MATERIAL REPLIES AND A SECTION

GLOBE.

VOL. XIII.

CHAPTER VIII .- (Continued.)

cousin. But hush!-here he comes."

CONDON, GILLIAM CO., OREGON, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1903.

NO. 33.

HAS TREE TIMES THE CIRCULATE

OF ANY PAPER IN THE COUNTY.

sered at the postoffice at Condon, Oregon as second-class mail master.

W. SNOVER,

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.

Will practice in all the Courts of Oregon. Of CONDON, OREGON

W. DARLING.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.

Notary Public and Conveyancer.

CONDON, OREGON

A. PATTISON. THE RESERVE THE PRACE

NOTARY PUBLIC.

Mee in Globe Building. CONDON, OREGON

F. WOOD, M. D.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. Day and Night Calls Promptly Answered. Office Downing Building, Spring Street, CONDON, OREGO

DR. S. E. LUNA.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

Day and Night Calls Promptly Attended. Office second door south of Condon Pharmacy MAIN STREET, CONDON, OREGON

T L NICKLIN.

DENTIST.

mes Over Wilson Pharmacy.
CONDON, OREGON

Artistic Barber

C. S. PALMER.

ed there.

from here, shortly.

pleasanter places."

Robin went on:

which we have passed."

parde, watching Robin closely.

to marry Rose myself-have you? But,'

n, and Gasparde remained a short time longer, affecting an air of the most perfect friendliness towards Robin. And

They went along the road talking togeth-road ran, about half way between the cot-

"Just so, my friend," rejoined the careless tone and manner was a meaning.

and in that glance he read, like lightning, out answer. The effect was satisfactory.

"I had a master formerly, who was, on

"And he told you about it?" said Gas-

"You are right. He told me about it.

"I suppose so. Though he kept it to himself. He said he meant to punish

"Who was your master, if I may ask?"

"The Compte d'Artois. You may have heard of him possibly. But I must bid you adieu, my friend; for here I am at you now, my master! You think I am cowed-do you? Ah! wait-only wait!

You are taking a great deal of trouble to her yet! Only time-time. I will let it from you. The later my vengeance,

"O, Robin, my father is going away you, dear child! But how soon is he go ing, and where will he go to?"

"I do not know. He did not tell me; be very soon." And the tears chased besides, the Marquis and Mademoiselle

Montauban are to keep me at the chateau until he returns; that was why she wish-each other over her fair cheeks, was her sad answer.

the awester it will be!"

"Did he guess who fired at him?"

the rogue when he could catch him."

described, and in that very wood

SLEEK SHAVES AND HAIR-CUTS

Razors Honed and Re-Ground CONDON, OREGON.

OREGON SHORT LINE

UNION PACIFIC

TRAINS EAST DAILY

Through Pullman standard and tour-ist sleeping cars daily to Omaha, Chicago, Spokane; tourist sleeping car daily to Kansas city; through Pullman touris sleeping cars (personally conducted) weekly to Chicago, and Kansas City, reclining chair cars (seats free) to the Ocean steamers between Portland and San Francisco every five days.

LOW RATES

Tickets to and from all parts of the United States, Canada and Europe. Far particulars call on or address

D. TIERNEY, Agent Arlington, Oregon

O. R. & M. TIME TABLE

EAST BOUND

WEST BOUND

D. TIERNEY, Agent,

19 OHALIEV Store

trans doubts at first, thinged them has by for most agreeable yet exerct speculations on the future, little dreaming that Francis Egerton was yet true to her, or that Hose Lamonta's thoughts, even in his presence, turned and dwelt fondly, of prominence in Aberdeen, a large of prominence in Aberdeen, a large TRUE STORY OF

THE ble, yet unforgotten, lover. Meanwhile, Mademoisell SOUTH

The next day Robin came again.
"Rose," he said, "I saw, yesterday, going away from here, when I was coming town, a man whom I think I have see "I knew you were going to stay at the chateau, Rose, but not that your father was going away. I learned it from him last week," said Robin. "You mean, I think, Gasparde, my

