THE CONDON GLOBE.

THURSDAY AUGUST 8, 1904.

WHY THEY WANT THE PORTAGE ROAD.

Suppose we say that the distance from Lewiston to Riparia is 80 miles, and the distance from Riparia to Portland is 284 miles, making in all 364, with a water level and no mountain grades. And suppose we say that the distance from Lewiston to Marshall Junction on the Northern Pacific is 138 miles, and from Marshall Junction to Tacoma is 376, both with very heavy grades a total of 514 miles. These two sets of facts placed side by side demonstrate beyond the possibility of doubt that all the natural advantages in reaching Portland are with the O R & N. as against its northern competitor. Yet the rates in one direction are precisely the same as the rates in the other.

Under such circumstances as these the people of the interior of the state argue that if the natural impediments for the eight and one half miles below Celilo were removed, traffic would naturally flow by the water level route. When it is said that a portage road there can accomplish nothing and that the only hope of relief would come from a ship canal, they say that the canal takes so long to build the expected relief could not come for years. Let it be built, of course, but let something else be done in the meantime. While the portage road seems an insignificant factor in the enterprise and while it is claimed for it that it will accomplish none of the things expected of it, they say they are willing to take that chance. If it will do nothing, then there is no good reason why anybody should be opposed to it. On the other hand, they recall that when the little portage road, five-eighths of a mile in length, was built around the cascades two results followed, one immediately and the other speedily. First, the freight rates were at once reduced and, second, the appropriation for locks came with such regularity that the work was soon finished. And, furthermore, the result of it all was that instead of anybody's business being hurt by it, traffic was increased all along the line, thus demonstrating that the work really helped everybody interested including the railroads.—Journal.

Taken With Cramps.

Wm. Kirmse, a member of the bridge gang working near Littleport, was taken suddenly ill Thursday night with cramps and a kind of cholera. His case was so severe that he had to have members of the crew wait upon him and Mr Gifford was called and consulted. He told them he had a medicine in the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he thought would help him out and accordingly several doses were administered with the result that the fellow was able to be around next day. The incident speaks quite highly for Mr. Gifford's medicines —Elkader Iowa, Argus. This remedy never fails. Keep it in your house, it may save life. For sale by Jarvis' Pharmacy.

The Portland police department seems to be about as rotten as a Missouri legislature or St. Louis common council.

Violent Attack of Diarrhoea Cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and Perhaps a Life Saved.

A short time ago I was taken with a violent attack of diarrhoea and believe I would have died if I had not gotten relief, says John J. Patton, a leading citizen of Patton, Ala. A friend recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I bought a 25 bottle and after taking three doses of it was entirely cured. I consider it the best remedy in the world for bowel complaints.

Cholera Infantum.

This disease has lost its terrors since Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy came into use. The uniform success which attends the use of this remedy in all cases of bowel complaints in children has made it a favorite wherever its value has become known. For sale by Jarvis' Pharmacy.

End of Bitter Fight.

"Two physicians had a long and stubborn fight with an abscess on my right lung," writes J. F. Hughes, of DuPont Ga. "and gave me up. Everybody thought my time had come. As a last resort I tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. The benefit I received was striking and I was on my feet in a few days. Now I've entirely regained my health." It conquers all Coughs, Colds, Throat and Lung troubles. 50 and $1. Trial bottle free. For sale by Condon Pharmacy.
