A Scholar's Advice

The German historian, Professor Theodor Mommsen, was noted for the facility with which he acquired languages. The tongues of modern Europe as well as the classics were to him not studies, but the familiar tools of his deadly work.

An American reporter who was interviewing him a few years ago asked to have a certain reference put into English, as he did not read German well.

"Not read German well? And you a journalist!" exclaimed the savant. "I do not see how it is possible. Young man, German is one of the four necessities for a student. The other three are English, French and Italian. Without them you can never know the tendency of modern thought. If you have them not, do not rest until you have learned them all."

Mr. Albee's Opinion

Albee, Cal., June 6.—Mr. T. M. Albee, our postmaster has expressed an opinion based on his own experience which will no doubt be of interest to many. Mr. Albee is a man of few words, but his well known truthfulness and uprightness of character adds much weight to any statement he makes.

He says: "The first box of Dodd's Kidney Pills that I used convinced me of their good qualities and I used altogether four boxes with the very best results. I can heartily recommend this remedy."

This voluntary expression of opinion will doubtless find an echo in many homes in California for Dodd's Kidney Pills have been making some miraculous cures in this state.

From the evidence already published it seems safe to conclude that this medicine will be found to be a perfect cure for Rheumatism, Urinary trouble, Backache and any and every form of symptom of Kidney Complaint.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. Ayer's Hair Vigor

Sometimes the hair is not properly nourished. It suffers for food, starves. Then it falls out, turns prematurely gray. Ayer's Hair Vigor is a hair food. It feeds, nourishes. The hair stops falling, grows long and heavy, and all dandruff disappears.

"My hair was coming out terribly. I was almost afraid to comb it. But Ayer's Hair Vigor promptly stopped the falling, and also restored the natural color."

GOOD Short Stories

Kirk La Shelle, the comic opera writer has a son aged 3, known as "Bill," who is very fond of his father, but has no liking for society—especially for an afternoon tea crowd. His mother entertained a lot of friends recently, and Bill was the center of admiration. The men tossed him in the air, and the ladies kissed him—to all of which he submitted politely; but when the first opportunity presented itself he crawled up into his father's arms, and said, in very low, pleading tones: "Father, let's get out of this— and have a rough house of our own!"

Kemble, the artist, while sketching in the mountains of Georgia recently, employed an angular "cracker" as a model. The native, when asked what his hour's work was worth, told Kemble that he thought a dime would be about right. The artist showed him the sketches, and asked what he thought of them. "Well," was the drawing reply, "seems to me it's mighty puddin' business for a man to be in, but you must be makin' suthin' out of it or you couldn't afford to throw away money like this fer jest gettin' a man to stand around doin' nothin'."

"Rube" Waddell, the baseball pitcher conceived the idea that he would like to put in the spring months playing on a college team, and asked a friend what course of study he would better take. "Shooting and fishing," said his friend, with all evidence of seriousness. "Great," said Waddell; "I could pass that easy," and he sat down and wrote to the dean of one of the Southern institutions, in regard to taking a "shooting and fishing" course at his college. He was pained later at receiving a stern note from the dean, who thought Waddell was making fun of him.

James F. Sweeney, a Massachusetts lawyer had as a witness a very refractory woman, who, in answer to his most polite questions, would reply sharply and evasively. Her meek and humble husband, who was in court, looked much distressed. At last, at one of Mr. Sweeney's innocent questions, the lady vindictively cried: "Mr. Lawyer, you needn't think you can catch me; no, sir, you can't catch me."

With his most pleasing smile, Mr. Sweeney responded: "Madam, I haven't the slightest desire to catch you, and your husband looks to me as if he was sorry he had succeeded."

A prominent Philadelphia educator in telling of his early struggles, recounts that he once taught school in a district where he kept bachelor's hall, the neighboring farmers supplying him with food. One day a young boy came running breathlessly toward him. "Say, teacher," he gasped, "my pa wants to know if you like pork."

"Indeed, I do like pork," the teacher replied, concluding that the very stinky father of this boy had determined to donate some pork to him; "you tell your father if there is anything in this world that I do like, it is pork." Some time transpired and there was no pork forthcoming. One day he met the boy alone in the school yard. "Look here, John," he said, "how about that pork?" "Oh," replied the boy, "the pig got well."

Timber that Is Valuable

Sydney H. Shadbolt, of Washington, largely interested in a 130,000-acre timber and plantation tract in the State of Vera Cruz on the Coatzacoalcos River, is familiar with all the phases of the timber trade, and for several years his attention has been given largely to the purchase and marketing of mahogany. Speaking of mahogany generally, he said:

"Mahogany has been esteemed a very valuable wood for more than 200 years, and during all that time the world has had substantially its whole supply from Mexico, Honduras, Cuba and Santo Domingo. Up to within about ten years the proportion secured from these districts was about 60 per cent from Mexico, 30 per cent from Honduras and 10 per cent from Cuba and Santo Domingo combined. Now comparatively little is obtained from Cuba, and practically none from Santo Domingo. The product of all of the four districts belongs to the same species, but there are marked differences in the fiber of the wood from West India islands and that from the mainland. The Mexican and Honduran growth is of a better grade than any other. The mahogany of Mexico is worth from $80 to $100 per 1,000 feet on the average. The value of individual logs, however, is occasionally very high, single sticks bringing as much as $5,000."—Mexican Herald.