"You did? and you did not And at that moment the individual des-"He preferred that I should not then ignated entered the cottage door. He But do not weep," dear Rose!" said the made a civil obeisance to Rose and the young man, soothingly; "he will return, young man, and accosting Hugh, requestand, perhaps, will remain away but a ed, in a low tone, to speak with him short time. And it will be pleasant for you to be at the chateau a little while, The two retired, as before, to the gar- only I am afraid you will forget me-will

den. There a somewhat lengthy confer- you not?" ence was held, during which time Rose "Ah, how can you think so?" asked his and Robin were conversing together in-doors, and Gasparde's name was not in- "You know, Robin, that I could not forfrequently mentioned in the course of get you!"

their dialogue. The young man seemed to be somewhat interested in him, and Rose. You will have a great deal to say asked several questions concerning him, to your father, and you will be better by which he gathered the knowledge that slone. To-morrow I will come. You will Gasparde had some time very deeply offended both Hose and her father; but he also heard of his having come the previous day to make apologies for so do

There was sympathy and tenderness in his glance and caress.

And, meanwhile, Hugh ended the col-loquy between himself and Gasparde in the opposite doorway, looking out into the garden, when they prepared to re- the garden, turned quickly and beheld enter the house. The countenance of the her. He held out his arms. former was gloomier and darker than "Well, you know now," he said, with sorrowful gentleness, as she came up to "Captain," said the man, "I don't re- meet his sad embrace-"you know now, member having seen that person in the kitchen before. I suppose you won't think it impertinent if I ask you who away. But it will not be long before I shall see you again? You will come home

Rose," returned Hugh. "His name is "I do not know; do not ask me, I en-Robin Marron." And he glanced closely treat, Rose!" He spoke with the desat the countenance of his companion to detect some signal of his feelings at this "But where are you going, and how announcement. But all was undisturbed soon, papa?"

"I cannot tell you where I am going. "So Rose is to be married?" said Gasparde. "Well, he will make her an excellent husband, I hope; and I wish her much happiness, with all my heart. I suppose, monsieur, you have not forgotten the time when I wished so earnestly the said Gasparde. "In two days."—so soon! O, papa!"

She sat down, poor little Rose, and covering her face with her hands, wept sadily. Hugh paced the floor with folded.

arms, and despair on his dark countehe continued, "I am going to be married to another young girl, at some distance nance

"Ol" he murmured, with fierce grief, has not my revenge turned upon me?" The next evening Robin came. He seemed more serious than usual, and heard of the arrangements for the departure of Hugh in silence. At length when he took his departure, to return to he said: "You are going, then, the day the village, Robin accompanied him. after to-morrow?" "Yes, and Rose will go to the chateau er of one thing and another in a care- to-morrow evening. The marquis and less way, speaking on a great many sub-jects, and dwelling on nous long, till they "Yes, Robin," she said; "to-morrow came to a little grove, past which the evening I shall be gone." Robin sat down by her, and tok her hand in his.

tage and the village.
"A pleasant place yonder," observed
Robin, nodding his head towards it. "Rose," he said, "do you not think this makes me as sorrowful as you can be? "Yes-yes; pleasant enough," respond- What shall I do when you are here no ed Gasparde; "but I dare say there are longer? I cannot see you in your new What shall I do when you are here no home as I have seen you here. I cannot come there in my rude dress, though, one young man; "you are right. And those day, I mean to make myself worthy to that have more agreeable associations, as enter even that proud place; There is day, I mean to make myself worthy to well. For instance, if a man had been nothing for me to do but to go away." shot there by an unseen enemy, the place "Ah, Robin," uttered Rose, with tear-wouldn't be quite so attractive as many ful eyes, "do not go! What shall I do another." He glanced casually at the face of his companion as he said it; but beneath the young man, sadly; "can you not see it is for the best? I cannot stay here without meeting you daily, as of old. And the expression of Gasparde's face. It we may not meet now you are to dwell was one of sudden, startled uneasiness. The man looked quickly up at him, with- unhappy should I stay. If I go away I may gain some situation where I may obtain wealth, and rise gradually to a position worthy to come back and win you. Now, Rose, tell me I may go."

