

Catarrh

Invites Consumption

It weakens the delicate lung tissues, deranges the digestive organs, and breaks down the general health.

It often causes headache and dizziness, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, and affects the voice.

Being a constitutional disease it requires a constitutional remedy.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Radically and permanently cures catarrh of the nose, throat, stomach, bowels, and more delicate organs.

Read the testimonials.

No substitute for Hood's acts like Hood's. Be sure to get Hood's.

"I was troubled with catarrh 20 years. Seeing statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla resolved to try it. Four bottles entirely cured me." WILLIAM SHERMAN, 1000 6th St., Milwaukee, Wis.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

Etiquette in Mexico

William Headin, United States consular agent at Puebla, Mexico, writes in a recent report:

"It requires tenacity and no small amount of self-confidence on the part of an immigrant to invade many of the communities of Mexico. The man, however, who comes from the United States dares enter anywhere and feels that he should be received as an honored guest. This, however, is the land of manana—to-morrow—not for purposes of procrastination, as many erroneously suppose, but to learn who you are, what's your business, and which is the path of interest and gain.

"A stranger might easily be ostracized, isolated and debarré upon coming among such communities if, owing to his habits, life, or some idiosyncrasy of manner, he failed to come in touch with them, to gain their confidence, and to secure their kindly sympathies. A good letter on introduction from some near friend of theirs, which speaks you fair, is of great value, and credits at once and obliterates manana.

"The newcomer makes all advances. Madam Calderon de la Barca, the wife of the Minister of Spain to Mexico, writes: 'There is one piece of etiquette entirely Mexican, nor can I imagine where derived, by which it is ordained that all new arrivals, whatever their rank, foreign ministers not excepted, must, in solemn print, give notice to every family of any consideration in the capital that they have arrived, and put themselves and their homes at the disposition of the residents, falling in which etiquette the newly arrived family will remain unnoticed and unknown.'

Best in the World

Cream, Ark., Nov. 7 (Special).—After eighteen months suffering from Epilepsy, Backache and Kidney Complaint, Mr. W. H. Smith of this place is a well man again and those who have watched his return to health unhesitatingly give all the credit to Dodd's Kidney Pills. In an interview regarding his cure, Mr. Smith says:

"I had been low for eighteen months with my back and kidneys and also Epilepsy. I had taken everything I knew of and nothing seemed to do me any good till a friend of mine got me to send for Dodd's Kidney Pills. I find that they are the greatest medicine in the world, for now I am able to work and am in fact as stout and strong as before I took sick."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure the Kidneys. Cured Kidneys cleanse the blood of all impurities. Pure blood means good health.

Worthy of Emulation

"What," asked the youth, "is the secret of your happiness and contentment?"

"I manage to be just deaf enough not to hear some things and blind enough not to see some others," answered the sage.

Unbiased Criticism

"What would you do, Nora," asked the young lady of the housemaid, "if you could play the piano the same as I do?"

"Sure, no! Of course! I'd be after getting discouraged at all, at all!" replied Nora. "O'ld kape right on larnin' till Oi could play decently."

Chronic Sores

Wheeling, W. Va., May 28, 1903.

Some years ago while at work, I fell over a truck and severely injured both of my shins. My blood became poisoned as a result, and the doctor told me I would have many sores for life, and that if they were healed up the result would be fatal. Under this discouraging report I left off their treatment and resorted to the use of S. S. S. Its effects were prompt and gratifying. It took only a short while for the medicine to entirely cure up the sores, and I am not dead as the doctors intimated, nor have the sores ever broke out again. Some 12 years have elapsed since what I have described occurred. Having been so signally benefited by its use I can heartily recommend it as the one great blood purifier.

JOHN W. FUNDUS, Care Schmulback Brewing Co.

Chronic sores start often from a pimple, scratch, bruise or boil, and while salves, washes and powders are beneficial, the unhealthy matter in the blood must be driven out or the sores will continue to eat and spread. S. S. S. reaches these old sores through the blood, removes all impurities and poisons, builds up the entire system and strengthens the circulation. S. S. S. is a blood purifier and tonic combined. Contains no mineral what ever but is guaranteed purely vegetable. If you have an old sore write us and our physicians will advise without charge. Book on diseases of the Blood free.