An Appropriate Present

Little Mary and Ben had been greatly exercised over the approaching anniversary of the parental wedding day. They had overheard so much discussion of the subject that they supposed that numerous presents would be quite the order of the festival, and Ben, with the responsibility of his eleven years, proposed that they secure their own pennies and "buy a nice present for mamma and papa."

Mary gladly agreed, and with great secrecy they made their preparations. With a dollar they ran away one day and with much excitement made their purchase, which was safely hidden until the important event came off. When the presents were exhibited there's proved no less interesting than more expensive gifts—there was "a beautiful picture," as they both assured their parents. Sure enough, there were two splendid lions in a large cage, and under them the inscription, "A Life Sentence."

No Sympathy

"You don't feel any sympathy for the colleague who was convicted of grafting?"

"Not the slightest," answered Senator Borghum. "His lack of honesty was equalled only by the primitive insufficiency of his methods."—Washington Star.

Done to a Crisp

A small boy was undressing the other evening before the open fire in his nursery, says the New York Tribune. His mother gave him his nightshirt and told him to hold it to the fire to warm.

She left the room for a minute, but returned quickly when she heard the boy say to his father:

"Papa, is this shirt done when it's brown?"

Mrs. Fairbanks tells how neglect of warning symptoms will soon prostrate a woman. She thinks woman's safeguard is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Ignorance and neglect are the cause of untold female suffering, not only with the laws of health but with the chance of a cure. I did not heed the warnings of headaches, organic pains, and general weariness, until I was well nigh prostrated. I knew I had to do something. Happily I did the right thing. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound faithfully, according to directions, and was rewarded in a few weeks to find that my aches and pains disappeared, and I again felt the glow of health through my body. Since I have been well I have been more careful. I have also advised a number of my sick friends to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they have never had reason to be sorry. Yours very truly, Mrs. MAX FAIRBANKS, 216 South 7th St., Minneapolis, Minn." (Mrs. Fairbanks is one of the most successful and highest salaried traveling saleswomen in the West.)

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhoea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues, and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—For over two years I suffered more than tongue can express with kidney and bladder trouble. My physician pronounced my trouble catarrh of the bladder, caused by displacement of the womb. I had a frequent desire to urinate, and it was very painful, and lumps of blood would pass with the urine. Also had backache very often.

"After writing to you, and receiving your reply to my letter, I followed your advice, and feel that you and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have cured me. The medicine drew my womb into its proper place, and then I was well. I never feel any pain now, and can do my housework with ease."—Mrs. ALICE LAMON, Kincaid, Miss.

No other medicine for female ills in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

U. S. SENATOR FROM SOUTH CAROLINA Recommends Pe-ru-na For Dyspepsia and Stomach Trouble

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Pe-ru-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Catarrh of the Stomach is Generally Called Dyspepsia—Something to Produce Artificial Digestion is Generally Taken.

Hence, Peppin, Pancreatin and Most of Other Digestive Remedies Have Been Invented.

These Remedies Do Not Reach the Seat of the Difficulty, Which is Really Catarrh.

Ex U. S. Senator M. C. Butler, from South Carolina, was senator from that state for two terms. In a recent letter to The Peru-na Medicine Co., from Washington, D. C., he says:

"I can recommend Peru-na for dyspepsia and stomach trouble. I have been using your medicine for a short period and I feel very much relieved. It is indeed a wonderful medicine besides a good tonic."—M. C. Butler.

The only rational way to cure dyspepsia is to remove the catarrh. Peru-na cures catarrh. Peru-na does not produce artificial digestion. It cures catarrh and leaves the stomach to perform digestion in a natural way. This is vastly better and safer than resorting to artificial methods or narcotics.

Peru-na has cured more cases of dyspepsia than all other remedies combined, simply because it cures catarrh wherever located. If catarrh is located in the head, Peru-na cures it. If catarrh has fastened itself in the throat or bronchial tubes, Peru-na cures it. When catarrh becomes settled in the stomach, Peru-na cures it, as well in this location as in any other.

Peru-na is not simply a remedy for dyspepsia. Peru-na is a catarrh remedy. Peru-na cures dyspepsia because it is generally dependent upon catarrh.

A World-Wide Reputation.

Wherever men are there will be illness and wherever people are ill, Dodd's Kidney Pills will be found a blessing. Solely on their merits have they pushed their way into almost every part of the civilized world. Their reputation as an honest medicine that can always be relied on has been built up by the grateful praise of those who have been cured. The two following letters indicate just how the reputation of this remedy knows no geographical bounds. The sick and suffering all over the world are asking for Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Dear Sirs:—I have been suffering for some months from a Kidney complaint. The doctor who attended me has recommended me to take your Pills, "Dodd's Kidney Pills." After two boxes I got some relief. But unfortunately I have not been able to go on with the treatment, being unable to find any Pills in Cairo.

The chemist who sold me the two boxes has informed me that he had sent an order for some, and has been keeping me waiting for more than one month. This is the reason why I am writing to you to request you to have the goodness to send me by return of post six boxes for which I will pay as soon as I receive them from the post.

Kindly let me know at the same time where your branch agency in Egypt is to be found. Thanking you in anticipation,

MOHAMED RACHED,

Office of the Minister of Finance, Cairo, Egypt.

Dear Sirs:—I want to purchase six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, but I don't know exactly where to apply at Buffalo or London. I suppose they can be sent by express or registered mail from either place. Please advise me of how to proceed in order to get the pills without delay. Yours truly,