"Go, then, if it must be so," she re-day, wounded in the manner which I sponded, striving to check the fast flowing tears. "But I shall be so lonely!" "Let me go to-morrow morning, Rose. I cannot bear to see you go away-to wait till you are gone."

And thus it was.

CHAPTER IX. It was not without a sigh of regret that Helen Montauban observed the pain which she was forced to inflict on one who loved deeply and truly. Francis Egerton had inspired her with a sentiment "Adieu," returned Gasparde; and he knowledge of the depth of his regard for continued his route, muttering, "I have her had almost decided her, at first, to break off an intimacy which, on his part, claimed something more than the name of friendship. This, however, seemed too win my pretty cousin; but I shall have harsh a measure. She could not persuade herself to go so far. She liked him sinyou just grasp the prize, and then tear cerely; her regard for him was too real

-too deep, to permit her thus absolutely to relinquish the occasional society of Lord Eigerton; while she trusted to cure heroine, Rose Lamonte, was returning him, in time, of the passion, which she from the Chateau Montauban, whither felt too well, from a consciousness of her she had gone early in the afternoon to own preference in a different quarter, she see Mademoiselle Montauban, who, she should never be able to return. Since his arrival just after Rose had was told by her father, wished to speak with her on a matter of importance. With become an inmate of the Chateau Montaua light and happy heart, Rose had gone ban, she had begun to feel that she had to meet the lady, and, three or four hours a means of assistance at hand. She did afterwards, was returning home, with not pause for time to define any plan, tears in her eyes, and a step very differ or to say to herself, in so many words ent from that usual with her. Walking that such and such an ultimate issue had ent from that usual with her. Walking slowly along, wrapped in sorrowful meditation, she was suddenly aroused by the voice of Robin pronouncing her name. He was just going down to the cottage.

"Why, what alls you, my Rose?" he asked, tenderly. "You are weeping! Why his arrival at the chateau, with a repulse, and the chateau, with a repulse, the way from Helen-a disagra-gentle, though firm, from Helen-a disappointment to hopes long, yet doubtfully, "Going away? Ah, how sorry I am for and unhappiness which he felt would, if observed, draw upon him the attention of those about him, he endeavored to conceal all evidence of his feelings under a Mademoiselle Helen told me, and she calm exterior, and to evince as much in knew nothing further than what I have terest in affairs about him as was possijust said to you. But I am afraid it will ble.

He found himself thrown daily into the ch other over her fair cheeks, society of Rose Lamonte, often by "Why did he not acquaint you with this chance, oftener by Helen's own agency." He admired her beauty-her innocence "Indeed, I do not know. Perhaps he and grace, had a charm for him. Heles had not the courage. Poor papa! And Montauban knew it. He first merely ac Montauban knew it. He first merely ac knowledged, and was sensible of her presence; then he sought it. Rose con-fessed to Helen her admiration of him, society. It was plain that she did not dislike him; and Helen, sithough she had many doubts at first, changed them finalhought often and auxiously of her cousfor Louis had not written once since

"When will he traverse it again?" she asked heraoit. "When, kneeling here, at my sad post, in the twilight or the dawn, shall I behold him returning?"

face was suggestive of something pleasnt. She came on tiptoe to the bedside.
"O, I am awake, Jessie," said Helen; but I have slept a great while."

"Yes, made hope your headache has quite left you now; for monsieur le compte, your cous-in, mademoiselle, Monsieur d'Artois---'' "Jessie, is he here?" asked Helen, quietly, as she rose.