SSS

The Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Ga.

PISO'S CURE FOR

CONSUMPTION

UNCLE SAM—A Remedy That Has Such Endorsements Should Be in Every Home.

"He comes of a distinguished family, I believe." "Yes. His people have worn glasses for three generations."—Exchange.

"If you dare kiss me again I will call papa!" "I thought you said your father was in California?" "He is."—Houston Post.

First Doctor—Then we decide not to operate. Second Doctor—Yes. What do you think we ought to charge him for deciding not to operate?—Brooklyn Life.

Lady—I have nothing to give you, my poor man, but some cold sausages. Knight of the Road—Scuse me, mum, but don't your sign say, "Beware of the Dog?"

Clarinda—You can't keep a dog in your new flat? Florida—No, we had to give Fido away; but Frederick had his dear little bark put in our photograph. —Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

A teacher was explaining to a little girl how the trees developed their foliage in the springtime. "Oh, yes," said the little miss, "I understand; they keep their summer clothes in their trunks."

"Doctor," queried the inquisitive person, "do you believe that the cigarette habit causes weak minds?" "Not necessarily," replied the M. D.; "as a rule it merely indicates them."—Chicago Daily News.

"What's that racket down there?" shouted the old gentleman from the head of the stairs. "I think," promptly replied his up-to-date daughter, "that it was Bob dropping his voice when he proposed to me."

"Macintosh boasts a good deal about his family, doesn't he?" "Yes, I think he claims that the head of his family was the original Macintosh that Noah had with him during that rainy season."—Philadelphia Press.

Bridget—Why, Master Tommy, what ever is the matter? Tommy—I've hurt my h-and in the h-hot water. Bridget—Shure, thin, it serves you right. You should have felt the water before you put your hand in!—Punch.

"What is love?" asked the sweet girl, who was looking for a chance to leap. "Love," replied the old bachelor, "is a kind of insanity that makes a man call a two hundred pound female his little turtle dove."—Chicago News.

Mrs. Muggins—My husband is a perfect crack. Mrs. Buggins—All husbands are, my dear. Mrs. Muggins—But fancy a man who complains that my mustard plasters are not as strong as those his mother used to make!

Maud—See this ring? Archie gave it to me the other evening. Irene—I thought I recognized it. You'll find it has a rough place just under the setting that will make your finger sore. —Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

A junior student - Cornell University, in rendering an account to his father of his last term's expenses, entered as an item: "Charity, thirty dollars." His father wrote back: "I fear that charity covers a multitude of sins."

"Do you think they'll be happy now they're married?" "Well, I don't see why not. They eat the same kind of breakfast food, take the same brand of dyspepsia tablets, and wear the same make of hygienic underwear."—Town Topics.

"I suppose, Senator," she said, "that you try to keep in touch with the financial interests of the country." "If I didn't, my dear girl, I'd have to cut down my livin' expenses or practice law a good deal harder than I do between sessions."—Ex.

A Little Rusty: "The bride seemed quite nervous, didn't she?" remarked the first Chicago girl. "Naturally," replied the other; "she's somewhat out of practice. It's the first time she's been married since last year."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Visitor—What a racket the steam makes clanking through the pipes! Flat Dweller (shivering)—Yes. It reminds me of one of Shakespeare's plays. Visitor—Which—"The Tempest?" Flat Dweller—No. "Much Ado About Nothing."—Town and Country.

A teacher in an East Side school in trying to explain the meaning of the word "slowly" illustrated it by walking across the floor. When he asked the class to tell him how he walked, a boy at the foot of the class shouted, "Bow-legged, sir."—Lippincott's.

"I lost my foot in the war," said the tramp, "and I'm trying to raise enough money to get out to California." "What do you want to go to California for?" asked the woman at the door. "Oh, I've heard that there are things which grow a foot in a day out there."—Youkers Statesman.

