

Not So Remarkable.
Parker—Hear about the fire this morning? Seven people barely escaped with their lives. Remarkable, wasn't it?
Kerwin—I fail to see anything very remarkable about it.
Parker—Why, isn't it remarkable that the seven people escaped with their lives?
Kerwin—No. Had they escaped without their lives it would have been truly remarkable.

Persian Dinners.
Persian dinners are very much like ours, only turned the wrong way round. The feast is preceded by pipes while tea and sweets are handed about. Then the servants of the house appear, bringing in a long leather sheet, which they spread in the middle of the floor. The guests squat around this, tailor-fashion. When all are seated, a fat loaf of bread is placed before every one, and the band then commences to play. The various dishes are brought in on trays, and arranged around the leather sheet at intervals. The covers are then removed, the host says "Bismillah" (in the name of God), and without another word they all fall to.

Why Refer to Doctors

Because we make medicines for them. We give them the formula for Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and they prescribe it for coughs, colds, bronchitis, consumption. They trust it. Then you can afford to trust it. Sold for over 60 years.

"Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is a remedy that should be in every home. I have used a great deal of it for hard coughs and colds, and I know what a splendid medicine it is. I can not recommend it too highly."—MANK E. COHEN, Hyde Park, Mass.

Ayer's Pills greatly aid the Cherry Pectoral in breaking up a cold.

CURIOUS WEDDING CUSTOM.

In Roumania Bride Walks Over Silver Bridge to Grooms Arms.
At Roumanian weddings it is the custom at the wedding feast for the groom to receive his bride over a bridge of silver.

Coins are placed in a double row across the table, and over this the bride daintily steps to her husband's waiting arms.

The ceremony of laying the bridge is one of the interesting events of the wedding feast following the religious ceremony.

When the guests are brought to a proper spirit of festivity by the good cheer at the board a space at the head of the table is cleared and from a bag are drawn silver coins procured for the purpose, the proper provision being the production of coins fresh from the mint.

These are laid in a double row across the table, and when all is ready the father of the groom makes a speech to his son, admonishing him to see that his bride's way through life is always paved with silver.

A proper response is made, and, mounting a chair, the elder man swings the bride lightly to the table. Carefully avoiding the displacing of a coin (for that would mean bad luck), the girl makes her way across the short silver pathway and leaps into the arms of her spouse.—New York Herald.

Dean Hole and His Verger.

Dean Hole was famous as a joker. His chief verger at Rochester Cathedral was a gentleman named Miles, the original of Dickens' Tope, who had been connected with the cathedral for seventy-three years. Mr. Miles was the youngest of twelve. Said Dean Hole one day:
"Miles, what a pity you never saw your eldest brother!"
"I did, sir, often."
"But you couldn't," replied the dean.
"Why not, sir?" queried Miles.
"Because," said the dean, "there were always ten miles between you."
—Tit-Bits.

The Difference.

There is a good story told of Sir Chieh-Chen Lo Feng-luh, who was formerly Chinese minister to England. Years ago he was secretary to Li Hung Chang. He is a very able man, and among other accomplishments speaks and writes English perfectly. The story is given in "The Navy as I Have Known It."
Li Hung Chang is reported to have said to him, "I don't know how it is we send our men to Europe and America, and have foreign instructors in our colleges, as do the Japanese, but we do not seem to derive the advantage from their instruction which the Japanese do."
To this Chieh-Chen Lo Feng-luh replied:
"That is quite true. I was a classmate of the Marquis Ito in England. He is now prime minister, and I am your excellency's secretary."

Much in Little.

"Multum in Parvo," read the man across the street. "Say, that's a queer motto for a shoemaker."
"Guess it's all right, though," rejoined the obese policeman on the corner. "You see, his specialty is ladies' shoes."

The Greatest Invention.

"What do you consider the greatest invention of modern times?"
"The phonograph," answered the political boss, who was having trouble with some of his loquacious subordinates. "It never says a thing that hasn't been told to it by somebody that knows what he is talking about."—Washington Star.

Peach Cobbler.
Butter the outside of a teacup and invert in the center of earthen pudding dish; fill around with peaches, whole or sliced, sprinkled with sugar. Make a crust of two cups of flour, one teaspoon of baking powder, a pinch of salt, two teaspoonfuls of butter rubbed in, one egg, well beaten; add three-fourths cup of milk and stir all together. Roll out and cover the peaches. Bake half an hour in a hot oven. Invert in deep plate for serving. The cup will be full of a delicious sirup, which may be used for sauce.

