States, being but 24 years old.

Very Taking.

"Do ministers take in this town?" inquired the advance agent of the Colossal Black-Cat romps.

Too Much Realism for the Manager.

"So you had to close the show?" "Yes," answered the manager with the placid look.

Schoolmaster—Now, Jones, give me a sentence, and then we will see if we can change it to the imperative form.

Pupil—The horse draws the wagon. Schoolmaster—Now put it in the imperative.

Pupil—Gee up!—Chums.

Bix—Does your wife play the piano? Dix—No.

Bix—Does she play any musical instrument? Dix—None whatever.

"That's good. You ought to be proud of her accomplishments."

A Musical Hero.

Little Daniel was visiting at his grandfather's in the country for a few days, and on going to the barn to see the animals he heard cows lowing and said to his grandpa:

"Hear the cows bawling."

"That is not what they are doing," said grandpa. "They are lowing."

"Oh," said little Dan. "I thought they were blowing their horns."

Not Concerned.

"Why don't you try to hand an honored name down to posterity?" "I don't know," answered Senator Sorghum. "Maybe I don't look far enough ahead. So long as my signature is honored at the bank I can't see that my credit with posterity makes much difference."

Not So Bad Off.

"I hear your father is ill," said a neighbor to 3-year-old Nettie. "What has he got?" "His dot a doctor," replied the little miss.

A Sad Failure.

"So your club broke up for lack of funds?" "Yes, we found out we couldn't pay expenses with nothing but a fund of humor."

Healthfully Occupied.

When Wesley was about three years old, a friend who had not seen him for some time greeted him with: "Well, Wesley, what have you been doing since I saw you last?" "Been growin'!" was the rather unexpected answer.

All Traitors Have a Show.

It was nearly a year ago that an ambitious American author wrote a novel the object of which was to vindicate Aaron Burr, and now it is seriously proposed to erect a monument in the city of New York in honor of Benedict Arnold. If things go on in this way Judas Iscariot may have a show after all.—Army and Navy Journal.

A Bad Start.

"I guess," said the naturally weary young man, "I was meant to be a millionaire, but started on a line where they don't give transfers."

EFFECT OF ANAESTHETICS.

Patients in Dentist's Chair Often Act queerly under it.

"As I entered the dentist's office," said a woman the other day, "I saw a man sitting in a chair rocking violently and with a wild look of misery written on every feature. Next him sat a demure looking trained nurse. After a few minutes, during which we all three sat and plied each other, the dentist entered, dressed for 'out doors, and he beckoned the man. The unfortunate wretch responded and then we knew. The doctor never draws teeth himself, but takes such patients as have need of that gentle art to a brother dentist, who in his turn makes a specialty of drawing. I always administered gas for it."

"My trouble was with the ovaries; I am tall, and the doctor said I grew too fast for my strength. I suffered dreadfully from inflammation and doctored continually, but got no help. I suffered from terrible dragging sensations with the most awful pains down in the side and pains in the back, and the most agonizing headaches. I was sick to the stomach, and every little while I would be too sick to go to work, for three or four days; I worked in a large store, and I suppose standing on my feet all day made me worse. At the suggestion of a friend of my mother's I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it is simply wonderful. I felt better after the first two or three doses; it seemed as though a weight was taken off my shoulders; I continued its use until now I can truthfully say I am entirely cured. Young girls who are always paying doctor's bills without getting any help as I did, ought to take your medicine. It costs so much less, and it is sure to cure them.—Yours truly, ADELAIDE PINKHAM, 174 St. Ann's Ave., New York City."

BEAUTIFUL TEETH.

Better for a Woman Than Riches, Dress or Intellect.

Did you ever notice that, when any one describes a pretty girl, he generally begins by saying she has a beautiful set of white teeth?

Well, that is natural, because a fine set of teeth is the most conspicuous characteristic of the face. A winning smile, adorned by even, brilliant teeth, carries a woman farther than riches, dress or intellect.

And, on the contrary, think a moment of the shock you get when you see a woman, or a man, with a yellow revolting set of teeth, or great holes in the mouth where good teeth ought to be.

Dr. W. A. Wise, the famous dentist of the Failing building, Portland, Oregon, said to the reporters yesterday that it was beyond his comprehension why any one in the Northwest now should neglect the teeth for a day longer.

The big cost of dental work in the past has been reduced. The expense now, at such large and modern equipped offices as Wise Brothers', is extremely moderate—no more formidable than getting repairs made to any article of regular wear in the household.

And the pain has been banished. There is no pain. For your own comfort, go and have your teeth put in order. For your looks' sake, don't neglect your teeth any longer. If your teeth are worn out, have a new set fitted; or, if a few of the old ones are gone, have them replaced, and begin to enjoy life again. Your friends will like you better, and you will like yourself better. Do it now.

False Pretenses. "Why does he always begin with the statement, 'To make a long story short'?"

"Oh, that's just to encourage you to believe he's going to do it."

GIVES FORTUNE FOR HAT. New York Society Woman Expends $1,650 for Head Decoration. It is enough to make even the most extravagant daughter of Eve exclaim to learn that a New York society woman recently paid $1,650 for a single hat, says the Philadelphia Ledger. The hat was ordered from a Fifth avenue milliner who had managed to secure the cream of society's custom. The price originally named for it by the intending purchaser was $1,800, but it was found that less material was required than first anticipated, and $150 was deducted from the estimate.

Four Russian sable skins, absolutely flawless and of the finest quality procurable, were used in making. The largest of the skins, all of which were of the costly east Siberia quality, measured fourteen inches in length, and the fur was of a rich dark brown, fine in texture and very glossy. The hat frame was a big flare, rolled slightly on the left side. Great skill was required in covering it with the fur in the most artistic manner and without the aid of scissors. There was no trimming whatever except in the sable tails, which were utilized to the best advantage.

