E. J. Whitman of Seattle and W. S. Myers of this city have formed a co-partnership and will engage in the real estate business in Condon. In securing purchasers for land which is placed in their hands, they will not confine themselves to Gilliam county, but will endeavor to bring purchasers from other parts of Oregon and from the eastern states. They will send out a great deal of reading matter, setting forth the advantages of Condon and Gilliam County and will doubtless be instrumental in bringing in many home-seekers. Their ad. appears in this issue of the Globe.

The woolgrowers of Gilliam county met at 1 o'clock Saturday and perfected a temporary organization. Frank Pliter was elected temporary chairman, W. N. Pattullo, secretary. S. B. Barker, M. Frizzell, J. Mahoney, Frank Pliter and J. Hardman were made members of the executive committee. The next meeting is called for the 5th day of May. At this meeting the by-laws will be submitted for ratification, and officers will be elected for the coming year.

Upon the complaint of the city marshal Frankie Thorn was arrested and tried last Friday upon a charge of keeping and maintaining a house of ill fame within the corporate limits of the city of Condon. The cause was tried in the city recorder's court. D. R. Parker, the city attorney, appeared in the interest of the prosecution. The defendant was not represented by an attorney. The jury was out about fifteen minutes and brought in a verdict of guilty. Judge Horner fined her $250 with the alternative of going to jail. The defendant gave oral notice that the case would be appealed and bonds were given for her appearance at the next term of the circuit court.

William Cornett.

We are called upon this week to chronicle the death of one of the oldest pioneers of Gilliam county. Wm. Cornett was born in Jackson county, Missouri, October 29th, 1821. He came to Oregon in 1853 and settled in Polk county. In the year 1880 he came to Eastern Oregon and has resided in Gilliam county since that time. He was married fifty-two years ago and leaves a family of six boys and two girls. He had for a good many years been a member of the Christian church, and was loved, admired and highly respected by all who knew him. He was eighty-four years of age at the time of his death. The end came Friday morning and the body was laid to its last resting place at 2 p. m. Saturday. Rev. Riggs of the Congregational church had charge of the services.

Umpqua Valley Opinion.

The best way to ascertain a man's real worth and standing is to go to his home neighborhood, where his daily walk and conversation are an open book. Such a test will disclose only good for John H. Aitkin's cause, for his friends and neighbors are jumping at the chance of saying good things about him as a citizen and also regarding his standing as a successful business man. There can be no question but what he is a man well worthy of the confidence and respect of the people of Oregon, and he is going to make a mighty fine official, one who will reflect much credit upon this great commonwealth.—Umpqua Valley News.

Death of Jean Labours.

At 2 o'clock last Tuesday afternoon occurred the death of Jean Labours, one of Condon's most prominent and highly respected citizens. The deceased came to Gilliam county in the spring of '79 and settled in Ferry canyon. He resided there until about eight years ago, when he sold his ranch and moved to Condon, where he made his home until the time of his death. He was a Frenchman by birth and would have been 74 years of age the 23d. day of March. The deceased had been afflicted with chronic gastritis for a number of years and his death was due to the serious complications of this disease. He leaves a brother, two sisters and a host of friends to mourn his loss. He was buried with Masonic honors at 2 p. m. Thursday.
