FRIDAY, APRIL 19, 1907.

COURT CONDON, NO. 54, F. OF A. MEETS Mondays evening of each month in Armory Hall lodge room. Visiting brothers are requested to meet with us. A warm welcome awaits you.

J. E. VAUGHN, F. S. W. W. OVERLANDER, C. R.

March comes in like a political mass meeting, and goes out like the day after election.

The Hon. Abe Ruef doesn't belong to the kind that can crawl in under the brain storm shelter.

Henry James say "New York is a pincushion in profile". Evidently Mr. James is not stuck on it.

Mr. Harriman announces that he is going to "give more attention to the public". Hands on your pockets!

A girl is naturally so innocent that if a fellow kisses her, she thinks he is reciting the ten commandments.

The truth about Harry Thaw seems to be that his brain didn't have sense enough to come in out of the storm.

The democrats are rapidly dividing into two classes—those who swear by Bryan and those who swear at him.

Japan will never become Christianized enough to celebrate Easter Sunday until the Japanese women are taught to wear hats.

The little round white place on the back of Mr. Bryan's head, will prevent any further reference to "the boy orator of The Platte".

If the President is really going to wring the water out of the railroad stocks, the country need not expect a dry spell for some years.

A Chicago woman sued for divorce because her husband told her she resembled one of her aunts. After a look at the aunt, the court awarded the divorce.

"Silent" Smith died leaving a fortune worth seventy five millions. Considering the size of the family that might claim relationship it is no wonder he was silent.

The President is said to be compiling notes for another book to be written after the close of his term. It may be entitled "Liars I have met" and would no doubt be widely read in certain quarters.