Cucumber Chowchow.
Three quarts of seed cucumbers, when peeled and chopped; three pints of white onions, chopped; two green peppers, chopped very fine; one teaspoonful of nasturtium seeds, which should be young and tender; two ounces of white mustard seed, one tablespoonful of black pepper, and a few bits of horseradish. Stir in enough salt to make agreeable to taste, put in glass cans and cover with cold vinegar. This chowchow will keep indefinitely, and, if onions are liked, is an admirable condiment.

Boiled Rice.
This is the method followed by a cook whose boiled rice is always perfect: She washes the rice through several waters and afterwards puts it in a colander, allowing the cold water from the faucet to run through it. The rice, a little at a time, is thrown into rapidly boiling water and cooked for about fifteen minutes. At the end of that time the saucepan is placed uncovered in the oven, where after a few minutes every bit of water evaporates, leaving the dry rice as fluffy as possible.

Pumpkin Pie.
To secure the necessary dryness, the pumpkin for pies should be peeled and steamed until tender. For a single pie take a cupful and a half of steamed pumpkin sifted through a sieve, one cupful of sugar, one egg beaten to a foam, half a teaspoonful of salt, and a fourth of a teaspoonful of cinnamon. Line deep plates with thin pastry. Fill with the custard, and bake half an hour, or until the pie swells in the center and is brown.

Entire Wheat Bread.
To two cupfuls of scalding hot milk add one-third cupful of molasses and one teaspoonful of salt; let cool, then add one yeast cake dissolved in a little cold water or tepid water; add four and three-fourth cupfuls of entire wheat flour; beat well; cover closely and let rise until double bulk; beat again; turn into greased pans, filling them half full; let rise two hours and bake in a hot oven one hour.

Breakfast Toast.
Cut rather thin slices of bread into two or three pieces. Put these into the oven and let them bake very slowly for two or three hours, or until of a golden color and crisp throughout. This is an excellent substitute for breads and much more wholesome. It is delicious served with cocoanut or dairy cream or butter.

Green Apple Jelly.
Early apples picked in September before fully ripe make a nice-flavored, light-colored jelly. Wipe and cut up without peeling, stew in a little water, and drain enough through a jelly bag the same as other jelly. Allow three-quarters of a pound of sugar to each pint of juice.

Salmon Sandwich.
Remove all the skin and bones from canned salmon, and, with the fingers, work to a smooth paste, adding enough mayonnaise to make it spread nicely. Squeeze over a little lemon juice and spread on un buttered bread.

Beefsteak Stew.
Put one quart of seasoned tomatoes with two pounds of round steak cut up, three cloves, one tablespoonful braided flour in a pan and simmer tender, but add no water. Strain liquor for sauce.

Egg Salad.
Put into a salad bowl the leaves of one head of lettuce; slice three hard-boiled eggs and add. Chop about nine capers and sprinkle over the eggs and cover with a good mayonnaise dressing.

Short Suggestions.

A coating of thick castor oil applied with a soft flannel cloth to exaggerated colored tan shoes will tone their vividness considerably.
Lemons can be kept soft a much longer time by putting them in a jar filled with water, the water to be renewed every two days.
Grated potatoes soaked in water in the proportion of two medium-size potatoes to the quart make an excellent cleansing liquid for sponging woollens and for washing delicate colored fabrics.

OLD SORES OFFENSIVE-DANGEROUS

Nothing is more offensive than an old sore that refuses to heal. Patiently, day after day, it is treated and nursed, every salve, powder, etc., that is heard of is tried, but does no good, until the very sight of it grows offensive to the sufferer and he becomes disgusted and morbid. They are not only offensive, but dangerous, because the same germ that produces cancerous ulcers is back of every old sore. The cause is in the blood and as long as it remains the sore will be there and continue to grow worse and more destructive. The fact that thousands of old sores have been cut out and even the bones scraped, and yet they returned, is indisputable evidence that the blood is diseased and responsible for the sore or ulcer. Valuable time is lost in experimenting with external treatments, such as salves, powders, washes, etc., because the germs and poisons in the blood must be removed before a cure can be effected. S. S. S. cleanses and purifies the circulation so that it carries rich, new blood to the parts and the sore or ulcer heals permanently. S. S. S. not only removes the germs and poisons, but strengthens the blood and builds up the entire system by stimulating the organs, increasing the appetite and giving energy to the weak, wasted constitution. It is an exhilarating tonic, aids the digestion and puts every part of the body in good healthy condition. Book on the blood, with any medical advice wished, without charge. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

After Alfonso.
Ralph Peters, the new president and general manager of the Long Island Railroad, has a new joke which he declares was cabled to him from Paris. It has to do with the recent attempt to assassinate King Alfonso of Spain when he was riding through Paris in a carriage with President Loubet of France.
"Whom are they after?" Mr. Peters declares the king asked the president.
"After you, my dear Alfonso," replied the French chief executive, with out a smile.
