Lightning struck and destroyed Alva Jackson's house in Mayville precinct Tuesday evening and also the Perry barn in the same neighborhood Sunday evening.

Judge Mariner of Blalock was in Arlington last Thursday and made the Record a pleasant call. He was exhibiting a sample of a new variety of spring wheat which he has recently introduced in this section. It is called the Early Wilbur and matures very quickly. Mr. Mariner has several acres of it this year and it is now being threshed and is averaging 30 bushels to the acre. It was sowed the last of March, maturing in less than four months, and this on a very light rainfall.—Record.

The operating department of the Columbia River & Oregon Central railroad surely did not realize the amount of passenger traffic the road would have to handle for the one coach which they provided is entirely too small. It is crowded to its utmost every day and part of the passengers often have to ride in a box car.—Arlington Record.

A Touching Story

is the saving from death, of the baby girl of Geo. A. Eyer, Cumberland, Md. He writes: "At the age of 11 months, our little girl was in declining health, with serious Throat Trouble, and two physicians gave her up. We were almost in despair, when we resolved to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. The first bottle gave relief; after taking four bottles she was cured, and is now in perfect health." Never fails to relieve and cure a cough or cold. At all druggists; 50c and $1.00 guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

Old timers tell us that steamboats navigated the waters of the Big Eddy—the lower terminus of the state portage road—in the early days. Now it is rumored that steamboatmen of the present day say that portion of the river can not be navigated in safety. It may be there is a "nigger in the woodpile," or maybe it is only a Northern Pacific railroad man.

HELLO CENTRAL!

Give me Stephenson's,
For I do my trading there;
He's the man who saves us money
And he treats us always fair.

A Dollar Saved is a Dollar Made

Gradually the people of Condon and vicinity are learning where to buy and how to buy. The place to buy is at Stephenson's and the way to buy is to pay cash. When you trade at a Cash Store you don't help to pay the other fellows bills. The Store keeper who does a credit business must figure on a dead loss of at least 10 per cent of his accounts, and the man who trades at that store and pays his bills must figure on paying that extra 10 per cent. The merchant don't lose it—you lose it. Isn't that plausible? Isn't it an absolute fact? Just think it over. In the meantime just do a little marketing at
