FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1907.

E. J. McPherson, the Kerr, Gifford agent at Clem, was in Condon Monday evening. He says that business at Clem is very good and as a whole the little city is booming.

Harold Hunt, who has been spending his vacation with his parents in Condon, left Tuesday morning to return to school at Eugene. This will be his junior year at the University. He will visit a few days with friends and relatives in Portland.

J. A. Eberle left Tuesday morning for a few days business visit in Portland.

Chas Hein of Maville transacted business in Condon Tuesday. Mr. Hein reports that his grain is all threshed and under cover and he will start hauling to Condon as soon as the roads which were washed out by the cloudburst last week, are in shape to haul over. He has cut 1100 acres of grain with his combine and says the grain has been good all the way through. The wheat on his ranch averaged 28 bushels per acre.

O. D. Sturgess, cashier of the Arlington National Bank, was in Condon Monday evening looking after business interests in this vicinity.

Rev. Crooks, who has been conducting a camp meeting south of Fossil for some time, passed through Condon Monday morning. The meeting is reported as being fairly successful.

Leland and Mary Steiwer of Eossil passed through Condon Wednesday morning on their way to Eugene where they will attend school the ensuing year.

G. W. Parman was a business visitor in the vicinity of Gwendolen Wednesday.

W. N. Pattullo was a passenger for Mikkalo Wednesday morning.

A. N. Montgomery, of the firm of Enberg & Montgomery of Blalock, was a business visitor in Condon a few days last week.

Jack Brown, who has been in Idaho this summer with the sheep returned Saturday evening. He will visit here for a week or two before going back to Portland where he will attend school.

Wm. Long, who has been here for some time working with E. M. Larkin setting up Best Combined Harvesters, left Monday morning for his home at Blalock. He reports the combines all running in fine shape.

J. A. Stitt and father-in-law came up from The Dalles Sunday evening to look after business matters for a few days.

Henry Wilkes who formerly worked for the Condon Furniture & Hardware Co. but who has lately been in Walton, Wyoming, came in Sunday evening for a month's visit with friends.

R. L. Hunt installed a new typewriter this week. It is a Smith Premier of the latest pattern and is a good machine.
