COURT CONDON, NO. 2, F. OF A. MEETS Mondays evening of each month in Army Hall lodge room. Visiting brothers are requested to meet with us. A warm welcome awaits you.

J. E. VAUGHN, F. R. W. W. OVERLANDER, C. R.

If you want to have smooth sailing just grant that every fellow totes as much gray matter in his pate as you do and that your hearts are just about the same size.

People generally sneer at a thing they can never acquire.

It is easier to deceive yourself than it is to deceive other people.

The friend you have to pat to prevent his snapping at you is not worth your while.

Bear in mind--there may be millions of copies but only one original.

Texas is giving out the story of a cyclone that picked up a letter and delivered it to the party to whom it was addressed twenty-five miles away. It begins to look as if the members of Roosevelt's Ananias Club are merely amateurs.

Meet the problem of today in the light of the present. You play a losing game when you try to unlock the door of the future with a rusty key from the rubbish piles of the past.

You have but to go a-slumming to find that under-world whose creed is a wail and whose life is hell. They are just beyond your door. The shadow of the church spire falls over them.

The Australian flings his boomerang far out into the air. He expects it to make its circuit and fall again at his feet. So it is with every act. Good or bad, as the case may be, a strange fate orders that they shall return to the heart of him who started them on their journey. A kind word--and what makes us shudder the more--an evil act completes the circuit and turns again to the soul whence they started. Thus shall we have our reward for every deed, whether good or bad.

The sweet girl graduates having spread soulful thoughts, high ideals and stirring advice to every corner of the country will now turn themselves to sentimental philosophy and practical courtship.

The President is not sawing wood and saying nothing. He keeps right on talking just the same.

Secretary Taft may still be in the presidential race but he has lost the sympathy of the public. A man who is seriously trying to reduce his weight for a contest does not eat $2.65 breakfasts.

A health journal states that people would be much more companionable and jollier if they would eat onions. The usual effect though is to make friends more distant.

Mr. Fairbanks says he will be satisfied if ex-Secretary Shaw is nominated and Mr. Shaw says he will be satisfied if Fairbanks is nominated. This looks as if each were trying to kill the other's prospects with kindness.

Secretary Taft is smiling, on his western trip, as if he were riding on the "Presidential special."

Harriman says he is getting tired of being "It" in the National tag game.

"Mere man knows one seven-billionth of one per cent about anything," says Thomas Edison. Still, there is George Bernard Shaw to whom we may turn when in doubt. He knows the rest of it.

"I am not only opposed to a third term but a second" says Mr. Bryan. Surely, he is not gradually training down to small-favors-thankfully-received attitude?

A human hog is one whose spleen gets excited if one makes a hundred per cent in a year on his investment in an honest way.

You have but to repeat a scandal in order to become a detestable peddler of the same.

It takes a heap better man to live a theology than it does to make one.

King Edward has announced that he will go to Ireland to "stimulate" the loyalty of the people. There is certainly no people readier for a stimulant than the Irish.

Uncertainty is always an element of weakness.

It is estimated that a man's chances to get married are less in Boston than in any other city in this country. The supposition has also been that he had less chance there of escaping than in any other city.

San Francisco seems to have solved the question of what to do with our ex-mayors.

From the way the wine producers in France are acting it would seem that they had been drinking too much of their own production.

The Japanese war cloud seems to have passed over but there is still danger of war at the Hague Peace Conference.

The Pullman sleeper trust says it is not a common carrier but an innkeeper. There is reason in the distinction. No one can deny that it is an inn taker and keeps all it takes in.
