COURT CONDON, NO. 3, F. OF A. MEETS 1st and 3d Mondays of each month in Attorney Hall lodge room. Visiting brothers are requested to meet with us. A warm welcome awaits you.
 J. E. VAUGHN, F. S. A. B. SEARCY, C. R.

Condon's celebration will be the best in this section of the state.

Do you notice how familiar has become the sound of the locomotive whistle? Wouldn't it seem simply impossible to attempt to live 40 miles from the railroad again?

A little the "rawest" graft yet sprung comes from a concessionary on the Trail at the Lewis and Clark Fair. This enterprising and thrifty individual sends out to the country papers some seven or eight dollars worth of advertising matter with the request that it be published "for the benefit of your readers," and agreeing that when the country editor visits the Fair, he shall upon furnishing satisfactory proof that he is himself and that the advertisement was duly published be entitled to a free pass, or "greatly reduced rates" for himself to visit that particular side show provided, mark you, that he shall bring with him some friend who will pungle up two-bits for a ticket. This overpowering exhibition of gall would be funny if it were not for the awful knowledge that some of the newspaper publishers in Oregon will be such asinine softies that they will take the bait and think it is good. And yet these same fellows, who delight in being spoken of as "the editor," often whine and howl at the lack of respect on the part of the general public towards the country press.

A few newspapers in Oregon seem disposed, to the best of their ability—which is not gigantic—to "roast" one Francis J. Heney, who has been designated by the president to prosecute the land fraud cases in Oregon and other Pacific coast states. Mr. Heney seems to have accepted his commission in the same spirit in which President Roosevelt tendered it to him, which means that he understands that all rascals are to be prosecuted to the full extent of the law without regard to their age, politics, or previous condition of servitude in public office. Of course it is a darned shame that any president or any prosecuting attorney should have the impudence to undertake to interfere with the heretofore undisputed prerogative of these dearly beloved public servants (?) of robbing the people every chance they got or could make and we must not even wonder at the disconsolate wails of these party blind, boss controlled servile sheets. Not being personally acquainted with Mr. Heney we are not in a position to assert that he is a wingless angel, of spotless purity and dazzling whiteness but, accepting the general newspaper reports that he shows earmarks of being a devil of a bright lawyer we would prefer to assert that the angel role does not suit him perfectly. However, it is not angels so much as intelligent, honest, fearless, prosecutors which are needed in Oregon just now and for our part we are willing to let Heney hold his job until the bitter end. It always hurts like blazes to lance a boil but it nearly always cures the boil.

Monuments and Marble Work.

I wish to announce to the Condon public that I expect to establish a branch shop in Condon as soon as the railroad is completed and will then be prepared to furnish marble and stone work to my Gilliam and Wheeler county customers at a minimum figure. I am in this business to stay and every job I turn out is an advertisement of my business. I respectfully ask a continuance of past patronage and cheerfully guarantee every job entrusted to me.

9-11 LOUIE COMINI.

H. R. Ramsay, a former resident of this county, now of Linn county, is here this week visiting friends and relatives. Mr. Ramsay says Condon has changed so much since his last visit two years ago that he can hardly recognize the town.

Just What Everyone Should Do.

Mr. J. T. Barber of Irwin, Ia., always keeps a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at hand ready for instant use. Attacks of colic, cholera morbus and diarrhoea come on so suddenly that there is no time to hunt a doctor or go to the store for medicine. Mr. Barber says: "I have tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which is one of the best medicines I ever saw. I keep a bottle of it in my room as I have had several attacks of colic and it has proved to be the best medicine I ever used." Sold by Condon Drug Co.

B. K. Searcy, manager of the Condon Park Association grounds, is entitled to credit for the substantial improvements made on the grounds this season under his direction.
