J. E. VAUGHN, F. S. W. W. OVERLANDER, C. R.

Ellen Terry has become a bride at 59. Terryble.

Did you notice the $$$$ dropping from the clouds this week.

Hope Foraker won't have his finger under the Ohio lid when Taft sits down on it.

In other days the unsavory divorce cases were expurgated. Now they seem to be Pittsburgated.

Mark Twain will find Annapolis a beautiful and alluring exemplification of his long cherished theory of sleep and rest.

Secretary Taft's mother does not wish her son to make the Presidential campaign. Still, it might be the making of the boy.

San Francisco is rapidly rebuilding, and hopes in time to have not only a first-class city, but a first-class set of city officials as well.

"Is there such a thing as a fresh Lincoln story?" asks the Boston Herald. Probably not. But there are a lot of fresh Lincoln story tellers.

A Hindu Mahatma visiting New York says that "All American women are fools" so it would seem that W. T. Stead did not have his ideas copyrighted.

Mr. Thomas Lawson says that when he returned from his interview with the Pope he felt only "two feet high". The Pope cannot feel that he has lived in vain.

At a meeting of the New York Mothers' Club the other evening, one of the members said: "We are in reality the silent sex." We would hate to argue the point with her.

Col. Watterson says "the President has overworked Judge Taft as a man of all work, made him too much of a fetch-and-carry," and thinks that Mr. Roosevelt's enemies may see "a deep design in this." Perhaps Mr. Roosevelt is merely assisting his fat friend to 'bant' and train down for the race.

Boss Ruef has confessed his guilt. Well, it will save a jury the trouble of doing it for him.

It is about as hard to keep your eye on the market price of wheat in Chicago as it is to put your finger on a Webfoot flea.

A San Francisco woman has brought suit for divorce because her husband tried to make her eat pumpkin pie at dinner every day. Evidently too much of a good thing.

Prof. A. Graham Bell says that we shall soon have airships that will cross the Atlantic in less than twenty-four hours. Dinner may be had in America and breakfast in Europe.

New Orleans proposes an Exposition in 1915 to celebrate the completion of the Panama Canal. It is probable that the Canal could be finished by the time the Exposition was ready.

Congressman J. S. Fassett of New York says: "I can see no way for the president to escape being renominated next year." Is the President looking very diligently for a way of escape?

A tailor at one of the Lake Michigan Chatauqua resorts has offered to give Taft a suit of clothes if he will become one of the attractions at the Chatauqua this summer. This is certainly a liberal offer.

Reports state that Mayor Schmitz of San Francisco is a nervous wreck and wants to make a complete confession of his guilt, but his attorneys and family won't let him. And this is a free country.

Once more Mr. Bryan has been hurled out of a vehicle only to land unhurt on his feet. It doesn't seem to make any difference to him whether it is a carriage or a band wagon, he always lands right side up.

Mr. Schwab has offered his three million dollar palace in New York to any one who will pay two million for it. Once he has sold this servants' boarding house he will turn his attention to finding himself a real home.

The President's motto is "Speak softly and carry a big stick," but the beauty of it is that as long as you are carrying the big stick you can talk as loud as you please. The time to speak softly is when you are unarmed.

Senator Platt says that President Roosevelt discovered the Ten Commandments after he became President, but the good would not have ended there if he could have persuaded the New York Senator to obey a few of them.

Things have reached a curious stage in this country when in a three cornered meeting between the Governors of North Carolina, South Carolina and Connecticut, the latter is the only gentleman who will take anything stronger than lemonade.

A boy at Wilmington, Delaware, was lashed with a cat-o'-nine-tails at the public whipping post until he was unable to stand. The wise men of today hold up their hands in holy horror at the cruelties of Nero, and let an incident like this pass unnoticed. Verily, our boasted twentieth century civilization breaks out in queer places once in a while.