When the hour for trying on the hat was at hand considerable trepidation was felt by the head milliner. If the customer did not like it, the matter would take on a serious aspect, and if it had to be remodeled much trouble would result. But all fears proved groundless. The purchaser expressed unqualified approval of the effect and the entire staff of saleswomen agreed with her in thinking it vastly becoming. It afforded her exquisite satisfaction to be assured that the style was an exclusive one, and that there never would be the slightest danger of seeing a duplicate in this or any other country. She handed in her check for $1,650 with the nonchalant air of one who pays for a glass of soda.

A Matter of Spelling. Justice Morgan J. O'Brien, while on his way to his seat at the dinner given by the Society of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, spied among the guests "Ab" Gruber. He looked at the little lawyer for a second and then said, with evident amazement: "Why, 'Ab', what are you doing here? This is a gathering of Irishmen, sons of Erin."

"So am I," said Gruber. "I am a son of Erin—our people spell it differently—A-a-r-o-n."—New York Times.

GREAT FLOATING DRY DOCK.

Huge Affair to Be Built and Towed to the Philippines.

The largest steel floating dry dock in the world, to float the largest battle ships, and one that is to be towed 13,000 miles to the Philippine islands will be built for the government by the Maryland Steel Company. The dock is to be 500 feet long and of extra strength and weight, weighing 10,000 tons principally to enable it to stand a voyage half way round the world. The dock will cost $1,124,000 and will be twenty-seven months in building. The builders are to deliver the great structure on the Atlantic coast and the navy department will take up the gigantic task of getting the dock to its destination.

When the Maryland Steel Company undertook to deliver the Algiens dock at New Orleans four tug boats took the dock down the Patapaco, yet the headway was slow perceptible, says the Baltimore American. The dock put to sea in tow of a steamship and two sea tugs, making only four knots an hour. It was said that the tow-bill was $25,000 and that $50,000 insurance on the dock was paid for the voyage. The dock will have to be towed across the Atlantic ocean, through the Mediterranean sea, down the Suez Canal and Red sea, down the Indian ocean and up the China sea to Manila. If four knots an hour is made it will require 151 days for the voyage if no stops are made, which will be impossible, owing to the towing ships having to recal or wait for goods weather. The tow will be the largest and longest in history.

The Algiens dock lifts 15,000 tons, is 500 feet long, weighs 8,865 tons and cost $10,000. The new Manila dock is to lift from 18,000 to 20,000 tons. It is to be 500 feet long and will weigh 10,000 tons and will cost $1,124,000. It will consist of three pontoons that will form the flooring of the dock and two side walls, all of steel. In the Algiens dock three sections are bolted together and are separable, but in the new dock the sections will be made permanent. The dock is to be a self-docking one, the largest pontoon being the middle one.

In order to dock this section the smaller outer pontoons will be sunk under the middle pontoon and then pumped out, raising the larger section. The self-docking system of the Manila dock will be different from that of the Algiens dock.

The dock must lift battleships two feet out of the water—a situation that increases the stability of the ship fifteen or twenty times. To sink the dock to receive a ship water is admitted to compartments in the hull through about twenty valves admitting a volume of water as large as a man's body, occupying about an hour's time.

The Algiens dock has lifted the battleship Illinois in one hour and fifty-five minutes. The dock will be constructed in an excavation near the beach and when it is ready to be launched the strip of land holding back the Patapaco will be cut away, the water admitted, when the big structure will float.

The Innocent Suffer With The Guilty

The world to-day is full of innocent sufferers from that most loathsome disease, Contagious Blood Poison. People know in a general way that it is a bad disease, but if all its horrors could be brought before them they would shun it as they do the Leprosy. Not only the person who contracts it suffers, but the awful taint is transmitted to children, and the fearful sores and eruptions, weak eyes, Catarrh, and other evidences of poisoned blood show these little innocents are suffering the awful consequences of some body's sin. So highly contagious is this form of blood poison that one may be contaminated by handling the clothing or other articles in use by a person afflicted with this miserable disease. There is danger even in drinking from the same vessel or eating out of the same tableware, as many pure and innocent men and women have found to their sorrow. The virus of Contagious Blood Poison is so powerful and penetrating that within a short time after the first little sore appears the whole system is infected and every drop of blood in the body is tainted with the poison, and the skin is soon covered with a red rash, ulcers break out in the mouth and throat, swellings appear in the groins, the hair and eyebrows fall out, and unless the ravages of the disease are checked at this stage, more violent and dangerous symptoms appear in the form of deep and offensive sores, copper colored spots, terrible pains in bones and muscles, and general breaking down of the system.

S. S. S. is a specific for Contagious Blood Poison and the only remedy that antidotes this peculiar virus and makes a radical and complete cure of the disease. Mercury and Potash hold it in check so long as the system is under their influence, but when the medicine is left off the poison breaks out again as bad or worse than ever. Besides, the use of these minerals bring on Rheumatism and stomach troubles of the worst kind, and frequently produce bleeding and sponginess of the gums and decay of the teeth. S. S. S. cures Blood Poison in all stages and even reaches down to hereditary taints and removes all traces of the poison and saves the victim from the pitiable consequences of this monster scourge. As long as a drop of the virus is left in the blood it is liable to break out, and there is danger of transmitting the disease to others. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable and can be taken without any injurious effects to health, and an experience of nearly fifty years proves beyond doubt that it cures Contagious Blood Poison completely and permanently. Write for our "Home Treatment Book," which describes fully the different stages and symptoms of the disease.
