Yet He Meant Well.

William Henry Harrison had just won the battle of Tippecanoe.

"I felt that it was up to me," he explained, "to give the future novelists of Indiana a sort of historical background."

For, with the simple mindedness of great men, it did not occur to him that Indiana's coming authors would choose to locate the scenes of their best selling stories in Palestine, Mexico, Graustark, France and other foreign countries.

The Evils of Constipation are many; in fact almost every serious illness has its origin in constipation and some medicines, instead of preventing constipation, add to it. This is true of most cathartics, which, when first used have a beneficial effect, but the dose has to be continually increased and before long the remedy ceases to have the slightest effect. There is one preparation, however, that can be relied upon to produce the same results with the same dose, even after fifty years' daily use, and this is Dr. J. C. Ayer's Pills, which has a record of over 100 years as the standard remedy for constipation and all troubles arising from an impure state of the blood.

Brandreth's Pills are the same fine laxative tonic pill your grandparents used and can be found in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar-coated.

Force of Habit.

The modern Sherlock chuckled.

"I'll stake a silk hat against a stoolie that man is a New York policeman," he whispered.

"How can you tell?" asked the mystified friend. "He is not in uniform."

"No, but I should 'side door to the right' and you should have seen him duck."

Disastrous Failure.

The stocky, red haired man with the Galway whiskers had been run in on a charge of too much conviviality and boisterous conduct.

"Prisoner," said Police Justice Wachenheimer, "what is your name?"

"Me name, y'r anner," answered the prisoner, "is Gottlieb Lunderschlagel."

"Dot's a lie!" exclaimed his honor. "I gif you sixty days in de workhouse."—Chicago Tribune.

Growth of a Nevada City.

Less than two years ago a prospector lost his way in the desert near the California line, in Nye County, Nevada, and died of thirst. On the spot where that man's body was found is now the town of Bullfrog. A water works plant costing $50,000 supplies an abundance of water. There are hotels with baths in many rooms and residences equipped with all the modern paraphernalia that make for comfort. Electric lights illumine the streets where only the stars of heaven looked down on the death of the lonely miner and within the radius of a very few miles there are now about 15,000 people.

CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON

NO LIMIT TO ITS POWERS FOR EVIL

Contagious Blood Poison has brought more suffering, misery and humiliation into the world than all other diseases combined; there is hardly any limit to its powers for evil. It is the blackest and vilest of all disorders, wrecking the lives of those unfortunate enough to contract it and often being transmitted to innocent offspring, a blighting legacy of suffering and shame. So highly contagious is the trouble that innocent persons may contract it by using the same table ware, toilet articles or clothing of one in whose blood the treacherous virus has taken root. Not only is it a powerful poison but a very deceptive one. Only those who have learned by bitter experience know by the little sore or ulcer, which usually makes its appearance first, of the suffering which is to follow. It comes in the form of ulcerated mouth and throat, unsightly copper colored spots, swollen glands in the groin, falling hair, offensive sores and ulcers on the body, and in severe cases the finger nails drop off, the bones become diseased, the nervous system is shattered and the sufferer becomes an object of pity to his fellow man. Especially is the treacherous nature of Contagious Blood Poison, shown when the infected person endeavors to combat the poison with mercury and potash. These minerals will drive away all outward symptoms of the troubles for a while, and the victim is deceived into the belief that he is cured. When, however, the treatment is left off he finds that the poison has only been driven deeper into the blood and the disease reappears, and usually in worse form because these strong minerals have not only failed to remove the virus from the blood but have weakened the entire system because of their destructive action. S. S. S. is the only real and certain cure for Contagious Blood Poison. It is made of a combination of healing blood-purifying roots, herbs and barks, the best in Nature's great laboratory of forest and field. We offer a reward of $1,000 for proof that S. S. S. contains a particle of mineral in any form. S. S. S. goes down to the very bottom of the trouble and by cleansing the blood of every particle of the virus and adding rich, healthful qualities to this vital fluid, forever cures this powerful disorder. So thoroughly does S. S. S. cleanse the circulation that no signs of the disease are ever seen again, and offspring is protected.

Write for our special book on Contagious Blood Poison, which fully explains the different stages of the trouble, and outlines a complete home treatment for all sufferers of this trouble. No charge is made for this book, and if you wish special medical advice about case or any of its symptoms, our physicians will be glad to furnish that, too, without charge.

POWER OF THE NAVY.

Nonprofessional Mind Finds It Hard to Realize Strength.

Figures seem essential to convey to the nonprofessional mind an adequate conception of the stupendous power for aggression or for resistance concentrated in twelve battle ships, four armored cruisers, four protected cruisers, four monitors and a dozen torpedo boats and torpedo-boat destroyers, besides submarines and auxiliary craft, says Harper's Weekly. It must here suffice to say that the twelve battle ships alone which were massed off Oyster Bay represented a combined displacement of nearly 154,000 tons; the armored cruisers, almost 55,000 tons; the monitors and protected cruisers, more than 32,000 tons, and the whole fighting fleet, including the torpedo boats and submarines, but excluding auxiliaries, an aggregate displacement of upward of 244,000.

