COURT CONDON, NO. 54, 7, OF A MEETS Mondays evening of each month in Army Hall lodge room. Visiting brothers are requested to meet with us. A warm welcome awaits you.

Money is again getting so plentiful that a man can carry a piece around in his pocket for luck.

San Francisco now considers itself purged, but the scent of the grafters will cling to it for a while.

So far winter has been regarded as a failure by the man who likes to shovel snow.

The Japanese are the international trouble-germs.

Politics are still quiet at the county seat. The district attorney fight has cleared a little the last week by the definite withdrawal of J. W. Allen from the race, leaving the field to Messrs. Parker, Collier and Burdett, but there is enough in mess to make things lively. -Wheeler Co. News.

The statistics of the unemployed in the big cities would be more enlightening if they indicated what proportion of them would work if they had the opportunity.

Has anyone from the South stopped you yet to say that this here prohibition business is getting serious, by gum?

The mother-in-law joke reaches the climax in the case of a Delaware man who has just married his'n.

There seems to be some doubt as to whether banker Walsh will get 540 or 270 years for his bank wrecking exploit. But in the ordinary course of events, we should think either one would be sufficient.

Mr. Bryan declares that he has made enough money in the past ten years to make him independent for life. And this would be a good argument with some interests against electing him to the presidency.

Election time is getting nearer and nearer the voters of Gilliam county and of this district, yet the political talk among the people has been very quiet, no candidates having given out their bonafide announcements and intention of becoming candidates for certain offices. What the voters of this county and district want is good strong men - men who will work for the good of the people and not for their own selfish end, men who will stand by the new order of things, and will get away from the old regime which meant dollars into their own pockets. The coming election will give the voter a chance to make a choice of men to whom he gives power, and thus requires the greatest possible attention and good judgment on the part of the voter.

The Oregonian, with an impartial desire for justice which is echoed by every respectable newspaper in Oregon, demands that Mr. Heney make known without equivocation the specific charges which he claims to hold against Senator Fulton. Insinuations and mysterious suggestions of wrong doing, thrown out for the political injury of a prominent citizen, are unfair and unworthy of respect. Mr. Fulton is entitled to know the accusations against him and if Mr. Heney knows of anything really damaging to his character he should state it.

Some mail order houses in Chicago are discharging their clerks who were getting living wages, and keeping only those whose wages are hardly sufficient to keep body and soul together. It is this inhuman practice that forces so many of the young women in the cities to lives of sin. People who are tempted to send orders to such houses in the belief that they can buy more cheaply of them, will do well to ask themselves whether they can afford to endorse so immoral a policy, for it is immoral.

Sore because the fellow who had been advertising was getting all the results, is the sad state of mind of the other fellow who claims to have advertising space to sell to the good merchants of this city - yes, dead space, with a bunch of gossip thrown in. Space which if he cannot use himself to his own advantage is no earthly good to anyone else. Better wake up and drive the hatchet into the ground and get unto the vast resources of Gilliam county, spread the good news to the world and let your journal be of some value to the community which is supporting you.

Forgets Purse Containing $67

How would you like to be the fellow who had just bought something from the "newsy" on the train and in the attempt to "dig up" find that your pocket book with $67 was a "minus quantity." This was the sad misfortune of Tulio Trammels who returned from a week's trip to Spokane last Monday. Trammels had stopped over night in Pendleton in order to make connection with the Pendleton local and in the wee hours of the morning in the endeavor to make the train in plenty of time forgot his purse. Not until he reached into his pockets on needing money to pay for something on the train, did he become aware of the fact that his roll of money had been left behind.

Having a through ticket he got home alright, but had to write a letter to the hotel as he did not have the price of a telegram. He went back to work on the M. K. Thompson ranch, and we hope that his money has been returned.
