X-MAS WEDDINGS

Moore-Balding.

David Alburn Moore and Mary Alice Balding were united in marriage on Christmas day at the L. D. S. Church in the presence of over 100 guests. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Austin acted as groomsmen and bridesmaid. The bridal party marched up the aisle to the time-honored strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March played by Janie L. Hartshorn. Prayer was offered by Elder A. B. Moore, father of the groom, and the impressive ceremony was performed by Elder A. J. Moore, brother of the groom. After the ceremony, handshakings and congratulations were in order for some time when the happy couple was presented with a handsome rocking chair given by a few close friends. Other presents too numerous to mention were received. Immediately following this an informal wedding luncheon was served and the busy clatter of knives, forks and tongues and eating of the bounteous repast, such as can be provided only by the good ladies of Gilliam county, were in order for the next hour. After luncheon the guests enjoyed themselves in different ways until late in the afternoon when they separated to their homes. The bride wore a silk finish henrietta with a jumper effect over a white lace waist and the groom wore the conventional black broadcloth. Both bride and groom are well and most favorably known throughout the entire community and the GLOBE joins most heartily in wishing them success and happiness through life. Mr. and Mrs. Moore left this morning for a few days' visit in Portland.

Moore-Greenfield.

Franklin Floyd Moore and Edith Mary Greenfield were quietly married Christmas Eve at five o'clock at the home of the bride's parents in the presence of immediate relatives and friends. Elder A. B. Moore, the groom's grandfather, performed the ceremony. Both the young people have lived in Condon or vicinity nearly all of their lives. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Greenfield of this city and is well known in social and church circles. The groom is a son of D. A. Moore and is an enterprising young man with ability to make his way in the world. They will live on a ranch about two miles west of Condon. The Globe joins with their many friends in congratulations and best wishes.

False Alarm.

The fire laddies and other residents of the town were rudely awakened about two o'clock a. m. Sunday by the ringing of the fire gong in the court house tower and a moment later the ringing of the bell at the fire station. The gong turned in alarm No. 12 but no one seemed to know where the fire was and in fact there was no fire at all. It was thought at first that it was a joke played by some late prowler but upon examining the alarm boxes next morning it was found that none of them had been disturbed. Mr. Laurance started out the next day to locate the trouble, thinking possibly the wires attached to the gong had come in contact with an electric wire but was unable to discover the cause of the alarm. LATER: The trouble was found at box 14.

CHRISTMAS FESTIVITIES

Christmas was celebrated at the L. D. S. church by a tree and a program by the Sunday School. The program was in charge of Mrs. S. B. Hartshorn, Mrs. N. Madden and Mrs. Chas. Austin and its rendition, which was one of the best ever heard in Condon, was largely due to their unremitting efforts. Santa Claus, according to the popular idea, was very successfully imitated by Fred Hawes. One of the most noteworthy renditions was a vocal duet by Miss Janie Hartshorn and Mrs. Chas. Austin. The distribution of presents followed.

The commemoration of the festival at the Baptist church consisted of two trees and a program which was in every way delightfully rendered and was a credit to those in charge, Mrs. E. G. Merrifield and Mrs. L. T. Price. Santa and his wife were both there and after the program they assisted in distributing the presents.

The Catholic church celebrated the date by three masses, first at mid-night and again at 9 a. m. and 10 a. m.

The Congregationalists voted to do away with the usual services this year and no exercises were held.

Many families throughout the city celebrated the event privately with small trees for the children.

A dance was given at the skating rink Christmas night which was attended by an unusually large crowd. The music by Laam Bros. was especially fine.

J. W. French Dead.

Joshua W. French, senior member of the pioneer banking firm of French & Co. of The Dalles, died of Bright's disease at his home in that city on Monday afternoon at the age of 77 years. Mr. French had been in failing health for the past two or three years. Last summer he was moved to the seaside, but growing worse, was brought home, and has been confined to his bed the greater part of the time the past few months. Mr. French settled in The Dalles in 1864, coming here from New England. He established the pioneer banking house in Wasco county, and was considered one of the wealthy men of Eastern Oregon. His wife, three sons and one daughter survive him. The funeral was held at 1:30 Thursday afternoon at the home of the deceased. The remains were laid to rest in the I. O. O. F. cemetery under the direction of the Masonic Lodge of which he was a member. Mr. French was president of the Condon National Bank, which institution remained closed during the funeral hour.

Mina Morgan.

Mina, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Morgan of Mayville, died at her home Saturday morning, December 21st. Deceased had been for some time a sufferer from consumption and has lately been at the Open Air Sanitarium in Portland. The results failed to prove beneficial and she was brought home on Friday, the day before she died. The funeral services were held Monday and she was buried in the Mayville cemetery. We join in extending our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

THE TRUTH

Some people's advertisements are characteristic of their way of doing business. The truth is, coal is higher at the mines in Wyoming now than it was a year ago when the people of Condon were paying from $5 to $8 per ton more for it than now. Why the difference? Blame Simpson for it. The panic had nothing to do with it. I have lots of coal and will have all winter. Get prices of Manufacturer of Wagons and South Bend Watches. We don't sell the Wagons but we do sell the Watches to those who insist upon having them. We like to sell them for one reason, and yet we don't like to for another reason. The reason we like to sell them is because the margin of profit is much greater than on our higher grade watches, yet we would rather sell you a standard timepiece which we know would give entire satisfaction and make you our permanent customer. We sell more watches than any other dealer in the county for two reasons, the first is because we handle all the high grade movements, and never try to talk a customer into buying an inferior article, knowing that by so doing we not only lose his trade, but also his good will, and sacrifice our established reputation for square dealing and reliability. The second reason is expressed in a very few words, being nothing more or less than that our prices are about 25 per cent. lower than those of our competitors, regardless of their misleading assertions, and we are here to prove it to you. Our goods are marked in plain figures, and we have but one price to all. ROBINSON, Graduate Optician. Watch Inspector O. R. & N.

How a Cough Starts

A cough is like a debt in that both may be easily contracted but soon become a nuisance and often mighty hard to get rid of. It takes very little to start a cough or cold. An open window, an open door, sitting in a draught, insufficient clothing, a sudden change from a heated interior to a cooler atmosphere—these and plenty other reasons are quite sufficient to cause one to realize that a cough or cold has lodged in the system. The symptoms are slight. The inconvenience is trifling. But if it remains unchecked the cough grows worse and presently it develops into a downright nuisance. The tickling sensation at first experienced is Nature's warning that an irritation is affecting the mucous membrane lining in the throat and bronchial tubes. Every cough affects this delicate membrane. The longer you cough the more affected it becomes. Presently the membrane becomes inflamed and congested. Coughing becomes frequent and painful, after which the results become more direct, dire and disastrous. It is therefore obvious that an effective quietus should, at the very outset, be put upon the cough. This is best done with WHITE PINE AND TAR WITH CODEINE COUGH SYRUP.