Relatively powerless and insignificant as the torpedo boats may have looked, the truth is that if one of them, the Wilkes, could get near enough to such a floating fort as the battle ship West Virginia and spit a torpedo out of her tube in the right direction, $6,000,000 would go up in the air and 800 men would be food for fishes. We may add, in order to refute some groundless accusations, that the cost of the naval review, imposing as the pageant looked, was negligible. The cost was computed by Rear Admiral Evans at $300 all told; for, as he pointed out, so long as a ship is in commission, it is just as cheap for her to be at anchor off Oyster Bay as to be steaming across the ocean.

"Tom" Reed's Collar.

Among the prominent men of New England there was none, perhaps, who wore a larger collar than Tom Reed. One hot day in the summer of 1901 Reed was in Portsmouth, and, having to wait over for a train, he decided to make an impromptu toilet, changing his collar, etc. So he hid himself to the nearest haberdasher's and began a general survey of the collar display in the store.

"Waited on, sir?" queried one of the clerks.

"Not yet," responded Reed, and then added, "I would like a collar."

"What size?" piped the clerk.

"Size 20," answered Reed.

"We don't keep collars so large, but I think you may be accommodated three stores above."

Reed went and found the third store above. It was a harness shop.

It Sounded Ungrateful.

A frugal and industrious shoemaker has two daughters, of whom he is very proud. He provides a good home for them, dresses them well, and is giving them a good education. Not long ago he drew on his modest bank account for a sum sufficient to purchase a new piano for them. What followed may be described in his own words.

"Oh, yes," he confided to a neighbor, "they were grateful enough for it, of course, and it's a great comfort to hear 'em play and sing, but what do you suppose was the first thing the girls learned on it?"

"I'm sure I don't know," said the neighbor.

"'Everybody Works but Father.'"

Improved Dustpan.

In carrying the ordinary dustpan from one room to another some of the contents are sure to fall out. Dust being very light, the slightest wind picks it up and blows it off the pan. This cannot happen with the one shown here. Over half of the surface of the pan is covered, which helps to prevent the dust escaping. As an additional aid, the inventor has added a handle, by which the dustpan can be carried anywhere without fear of losing any of the contents. In gathering up the dust the pan is placed in the ordinary position. By swinging the handle over to the left and the pan raised the dust drops into the receptacle formed by the cover. In this way it is not affected by the wind.

Pickled Pears.

Peel the pears and weigh. To seven pounds of the fruit allow four pounds of granulated sugar and one pint of vinegar. Put pears and sugar in alternate layers in the kettle. Bring slowly to the boil and pour in the vinegar, to which should have been added cloves, mace and cinnamon to taste. Boil for five minutes, remove the pears with a perforated skimmer and spread on dishes to cool. Boil the sirup until it is thick. Pack the pears in heated jars and fill these to overflowing with the boiling sirup. Seal at once.

Raisin Bread.

To make raisin bread scald a pint of milk and stir into it while warm a rounding tablespoonful of butter and a level teaspoonful of salt. When lukewarm add half a cake of compressed yeast dissolved in two tablespoonfuls of lukewarm water, then stir in flour to make a stiff batter. Let rise until light, add the beaten yolks of three eggs, one heaping tablespoonful of sugar and a cup of flour rubbed through them. Stir in also half a cup more of flour, place in buttered pans, let rise and bake.

Waffles.

Sift a quarter of a teaspoonful of soda and the same amount of salt into one and a quarter cups of flour. In another bowl beat the yolks of two eggs into a cup of sour milk. Then mix all together. Add three tablespoonfuls of melted butter and then the stiffly beaten whites of the three eggs. Pour into hot, well-buttered greased waffle irons and bake first one side and then the other until a golden brown. Remove from the waffle iron with a fork and serve at once.

Potato Puff.

Take two cups of cold mashed potatoes and stir into it one tablespoon of melted butter, heating to a white cream before adding anything else. Then put with this two eggs beaten extremely light, one cup cream and salt to taste. Beat all well and pour into a deep dish and bake in a quick oven until it is nice and brown. If properly mixed it will come out of the oven light, puffy and delectable.

Flannel Cakes.

Take two and a half cups of flour and four teaspoons of baking powder and a pinch of salt, and sift into a bowl. Beat the yolks of two eggs in another bowl, add two cups of milk and then mix with the flour in the larger bowl. Lastly, add the beaten whites of the two eggs and fry the batter in small cakes on a hot greased griddle.

Orange Charlotte.

Make an orange jelly and use the pulp as well as the juice for flavoring, removing seeds and fibrous part of oranges. Line a mold sides and bottom with large square crackers soaked in milk and sprinkled with coconut. Pour in the jelly and set it away to harden. Heap whipped cream over it when served. Delicious.

Southern Corn Bread.

One and three-quarter cups of white cornmeal, one-half a teaspoonful of soda and the same amount of salt; one egg beaten stiff and one cup of buttermilk. When all mixed together, add two tablespoonfuls of melted butter and bake in a hot greased pan until a rich brown.

Tomatoes with Whipped Cream.

Peel five round red tomatoes that have been cooling in the icebox all night. Scoop out a small piece from the center of each, dust with salt and paprika and heap a large spoonful of whipped cream over each one.
