

CONDON GLOBE.

VOL. XV.

CONDON, OREGON, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1906.

NO. 47.

Accidentally Killed.

Mrs. Ed Dunn and Mrs. Fred Cornett received a telegram Wednesday morning of last week apprising them of the death of their father, Mr. K. Keizer, an old and respected resident of Cottage Grove and a former resident of this county. The ladies left the same morning for Cottage Grove to attend the funeral and did not return until Tuesday evening.

The Oregonian gives the following particulars of the deplorable accident which caused Mr. Keizer's death:

"Kill Keizer was shot and killed this evening while coming home on the Oregon & Southeastern Railroad by a gun in the hands of Walter Foley, who is said to have been drunk. Foley was very proud of a new rapid fire gun he had just purchased, and pointed it at different passengers on the train. He was urged to desist and finally sat down by the side of Mr. Keizer.

It is said the weapon was accidentally discharged. The ball went through Mr. Keizer's left hand and stomach and lodged under his heart. He was brought home and died shortly afterward.

A warrant has been sworn out for Foley, but he has not as yet been captured. When he was last seen, he said he was going to Latham to stay over night, and will, no doubt, be in the hands of Constable Atkins in a short time.

Mr. Keizer was an old and honored resident of this place. He had been keeping a boarding house up Sharp's creek, on the Bohemia road, for a few years, and was thereby able to keep himself and wife. He always had a good word, a smile and a warm fire for his guests, and will be sadly missed. He was about 70 years of age, and left an aged wife and several children.

Foley is well known here. He has been an excessive drinker for some months."

Congregationalists Will Build.

It was definitely decided by the members of the Congregational church last Sunday that the organization will erect a handsome new church building during the coming summer. The matter has been under consideration for some time but was not made public until it was known for certain that the plans could be carried out. Plans have already been prepared and it is hoped to get work started on the structure at an early date.

The plans provide for moving the present building back and swinging it around to the north where it will be remodeled and joined to the new edifice and fitted up for a lecture and Sunday school room with a kitchen and dining room in the rear. The new part will be used as an auditorium and will have a seating capacity of 250 and the lecture room will seat half that number. The two rooms will be divided by folding doors and on occasion the two may be thrown together. The improvements will cost about $3500 and when completed it will be one of the most handsome church buildings in this section of the state.

Not a Gambling House.

Members of the Commercial Club are considerably amused and at the same time somewhat indignant over certain baseless stories which are being circulated around town to the effect that gambling is permitted in the club rooms and that it is the intention to install a bar. Clubmen say that while they do not know just where the false reports originated it is certain that all such stories are the outgrowth of either ignorance or pure malice it being well known that under the by-laws which were adopted by the membership at an open meeting of the club, all such practices are strictly prohibited.

E. W. Moore is about to launch a distinctly new enterprise in Condon. He has just received a complete consignment of real live Missouri 'possums from that state and will start a 'possum farm in his back yard over the robins nest again. The curious animals are now on exhibition in Moore & Golden's store and they wink and blink at strangers in a way as though there is some real difference between Missourians and Oregonians. Southern papers are requested not to copy this item as Condon is not bidding for an exodus of immigrants from the black belt.

W. C. Bristol, of Portland, who was recently nominated for the position of United States District Attorney for the Oregon district has been made the subject of sensational charges and it is probable his appointment will not be confirmed by the senate. He is charged with unprofessional conduct in having demanded and received fees from both parties in a case in the federal court. Senator Fulton is reported as being against the confirmation of Bristol and it is intimated from Washington that he may not even be allowed to resign but that he may be summarily removed.

A series of evangelistic meetings will commence at the Congregational church either next week or the week following when Rev. Frank A. Miller, the noted singing evangelist, will be here to assist the pastor. Rev. Clapp, of Forest Grove, is also expected to be present. Rev. Miller recently closed a series of meetings at Kennewick, Washington, when more than 100 converts were added to the church.

An Arlington young man brought his girl home from prayer meeting. They were leaning over the gate when she said: "You must not imagine that I would consent to be your wife simply because I have let you kiss me." "Oh, of course not," he replied, "but I wish you'd tell me something. Are you letting me kiss you because you like it, or merely because you want the practice?"