"Yes, mademoiselle, he has just come." She entered her dressing room, and hastened to bathe her face and head and re-arrange her hair. But she trembled from head to foot. She descended the stairs just in time to meet Louis himself. He it was, but paler and thinner than usual. He came forward with an exclamation of pleasure.

"Helen, my dear cousin!" he cried, warmly embracing her. Her cheek burnt-her heart beat rapid-, as he pressed his lips to hers. could not speak at first.

"My own fair Helen, and so lovely ever -yes, a million times lovelier!" he said, smilingly, as he gently turned her face so that the glow of the pendant lamp above them fell full upon it. "But you do not speak, cousin. And yet I know you welcome me."

"I have been ill-yes; but not long or seriously; and as soon as I recovered

I came hither." He pressed her hand in his with kindly affection, as he released her. She turn-ed and entered the saloon. Her father stood by the hearth, and the guests were grouped about it, chatting together, as she came in. She was greeted with unanimous exclamations of pleasure, and drawn into their circle. There were inthe arrival of Louis. In the midst of the conversation Louis re-entered. "My dear uncle, I cannot express the pleasure it gives me to find myself here once more," he said, "and particularly in the midst of such excellent company." In a little while the evening repast was went; afterward they repaired by the inwhere they passed the remainder of the evening. Rose and Francis Egerton, who, of late, had occasionally sung together, were prevailed upon by the mar- right. quis and his guests to do so now. Both had fine voices and excellent taste, and their united melody poured forth in one sweet, harmonious strain, that could not garded Rose and her companion with a quiet but closely observant glance.

"Is not Rose a little nightingale?" softly whispered Helen, looking up at him. "A sweeter one never sang. By the-by, my dear cousin, when did she come "Something more than a month ago.

She is prettler than ever; do you not "Decidedly. Francis seems tacitly agree with us, too, it appears to me.

Fiendish Woman. Mr. Subbubs-Thank goodness the winter's nearly gone and the summer is coming, when I won't have to bother about the old furnace.

Mrs. Subbubs-That's so. By the way, dear, don't you think you'd better night. look at the lawn mower and see if it needs any repairing?-Philadelphia Press.

Attachments. Polonious-Attachments are quickly formed in our profession. Hamakter-Alas, 'tis true! Polonious-Why that note of melancholy in thy tone?

wardrobe which my landlord has this day attached .- Ohlo State Journal. Microbian Humor. First Microbe-Have you ever gone up against any of these microbe killers the doctors are talking about? Second Microbe-Lots of them. First Microbe-Aren't you afraid? Second Microbe-Afraid, nothing. Why, I'm a microbe-killer killer, I am. Art in the Proper Direction. Agent-Don't you want an enlarged Stout Gentleman-Enlarged! What Agent-That's so. But-say-let us make you one three sizes smaller.

hotograph of yourself?

The Question Nowadays. Friend-I understand your receiving teller has skipped out? Bank President (sadly)-That's what!

Friend-Did he leave much?-Puck.

A Dilemma. Mrs. Von Blumer-I don't know what we shall do about that cook.

LOSS OVER A MILLION.

Entire Business Portion of Aberdeen

number of dwellings, the opera house Montauban the central school building, the Edison in; for Louis had not written once since his departure from the chateau, and two months had now elapsed, and nearly the third, since that time. Her father also mentioned him frequently, and expressed his perplexity at his silence, and no less at his prolonged absence. Many an hour, at nightfall. Helen knelt sadly at her casement, with her glance sorrowfully fixerd on the road below that wound through the valley and beyond the hills—the road over which he had passed on the morning when he left her.

"When will he traverse it again?" she and Olympus theatres, the Crescent

There were four fatalities from falling walls and suffocation and five other persons were slightly injured. All the One afternoon, being oppressed with a buildings burned, except the Kauffman slight headache, she had thrown herself block, were of wood, and only vacant buildings burned, except the Kauffman upon her couch to dispel it, if possible, by slumber. Suddenly her uncle's step, light and quick, came through the gallery, and immediately Jessie herself entered the chamber, bearing a light. Her three story structure, occupied by impoverished bachelors, who cooked their neals on small oil stoves. In one of these rooms a blaze was seen but before the department got to work the interior was a mass of flames. Two lives were lost in the building.

