CONDON, OREGON, THURSDAY, JANUARY 25, 1906.

NO. 45.

Condon Becoming Known.

Condon is no longer a mere fly speck on the map of Oregon unknown outside its own county, but is rapidly becoming known as the best and fastest growing little city in the interior of the vast Inland Empire. Two or three years ago if a Condon man registered at a Portland hotel giving his residence as "Condon", he was likely to be asked by some inquisitive resident of the metropolis whether Condon is in Montana or British Columbia. All this is changing and changing rapidly in these latter days and Condon is becoming known all over the country. The other day a stranger stepped into the Globe office and bought a copy of the last issue saying he wished to send it to a friend. "I live in San Francisco", he said, "but the other day in Portland I picked up a copy of the Condon Globe, and, having heard of the town I was interested and read the paper through. Then I was still more interested and the result was that I came out to look the town over for myself. Now I am more interested than ever and I believe Condon is destined to become the commercial center of all this section of central Oregon."

Another gentleman, also a stranger, stated while here the other day that his attention was first directed to Condon by news items and illustrations from the town furnished by the local representative of the Portland Telegram and published in that paper.

All such advertising helps to bring a town to the front and while the people of the town should fully appreciate what is being done for their town by outside newspapers, traveling men, or any other means of publicity they should not forget that every week in the year their home papers are saying something to keep their town, community and county in the public view.

Will Erect Bank Building.

W. Lord, of The Dalles, and F. T. Harlburt, of Shaniko, came in Monday evening and spent Tuesday in this city looking after their varied interests here. To a representative of the Globe Mr. Harlburt made the definite statement that work will be commenced as soon as the weather will permit on their new building which will be erected at the corner of Main and Gilliam streets immediately opposite on the north from the new Reischer building. The new structure will be 50x100 two stories high and will be steam heated and strictly modern throughout. It will be constructed of concrete blocks, the machine for moulding the same having already been shipped from Portland. The sand and gravel for the construction of the blocks will be shipped in from Umatilla. Mr. Harlburt stated that while in some localities the cost of this material is reckoned at somewhat less than brick it will be a little more here on account of the cost of transportation of material, but the greater durability as well as the better appearance of such a building will more than offset the increased cost. The corner room of the new building will be occupied by the new bank in which Messrs. Lord and Harlburt and other stockholders of the Arlington National Bank are interested and the remainder of the building will be let for other purposes. Speaking of the proposed bank Mr. Harlburt stated that the stockholders will comprise holders of stock in fifteen other banks in Oregon and will represent a strong aggregation of capital.

Mr. Harlburt has great faith in the future commercial supremacy of Condon as an eastern Oregon city and expects to make his permanent home here.

Club Will Open.

Invitation cards are now out for a grand reception, banquet and dance to be given by the Condon Commercial Club, next Tuesday evening, January 30. The event will mark the formal opening of the club and everything points to its being the greatest social event ever given in Gilliam county or in this section of central Oregon.

The reception and banquet will be held at the Hotel Oregon where all members and invited guests and their ladies will be met by the reception committee and tickets admitting the holders to the club rooms and the ball room will be issued. The spacious parlors of the Oregon will be at the disposal of the club members and their guests during the evening and the club rooms in the organization's temporary quarters in the Pilger building will also be open. Whist tables, billiards etc. will be features in the club rooms. The spacious ball room in the Armory building has been secured for the occasion and there all lovers of the terpelchorean art will be able to enjoy themselves to the accompaniment of the best orchestra music obtainable.

More than four hundred invitations have been issued for the affair and in every respect it promises to eclipse any former event of its kind in this section.

Joint Installation.

A joint installation of officers of the Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges was held here Saturday evening at which a large number of members of both orders were present. The subordinate lodge officers were inducted into office by the district deputy, the new officers being as follows: W. S. Mapie, noble grand; M. D. Carter, vice-grand; W. I. Ebbert, recording secretary; E. W. Moore, financial secretary; W. A. Darling, treasurer.

The officers of the Rebekah lodge were installed by Mrs. Ella Angell, of Mayville, and were the following ladies: Mrs. M. E. Palmer, noble grand; Mrs. Maud Moore, secretary; Mrs. Mary Portwood, treasurer.

After the installation Rev. Edward Corran made a brief address on Odd Fellowship, closing with a beautiful poem in which he gave the sisters so much the worst of it that he almost missed his share of the excellent luncheon which was served at the conclusion of the program. Miss Naomi Stengel favored those present with an excellent recitation which was much enjoyed. A number of visitors from Mayville lodge were present.

Personal Mention.

Miss Luella Wain is in the city from Portland visiting friends and relatives. Mrs. S. B. Barker and children, left for Portland Monday morning on a pleasure trip for a week or so.

S. R. Wattenburg, of Fossil, left Monday morning for Klamath Falls to take a look at that much advertised country.

Mrs. W. L. Parger and little daughter went to Portland Monday where they will remain for some time, taking treatment for ill health.

Pat Barnett, Blaine Maley and Otto Stehoper went to The Dalles Monday where the former will offer final proof on his Ferry canyon homestead.

Mr. Kurtz, who has the drilling contract at the city well, has sufficiently recovered from his recent serious illness that he was able to resume drilling Monday morning. The old well in which Mr. Kurtz began work has been shattered by explosions of giant powder by the former contractor so that much trouble was experienced from caving rock but that has now been remedied by casing and no further trouble of that nature is apprehended.

The Main street spring has been cleaned out and an engine is being installed with which to force water through the new water system into one of the new city reservoirs. The intention is to fill one of the quarter million gal. reservoirs as a reserve for fire protection. The old and the new systems are not yet connected all water for domestic use being supplied through the old system.

C. T. Heidtman, of Fossil, who lost his wife a few weeks ago, started for San Francisco Monday morning taking his baby daughter to a married sister in that city, who will care for the child during its infancy. His was accompanied on the trip by his sister, Miss Heidtman, and both will probably remain in the Bay city during the winter.

Minter, the contractor and carpenter, is in a serious condition from blood poisoning. The trouble started in his hand and has extended up the arm to his elbow.