Friend of the Family—I want to give your husband a birthday present. What do you think would please him most? Mrs. Kutely—Oh, a stickpin. He says he never has enough of them. Friend—What is his favorite stone? Mrs. Kutely—The emerald. (Hanging up the 'phone.) Isn't that lovely; I've always wanted an emerald pin!—Detroit Free Press.

Scene: Editor's sanctum. Printer (rushing in excitedly)—Here's a go, Johnson, the murderer, has just been found innocent, and the government has telegraphed a pardon. We've got the whole account of the hanging set up, with illustrations, and the form is on the press. Editor (coolly)—Don't get excited, man. Put over the account, in large capitals, "Johnson pardoned. Full account of what he escaped."

His Recommendations. "I think," said the office-seeker, "that my work during the campaign should entitle me to an office." "What did you do?" asked the political boss. "I also spoke on a dozen or more different occasions." — Philadelphia Press.

Somewhat, we don't work up any worry over the future career of a boy whose parents are too poor to send him to college.

Openings sometimes come to men and oysters when least expected.

Election Returns That Interest All Parties

A Neat Housekeeper. Peddler—I'm selling the new, patent, bedroom fire escapes, light, portable, quickly adjusted. Bilkins—Don't want it. Wouldn't be of any use. "But, sir, you may have a fire at any time, and—"

"Suppose we should? Suppose I should buy that thing and take it home. The first time my wife went to setting things to rights, she'd put that contrivance into some queer corner where it couldn't be found in seventeen hours."

Tenant Paints the House. A man recently took a house upon a lease in a certain crescent in London without examining the terms of his agreement as closely as he should. After a time the landlord called upon him and pointed out that he was bound to do all the outside painting at certain intervals. He protested, but it was "so nominated in the bond," and there was no help for him. After a good deal of thought he hired the painters and directed them to paint the whole of the front of the house red, white and blue—in stripes.

When it was finished the neighborhood—it was in arms and the landlord was frantic. The tenant politely explained to him that there was nothing in the agreement about the color and that red, white and blue, in stripes, was his favorite combination, but he thought he might, perhaps, be better pleased with the painting of the back, which he proposed to color green, with yellow spots.

The landlord, who well knew that not another house could be let in the crescent if he carried out his threat, nearly had a fit at the idea, and within a week the tenant had a new lease, in which the landlord undertook to do all the outside painting himself.

The bonds of the Philippine Islands are quoted higher than British consols.

One-third of the land surface of the globe is covered with trees.

With General Corbin fighting Cupid and Mr. Roosevelt crusading against race suicide, the average army officer is under a warm fire.—Birmingham News.

Eyeglass insurance has been started in New York. Eventually a citizen may be able to insure his pocket-knife and plug of tobacco.—Kansas City Times.

Experience has shown that when a Japanese army "disappears" a Russian army somewhere or other is likely to find it unexpectedly.—Chicago Chronicle.

Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan denies the report that he is going to retire from business. Owners of railroads will continue to spike them down.—Savannah News.

With the water shut off, the coal bin empty and the gas bill due, Port Arthur is in a position to sympathize with some of the rest of us.—Minneapolis Times.

Old Dr. Smith, the Mormon President, points out triumphantly that there are no race suicide and divorce problems in Mormonism.—Atlanta Constitution.

A Sunday school in Philadelphia gives trading stamps for regular attendance. Anybody could guess whose store the stamps are good in.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

United States Treasurer Roberts' assertion that $10 bills are popular is undoubtedly true, and the more a fellow has of them the better he feels.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Perhaps those Yellowstone Park bears killed that man and boy as a protest against the yams "told about their tameness by the wild-animalists-haven't-met school."—New York Sun.

Russian authorities should be wise to the fact that nothing makes the American eagle scream more promptly or more vociferously than interference with the United States mail.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The intervention of society in behalf of the Hon. Hugh Gurney is likely to create an abnormal demand for cyclone cellars about the time the news reaches Colonel Watterston.—Philadelphia North American.

A New Jersey man who hadn't spoken to a woman for thirty-seven years has married a widow, and if he lives long enough there's a woman who will speak to him for thirty-seven years.—Memphis Commercial-App.