The lack of sufficient hose and the failure of the big new engine to work properly kept the fire department from saving property and dynamite was used at several points to stop the progress of the fire.

Montesano and Hoquiam and a large and this will be but temporarily.

TRAILED BY HOUNDS.

Two Dynamite Suspects are Arrested

of dynamite were found on the Northern Pacific track near Birdseye, eight

The dynamite was discovered early this morning by section men, flattened into thin sheets in its frozen condition. spread and they gathered about the It had been placed under the rail, the board, a congenial party enough, as it fishpaltes of which had been removed. vitation of the marquis, to the library, The train that passed over the powder was pulled by Engineer Moffit, who said that the track appeared to be all

Chief of detectives McFetridge, of St. Paul, in charge of the Northern Pacific of the powder was reported.

George Hammond, suspected of being implicated in the dynamite explosions this morning half a mile from where the explosive was found on the track and brought to Helena and put in jail. He was found in a deserted barn with his horse by Detective McFetridge. He was armed with a Colt's revolver Is and had a belt full of cartridges. He not be brought to town until late to- Orleans October 27.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 19.-Strained relations exist between the Canadian Pacific management and its engineers and firemen, and a strike may result. A committee has been at Montreal for some time endeavoring to secure conessions from the company, but so far the negotiations have resulted in naught. Hamakter-I was thinking of my The committee returned to Winnipeg and a big meeting of representatives of the engineers and firemen was held to-day, at which it was decided to take a poll of the men on the question of striking. Refugees Must be Alded.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Oct. 19,-The minis try of the interior has sent a circular to the local authorities intimating that, as there are 20,000 destitute refugees iu the frontier districts dependent upon the government and private charity, measures must be taken to domicile them in various parts of the country during the winter, pending the couple tion of arrangements with Turkey their repatriation. The work will be entrusted to local committees.

Japan Not Willing.

London, Oct. 17 .- The Kobe correspondent to the Daily Mail telegraphs under date of October 15 that it is reorted Russia has offered to relinquish her claims in Corea, but insists upon proposition.

HAPPENINGS HERE IN OREGON

RICH BOHEMIA LEDGE

Shows Thousands of Tons of Quartz Carrying $7.

-Information has been received at the office of the North Fair-view Mining company, in this city, of a very rich strike that has been made in the entire state, was announced here in the Belle of Fairview claim, in the Bohemia district, showing probably the largest deposit of free-milling ore ever decomposed quartz, carrying an average of $7 per ton in free gold. The ledge is a great true fissure, and is consummation. from 18 to 40 feet wide where it has been opened. In the different crosstunnels the ore shows continuous croppings for 2,300 feet over on the west slope of Fairview mountain, and from of the corporation is the Eastern Ore the present indications there are over 1,000,000 tons of the same quality as ing & Generating company. The capithat already blocked out, and the vein tal stock is placed at $5,000,000. The is 40 feet wide at the west end of the first officers of the corporation will be: claims, where a tunnel on the vein H. O. Gorham, president and treasurer; will tap the ore body at a vertical depth of 1,200 feet.

This ore can be mined and milled for $1.50 per ton, which leaves a handsome profit for the owners.

TO TEACH FARMING.

