The Baptist meetings continue with interest. There have been several conversions. Meetings are held every day in the Baptist church at 2:30 and 7 p. m., and at the court house 12:30-1 for the business men. Rev. Biedsoe, the evangelist, is an attractive speaker and the people like to hear him. The meetings continue indefinitely.

The Pacific States Telephone Co. has decided to install a day and night service in Condon and supplies and workmen are now here to commence the work of improvements. The company has secured a number of new subscribers and the service will be changed from a ten to a four-party line service. Dunn Bros., who have had the central station ever since the installation of the system, have notified the company that they do not wish to retain the office and the switchboard will be removed from its present location to the store of the Condon Drug Co.

A Good Show.

The drama, "Turn of the Tide," given by members of Wallula Circle last Friday evening was a pronounced success. A crowded house greeted the players and the receipts amounted to $123.

Many of the players exhibited a degree of talent far above the average even if compared with many professionals and the audience was well pleased with the repertoire. Prof. Mulkey as the pirate captain and the leading villain, took his part well and Rothwell and Harrison in the same role were not slow. W. F. Allen carried an assumed "jag" which if real would have given him 60 days at least and A. N. Cox, as a negro character, showed talent that should give him a place with Haverly. Miss Greiner, as "Aunt Rebecca", Miss Jean Barker, as "the ocean waif", and Miss G. T. McArthur, as "Frisky, with no one to love", were most excellent characters. The company may repeat the play at a later date.
