PLAY BALL.

It is an old saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that whatever is worth doing at all is worth doing well. This axiom may be advantageously applied to any and all of the activities of this world, even to playing base ball. Condon is supposed to have a ball team this season, but has she?

A wise old man was once asked the question by a young man, "What must I do to succeed in life?" and the answer was, "Succeed, and all kinds of success will then be yours." Were this same old gentleman asked the question by the town of Condon, "What must our ball team do to be able to play ball well enough to defeat every other ball team in this section of the state?" The answer would no doubt be, "Play ball, play ball, play ball, and all kinds of success on the diamond will be yours." Practice must be the watchword, the keynote, the ever-present, all-prevailing spirit, not only of the players but of every citizen of the town who is enough a "live one" to stand behind the team for the sake of the sport and for the sake of the glory of Condon. This writer has no desire to "roast" the Condon team nor even to criticize them only in the most kindly spirit. He believes that Condon has the players who, if in practice are amply able to do all kinds of things with any other team within their radius but, mark you, they must be in practice. A majority of the present team have helped hold up the Condon colors in the past and we all know their records to be good. A year ago they were well nigh invincible, and they can easily regain their old position if they will practice, if they will play ball. But in order to do this they are entitled to and must have the moral and material support of every citizen of the town. They must be encouraged, not handicapped; they must be helped, not hindered.

The town should make it possible for the players to have at least two hours practice three times a week and this without any pecuniary loss to the players. Men and brothers, it's up to the town. If Condon is to have many hides nailed to her barn door at the end of this season she must help the players to get in practice and then it will be easy.

Huge Task.

It was a huge task, to undertake the cure of such a bad case of kidney disease as that of C. F. Collier, of Cherokee, Ia. but Electric Bitters did it. He writes: "My kidneys were so far gone, I could not sit on a chair without a cushion; and suffered from dreadful backache, headache and depression. In Electric Bitters, however, I found a cure, and by them was restored to perfect health. I recommend this great tonic medicine to all with weak kidneys, liver or stomach. Guaranteed by all druggists; price 50c.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Reisacher attended the ball game at Fossil last Sunday.