A New Study for Common School Cours La Proposed

Salem-The teaching of the eleme of argiculture in the common schools of Oregon is advocated by Superinten-The arrival of the departments of dent of Public Instruction J. H. Acker Montesano and Hoquiam and a large man. The purpose of the introduction corps of volunteers from each place of this study would not be to teach helped materially in getting the fire the children the technical side of scienunder control. The fortunate circum- tific farming, but rather to give them stance of the fire is that no mill prop- an understanding of such elementary erty was burned and no one is thrown facts and principles as every person out of employment, except store clerks who resides in an agricultural country should know. Superintendent Acker-While the fire will be severely felt man believes that at some future time by all business men it is looked upon such a study should be placed in the amp above them fell full upon it. But in one sense as being auspicious for common school course, and that before the future of the city as the council the teaching of this branch is common school course, and that before the future of the city as the council menced, time should be given for the work they during the season, when the water had warmly. But you are pale—you have only the erection of brick and stone teachers to prepare for the work they during the season, when the water had been ill."

will be required to do. He would have every applicant for a teacher's certificate take an examination in the subject of elements of agriculture.

Seeding Season at Pendieton.

Pendleton-This is the busy season Helena, Mont., Oct. 19 .- Six sticks for the farmers of this portion of the Blue mountains district. Not for years has wheat been planted so early as it is this year. Some of the grain quiries on all sides concerning her late miles west of Helena, this morning. is already above the ground and so rap indisposition, and infinite rejoicings at An extra freight east bound passed over idly are the farmers rushing the work the powder during the night without all seeding will be completed by the end of this month. The rains of a few days ago put the ground in excellent Some of the wheat this year, however, of that for the 1904 crop.

Cascara Hunters Disappointed.

Corvallis—Corvallisites who went to Method Alsea and Fachats region in search of fruit. cascara homesteads are returning home. They did not generally meet with the success they anticipated. Cascara tree detectives and officers, left with a pack for each quarter located failed to place fail to please. Louis, standing behind of bloodhounds soon after the finding the seat of Mademoiselle Montauban, rethem on lands that promised to justify the required outlay. None of those who returned have as yet filed home-able time if subsequent weather should be favorable. The rain has also been on the Northern Pacific, was arrested tions of land have, however, been filed on under the homestead arrangement within the immediate past.

Gevernor Bestows Some Honors. Salem-Governor Chamberlain has appointed the following residents of Oregon as delegates to the Mississipp he not very attentive to her? And yet, he does not look quite happy to night. What alla him, I wonder?"

What alla him, I wonder?"

(To be continued.)

Sun & Moon mine, and came into the hills to get a rest. He confessed to Zante, William Reid, Phil Hers, Portstealing supplies in the vicinity where land; W. M. Kaiser, Salem; Mose Fouchs, I. B. Bowen, Baker City; C. novel and interesting. Mr. Johns is a Two other arrests have been made in E. Oliver, Portland; Eugene Schow, forceful and interesting speaker. the same vicinity, but the names of La Grande; Owen Caraher, Portland. the men are not known, and they will The convention will be held at New

Few Hop Sales in Polk County.

Independence-There are large quan tities of hops stored in the warehous here and but few have been sold. A $21; rolled, $21. part of some of the crops were con- Flour-Valley, $3.75@3.85 per bartracted last year and have been deliv- rel; hard wheat straights, $3.75@4.10; ered. Some few growers have sold and bard wheat patents, $4.20@4.50; grahave sold well. Those selling have re- ham, $3.35@3.75; whole wheat, $3.55 ceived from 24 cents to 25% cents per @4; rye wheat, $4.50. pound. The latter price seems to be Oats-No. 1 white, $1.10; gray, $1 the highest that has been paid in the @1.05 per cental. the highest that has been part in county yet. Many are holding, expecting to get even better figures than 25% dlings, $24; shorts, $20; chop, $18; linseed dairy food, $19.

Apportionment of School Funds. Albany-The Linn county school fund has been apportioned among the various school districts by County School Superintendent W. L. Jackson The total amount of the fund is $6, 399.30, and it has been apportioned among 22 districts. The amount range from $133.06, which is the sum set aside for the smallest district to $2,183.70, the amount that will sup- 15@16c per pound; dressed, 16@18c; port the district embracing the three ducks, $6@7 per dozen; geese, $7@10.

