Real Estate Active.

Considerable real estate is changing hands at present and real estate men are of the opinion that a much livelier period in that line is in store for the town within the next few months. Many buyers have come in and looked over the situation as to farm and city property and expressed themselves as being well pleased with the town and country and then gone back to their homes to close out their present business preparatory to locating in Condon permanently. With the completion of the rail road there will be a great influx of people and the demand for country and city property will be greatly augmented.

During the past week the following deals have been reported from the office of C. A. Devens, agent for the Condon Townsite Company.

Capt. Wanzer, recently head of the O. R. & N. right of way department, has purchased half a block in Lord's addition near the planing mill.

A. N. Cox, who recently secured lots and built a cottage in Lord's addition north of A. J. Shelton's residence, has purchased another and will build a cottage for rent.