One of New York's police judges has solemnly held that a street-car conductor has no right to kick a passenger in the stomach. Conductors will hereafter kick passengers in the face only.—Elkins (W. Va.) News.

A Wisconsin court has decided that a parent may hurt his boy's physique with a paddle, but must not injure his dignity. Most boys would like to have that decision turned round. The recovery would be sooner.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Some women keep their youth and beauty so well that it seems as if they had been able to stop the flight of time. And yet, strangely enough, no woman likes to be told that her face would stop a clock.—Atlanta Journal.

Of course it would be by accident if a young woman should hit a battleship with a bottle of champagne. Arrangements should be made for the bottle to be thrown by machinery leaving the young woman nothing to do but push the button.—Mobile Register.

Admission to the Panama canal—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A crowless rooster has been bred, but he will be no use for campaign purposes.—Montreal Star.

The fellow who rocked the boat last summer is now hunting deer up in the Adirondacks.—Washington Post.

Dowling says he proposes to journey to Jerusalem on an ass. It is always safer to travel in pairs.—Washington Post.

Third Secretary Gurney's fine having been remitted, he saved $25. His losses are incalculable.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The czar is going for "a fortnight's shooting." There is said to be very good shooting in Manchuria.—Boston Herald.

Even diplomats should understand that there is a difference between immunity and impunity.—Washington Post.

Our latest and biggest new battleship seems to have got in just ahead of the international peace conference.—Boston Herald.

The Mormons in Salt Lake City are celebrating the seventy-fifth anniversary of their multiplication table.—Birmingham News.

Kuropatkin's "offensive movement backward" is designed to foil the enemy by leaving him with nobody to fight.—Chicago News.

It is about time for the goose-bone weather prophet to come along and tell us what kind of winter we are going to have.—Savannah News.

The coal man and the ice man have struck an Alfonso and Gaston attitude. Will the weather man act as umpire?—Atlanta Constitution.

An American heiress has just died in London, leaving $1,000,000, but no husband. Some women are so thoughtless.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

The British Tibetan expedition has left Lhasa. That was because the British couldn't take it with them. But they will return.—Boston Globe.

It is comparatively easy to make a dash for the pole. It is the getting back that is likely to be a slow process.—Washington Evening Star.

Chicago should have more night schools. If there were more accommodations of this character there would be fewer hold-ups.—Chicago Post.

With General Corbin fighting Cupid and Mr. Roosevelt crusading against race suicide, the average army officer is under a warm fire.—Birmingham News.

Eyeglass insurance has been started in New York. Eventually a citizen may be able to insure his pocket-knife and plug of tobacco.—Kansas City Times.

Experience has shown that when a Japanese army "disappears" a Russian army somewhere or other is likely to find it unexpectedly.—Chicago Chronicle.

Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan denies the report that he is going to retire from business. Owners of railroads will continue to spike them down.—Savannah News.

With the water shut off, the coal bin empty and the gas bill due, Port Arthur is in a position to sympathize with some of the rest of us.—Minneapolis Times.

Old Dr. Smith, the Mormon President, points out triumphantly that there are no race suicide and divorce problems in Mormonism.—Atlanta Constitution.

A Sunday school in Philadelphia gives trading stamps for regular attendance. Anybody could guess whose store the stamps are good in.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

United States Treasurer Roberts' assertion that $10 bills are popular is undoubtedly true, and the more a fellow has of them the better he feels.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Perhaps those Yellowstone Park bears killed that man and boy as a protest against the yams "told about their tameness by the wild-animalists-haven't-met school."—New York Sun.

Russian authorities should be wise to the fact that nothing makes the American eagle scream more promptly or more vociferously than interference with the United States mail.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The intervention of society in behalf of the Hon. Hugh Gurney is likely to create an abnormal demand for cyclone cellars about the time the news reaches Colonel Watterston.—Philadelphia North American.

A New Jersey man who hadn't spoken to a woman for thirty-seven years has married a widow, and if he lives long enough there's a woman who will speak to him for thirty-seven years.—Memphis Commercial-App.