Albany schools.

Eggs—Oregon ranch, 27 %c; Eastern,

Building Material Scarce. La Grande-La Grande is in a bad way for lumber and other building material. The construction of a sewer through the main business portion of the city is at a standstill for the want of lumber. Dwelling and busines block building is at a standstill for th want of material. There are a number der pound. retaining Manchuria. It is stated that of buildings under construction, but Von Blumer-What's the matter now? Japan has refused to accede to this they cannot proceed because of the

SMELTER FOR UNION.

Plant to Be installed Shortly

Union-The consummation of one of struck in this section.

Tunnels and shafts already made, block out over 100,000 tons of oxidized decomposed quartz, carrying an averhas reached the point of certainty of

The company has just perfected its incorporation, and the articles will be filed with the county clerk here and with the secretary of state. The name Mining, Milling, Transportation, Sm W. H. Gorham, vice-president George H. Downs, secretary and general manager. The company proposes to erect a 250-ton smelter near the town of North Powder, in Union county, about 15 miles south of Union, for treating all the various grades of gold and copper ores found in the southern part of Union county and northern part of Baker county, and in order to bring such ores to the reduction works it is proposed to build a number of short electric lines to the mines, covering a distance of over 50 miles. These lines are to be built not only for carriyng ores, but passengers and freight as well. Manager Downs de-clined to give particulars as to the routes of the lines, but says the entire project is a certainty.

Must Supply the Water.

Ontario — Some weeks ago a suit was instituted against the Ontario inded in by the jurors of the circuit court allowing Dr. G. A. Pogue $1,800 iamages. This ditch over which the suit ar se, is controlled by David Wilson, and goes by the name of the Wilson ditch. The winning of the suit gives ground for damages each year until the ditch is improved.

Sale of Rogue River Fruit. Medford-The Rogue River Fruitrowers' association shipped two carloads of Winter Nellis pears this week one to Cincinnati and the other to New Orleans, La. They also shipped days ago put the ground in excellent one carload of apples to New York. condition. The acreage planted this one carload of apples to New York. from a carload of very fine Buerre de was spring sown, but there will be less Anjou pears, which were shipped to of that for the 1904 crop. Chicago. The pears were sold f. o. b. Medford for $1.50 per box, and Mr. De Hart was highly complimented on his methods of packing and the quality of > Ground in Condition for Plowing. Salem-The rains of the past week have moistened the ground so that it is in good condition for plowing and beneficial to pastures. In the hills, where prune drying is late, the rains have caused some of the fruit to crack, but the loss from this cause will not be very heavy.

> Johns Will Lecture on Mining. Baker City-Hon. C. A. Johns, this city, has received an invitation, which he has accepted, to deliver an address on the subject of mines and mining at Eugene December 16. Mr. Johns is already collecting data for his

> > PORTLAND MARKETS.

Wheat-Walla Walla, 74c; bluestem, 78c; valley, 76@77c. Barley-Feed, $20 per ton; brewing, Hay-Timothy, $16 per ton; clover, $13; grain, $10; cheat, $10. Butter-Fancy creamery, 25@2716c per pound; dairy, 161/20c; store, 15@16c.

Cheese - Full cream, twins, 14c; Young America, 15@16c; factory prices, 1@1%c less. Poultry-Chickens, mixed, 10@10%c per pound; spring, 10c; hens, 11@11%c; broilers, $1.75 per dozen; turkeys, live, resh, 26c. Potatoes-Oregon, 65@75c per sack;

weet potatoes, 2@21/e. Hops-1903 crop, 19@22c per pound, cording to quality Wool-Valley, 17@18c; Eastern Ore on, 12@15c; mohair, 35@37%c. Beef—Dressed, 6@7c per pound. Veal-Small, 7@8c; large, 5%@6c

Mutton-Dressed, 5@5%c; lambs, dressed, 8c.

Pork-Dressed, 716@8c.