BURCH & REIS CIRCUS

Thursday evening representatives of the Burch & Reis Dog and Pony Show arrived in Condon and billed the town for the following Monday. The Globe had gone to press before they arrived and therefore it was not advertised in our last issue. Their aggregation arrived Sunday morning on a special train. The parade took place Monday morning at 11 o'clock and the performance began at 2 p. m. Nearly everyone in town and a good many country people, who had heard that there was to be a circus in town, turned out to witness the performance. On a whole it was a fairly good show. They had some well trained dogs and ponies, good acrobatic work, trapeze performing and a fine Italian band. Nearly two thirds of the spectators at the main performance staid for after concert and most of them were disappointed. The attendance at the evening performance was very small.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR

New York Press.
No matter how much you can see of a woman she always thinks it is modest if you can see it through the open work. Girls are always afraid that they are not going to be married and men that they are.

The only man who really likes farming is the one who has a lot of money to lose at it.

Most people's idea of saving money is to buy baker's bread instead of wasting it on flour.

It takes a woman to know her husband's faults and not believe it when somebody else does.

People go on shopping as a sort of a consolation prize.

SARAH A. PULLEN

On Thursday June 21st, occurred the death of Sarah A. Pullen. The deceased was born December 31st, 1887 at Hardman, Oregon. In July, 1905, she came to Condon and was united in marriage to Frank Pullen. Shortly after the marriage they moved to Lone Rock where they made their home until the time of her death. Her husband, one child and a host of friends are left to mourn her loss.

Buggies, hacks, wagons of Hunt The Hardware Man.

L. W. DARLING WILL BUILD

Attorney L. W. Darling is contemplating the erection of a fine two story brick building on his lots opposite the post office. If arrangements can be made whereby the local lodges will take the upper story for lodge rooms, work will be commenced on the new structure in the near future. With the two substantial bank buildings that are already in the process of construction and other business buildings that will be built this summer, the prospects for the growth and development of Condon looks exceeding bright.