One of New York's police judges has solemnly held that a street-car conductor has no right to kick a passenger in the stomach. Conductors will hereafter kick passengers in the face only.—Elkins (W. Va.) News.

A Wisconsin court has decided that a parent may hurt his boy's physique with a paddle, but must not injure his dignity. Most boys would like to have that decision turned round. The recovery would be sooner.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Some women keep their youth and beauty so well that it seems as if they had been able to stop the flight of time. And yet, strangely enough, no woman likes to be told that her face would stop a clock.—Atlanta Journal.

Of course it would be by accident if a young woman should hit a battleship with a bottle of champagne. Arrangements should be made for the bottle to be thrown by machinery leaving the young woman nothing to do but push the button.—Mobile Register.

Admission to the Panama canal—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A crowless rooster has been bred, but he will be no use for campaign purposes.—Montreal Star.

The fellow who rocked the boat last summer is now hunting deer up in the Adirondacks.—Washington Post.

Dowling says he proposes to journey to Jerusalem on an ass. It is always safer to travel in pairs.—Washington Post.

Third Secretary Gurney's fine having been remitted, he saved $25. His losses are incalculable.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The czar is going for "a fortnight's shooting." There is said to be very good shooting in Manchuria.—Boston Herald.

Even diplomats should understand that there is a difference between immunity and impunity.—Washington Post.

Our latest and biggest new battleship seems to have got in just ahead of the international peace conference.—Boston Herald.

The Mormons in Salt Lake City are celebrating the seventy-fifth anniversary of their multiplication table.—Birmingham News.

Kuropatkin's "offensive movement backward" is designed to foil the enemy by leaving him with nobody to fight.—Chicago News.

It is about time for the goose-bone weather prophet to come along and tell us what kind of winter we are going to have.—Savannah News.

The coal man and the ice man have struck an Alfonso and Gaston attitude. Will the weather man act as umpire?—Atlanta Constitution.

An American heiress has just died in London, leaving $1,000,000, but no husband. Some women are so thoughtless.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

The British Tibetan expedition has left Lhasa. That was because the British couldn't take it with them. But they will return.—Boston Globe.

It is comparatively easy to make a dash for the pole. It is the getting back that is likely to be a slow process.—Washington Evening Star.

Chicago should have more night schools. If there were more accommodations of this character there would be fewer hold-ups.—Chicago Post.

With General Corbin fighting Cupid and Mr. Roosevelt crusading against race suicide, the average army officer is under a warm fire.—Birmingham News.

Eyeglass insurance has been started in New York. Eventually a citizen may be able to insure his pocket-knife and plug of tobacco.—Kansas City Times.

Experience has shown that when a Japanese army "disappears" a Russian army somewhere or other is likely to find it unexpectedly.—Chicago Chronicle.

Isn't it about time to say less and dig more on the Panama canal.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A crowless rooster has been bred, but he will be no use for campaign purposes.—Montreal Star.

The fellow who rocked the boat last summer is now hunting deer up in the Adirondacks.—Washington Post.

Dowling says he proposes to journey to Jerusalem on an ass. It is always safer to travel in pairs.—Washington Post.

Third Secretary Gurney's fine having been remitted, he saved $25. His losses are incalculable.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The czar is going for "a fortnight's shooting." There is said to be very good shooting in Manchuria.—Boston Herald.

Even diplomats should understand that there is a difference between immunity and impunity.—Washington Post.

Our latest and biggest new battleship seems to have got in just ahead of the international peace conference.—Boston Herald.

The Mormons in Salt Lake City are celebrating the seventy-fifth anniversary of their multiplication table.—Birmingham News.

Kuropatkin's "offensive movement backward" is designed to foil the enemy by leaving him with nobody to fight.—Chicago News.

It is about time for the goose-bone weather prophet to come along and tell us what kind of winter we are going to have.—Savannah News.

The coal man and the ice man have struck an Alfonso and Gaston attitude. Will the weather man act as umpire?—Atlanta Constitution.

An American heiress has just died in London, leaving $1,000,000, but no husband. Some women are so thoughtless.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

The British Tibetan expedition has left Lhasa. That was because the British couldn't take it with them. But they will return.—Boston Globe.

It is comparatively easy to make a dash for the pole. It is the getting back that is likely to be a slow process.—Washington Evening Star.

Chicago should have more night schools. If there were more accommodations of this character there would be fewer hold-ups.—Chicago Post.

With General Corbin fighting Cupid and Mr. Roosevelt crusading against race suicide, the average army officer is under a warm fire.—Birmingham News.

Eyeglass insurance has been started in New York. Eventually a citizen may be able to insure his pocket-knife and plug of tobacco.—Kansas City Times.

Experience has shown that when a Japanese army "disappears" a Russian army somewhere or other is likely to find it unexpectedly.—Chicago Chronicle.

Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan denies the report that he is going to retire from business. Owners of railroads will continue to spike them down.—Savannah News.

With the water shut off, the coal bin empty and the gas bill due, Port Arthur is in a position to sympathize with some of the rest of us.—Minneapolis Times.

Old Dr. Smith, the Mormon President, points out triumphantly that there are no race suicide and divorce problems in Mormonism.—Atlanta Constitution.

A Sunday school in Philadelphia gives trading stamps for regular attendance. Anybody could guess whose store the stamps are good in.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

United States Treasurer Roberts' assertion that $10 bills are popular is undoubtedly true, and the more a fellow has of them the better he feels.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Perhaps those Yellowstone Park bears killed that man and boy as a protest against the yams "told about their tameness by the wild-animalists-haven't-met school."—New York Sun.

Russian authorities should be wise to the fact that nothing makes the American eagle scream more promptly or more vociferously than interference with the United States mail.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The intervention of society in behalf of the Hon. Hugh Gurney is likely to create an abnormal demand for cyclone cellars about the time the news reaches Colonel Watterston.—Philadelphia North American.

A New Jersey man who hadn't spoken to a woman for thirty-seven years has married a widow, and if he lives long enough there's a woman who will speak to him for thirty-seven years.—Memphis Commercial-App.

One of New York's police judges has solemnly held that a street-car conductor has no right to kick a passenger in the stomach. Conductors will hereafter kick passengers in the face only.—Elkins (W. Va.) News.

A Wisconsin court has decided that a parent may hurt his boy's physique with a paddle, but must not injure his dignity. Most boys would like to have that decision turned round. The recovery would be sooner.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Some women keep their youth and beauty so well that it seems as if they had been able to stop the flight of time. And yet, strangely enough, no woman likes to be told that her face would stop a clock.—Atlanta Journal.

Of course it would be by accident if a young woman should hit a battleship with a bottle of champagne. Arrangements should be made for the bottle to be thrown by machinery leaving the young woman nothing to do but push the button.—Mobile Register.

Admission to the Panama canal—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A crowless rooster has been bred, but he will be no use for campaign purposes.—Montreal Star.

The fellow who rocked the boat last summer is now hunting deer up in the Adirondacks.—Washington Post.

Dowling says he proposes to journey to Jerusalem on an ass. It is always safer to travel in pairs.—Washington Post.

Third Secretary Gurney's fine having been remitted, he saved $25. His losses are incalculable.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The czar is going for "a fortnight's shooting." There is said to be very good shooting in Manchuria.—Boston Herald.

Even diplomats should understand that there is a difference between immunity and impunity.—Washington Post.

Our latest and biggest new battleship seems to have got in just ahead of the international peace conference.—Boston Herald.

The Mormons in Salt Lake City are celebrating the seventy-fifth anniversary of their multiplication table.—Birmingham News.

Kuropatkin's "offensive movement backward" is designed to foil the enemy by leaving him with nobody to fight.—Chicago News.

It is about time for the goose-bone weather prophet to come along and tell us what kind of winter we are going to have.—Savannah News.

The coal man and the ice man have struck an Alfonso and Gaston attitude. Will the weather man act as umpire?—Atlanta Constitution.

An American heiress has just died in London, leaving $1,000,000, but no husband. Some women are so thoughtless.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

The British Tibetan expedition has left Lhasa. That was because the British couldn't take